W.I. Convener's Newsletter

January, 3, 1956.

Hi There!—

Well, once more our Christmas season has passed and the brightest spot of the winter becomes another beautiful memory. Did Santa Claus bring you that new fur coat, or did you settle for a gay new sweater or a soft warm pair of gloves, so beautifully and lovingly wrapped that you forgot all about the fur coat?

Our holiday visitors have gone their separate ways. The white linen tablecloth has had its annual outing and been carefully de-spotted, ironed, and folded away, and those frail Christmas tree decorations safely tucked away in their tissue paper wrappings for their long vacation. Even the ash trays [illegible] their old cheerful selves again, lightly bearing their usual burden instead of groaning under a load of grape seeds, orange peel and frilly brown chocolate papers. Oh well, it only comes once a year, and don't we love it!

Thank you so much for the lovely letters and cards you sent me — they make me feel like working harder than ever. And in this New Year I repeat the promise I made to you last July — I'll do my very best, and with your unfailing help and co-operation we should accomplish much in 1956. Closing this year we have added a new branch and several new members. Did you notice in the reports that four of our branches report new members this past month? I know they will get a great deal of pleasure out of attending our meetings and working with us and we are happy indeed to widen our circle to include them.

Dr Hichmanova has appealed for little woolen toques for the Korean children, and I have the directions for knitting them. They are quick and easy to make and may be made of odds and ends of wool you knitters always accumulate. I have made three, mostly done during that stormy weather, while I was listening to the trials and triumphs of the soap opera heroines, and scheming schemes whereby I might get my hands on some of that easy money we hear about every day. All that keeps me from winning some of that is lack of co-operation in my own family. They positively refuse to eat all that pudding and my Scottish ancestry won't allow me to throw it out. So I never have any coupons. But I can listen, and while I listen, I knit. But seriously, couldn't we make a lot of those little toques? Here you are:

WOOLLEN TOQUES

You'll need — 4 needles, No. 10; 4-ply wool, or fine wool doubled.

Age 2 to 4: Cast on 72 st., knit 2, purl 2, plain for 3 in. Decrease 2 st. and knit 3 in. plain. Next round, knit 8, knit 2 together, repeat to end of round. Knit one round plain. Knit 7, knit 2 together, repeat to end of round. Knit one round plain. Knit 6, knit 2 together, repeat to end of round. Continue in this manner until 14 st. are left. Draw up and put a tassel on top. Turn rib back at edge. For larger sizes knit a little deeper. For 4 to 6 size — 80 st.; 6 to 8 — 88 st.; 8 to 10 — 96 st.; 10 to 14 — 104 st.

To all the new officers in our organization congratulations and best wishes — and to all the retiring ones, thank you!

One of our Christmas cards expressed this wish, and I pass it on to you — "During the New Year may all your dreams be fulfilled, and Happiness and Prosperity call often and stay long at your house."

Sincerely,
Your Const. Convener.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother

Sgt. Ross Harvey Stanley

"There's an open gate at the end of the road
Through which he must go alone,
And there is a Light we cannot see.
Our Father claims his own.
Beyond the gate—our loved one
Finds happiness and rest
And there is comfort in the thought,
That a Loving God knows best."

—Always remembered by his family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
MARY A. BELWOOD
—who passed away Jan. 14, 1955.
—Every remembered and sadly missed by her loving husband, sister and brothers.

The Editor was very pleased to receive a note from Mrs. D. Korman, formerly of this district but who moved to Manitoba a number of years ago. She was taken ill with polio and is at present a patient in the King George hospital in Winnipeg. Mrs. Korman says in part: "Please let all my friends know through your paper that I am improving slowly. I sit in a wheel chair for two hours each day and am able to breathe on my own for 15 hours per day, but have to sleep in a respirator at night."

His multitude of friends here will regret to learn that Bill Pilkie Jr. has been in ill health recently and has spent some time in the University hospital. At time of writing he had returned home but was scheduled to return to hospital for another week of treatment at an early date. Right now Bill is feeling quite well and showing some improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed J. Herzog of Vermilion, wish to announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Lois Adele, to William (Bill) Bernard Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt Sr. of Vermilion.

While in Banff for Christmas Albert M. West called on Ken McDonald, well known former Vermilion resident. Ken wanted to be remembered to all of his old friends here whom he holds in highest regard. He was slightly vexed with the Standard though, as after paying his renewal sub about a month ago the figures in the post office box number on the label of his paper became mixed and Ken spent considerable time each week running down his paper, which was going into the wrong post office box. Ken says "the worst of it is the arrival of the Standard is the landmark of the week so we just can't miss it."

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Stephens travelled to Calgary on Monday where the former attended the annual convention of the R.C.A. of which the Stephens Ltd. firm is a member.

Tigers Wilt In Last Period; Lose To Gas Kings By 7-3 Score

After going into the third period on the long end of a 3-2 score the Vermilion Tigers wilted and the Viking Gas Kings notched four counters without a reply from the locals. Up to that stage of the game the Tigers were value for their slim lead.

It was the first appearance of the Viking squad in Vermilion this winter and they [illegible] what appears to be their best aggregation ever to take the ice in Gas King colors. Kay Strate is again their playing coach and the Dunnigan twins supply their fire power.

The Tigers opened the scoring and looked [illegible] it, Bill Schmidt from [illegible]. The visitors evened the count at 18:12 with Rurka capping Strate's pass. The period ended 1-1.

At 2:50 of the second Andy Redford slipped in Bill Novak's rebound but T. Zahn of the Kings who packs a mighty slap shot evened the score, assisted by the Dunnigan brothers. Bill Schmidt [illegible] a joint effort with Frank Ewing and Elmer Kreller getting assists. That ended the scoring for the Tigers and they went into the rest period out in front 3-2.

The third period was a long series of goals notched by the Gas Kings. Jack Lamb from Tom Dunnigan; L. Josephison from Proctor and N Josephison; Strate from the Dunnigan Bros.; Zahn from Proctor and L. Josephison, then State who ended the scoring at 7-3.

Ten penalties were handed out by Referee Scotty Munro of Edmonton who kept the game well in hand. Ralph Rudd of Mannville was linesman. The Gas Kings were penalized six times and the Tigers four.

A crowd of 332 paid admission to the game despite bad roads and very cold weather.

Look for a major revolution in the appearance of appliances, says The Financial Post. Many television sets, washers, refrigerators, toasters and electric shavers now look so much alike that customers have difficulty identifying brands. Industrial designers are now trying to drastically alter the looks of most appliances lines. The reason: hard-to-identify products mean reduced effectiveness of the advertising dollar.

FEAR CAN HARM YOUR CHILD

It is normal for your child to be frightened at times. But if his fears are too intense or too prolonged they can be harmful and cause much permanent damage to his developing personality. For this reason take his fears and his worries seriously and make every effort to relieve them.

Some fears are brief and immediately forgotten, like a loud noise or a scary Hallowe'en mask. Others are lasting and deeply injurious. Fear of authority may develop from a father who is too stern; fear of [illegible] too rigid toilet training; that of [illegible] from [illegible] harsh scolding for getting dirty during play. The list is a long one. Whatever seems to make you withdraw your love will worry your child because he loves and needs you so much. Avoid the growth of such fears in your child by being tolerant and friendly about his progress, or lack of it, in his eating, playing or keeping dry. Praise him for his efforts even if they are clumsy. If you make him feel a failure he will be full of fears.

Afraid of being alone in the dark at bedtime is common — and the child cannot be persuaded there is nothing to fear. Ridicule or stern measures only make it harder for him. He is showing how badly he needs comfort, love and reassurance, not just at bedtime but during the day too. The usual cause is a lack of self-confidence. Ease up on your scoldings. They make him feel guilty, a failure. Halt the battles over toilet training and eating. And if Dad has been using the "stern father" method, he'll soften up when he realizes his child needs less managing and more affection and approval. Praise your child's little successes and so build up his inner security.

For the two-year-old leaving the bedroom door partly open will help. Fear of bed-wetting can make a child of this age afraid to go to sleep. His bladder control is not yet perfect and he may be afraid he'll lose his mother's love if he wets his bed. Such a child needs to be told his mother loves him wet or dry.

THIS WORLD CAN BE FRIGHTENING

A child of three or four often fears thunderstorms, snakes, cats, dogs, etc., especially if the parent has shown similar fears in his presence. Or he may imagine frightening things. Reassure him and avoid ridicule. He needs affection to help him over the insecurity that is the basis for such fears. And show him that you are not afraid, but appreciate his feeling the way he does.

Your child is more disturbed about family matters than you probably realize. Discuss such domestic troubles out of his hearing. Fear of death shows up at this age and you can allay his worries by treating the subject reassuringly, telling your child that people don't usually die until they are old and (with a cheerful hug) we'll all be happy together for a long time! Meet his questions honestly and cheerfully.

Parents often promote a child's fear through ambition for him to shine. If you want him to be the tidiest, best-dressed and best-mannered of all children and push him too hard to reach unnatural and impossible high standards, he'll very likely react by not showing off as you desire. Instead, he'll show symptoms of fear, maybe not obviously but in some nervous habits.

DO YOU CRITICIZE TOO FREELY?

Many parents criticize a child constantly. They feel that unless they do this he won't have the urge to improve and won't grow up properly. Criticism is a form of punishment. It can make your child feel afraid and insecure. Don't withhold your praise and admiration because you think your child will become conceited. He should know that his parents are always ready to appreciate and enjoy him. He will come along faster if you tell him now and then what a wonderful child he is.

A child who cringes as a result of harsh or frequent punishment has been made emotionally sick. His days and nights are full of fear. He may start lying and deceiving just to protect himself against pain and humiliation. No thoughtful parent will use such punishment.

Chrysler-Built Cars Subject to Frigid Weather Tests

WINDSOR. — The Canadian winter will be invited to do its worst when a group of automotive engineers visit Dauphin, Man., 150 miles north-west of Winnipeg. Purpose of their visit is to conduct a series of cold-weather tests of Chrysler built automobiles.

This is the first time that such tests have been staged in Canada by the corporation on its passenger cars. Eight vehicles taken at random from the Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler assembly lines at Detroit and Windsor will be used. The cars will be literally soaked with cold at temperatures which the engineers expect may reach 40 below zero.

Engines, electrical systems, transmissions, heaters, defrosters, oil, anti-freeze, tires will be rigorously tested for a two-week period and studied for their reaction to the cold.

In addition, experimental features which may appear on future models will be given a workout under these demanding operating conditions.

In former years the tests were held at Bemidji, Minn., but after a thorough canvass of North American winter temperatures Dauphin was selected as offering a more consistently reliable brand of frigidity.

Clandonald W.A. Of The United Church Sponsor Party

On the evening of Dec. 29th Mr. and Mrs. Herman Feenstra were hosts at a party sponsored by the United Church W.A. Mrs. Feenstra had arranged a program which included a part for everyone. Santa was on hand with a well filled pack of gifts and treats for all the kiddies. It was so nice watching the children playing with their toys and coloring books, something they could not have done in a crowded public building. We hope this kind of party can be repeated next year. Sincere thanks are extended to Mr and Mrs. Feenstra for their kind hospitality.

ANNUAL W.A. MEETING HELD

The annual W.A. meeting was held at Mrs. Campbell's on Dec. 1. Mrs. Herman Feenstra is the new president. Mrs. Wilber Feenstra will carry on the secretary's work.

We are again fortunate in having Rev C.W. MacKay assisted by Mr. Schurman at the church every second Sunday. Mr MacKay's messages are always an inspiration to all who hear him.

Weather and Sales

Retailers in a good many parts of Canada are doing business this month with one eye on the cash register and the other on the weather, reports The Financial Post.

They are watching the weather in particular right now because snow, storms and cold dealt them a blow in November and December. A continuation of "the worst winter in years" would take a big chunk out of sales volume.

The weather didn't stop 1955's surge to record-breaking national sales but it did cut a sizeable slice from the annual Christmas business cake.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

TWO MINING CENTRES ARE NOW "GHOST TOWNS"

EDMONTON — Alberta had all the elements of a genuine panic in the coal mining industry starting in the spring of 1954 and continuing during the ensuing year, when declining markets began causing mines to close down.

Approximately 1000 miners were either laid off or permanently put out of work during 1954 and the summer of 1955, and it could have developed into a serious unemployment problem with a depressing effect on the economy of some sections of the province.

Today however, it appears doubtful if there is any unemployment due directly to the decline in the coal industry — even though markets continue to disappear and coal production figures continue to drop in this province which contains Canada's largest reserves of coal.

The credit can be given to a three-man committee set up in April, 1954, with a grant of $100,000 from the provincial legislature, which set about the task of getting the unemployed [illegible] other fields of industry.

The committee worked for almost two years and last week made its final report to the government. The report showed, among other things, that the committee had spent only $80,000 of its allotment, had paid the cost of moving 325 families to jobs in different localities, and had created two new ghost towns in Alberta mining areas. The net result: A happy ending to what could have been a sad story.

When the committee launched its program, it was with the understanding that it would help miners to help themselves. The members decided the best way would be to assist them in finding other lines of work. If they needed financial help to move families and effects, the cost would be paid. But under no circumstances would the committee undertake a straight relief program.

Co-operation was requested and obtained from the National Employment Service, the United Mine Workers of America, boards of trade, contractors and builders' organizations. As a result all or nearly all miners from stricken areas have found employment, and there is no more talk of blue ruin in the coal producing areas.

The committee found that in two towns when the coal mines folded the entire economy folded with them. There was no alternative but to move everyone out, and that was done during the spring and summer of 1955.

Accordingly, Nordegg and Alexo, both west of Rocky Mountain House, were added to the list of Alberta ghost towns. At Nordegg, 123 families and their effects were moved at a cost to the government of $34,879. At Alexo, 26 families were moved at a cost of $3,666.

Miners and their families were moved from other towns, but these were the only two where complete evacuation was undertaken.

The fortunate timing of major construction projects helped the committee with its rehabilitation in the Coal Branch area west of Edson. Miners were thrown out of work at Luscar and Coal Valley, and many found jobs in the construction of the big pulp mill at nearby Hinton.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT MADE QUICK SINCERE MOVE

Hon Raymond Reierson, minister of industries and labor, believes the success of the project is due mainly to the fact that the government moved in quickly with a sincere program. It provided the incentive for many miners to move out on their own initiative and find jobs in other industries.

He recalled that the government had been criticized for appropriating only $100,000, but pointed out that if the program had been one of straight relief payments the incentive would not have been created.

OLDER MINERS DIFFICULT TO PLACE

The greatest problem was with miners between the ages of 50 and 60 — too old to enter other trades after a lifetime of mining, and too young to be eligible for pension. However, with a little extra effort jobs were found for them.

COLEMAN BENEFITS

Perhaps the effect of the committee's work is most evident at Coleman in the Crowsnest Pass. Coleman was one of the hardest hit mining towns, and as a partial solution the government subsidized bus transportation to Michel and Fernie, across the border in B.C. where there were openings for miners.

Other Crowsnest Pass miners have gone into forestry, roadwork, lumbering and the oil industry, and as a result the economy of Coleman is better than it has been for several years.

Chairman of the committee was John Ferguson, provincial supervisor of immigration. Other members were W. A. R. Rees of the department of welfare and Joe. Dutton, director of [illegible]

CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

Jack Willes has been in hospital for a few days due to after effects of the flu. We hope he will soon be feeling quite well again.

New Year greetings to the Editor and staff and all the readers of Claysmore Clippings. May everyone enjoy a Happy and Prosperous 1956.

Mr and Mrs. Stanley Garrie of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Sid DeGeare and family of Lloydminster spent Xmas day at the home of Mr and Mrs. Robt. MacMillan.

Mr and Mrs Vern Karlstrom and family and Mr. and Mrs. M. Karlstrom, all of Valley View, Alta., motored to Claysmore to spend Christmas with their daughter and sister Mr and Mrs. A Olstad and family.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs J. Horne on New Year's day were Mrs. Laura Van Nest and boys, and Mr and Mrs A. Olstad and family.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT HELD

The Xmas concert held at the school on Dec 22 was well attended. After being postponed twice owing to the heavy snow storm and blocked roads, we were very glad word of the new date reached so many and they were able to come.

There was a good-sized crowd and all seemed to enjoy the well arranged program of Christmas carols, songs, short plays and musical selections by the young folks and children.

The tree looked very gay with its bright trimmings, colored lights and piles of gaily wrapped gifts.

Santa arrived shortly before the lunch was served and was given a royal welcome by the children and was very generous with his presents and treats to all.

Ruth, Ann and John Beatty of Vermilion were visitors at the home of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacMillan on Xmas day.

According to the United States department of agriculture the productivity of cattle in that country increased 38 per cent between 1934 and 1954.

MIDDLE MEN

Even good Christians do not seem to extend their loving kindness to include weather men, tax collectors, executioners, lawyers or middle men. All are cast out into the cold, especially middle men.

Weathermen get back at us for our lack of affection by crying "I told you so" after a predicted storm. Tax collectors and public executioners have the means to punish our coldness. Lawyers get their day in court. Middle men must simply learn to "take it" from all sides.

Farmers say potatoes, so inexpensive in the garden lot, are too darn steep entirely when served up Julienne at restaurants.

Housewives snort that beef on the hoof is cheap, but just look at the price my butcher charges ... and then she raises heck if bones are not removed, fat carefully trimmed off, and tender meat carefully wrapped in beautiful transparent film.

Middle men [illegible] expect to be loved. They bring us only intangibles. They save some of the elusive garden-fresh taste of potatoes by careful handling and packing. They bring us meat in tins or transparent wrapping cut to our taste, refrigerated, graded. They advertise and promote sales ... a job that farmers themselves are now recognizing as important. And often, in their hustle to earn an income they reduce prices. Even former luxuries like oranges and grapefruit have been brought within the reach of ordinary families through the marketing and the handling skill o eager if unloved middle men.

Consumers might some day relent and give the devil his due. And if producers, by ganging up, finally squeeze the middle men right out of the picture ... consumers will be sorry. Producers too unless they learn some of the middle man's selling methods. Fact is we'd all miss middle men more than we realize.

Just the same they'll never be loved. They'll receive mighty few flowers for the living. It is much more fun for all of us to have someone to blame when prices are high. Middle men make good whipping boys.

(Held over from last week)

The weather man was rather mean during the Christmas holidays most of us were snow-bound but good, up to the roof nearly or at least half way. However, the New Year's eve came in with a bang, the roads being plowed out in most district enabling people to get out to the frolics.

Thanks to Bob Mercier for opening up our field for us or else we would be sitting home yet! We hear you are snow bound yet Mrs. Moore, we might see you around the 24th of May eh?

The Shaw family gathered together at the home of Betty and Bill on Xmas day. Granddad Shaw played Santa to a host of grandchildren. That's the way to keep [illegible]

Mrs. Gillies spent a few days with the writer which was certainly appreciated by us. Your scribe needed cheering up as it was like being in a prison except the eats might have been a little better.

Christmas night we wiggled to Betty's and Lloyd's for a turkey supper. On New Year's we all gathered at Doreen's for another lovely turkey feast. One evening up on Friday night so if the weather man co-operates we will fare fairly well.

Poland is recovering some of her prewar pork markets. The United Kingdom has become the biggest export market for Polish bacon, receiving 13,200 tons in 1954. Polish hams shipped to Western Europe and North America are increasing in quantity.

VERMILION QUOTA $1,000.00

LEGION POLIO FUND STARTS MONDAY, JANUARY 30th

For the third year in succession the Canadian Legion in Alberta will conduct a Polio Fund Canvass. In most of Canada the "March of Dimes" organization handles the canvass but in Alberta it is the Legion.

The Vermilion branch set the machinery in motion at their regular monthly meeting on January 13th.

Geo Martin was appointed chairman of the Polio Canvass committee and the quota for Vermilion and district was set at $1000.00.

The record of collections for the Polio Fund in this area has been away above average. In 1953 the quota was set at $1500 and $2000 was received. In 1954 the quota was the same and collections were $1385. Now the quota is somewhat smaller but for the reputation of the district the Legion hopes it will be exceeded.

It will be of interest to the public that in the past two years grants totalling $1782.64 were handed over to polio victims in this district and there are some applications still pending.

Everyone in Vermilion can recall that several of their friends and very likely relatives were afflicted with polio in recent years. Here is a chance for people to make a contribution to a worthy cause that comes right home to everybody in the area.

The president of Vermilion branch, Neil McLean wishes it to be made known that every polio case in Alberta receives assistance if needed. The help is not for veterans families only. Everybody is given assistance.

The Polio fund helps out in many ways where government grants do not apply. Where families are suddenly stricken there are ambulance fees, home nursing, wheel chairs, care of children where the mother contracts polio, transportation of patients to Edmonton for medical consultation and in many other ways.

President McLean, Chairman, Geo. Martin and all members of Vermilion Branch ask that Vermilion business men, farmers and workers will be very generous in their giving to this worthy cause. It is felt that it would be too bad if now the help from this fund would have to be restricted in any way.

High School Curling Play-Offs Saturday

The rink which will represent the Vermilion high school in the Alberta Championship play-offs has been chosen and consists of Skip Brent Long, Donald Stewart, Billy Tough and Al McPherson.

The first competition they enter will be a round robin draw to be held at Kitscoty Saturday. The winning rink on Saturday will represent play-off district No. 21, comprising Islay, Kitscoty, Paradise Valley and Vermilion. Clarke Richardson, principal of the high school at Kitscoty is in charge of the arrangements for district 21. L. A. Dowling of the Vermilion High school staff is coach and manager for the Vermilion entry.

The winners at Kitscoty will travel to Edmonton to play in the competition there on Saturday Jan. 28 for the right to represent Northern Alberta in provincial playoffs in Calgary.

The Dominion finals will be in Fort William this year and rinks from all ten provinces with two from Ontario will participate. Last year the Dominion finals were won by Saskatchewan with Alberta placing third.

School curling has been gaining in popularity with high school students for the last ten years, since it was organized into Alberta Championship play-offs by the Taylor, Pearson & Carson organization in 1946. Last year there were more than 300 cities, towns, villages and hamlets represented in the 44 District play-offs in Alberta.

Red Cross Annual Meeting February 1

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Red Cross will be held in the office of the Vermilion school division on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m.

TIGERS SET BACK RANGERS 5 to 2

Vermilion Tigers ran their winning streak to four straight games here on Saturday night last when they set back Vegreville Rangers five goals to 2. The Rangers didn't have any too much man power with them and faded after leading at the end of the first session two goals to one. The second period had a decided Tiger tinge with Kreller and company running in four goals without a reply while the third was scoreless on both sides.

Tempers flared at the end of the third when a free-for-all developed in the corner, starting out with two players, other players attempting to separate them became embroiled and even a few fans got down on the ice. Fans should never attempt to take part as this can lead to much more serious brawling and possible injury than when just the hockey players are taking part. So remember in case there is a fight in the future in a hockey game if you are a spectator, keep in the stands. Getting onto the ice is an open invitation to some husky young hockey player to take a swing at you with his stick or fist. You are safer in your seat.

Munro, the official in charge, had a hard time pacifying some of the Vegreville players who apparently do not take kindly to his refereeing.

TIGERS LOSE TO LLOYD. CHEVIES

A Lloydminster team made their first appearance on Vermilion ice in a number of years and handed our Tigers a 3-1 defeat in a fine exhibition of hockey. The Chevies, who have nine of their last year's Jets on their line-up, as well as D. Johnston who is a former member of the famous Penticton Vs, show experience and coaching in every move they make on the ice. However, they play it remarkably clean and the game last night was a nice one to watch. It could have been closer, as several nice passes slid across the Lloyd goal mouth just inches out of reach of a Vermilion player.

B. Jeffries opened the scoring at 4:57 in the first period, converting Jerry Mills pass and this was it in the first. In the second stanza Mills scored from Jeffries and Boyer from Eddie King just a minute apart. The Tigers gathered up their lone counter at 14:40 of the third with Bill Schmidt batting in Marv Little's pass.

The Tigers played a remarkable defensive game while playing shorthanded for four minutes in the third, holding the cagy Chevies at bay and exerting quite a bit of offensive strength at the same time.

TIGERS LOSE AT LLOYDMINSTER

The winning streak of the Vermilion Tigers came to an emphatic end at Lloydminster on Monday night when the Chevies stopped them 12 goals to one. The Tigers failed to play up to their usual standards apparently being a bit overawed by the fact that they were meeting the finalists for the Intermediate A Championship of Western Canada for the past three years.

Board of Trade To Elect New Officers Next Wednesday

The Vermilion Board of Trade will hold the annual meeting on Wednesday next, January 25th following a luncheon in the Rio cafe. The luncheon is scheduled to start at 12:10 noon. Everyone is welcome to attend this gathering.

The business will include annual reports featured by a review of the activities of the past year by retiring president Dr. Ben King. This will be followed by the election of officers.

Anglican Men's Club Review Active Year

The annual meeting of the St. Saviour's Men's club was held in the parish hall on Monday, Jan. 9. The supper committee, headed by Ernie Buckingham, produced a first class meal which was very much enjoyed by the members present.

A report on the year's activities showed that nine regular supper meetings had been held during the year. Two shows were sponsored by the Club. In October the Eric Christmas show proved very popular and played to an appreciative audience of good size in the armories. This show was unusual in that only two performers were to have taken part. In the event, due to an unfortunate accident, Mr. Christmas was deprived of the services of his partner, and he alone was able to hold a large audience for two hours and send them away satisfied. Indeed a tribute to his undoubted skill. The second show was a three-act comedy presented by the St. Thomas' Players from Wainwright in the Junior high school auditorium. Unfortunately attendance on this occasion was not as large as was expected, but those who came were entertained by a well produced and grandly performed play.

Last fall a new sphere of operations was entered by the club when they organized a Junior Men's club. Our grateful thanks in this regard are due to Mr Bert Moore for the considerable help he has given us in this work and for the facilities he has made open to us on behalf of the boys.

The election of officers for this year did not take very long. Indeed, it has been reported by a most reliable source of information that one re-elected officer was clearly heard muttering something about railroading, whatever that may mean! Be that as it may the club is indebted to its officers for their work during the past year and for the fine example which we know they will set us during the current year. Elected or perhaps it would be better to say, re-elected, were:

President — J. V. Kneale
Vice-Pres. — J. R. Robson
2nd Vice-Pres — J. W. G. Morrison
Sec Treas — W. J. Fooks

Recalls Old Days At Vegreville

The Standard was interested to read a letter in the Vegreville Observer written by Oscar F. Johnson who now resides on the former Charlie Deford farm at Borradaile. Oscar is an old timer of Vegreville and his letter deals with some interesting data of the early days. The information is of interest locally and it is the intention of the Standard to reproduce the letter in an early issue of the paper. Mr Johnston is a brother-in-law of Mr W. H. Little.

Wainwright And Viking To Play Here Next Week

Vermilion fans can look for two good hockey games on home ice this coming week when the Wainwright Commandos appear here Monday, January 23rd, followed by Viking Gas Kings in a popular Saturday night set-to. All these teams are evenly matched and very much in a heap in the league race so some sparkling action is bound to result.

Call off everything and take in one or both of these hockey games next week. The teams dish up a very interesting brand of entertainment with never a dull moment.

Wainwright here on Monday, January 23rd.
Viking here Saturday, January 28th.

Dewberry Home And School Hold Interesting Session

A meeting of the Home and School Association was held Thursday Jan 12 at the Dewberry High school.

A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Neil Jones on the Home and School convention at Mannville, with a full and explicit description of the various sessions and a detailed appreciation of the high points in Dr Laycock's speeches.

This report was followed by the reading of a play on teen-age difficulties. This play was read by members from the audience and a buzz session followed in which various challenges in the play were weighed and discussed, and then presented to the meeting for a final analysis.

It was decided to have panel discussions at next month's meeting of the Home and School Association, the subjects under discussion to be Comics and Homework. Ruth Strang's excellent article "What About Homework?" in the December issue of the A.T.A. magazine has given us all a foretaste of the convincing arguments both for and against in this hoary school problem.

New Canadians To Meet January 25

A general meeting of New Canadians has been called for Wednesday evening Jan. 25 at 8:00 o'clock.

The meeting will be held in the Vermilion High school under the direction of Lorne A. Dowling.

If there is sufficient interest classes will be organized to assist New Canadians in the study of English and Citizenship.

Evergreen Tribute to Premier, Mrs. Manning

An evergreen tribute to Premier and Mrs. E. C. Manning was planted last summer in the hills overlooking Nazareth by Mr and Mrs. I. Milner of Vegreville and Edmonton. The grove of 35 deciduous trees stands in the Queen Elizabeth Coronation Forest, a project in Israel of the Jewish National Fund and the Zionist Organization of Canada. Here Mr. Manning accepts a commemorative certificate from Mr. Milner at left. Assisting is Hy Fogelman, western director of the Zionist Organization.

Play Commences Friday In Double Knock-Out

Sixteen Out Of Possible Seventeen Towns Enter Curling Play-Offs

Sixteen curling clubs of a possible seventeen have entered the Zone 8 play-offs in the Northern Alberta Curling Association competition. The play-offs will be at the Vermilion six-sheet artificial ice curling rink, which also boasts matched rocks. Draws start at 8:30 a.m. Friday and continue all day to completion on Saturday.

That sixteen clubs out of a possible seventeen should enter is a remarkable record and one which will probably be the highest in the province for the new system of play-offs being introduced this winter.

The winning rink from this zone goes to Edmonton to compete with other zone winners and the chance to represent Alberta in the Macdonald-Brier Dominion Championship Curling competition.

Vermilion's representative in the Zone play-off will be decided this Thursday evening when skip Darrell Currah with Roger Rowe, Glen Gibbons and Aldous Kent play skip Wm. Sutherland, Ross Bowles, Gordon Ross and Bill McLaughlin for the honor of representing the Vermilion club.

The elimination system being used is the double knock-out, as advocated by the Alberta Curling Association. Each rink thus plays in two competitions and the two winners playo-of ners play off.

The draw for the first competition is:

Streamstown vs. Dewberry; Kitscoty vs. Marwayne; Minburn vs. Blackfoot; Paradise Valley vs. Clandonald; Islay vs. McLaughlin; Myrnam vs. Rivercourse; Mannville vs. Vermilion; Derwent vs. Wildmere.

In the second competition the rinks will meet this way:

Streamstown - Islay; Minburn - Mannville; Dewberry - McLaughlin; Blackfoot-Vermilion; Kitscoty-Myrnam; Paradise Valley - Derwent; Marwayne-Rivercourse; Clandonald-Wildmere.

E. A. Locke of Vermilion is in charge of the draws.

Hu Harries To Speak At Canadian Club

The Vermilion Canadian club has arranged for an Edmonton alderman, Mr. Hu Harries, to speak at a dinner meeting on Friday, Jan. 20th.

Mr Harries, who heads his own firm of economic consultants and has recently received considerable publicity for his views on a variety of civic affairs, has chosen to discuss "Transportation Problems Affecting the Development of Alberta's Industries". No doubt Mr. Harries will have some interesting and enlightening information on this subject.

The meeting will be held in the Anglican parish hall at 6:30 p.m.

Lady Curlers Hold Club Bonspiel

A President vs. Vice-President spiel was held last week for members of the Vermilion Ladies' Curling club. The competition, which took place on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and Thursday evening, was between four rinks on President Mrs Al Locke's side and four curling for Vice-President Mrs John David.

Mrs Locke's rinks skipped by Mrs W. Cross, Mrs. Ed Corley, Mrs. Ken Rowe, Miss Irene Moffatt and Mrs Locke were the losers and had to treat the winning rinks skipped by Mrs J. McCaig, Miss Lena Miller, Mrs Lena Williams, Mrs Geo. Caron and the Rovers. Refreshments were provided in the rink lunch room after the jitney games on Friday evening.

JITNEY CURLING ENJOYED

Friday evening's curling took the unusual and amusing form of a jitney. Each curler drew a piece of paper stating the rink with which they were to play and, without regard to their customary position, their place on that rink. Even the greenest skips, under this arrangement were not to receive any advice from the seasoned curlers. In spite of the unusual line-ups there were some good games enjoyed before the curlers who had won in the club spiel received the lunch provided for them by the losers.

Cpl. Norman Cooper Home from Overseas

Corporal Norman Cooper of the R.C.A.F. accompanied by Mrs. Cooper and 4-months-old son, Lloyd, arrived in Vermilion early Thursday morning.

Norman is the son of Mr and Mrs R. S. (Nook) Cooper, and has just completed three years of service overseas including England, France, Germany, Belgium and Africa. He married while in England in 1954.

Lloyd, their four-month son, presented an odd situation when born as his father is a Canadian, his mother an English girl, they were stationed in France living in Belgium, and when the proper time arrived Mrs. Cooper was flown to a base hospital in Germany where the babe was born.

Cpl. Cooper has been posted to the R.C.A.F. Station at St. Hubert, Quebec.

Farm Loans on Grain Average $900.00

Preliminary reports show that about 2,200 prairie farmers obtained federally guaranteed grain loans between November 15 and December 1st. The loans made on the security of farm-held grain totalled about $2 million and averaged $900 each.

Acclamations To S. D. Boards

J. R. Robson, Returning Officer for the Vermilion School Division, reports that at the expiration of the period for receiving nominations, 3 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 16, only one nomination had been received for school trustee for each division. The following were duly declared elected by acclamation for a three year period:

Subdiv. 1 — Allan F. Weeks, McLaughlin.
Subdiv. 3 — W. Lloyd Brown, Islay.

Both Mr. Weeks and Mr. Brown are former members of the board. Other members of the board are D. C. McGrath, R. C. Mead, Thos. Clutterbuck, C. N. Brennan.

VEGREVILLE S. D.

W. G. Porayko of Vegreville was re-elected for subdivision 1 of the Vegreville S.D., and R. J. Whitson of Mannville for subdivision 4. Mr. Porayko has served on the board for six years and Mr. Whitson for three years. The elections were by acclamation.

Mannville United Church Hold Annual Meeting and Supper

MANNVILLE — In spite of the cold weather there was a fairly good attendance at the Pot Luck supper which has become an annual event before the annual meeting of McQueen's United church. After an excellent supper a short film was shown by Mr. C. Gamble.

The film was followed by the annual meeting. All departments reported a successful year. Water and sewerage and gas were all installed in the manse and gas in the church and hall. Even with this added expense the financial position is satisfactory.

Newly elected members to the Board are Messrs. Hugh Doherty and Maurice Smith and Mrs. Fred Proudfoot. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring members Mr. A. Rostron, Mrs. W. Gerhart and Mrs. E. Woods.

Mr. N. Crooks spoke fittingly of Rev. and Mrs. Holter and expressed the hope that they would remain in this charge for some time. Rev. I. Holter thanked Mr. Crooks for his kind remarks and expressed his appreciation of the work of the people in this district.

ANOTHER MARK OF PIONEER DAYS DISAPPEARED

The Standard can never see an old landmark in town or district being demolished without visualizing all the changes that have taken place since the building was first erected. These buildings have possibly been the pride and hope of the town at one time or another, and for many years served a very useful purpose. This past week saw the old coal ramp in the Canadian National Railway yards here, torn down. The large timbers, mostly 12x12s and 12x10s, were in perfect condition and will be used in making a storage house for ice.

The coal ramp was used by running a C.N.R. car up on it, and then two men would shovel coal into the tenders of the engines. It is no longer used because all the [illegible] running on this line are now [illegible] diesels or burn oil for fuel. [illegible] of the coal ramp being used for refueling, there is an oil storage [illegible]. Engines are refueled in [illegible] the same way as they take on [illegible]. A big hose is pulled down into the engine tender and the oil runs in.

The history of Vermilion, especially in the early days, was interlocked with the development of the Railway. At one time it was decidedly a railway town. This when Vermilion was a divisional point on the main line of the Canadian Northern Railway. It lost this importance when the federal government took over the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk railways and amalgamated the systems under the Canadian National. However, the C.N.R. is still a very valued part of Vermilion's economy. Indeed the railroad payroll is possibly the greatest in town, and it still rates as Vermilion's largest taxpayer.

While coal ramp is no more, the lumber that formed its steel supports and runway will be put to a new use. A storage house for ice has been built with it. Ice is already being moved in by freight in large blocks from Lake Wabamun. The blocks each weigh 300 pounds. The ice is used on the trains, and an occasional demand is met from outside sources.

Of 405,122 births in Canada in the most recent year of record, 4,597 were twins and 39 were triplets.

FARMER ADVOCATES FEEDING PRAIRIE CHICKENS—

A well-known farmer from southeast of Vermilion is rather anxious about the welfare of our native birds, the prairie chickens. Apparently the prairie chicken is not wintering any too well due to the depth of the snow. The snow keeps this hardy bird from getting to the source of his food supply, that is seeds from around straw stacks, or in combined fields, seeds and berries commonly found on low bushes. He himself has noted their plight when driving to straw stacks as the birds flock to the stack from all directions when they hear the team and sleigh. He has taken to throwing them screenings around the farm yard and counted as many as 35 feeding in one flock. Mr. Farmer further says that if the people want the prairie chicken to survive this winter they had better start throwing them some screenings. When it was suggested that his act would provide him with some hunting and food next fall, the good Samaritan shrugged his shoulders and replied that he preferred to see his wild life alive and on the wing, and that he had neither the time nor the inclination for hunting.

The Editor thinks that the feeding of our birds would be a timely topic for the Fish and Game.

Canada's One Million Service Club Members Boon to Small Town Culture

Canada's service clubs today are big business. With a membership of more than 1,000,000 men and women, most of them from small towns, they raise $10 million each year from raffles, tag days, ice shows, music festivals, Easter seals, apple sales—and even the Metropolitan Opera, it is reported in a recent issue of Liberty magazine.

Little of the money so raised finds its way into the club coffers. Instead, it is used for a multiplicity of purposes designed to make life easier and more comfortable for the afflicted and the needy, and the community as a whole.

LIONS

When a Toronto taxicab driver was murdered a few years ago, a local Lions club raised funds for the victim's family. A Winnipeg club sponsored a clinic for spastic children. Another, in St. John's, Newfoundland, finances treatment for [illegible] kiddies.

KINSMEN

In Peace River Alberta, Kinsmen [illegible] their community of 1,300 [illegible] a community centre. Members motored 300 miles to Dawson Creek, dismantled an old, unused U.S. warehouse, brought it back to Peace River. Through carnivals, ice shows, and [illegible] game banquets, they built an [illegible] that couldn't be duplicated for $70,000.

ROTARY

The [illegible] of the Rotary [illegible] there are over 12,000 Rotarians in 204 [illegible] across Canada, has raised [illegible] in the last 12 years for projects ranging from dental research to the Toronto Heart Clinic. Yet Rotary is by no means the largest of the service clubs "Big Five."

KIWANIS

Both Lions and Kiwanis claim the biggest membership in Canada. Altogether, Kiwanis boasts 200,000 members in 3,900 clubs in Canada, Hawaii, Alaska and the Yukon. Lions claim 30,000 members in 800 Canadian clubs, 500,000 global members in 70 democratic countries.

KINSMEN ALL CANADIAN

Kinsmen claim the only all-Canadian service club. It was founded in 1920 at Hamilton, Ontario, by H. A. Rogers. Canadian president now is Al Dobrensky of Edmonton. [illegible] is the oldest and most [illegible] club, and the Optimists round [illegible].

The [illegible] Gyro, Civitan, Progress and Cosmopolitan — are smaller in membership but accomplish every bit as much, proportionately, as their big brothers in service.

Despite their excellent records of public service, many people are inclined to write off the service clubs as nothing more than havens of horseplay for men who have yet to grow up, weekly "dry" stag parties for jaded businessmen, or as back-patting self-advertising [illegible] of businessmen.

It is true, of course, that a certain amount of horseplay does go on at weekly luncheon meetings, and that membership in one of the service clubs never was looked upon as a deterrent to commercial success. But the clubs themselves list different reasons for their popular existence.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP

Most popular is "good fellowship." Certainly this phrase is the hallmark of the 4,000 members of the 49 Gyro Clubs, spread across Canada, particularly in the Maritimes and the Prairie provinces. It is even a by-word in the women's auxiliaries, who call themselves Gyrettes.

"Advancement of Canada" is the motto of the Progress Club's 800 members in Quebec and Ontario. All five Toronto chapters assist the Parent's council for retarded children. "Friend of the Boy" is the motto of the Optimists Club.

NO VERBAL SERVICE

But whatever their motto, however they function, whether they are staging a performance of the Metropolitan Opera or dismantling an Army warehouse to provide a community arena, service clubs are doing genuine service to their fellow Canadians.

"Membership in a service club," said one member, "gives the participant fellowship, and above all a wonderful chance to express himself in our club motto — Service Above Self."

This is as close, perhaps, as any member of Canada's many service clubs could come to defining the purpose and goal of the group to which they belong.

HATCHING EGGS

There are 680 approved poultry flocks in Alberta, only 10 in Vermilion River. Perhaps we are missing a bet here. There is good money in shipping hatching eggs. Some of you could well give this enterprise a thought. Those interested drop in to this office for further information.

PROFIT OR LOSS

At present feed costs, a hen laying 150 eggs per year clears about $1.25 above feed costs. A bird laying 200 eggs a year clears $2.50 above feed costs. In a flock of 1000 birds this means an additional annual income of $1250.00. It pays to cull your flock continually, get rid of the free boarders and feed for production.

FEEDING PREGNANT ANIMALS

To avoid the birth of weak or dead young, the pregnant female must be fed a balanced ration. The nutrients most often deficient in the rations of cattle and sheep are protein, phosphorous and vitamin A. Additional protein may be obtained by feeding oil cake or a commercial mixture. Phosphorous by bonemeal, Vitamin A by green alfalfa, hay or good upland hay. If no green hay is available, cod liver oil may be fed in the grain. Some grain also should be fed, if there is no good quality alfalfa hay available.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

I wonder how many farmers know that they can get the benefits of the Alberta Compensation Act in the same way as factory workers. Information on rates and the benefits in case of accident or illness can be obtained through this office.

LADIES

We have not had a District Home Economist in our area for several months now. However pamphlets on Food & Nutrition, Handicrafts & Toys, Sewing, Home Planning and others are now available at this office.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane — Women's Travel Authority

Here are some good tips to help your driving:

1. Get plenty of practice. The miles ticked off to experience usually add up to skill. Experience alone eliminates nervousness and hesitancy and leads to automatic and correct driving decisions.

2. Don't wool-gather at the wheel. Your attention to the front and rear must be unceasing and alert.

3. Drive on the right side of the street. Don't monopolize the left lane as some drivers are inclined to do. As a beginner, you should stay in the right lane instead of travelling with the fastest-moving traffic.

4. Avoid driving too close to the car ahead. The experienced driver keeps her distance between her own and the car ahead.

5. Be quick to shift gears. In approaching a hill, don't wait too long to go into lower gear. If you are not a member of the automatic school, try to make the shift by the time you have slowed to 20 miles an hour. On a downgrade, shift before you are over the crest and on your way down.

6. Don't drive jerkily. Jerky driving is symptomatic of bad driving.

Four Highway Deaths In Alberta During Month of December

For the entire year, Alberta had 260 motor vehicle fatalities, four more than in 1954 and substantially less than in 1953 when there were 239.

In 1955, there were 17,579 motor accidents, compared with 16,446 the year before. These accidents resulted in 4,081 persons being injured as against 3,682 the previous year.

ACCIDENTS INCREASE

While over the year there were increases in deaths, accidents and physical injuries, officials of the Safety Council point out that at the end of November there were 348,080 licensed cars and trucks in Alberta for the 11 months, an increase of more than 20,000 or six percent over the 1954 calendar year's total. Also tourist traffic was heavier during the past year which meant a much greater traffic volume on the streets and highways.

"The impressive reduction in fatal accidents during December is much better than we had expected. I feel this was due to a combination of factors. In addition to the safety work maintained on an intensive scale since Nov. 20, there was the special campaign for the best results on Safe Driving Day, Dec. 1," states Paul Lawrence, safety director for the ASC.

"Further", he said, "bad road conditions owing to wintry weather was another factor. Contrary to general belief, icy roads usually result in less traffic deaths, although property damage accidents boom.

"Also, I hope that the small number of fatalities in December, compared with previous months, is a reflection of safety promotion work conducted during the year by the Safety Council and other organizations in cities and towns of the province."

30 DEATHS IN [illegible]

The four fatalities in December occurred in rural parts of Alberta and were reported by the RCMP. In the same month of 1954 there were 30 deaths of which 27 were in rural areas, one in Edmonton and two in Calgary. In December, 1953 there were 37 deaths. The average number of deaths per month over the past three years has been 18. During last December, 275 persons were injured in motor accidents, including 57 in Edmonton, 41 in Calgary and 182 reported by the RCMP.

The December report shows 2,101 motor accidents for the month, compared with 1,832 a year ago. Edmonton showed 751, Calgary 440.

Over the year there were 30 fatalities in three Alberta cities, made up of 13 in Edmonton, a similar number in Calgary and four in Lethbridge. The balance of 178 were reported by the RCMP.

Seaway Tolls

Look for disputes between Canada and the U.S. on St. Lawrence Seaway toll policy, says The Financial Post. The Americans want tolls to reflect all expenses including amortization of federal contributions, as well as maintenance and operational costs. Canadian authorities feel such a schedule would make tolls so high that the economy would not gain full benefits from Seaway construction.

WOODVALE NOTES

We forgot to mention in our last notes, that the Wolters family entertained a crowd of young folks at a skating party on Dec. 28th. Also that Carol McLean was a hospital patient with a very badly infected tooth. She is home again and hopes to be back in school this week. Mr and Mrs. Paul Goutier's daughter Suzanne with her husband Yvon Benoit and children Claudette, Rejeanne, Diane and Roger from Vegreville were over to spend New Year's day with them.

There was a F.U.A. meeting in the Gaston community hall on Jan. 2nd where Elmer Wolters gave an excellent report on the December convention. The general meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, February 7th.

The storm on Thursday and Friday, January 5th and 6th left the roads, yards and fields in worse shape than ever. Not until late Saturday did the snowplow open the main road and allowed the mail truck to get through. There are some very narrow passages through some of the drifts and a lot of snow on the road. It will not take much of a blow to have that road blocked again. Some of the school buses were ploughed out the next Wednesday, and quite a few farmers dug, bulldozed and shovelled themselves a way out. The storm coming so soon after the holiday week-end left people without groceries and fuel, and the country stores were besieged over the week end. Quite a few farmers shipped livestock the week after the storm.

Mrs. A. McQuid left first for a visit to her daughter in Edmonton and then to relations in Connecticut, U. S. A.

Ottvar Seite's trip to Norway was made miserable by an infected hand that needed medical treatment on the way over and on arrival.

The Red Cross meeting at Mrs. Gladys Wolters home on January 11th was attended by five members who worked till very late on a quilt that was later finished by Mrs. Watson and Irene Wolters. The first stayed for supper there with her son Frank. The quilt will be sent to the Vermilion Branch. While a lunch was enjoyed, a meeting was conducted and several letters read. Among them was one from a baby home in Seoul, Korea, accompanied by three cute snapshots of groups of babies and staff, and a beautiful hand painted Christmas card. This Red Cross Auxiliary had sent a CARE donation that reached this Home. It was decided to send another one and it was suggested to get a parcel for them together some time later this year.

The next Red Cross meeting will be on February 1st at the home of Mrs. Betty Lysons.

WILLING WORKERS ELECT OFFICERS

The Woodvale Willing Workers at a meeting on January 11th elected new officers. President is Emma Marklund, Vice-Pres. Marjorie Portsmith, Secretary Janet Gurney, Treasurer Raymond McLean, Reporter Margaret McGrath. The students are all catching up on work after the days missed in school due to the storm and have not planned anything for the time being.

Much Accomplished By Anglican Parish At Mannville

MANNVILLE. — The annual meeting of Christ Church was held on Friday, Jan. 13 with a fair attendance. After opening the meeting with prayer, Rev. Mr. MacPherson expressed his appreciation to the two W.A. groups and the faithful men of the parish as well as the Sunday school teachers, choir, organists, etc. for their co-operation since his coming to the parish in the early summer. He felt that a lot had been accomplished this past year and hoped that 1956 would be as successful or even more so.

The reports from the various organizations proved what a lot had been done and that the parish is active. Water, sewerage and gas had been installed in the rectory and gas in the hall and church as well as a new floor and shingling of the parish hall. All this has only been a part of the work done by the church congregation this year.

Mr. James Johnstone will act as the Vicar's Warden again this year and Mr. Wally Osborn was elected as People's Warden. Other members of the vestry are Messrs. Reg Lugg, Ralph Leach, James McLeslie.

Mr. Osborn spoke for all the congregation when he expressed appreciation for the splendid work that Mr. MacPherson had done in the short time he has been here and the way he has worked with the country points in building them up. With a minister again in charge there is every reason to hope that the parish will continue to be successful.

WILDMERE F.U.A. MEETING

There will be a regular meeting of the Wildmere F.U.A. in Preston Central school on Jan. 25, at 8:30 p.m. Some medical fees are due. 27-8

Alberta Government Appoints Employment Liaison Officer

Hon Raymond Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labour has announced the appointment of John Ferguson as employment liaison officer for the Alberta Government. Mr Ferguson has been transferred to this position from the Department of Economic Affairs where he held the position of supervisor of immigration. His appointment recognizes the growing need for liaison between various organizations and departments of government on problems involving employment, both seasonal and otherwise.

Mr. Ferguson served with the Department of Economic Affairs for the last eight years and in addition to his duties as supervisor of immigration is the chairman of the Miners' Rehabilitation Committee. Prior to joining the public service, Mr. Ferguson was manager of Radio Station CJIB at Vernon, B.C.

In making the announcement, Mr. Reierson stressed the concern and interest of his department in the whole employment picture. He stated he felt that while the rapid industrialization of the province would certainly provide new opportunities for employment, efforts should be made to alleviate as far as possible the seriousness of the seasonal unemployment periods. Mr. Ferguson will maintain close contact with the national employment offices of the province in this regard.

Husband's Impression Of W. I. Day

The W.I. did meet today
To plan their work and make it pay
Before it starts there's lots of talk
Of weather and frost and lack of crop
And also the sale was out of luck
For now it's harder to make a buck.
The price of beef is out of line,
And the price of pigs is on a decline
These discussed they decided to meet
In the hostess's front room, which is clean and neat
The lounge and the chairs are carefully brushed
To fool those keen eyes that are looking for dust.
verse space [illegible]
"O Canada" first, and then comes the creed,
Their corsets are loosened and their voices are freed.
The babble arises, they all talk at once
Try figuring it out you'll feel like a dunce.
Reports are read out with a semblance of order.
"Oh, I must go home and feed our poor boarder."
So the meeting is closed and then the whole bunch
Sit gracefully around awaiting their lunch.
When the last car is gone and you've heard the last shout,
The hostess relaxes, falls flat on the couch
Those ladies are lovely each one is a dear,
But thank the good Lord they come just once a year

The author of the above poem, Gordon Nielson, lives at Fernitosh and is quite blind. To date he has written 70 poems with only two of them rejected. He writes the Fernitosh news column in the Camrose Canadian and contributes to the Edmonton Journal. As the W. NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather keeps cold — has been 40 below today, the 17th. The report is much better if it comes — warmer weather. The main roads have all been opened and the snow banks along them are really high.

Jan. 11th the Armstrong family had three of Mrs. Armstrong's sisters call at their home for a visit and dinner. Mrs. Mabel Lee, Mrs. Stella Mayers and Mrs. Nora Renaghan from town. Nora brought them out in her car.

On the evening of Jan. 11 was our first square dance after the lessons were finished. We are truly grateful to Mr. Bob Peck for making the amplifiers and record player, and a very efficient M.C. Plans are to have every Wednesday as square dance evening. Lunch is served after.

The Allandale W.A. met at the McPhee home on the evening of Jan. 12. It was good to see everyone out. We are grateful to the men folk for taking the ladies. There were 16 present besides the family. The February meeting will be at the Baldock home on the second Thursday in the evening. Roll call — an apron. Mrs. Onness and Mrs. Throndson on the lunch committee.

A surprise phone call from the city on the evening of Jan. 13 from a niece, Mrs. Enoch Lundblad (nee Lucy Throndson) from V[illegible] View. She was calling on her cousin Della and family.

Alvin and Eddie Throndson motored to the city that day, Alvin returning the same day. We're hoping Eddie got to see his sister Lucy. The boys didn't know she was going to be in the city.

Mrs. Dorothy Johnson left via C.N.R. on the morning of Jan. 13 for Vernon, B.C. to spend the winter with her mother Mr. and Mrs. Pat Packman.

Our congratulations to Mrs. Wallington on her 20th year as the Standard correspondent for Wildmere. It was good to hear it over Neighborly News from Wetrous.

Feeding the birds in winter is very interesting, and this [illegible] very necessary. To watch their manners and antics is a reward in itself. We have Whiskey Jacks, Blue Jays and Chickadees just to mention the most common ones. They will eat bread crumbs, beef fat, oatmeal, etc.

Mrs. Mildred Baldock and Mrs. Ellen Onness left Vermilion by bus last Wednesday evening to visit their respective daughters and families, the Greaves and Walshe.

Mrs. John Arnold has been visiting at her son's home, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Arnold and family and friends in town.

On Jan. 17 the three sisters, Mrs. Mabel Lee, Mrs. Stella Mayers and Mrs. Nora Renaghan motored to Elk Point to spend the day with their sister Mrs. Gertie Swanson.

Closing Thought: Be good to yourself — of course not sneakily and selfishly. If you make a blunder recognize it, but do not punish yourself harshly by constant thoughts of self-criticism. How do you like it if a friend frequently brings up your mistakes? Learn what you can quickly from a failure and then bury the thought of it; act toward yourself as a real kindly friend should.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to our friends for their acts of kindness and sympathy, their floral and memorial donations in our time of bereavement. We would like to especially mention Dr. C. W. Stephens, Miss A. Keith and her staff and Jim Chalmers for their thoughtfulness and help.

William Dwyer and family

This may not come under the head of unusual news, but it's still cold in Vermilion. And there's a lot of snow. There has been a snowfall of 4.7 inches during the last two weeks, bringing the total for this winter to 42.2 inches.

During the past two weeks the highest temperature registered here has been 10 above on Jan. 6, and the mercury has dropped as low as 32 below on Jan. 15th.

DOWTELL BULLETIN

Here we are again, folks, after digging ourselves out of the huge snow drifts. Let's hope the wind stays away for awhile and maybe we can get to town for the second time in several weeks.

We are sorry to report at time of writing Mr. Johnson is in Lamont hospital awaiting an operation. Mrs. Gow also returned to Edmonton for treatment for two more weeks.

Frank Robinson received a big surprise recently. On going to feed the pigs he found a coyote [illegible] in the pen!

Due to the blocked roads the December meeting of the B.B.'s and the annual Christmas tree to be held at the hall were cancelled.

SNOW SHOES TO TOWN

George Lind returned to the old days when he got out the snow shoes and went across the fields to his job in town.

Bob Morrison on arriving in Vermilion Saturday from Edmonton, found the roads impassable to his parents' home. Neil Harrison walked to the Morrison home to tell them Bob was in town. After arrangements were made Bob was met on the new highway. He was taken the rest of the way with the old reliables horses and a [illegible] boat. Quite a way for a city [illegible] to travel, eh Bob?

The writer was pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Moncrieff and family and the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. G. McCurdy of Calgary, also Mr. and Mrs. Wells and Mrs. J. Arnold visit her recently.

Three tractors were driven by Georg Lind, Robert Repp and Harold Knutson east to the new highway trying to open up the road. Due to the bad drifts they failed to get through.

Lillian Semenick, nurse-in-training in Edmonton, was home for a few days recently.

The most welcome sound these days, at least to the country folk, is the hum of the snow plow clearing the roads.

Barney and Frank were visitors at the writer's on Wednesday.

These notes were intended for last week, but the writer, instead of the news in her purse, found two blank sheets of paper.

MIXED CHORUS REHEARSAL

There will be a rehearsal of the mixed chorus in the Junior high school on Monday, Jan. 23 at 8 p.m.

ST. SAVIOUR'S WHIST DRIVE

There will be a whist dive in the St. Saviour's parish hall on Wednesday, Jan. 25, at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome. 28

Letters to the Editor

Kolnes, Jan. 16, 1956.

The Editor,
The Standard.
Dear Sir:

The time of the School Division annual meetings is drawing near so I would like to make an appeal to the ratepayers of the Vermilion school division to get out and attend your meetings.

It is high time the ratepayers regained some say in the affairs of the S.D. For instance, last year Mr. Simonsen stated at our annual meeting that it was not the policy of the school division to bus high school students. There was one bus operating on a trial basis. Yet, within six months high school busses were being put on all over the district! I would like to ask our divisional board what is the use of annual meetings if all major policy changes are put on between meetings?

They have also very wisely (for them) split the annual meetings up into five or six small meetings so that it is almost impossible for the ratepayers to demand certain policies. If a motion is adopted at one meeting out of the five or six, the board can, and does, ignore it if they so choose.

Someone in our school division has gone crazy over consolidation, and it is a very expensive way to go crazy. Please don't get the idea that I oppose all consolidation, far from it, but I believe that:

1. Consolidation should not be done faster than the municipality can keep up to it with roads and snow plowing equipment.

2. That consolidation should not be pushed through where the number of pupils warrants using present schools.

A good example of the latter is Myrtle Hill. This school was closed with nearly thirty pupils attending and a teacher who was willing to come back another year. They put on a bus that cost more than the teacher's salary and now we are asked to build four additional classrooms in Kitscoty to care for these and other similar cases.

I have heard rumors that the dormitories at Kitscoty will be closed next year and all high school students bussed to centres. Well, I am going to come out with a suggestion that we extend dormitory facilities to other centres. The one main objection I've heard to dorms is on moral grounds. It is not the dorms that are to blame. It is the age of the pupils. The same problem arises where students live in town and walk to school each day, or travel on high school busses where at least one moral problem case arose and was reported to head office.

It should not be overlooked that dormitory life is an education in itself and a very important one. Farm children learn to mix and live with others and they learn to live away from home in preparation for their first job. It is the most economical way of getting country students and town schools together.

I could go on criticizing. There is the case of high school students riding a public bus free without permission while a party who asks permission was refused. There is the case of public school children having to pay to ride in a public school bus because they lived within the town school district. How stupid can it get!

The above has been a general outline of some of the dissatisfaction. I now intend to set out a three point program which I would like to see some valiant citizen introduce at each of the annual meetings:

1. Motion — That the school division hold one annual meeting along the lines of the present municipal annual meeting. The reason: so that taxpayers can have some say in the running of school affairs instead of just footing the bills.

2. That the school division adopt a policy of no bussing of high school children at public expense.

First, I will take the only two arguments I've heard for high school busses. "They have them other places, why not here?" That argument would be O.K. if we were a bunch of sheep, whichever way one goes the others follow. I believe in our school affairs we can form our own policies without having to follow others.

The second one: "The Provincial government pays 60% of the cost." People who use this argument forget two things. First — whose money is Provincial government money? It's ours. I know they get huge sums from oil but who pays the oil companies so that they can pay the government huge royalties? We farmers do and to a lesser extent those in town do too.

Second — who pays the balance? We do and it's a lot of these balances added together that up our mill rates each year. Now for the other side. There never can be any fairness in high school busses for the simple reason that all children do not get to high school. In public school which is compulsory, by and large everyone is treated alike. The cost is out of proportion to the results. Routes are long, loads small, making costs skyrocket. On any normal year high school students on a bus will lose some time due to road conditions and on a year like this one they will lose a lot of time and that is no good in high school where every day counts.

Third Motion — That school division takes steps to extend the present dormitory facilities to the centres that can handle extra pupils. As I pointed out this is the cheapest way of getting country pupils and town schools together. Any parents I have talked to who have had pupils attend the dorm at Kitscoty were highly satisfied.

In conclusion I would like to say that this is the way I see the problem. However I would like to point out that I am only asking that these things be voted on in a democratic manner. If the majority oppose the points I have brought out I will say no more. But let's have our say on these and any others you may not be satisfied with.

Thanking you for this space, Mr. Editor.

Sincerely,
Wes Funnell.

Vermilion, Alta.,
Jan. 17, 1956.

Dear Editor:

They say, a word to the wise is sufficient. Harken then, dear councillors of the Town of Vermilion, for you are wise men . . . Change the "Stop" sign at the arena rink corner and Coca Cola corner to let north and south bound traffic through and STOP the east and west bound speedsters who have gathered enough speed by the time they have accelerated from Craig's corner to this point to enter the Indianapolis speed race, and the same applies to those coming from the west. A little common sense in some of your stop signs would be appreciated.

Hockey Chit-Chat

By GERRY MARSHALL

The Tigers' four-game winning streak came to an abrupt halt on Monday night as they were beaten 12 to 1 at Lloydminster. Throughout this battle the Tigers never looked at all like the team which had overcome all opposition during the past ten days. They played listless, disorganized hockey and seemed to snap into a defeated mood even before game time. In the dressing room they were quiet and nervous . . . they helped defeat themselves even before they saw the powerful Chevies. On the other hand, Lloyd played great hockey both ways and are definitely the best club the Tigers have faced in the past few seasons. They will be hard to beat and rate as a real contender to relieve Vegreville of the job of keeping the Craig cup polished.

SET BACK ST. PAUL

Wednesday, the 11th, the Tigers knocked St. Paul out of first place by handing them their second defeat of the season by a 6-5 score. Playing coach Kreller paced the attack by turning in the first hat trick of the season as he turned in a three-goal and 'three star' performance.

BENGALS TAKE FOUR IN ROW

Then on Saturday night the Bengals made it four in a row as they whipped the sagging Vegreville Rangers 5-2 to move into third place. The defending champions had little to offer in the way of resistance as the Tigers outplayed them in every department.

Once again, Kreller was the big gun, as he scored one goal and set up two others. The "Shadow" has been scoring with gay abandon of late and we hope he can keep up his pace as the Tigers really need a man up there in the points department.

After dropping the first three games the locals have been shaping up steadily, barring that Lloyd fixture, and seem to be finding themselves at last. Their passing is much sharper and the veterans are beginning to show to good advantage. The Tigers may not cop first place but they should really make their presence felt on the home stretch.

A Sportsmen's dinner will be held on Feb. 16 by the Tiger Hockey club. This dinner will be along the lines of last year's success, only, if possible, better.

Car Race

General Motors in record-breaking 1955 easily won the race to sell new (North American type) cars to Canadians. It captured an unofficial 45% of the market, reports The Financial Post.

Ford of Canada, after being left at the post because of a strike, finished strongly to take second place. It got about 27.5% of all Canadian sales of new, North American type autos.

Third-place Chrysler Corporation, ahead of Ford at mid-year and the only one of the big three automakers not crippled by a long strike, showed by far the biggest percentage gain over 1954. It jumped from a little over 15% of the market to about 24% last year.

Fire Fighters THROW OUT RED

No—not a Communist, but the fire-engine red that goes with clanging bells, screaming sirens and racing fire trucks.

The Kent Fire Brigade, in England, has gone against tradition and now uses vehicles of aluminum—for three good reasons. No more painting. Less gas . . . we mean petrol. And better roadability and handling because of the lighter-weight aluminum bodies. We'd guess there's a further pressure that the Kent folk enjoy: pride in their fire brigade when it flashes by in its gleaming new dress. Few materials can match aluminum for its fresh and lasting good looks.

Pleasant Valley

Not much change in the weather. It's certainly a timely topic these days. I feel sure everyone is wearing the old time red flannels or what have you!

Mrs. Giles braved the elements and journeyed to Vermilion on Wednesday night to the whist drive.

Friday night Annie and Christie Clark, the writer and hubby enjoyed supper at the home of Chrissie Gould's and came home in a snowstorm before midnight. It's not safe to go too far away from home these days.

Mr. and Mrs. Panten were dinner guests at Doreen Gould's home on Sunday. Quite a long drive May and Jim. Did you do any shovelling?

Bob Kennedy was a supper guest at Bert Gould's home on Sunday. His hound dogs spent the night sleeping on Christie's load of hay.

Quite a number of Standard scribes were noticed in Stephen's store on Saturday including Granny Sherwood (holding her first grandchild), Mrs. Jack; Mrs. Henningsen (a grandmother again — congrats June in Edmonton), and Mrs. Wallington. All that was missing was the tea party. We will do that on Saturday ladies, all agree?

Mrs. Sylvia Gould received word her brother at Elk Point passed away last week. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Nora, we hear you have left us and are living in town for the winter.

How many listen to Neighborly News Sunday mornings? We heard about Mrs. Wallington and her faithful service to the Standard last Sunday morning.

A notice in a fish and chip shop window read like this: Woman wanted for 'frying' between 6:30 and 10 p.m. Was it because they were short on lard we wonder?

Cheer up so they say, the snow might melt by the 24th of May!

Mrs. Hicks spent the week end down at the farm with her mother.

David Giles defied the elements one night and walked down to see Betty and Lloyd Gould, waist deep in snow. David likes to know that everything is O.K. on surrounding farms.

Mr. and Mrs. Malec were supper guests at Doreen Gould's home on Saturday night. Even Mrs. Potvin tried the walking one evening and arrived over at Hazel's home to see the baby.

AUSTRALIANS MARVEL AT SHOW IN DEWBERRY

Mr. Ken Moorland and Mr. Merc Stephens of Geelong, near Melbourne, Australia, who spent a month, including Xmas and New Year's, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Braithwaite at Dewberry, left Jan. 5th for Eastern Canada via Edmonton and through the U. S. When they left their plan was for Mr. Moorland to go to Hamilton to work for International Harvester Co. and Mr. Stephens to work at the Ford Motor Co. plant in Windsor. Both were to follow their usual line of work. However, a change might be made in these plans en route.

Ken is a nephew of Mrs. Frank Gray, Dewberry, and a cousin of Mrs. Fred Braithwaite and the Gray family.

Neither of the boys had seen snow before and it was as if Mother Nature knew this and tried her best to impress the visitors and show them that she could really drop lots of the stuff.

Both young men had a good time clearing a path from Braithwaite's to the road two or three times during their visit and one was heard to remark that he believed he was losing weight shovelling so much snow.

If these boys ever have occasion to write their autobiography the chapter "My First Winter in Canada" would make interesting reading.

While here they took part in local activities. Both won prizes at the games night at the school, one at cribbage, the other at whist — consolation prizes, but prizes nevertheless! Curling too, was fun for them.

They gave a talk on Australia at the school which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed. Dancing also was on their entertainment list and found it very different to the dancing in Geelong.

The train on which they left was four hours late in arriving in Edmonton due to the cold weather, so that too was a new experience for them. They plan to stay at least two years in Canada and are wished the best of luck in their new surroundings.

He left Vermilion a number of years ago, moving to a Saskatchewan town, where he managed a hotel, subsequently moving to Camrose. Darlene and Barbara West have been victims of measles. Darlene will be out of school for some time yet.

Silver Willow Ramblers had a busy New Year's. They played for dances in Dewberry and Clandonald. Tommy Bensmiller and Eileen are planning to go to Drayton Valley.

Mr. Phil Smith has an oil heater for sale. He tells me he will sell it real cheap. The other night the wind blew it out, but there was enough heat to start the fire again, and it started with a bang! No sooner had it started when the wind blew it out again. Another bang and it started again. We were led to believe that with every bang of the heater there was another bang as Mr. Smith hit the ceiling. It wasn't that he was scared — Oh No, he always exercises that way. A coal and wood heater will heat the Smith home in the future.

Mr. George Butz, the local stoneboat driver, upset Mrs. Osinchuk and the pupils he was taking home from school. No one was hurt however and he was back on the job Monday morning and evening.

ARE YOUR CHILDREN PROTECTED?

Whooping Cough, Tetanus, Diptheria and Smallpox are all preventable diseases. Whooping Cough causes more deaths than any of the other communicable diseases.

DIPTHERIA

Diptheria is a killing disease which spreads rapidly through communities which have not been immunized. It attacks all ages but young children are more susceptible and in them it is a more serious illness. Even when apparently mild it may leave serious heart and nerve complications.

WHOOPING COUGH

Of all communicable diseases this one is most likely to affect the youngest members of the family. Many cases occur in infants of six months of age or less, while the largest proportion occur between the ages of one and three years. In older children, while the disease may not be so severe, there is still the long drawn out convalescence, with its nights of coughing and wakefulness which are perhaps harder on the parents than on the child. Permanent damage to the lung sometimes occurs in the spasms of coughing leading to serious illness in later life.

TETANUS

Tetanus or lockjaw is a rather uncommon but serious disease which sometimes follows puncture wounds or other injuries.

TRIPLE PROTECTION

Complete protection can be given against these three diseases by a course of four injections starting when the child is four months old. Delicate children, with doctor's permission, can be given smaller doses over a longer period to give them the same protection.

Reactions to the injections are infrequent and transient.

Reinforcing doses are given at intervals until the child is ten years old.

SMALLPOX

Although an uncommon disease in Canada nowadays, it is still quite prevalent in some parts of the world and outbreaks in this country do still occur. It is a killing disease and even at its mildest is very disfiguring.

The only protection against smallpox is vaccination. This can be done when your child is 3 months old and at that age causes little upset and quite a small scar. People who have to be vaccinated in adult life for the first time if they travel abroad or enter certain professions, often have a very severe reaction to vaccination.

Revaccination is necessary every seven years to give complete protection against smallpox but a certain degree of protection lasts a lifetime from one vaccination.

Don't delay, give your child this protection against communicable diseases as soon as possible.

Princess Anne W. I.

The regular meeting of the Princess Anne W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. R. C. Mead with ten members present. Roll Call was answered by giving a First Aid Fact. New standing committees were appointed for the year.

A humorous poem was read from the Home and Country, and a member, Mrs. McIntyre, gave a short history of the life of the author, who is blind. Mrs. McIntyre is acquainted with the author's family.

It was decided to have community whist drives carried on simultaneously in homes in the Campbell Lake and Island Hill districts. The total scores will be phoned to the president and usual prizes given. This measure is being taken due to the difficulty of travelling owing to the tremendous quantity of snow around the school houses.

A report was given on the Xmas hamper packed and sent to Mrs. George Sperberg.

The topic took the form of a First Aid quiz given by the convener of the Health committee, Mrs. McIntyre. It was agreed to review the First Aid lessons, one chapter a month. Questions on the same will be asked by the Health convener at each meeting.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah, after which a tasty lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. R. Mead and Mrs. R. Strome.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Reeves with Mrs. West and Mrs. Parchewski in charge of the lunch.

Wildmere W. I. met at the home of Mrs. F. Gibson on Wednesday, January 4th with 14 members present, and Mrs. Wilson came after school.

Mrs. Hughes, vice-president, was in the chair. The meeting opened with O Canada and a recital of the Creed. The roll call was "My New Year's Resolution."

Mrs. D. Hughes, Mrs. A. Holte and Mrs. J. Wallington had perfect attendance records during 1955.

Mrs. W. J. Garnett reported on Christmas tree treat. A few dollars was left over, and, as the girls' club had donated some, it was decided to return a portion to them.

Sick convenor had no report; neither did the Social Service convenor.

Mrs. R. Dibben gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Gibson moved acceptance, and it was seconded by Mrs. F. Haines.

Correspondence: A letter from the Hospital Board re table and chairs in memory of Kenny Dibben, also one for tray decorations sent to the hospital at Christmas time.

Mrs. W. J. Garnett read a letter from a pen pal from Barbou W. I. in England. She spoke of reading the book "Gully Farm."

Our project for February is used clothing. Handicraft list was gone over. Mrs. Gibson is to see about getting some one to give us instructions on sewing, insertion, etc. on the handicraft at our next meeting.

Topic was by Mrs. Wallington who gave a talk on Civil Defence Welfare, the course she took in Edmonton last October.

The social was "Current Events," and it was a very jolly discussion on the news.

Johnny Jump-Up was won by Mrs. Noel Garnett who pulled her own name.

Everyone enjoyed our Convenor's letter in the Standard at Christmas time.

Next meeting is at Mrs. Charlie Sweeney's home on February 1st. Roll call will be "What new handicraft would you like to learn?"

Topic: Handicraft; Social: Mrs. Haines; Lunch: Mrs. C. Cruthers, Mrs. D. Dibben and Mrs. R. Dibben.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen." Mrs. Gibson and helpers served a tasty lunch.

Pleasant Valley

(Held over from last week)

Snowbound Valley just now. It will certainly fill the lakes and dams, basements too in all probability. The men are kept busy on the shovel handle as even the straw-piles are buried deep.

Everybody is staying close to home these days, but one can put in the time by reading, sewing and chatting over the phone. The telephone is certainly a wonderful help isn't it Sylvia? One thing, Old Mother Nature can be cruel outside but it can be kind indoors as our flowers are really grand these days. Double mauve Petunias; pink, white and American beauty geraniums, pink cactus, rosebud pink Begonias and a lovely blue star of Bethlehem all in bloom, among the ferns, so it looks a little like spring. How many were lucky enough to have a lovely Azalea for Xmas? Not me! When it's done blooming don't throw it out. Put it down cellar until June then place the pot in a hole in the gaden and keep watered, during September bring it indoors. These will bloom for about six years treated this way.

These plants are grown way down south in Georgia so do well in a warm room.

It's about time now to bring up a few bulbs into the light but not in the direct sun. Hyacinths are a very lovely flower in many colors and perfume the whole house.

Soon be seed catalog time. They are rather exciting in the spring. Time rolls along -snow at present is very deep but spring time and harvest always are things we can be sure of.

Bovee once wrote: "To cultivate a garden is to work with God".

F.U.A. Membership Totals 28,973

Interim tabulations following the Farmers' Union of Alberta membership drive of last mid-November show a total sign-up of 28,973 members, representing 19,000 farm units, as at Jan. 3.

This number is down substantially from that of the corresponding period for 1955. However, only 453 out of some 700 locals in the province have reported to date.

President A. W. Platt attributes the draggy returns mainly to the cold, stormy weather prevailing during the drive and since, making travel out in the country almost impossible. Further sign-up activities are being conducted in conjunction with the current series of farm emergency meetings being held throughout the province, and the total membership figure anticipated is close to the majority record of last year, said Mr. Platt.

In the eight years, 1946 to 1953, immigrants to Canada brought into the country $615,000,000 in capital.

The Vermilion High school, built in 1928 at a cost of $33,000, was completely destroyed by fire early Monday morning. The contents, valued at $4,700 were also a complete loss with the exception of 20 typewriters which were taken from the library through the window before the flames had progressed that far. All students and teachers books were lost with the exception of those taken home for homework. The building itself, which was regarded as practically fireproof, was insured for $25,000 while $3000 was carried on the contents.

Vermilion High school classes will be resumed on Monday, Jan. 22 as the board secured the use of three classrooms and the lab at the school of agriculture through the courtesy of the teaching staff there. The classrooms will be available from the hours of 1 to 6 p.m. and the lab for three mornings a week. For the fourth room necessary the south side one-room school building which has not been used for the past two years will be rehabilitated. The typewriting classes will be taught in the public school.

A special luncheon meeting of the Board of Trade will be held on Monday in the Elks hall at 12:10 noon. The guest speakers will be the Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta Minister of Public Works and J. K. Swanson, managing director of the Franco Public Service Ltd., which company now holds the gas franchise for Vermilion.

The provincial government intends to make considerable improvements to the Jasper or Evergreen highway running from the city east to Vermilion and Lloydminster this year, according to Hon. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works.

Miss Phyllis Wiebe was hostess at a miscellaneous shower held on Thursday night last at her home on the south side in honor of Miss Peggy Lambert whose marriage took place on Saturday

The weatherman, who in the past two years had served up a soft brand of weather for the annual bonspiel of the Vermilion Curling club, was overly kind this year — in fact, overdid himself by providing a temperature which throughout the four days of the bonspiel ranged from 35 to 58 degrees below zero. Twenty-two rinks participated, 15 of these being local entries.

Mayor Morrison was absent in Edmonton this week attending the sittings of the Supreme Court.

Harry Wood of Dewberry, secretary-treasurer of Ethelwyn M.D., spent a couple of days in town this week with auditor W. E. Sutton on the district's books. Mr. Wood reports that the drive in 30 below zero weather was anything but enjoyable.

The annual meeting of Queenie Creek Stampede Association will be held in the Queenie Creek school house on Saturday, Feb. 2.

Claymore W. I. Notes

The January meeting which was to have been at Mrs. H. Williamson's was held at Mrs. J. Horne's. Snow and more snow made the road from the highway very heavy and dangerous for women drivers—hence the change of meeting place. There were nine members and one visitor, Mrs. J. Scott, present, she later joined our group, making a membership of thirteen to carry on the work of 1956.

The meeting opened by singing O Canada followed by the Creed and Roll Call — "My culinary experience when a bride". Some of us had to go back many years in order to recall some incident which provoked much fun and laughter and made a happy beginning for the business session which followed.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read by the secretary and declared approved by the president. The treasurer reported $87.93 on hand. The report was adopted as read. It was moved and seconded that all outstanding bills be paid.

Social Services reported two baskets of fruit and one toy sent to patients in the Mannville hospital. Thank-you cards were received from Mrs. R. D. Lynch and Mr. J. Willies.

A letter was received from The Salvation Army asking for a donation. A committee was appointed to bring in a statement of the necessary expenditures for the year and figure how many donations we can undertake.

There was discussion on holding a pot luck supper and bingo in the future.

Bazaar material was [illegible] and the Handicraft list was read. The members chose as fully as they could what articles they would make for the Constituency conference. It is planned to have a demonstration on huck weaving at the February meeting. The secretary was advised to order subscriptions to Home & Country for our thirteen members.

Program books were given out outlining some of the projects for the year. A collection of 25 cents per member was taken for the Travel fund.

Weather permitting the next get-together will be at Mrs. O. Willies' on Feb. 8th at 2:30 p.m. sharp. The lunch which followed was much enjoyed by all.

An Open Letter to The Premier of Alberta

Kingsville, Ontario.
August 19th, 1955.

An Open Letter to The Hon. E. C. Manning, Premier of Alberta.

Dear Honorable Sir:

The Jack Miner Migratory Bird Foundation maintains the services of two newspaper clipping services and in this way we learn that the press in Alberta has quoted us often in connection with the hawk and owl legislation which your government passed a year ago. We feel we would like to express ourselves directly to you and your colleagues so there can be no misunderstanding or misquoting us as to our stand and position in the matter.

First of all most hawks migrate from one country to another; such being the case, if hawks are to be given protection it should be done by the Federal Governments of both countries through the Migratory Bird Treaty the same as governs the killing of other migratory birds, but neither the Federal Governments at Ottawa or Washington will include such protection therefore the hawk protectionists made up of mostly people who do not believe in killing anything are promoting hawk protection in various States and Provinces and Alberta was the first province in Canada to fall for such legislation.

In the U.S. the State of Pennsylvania produces more tons of game per capita than any other State and they pay a bounty on some species of hawks and owls. They, like other States and Provinces, raise pheasants and quail in hatcheries at the expense of thousands of dollars and they certainly do not believe in protecting hawks to eat this game up alive when they liberate it in the open fields. They raised this game for humanity and not for birds of prey. I feel the same reasoning should apply in Alberta. Certainly it is very co-operative with the U.S. for Alberta to give such hawks and owls complete protection or in other words raise hawks for Pennsylvania to pay a bounty on.

The laws of Canada have a penalty of both fine and imprisonment if a man steals a chicken or shoots a pheasant or prairie chicken out of season. Certainly, most certainly, you are not going to protect a hawk for committing the same act 365 days in a year and imprison humanity for doing the same thing.

The hawk protectionists in their propaganda permit a farmer to shoot a hawk any time in the year to protect his poultry. This is only evidence that hawks will eat poultry. Such being the case if a hawk, certain species of hawks, will eat chickens they will also eat pheasants, grouse, partridge and prairie chickens. The sportsman spends thousands of dollars in pheasant hatcheries to hatch and raise pheasants the same as the farmer does a chicken hatchery therefore why shouldn't a sportsman have the right to protect his wild game from the predation of hawks and owls the same as a farmer has to protect his barnyard fowl? To me it just does not add up and make sense.

From an economic standpoint an old mother duck and her brood cannot be equalled in devouring grasshoppers. Pheasants, Hungarian partridge and other game birds are far more valuable in destroying insects, weed seeds and such like and if these hawk protectionists had their way they would have the hunter hang up his gun entirely. So many people look upon the sportsman as being ignorant on such matters but the sportsman in the field during the hunting season, many with a dog, sees the destructiveness of various hawks and owls far more than some university professor sitting in an office or school room telling us what should be done.

To me some of the most sincere men we have are men who belong to our sportsmen's organizations and you must remember it is the hunters' license money that pays your game wardens' salaries and other expenses of the Fish and Game Department while the university professors or bird lovers group do not contribute one cent to the administration but this latter group wants to have all to say.

I personally may belong to the bird lovers' group because I do not hunt or shoot, only the predators that attack our wood ducks, pheasants, quail and other species, yet I am not a bird lover that brands a sportsman as ignorant and I feel the few hawks and owls the sportsmen shoot is only helping to balance nature because you do not know a sportsman — not one — that has gone out purposely to hunt hawks. Hawks and owls are not good to eat and the only time the hunter kills one is when he is in the field in the fall hunting upland game or waterfowl and the small number of predators he shoots does not begin to balance nature in proportion to the game he kills. Our philosophy is, if man shoots a deer for food he should kill the timber wolves to the same proportion. If man shoots ducks for food he should shoot the crows, magpies and such like in the same proportion. If man shoots upland game for food, man should shoot the hawks and owls to the same proportion. If you are raising potatoes and the potato bugs attack the potato vines if you don't kill the potato bugs that is all the brains God gave you. If you are raising vegetables in your garden and don't take the weeds out you are more apt to have weeds than vegetables. Let's apply more common sense and less nonsense.

As far as the balance of nature theory is concerned a man from your own province visited our Bird Sanctuary a few weeks ago and I raised this question and he said last year he had 640 acres of wheat, the best wheat he ever grew, and said, "You should have seen that 640 acres when God had it alone."

The Migratory Bird Treaty which applies in your province as well as elsewhere in Canada and the U.S. makes it punishable by fine or imprisonment for you or your boy to kill a song or insectivorous bird. I say for God's sake and I say it reverently don't protect a sharp-shinned hawk and other species of hawk that commit the same act daily which lives on our more valuable bird life.

How can your provincial judge conscientiously imprison or fine a man or sportsman for stealing chickens or shooting a game bird out of season while at the same time you have laws to protect owls and hawks that commit the same act daily?

Because we do not think alike don't let that make us enemies but let us apply more common sense and less nonsense.

Yours very truly
Manly F. Miner

WILDMERE WINKS

(Held over from last week)

We would like to thank the Editor and staff of the Standard for the nice sentiments expressed on the front page last week about the writer of Winks. It gives a great boost to know that one's efforts are so greatly appreciated.

Everyone is indeed sorry to hear that Mrs. Smith of Vancouver, Mrs. Crether's mother, fell the day before New Year's and broke several ribs. It gives a person her age quite a shock, along with the accompanying pain. We all wish you a speedy recovery Mrs. Smith. Billie and Adam are both working now at a curling rink in Vancouver.

The storm on Thursday and Friday blocked roads once again and school was closed those days but opened on Monday this week.

Jimmie has a busy time trying to get the roads open, a very thankless job as a lot of money is being spent and nothing to show for it come spring — but folks have to get out.

Mr Harold Friesen of Wildmere and Mr. Louis Hicks of Vermilion have a cat tractor with a bull dozer on the front and have been busy opening up roads. They also are available to open roads to feed stacks and individual roads for people.

Mr Dick Donily of Triangle is having logs cut on his farm and sawn into lumber by Mr. Ed Hearty of Wildwood district.

Since the one bushel quota of grain has opened up Cliff Crethers has been busy hauling. It's not much but farmers like to take advantage of every bushel they can sell. It is really tough on the farmers to try and make ends meet with hog and cattle prices so low too, and now this long winter to feed stock comes along.

EGG PRICE SPREAD FAR TOO GREAT

Here is another thing farmers would like townspeople to know—and that is the price of eggs. Top price yesterday (Monday) for A grade was 25 cents per dozen and yet you the consumers were paying 55 cents a dozen, more than double what the farmer gets. You pay almost as much for "cracks" at the egg grading station as the farmers get for A grade. It is something that surely should be looked into don't you think folks?

We were pleased on Saturday to chat with Mrs. MacMillan of Claysmore, Mrs. Ireland of town, Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. Maggs and Mrs. Burton of the country. Topic was mostly snow and drifted roads.

We are late but we must congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luchyk of Brockville distict on the birth of a son on Dec. 29; also to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sinden of town, congrats on the birth of a daughter on Dec. 30th.

Here is another item we should have mentioned last week. We wish to extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Robt. Harle and her brother Maurice Long on the sudden passing of their mother. Her work on earth was over and God closed her earthly book and said, well done thou good and faithful servant.

The dance sponsored by the Wildmere Beavers Girls' club at Basswood on Friday, Dec. 30 was well attended and everyone had a good time. Henry Kybers and Harold Cleland furnished the music and Albert Smith was M.C.

A skating party was enjoyed on New Year's eve at Dave Hughes' in Basswood. Dave cleared off a rink on a slough and a nice number gathered for a jolly hour or two of skating. Later some had lunch at the Hughes' home and some went to the Albert Smith home.

Something we heard — Who was it that decided to wash dishes on Saturday evening? One thing also would have clean clothes early in the week!

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

The weather and road conditions disrupted mail service and illness has caused some delay of news items, but though late we wish you all a Happy New Year.

All Christmas and New Year visitors have returned to their respective homes and back to duties. Among those not mentioned in the last report were, Miss Rose Bloxham, nurse in training at the University hospital, Miss Annetta Fulgham, who is attending school at Camrose and Miss Marion Fulgham, teacher at Tulliby Lake School.

The C G I T held their tea and Christmas Bazaar on Dec. 8th. They would like to thank all who helped to make it a success.

The Vesper and Candle Lighting service was held in the United Church on Dec. 18th in the evening. In spite of the cold weather and poor road conditions all girls except one were present and there also was a good attendance of parents and friends.

The C G I T had their Christmas party and Carol singing on Dec. 20th and presented each with a box of home made candy. After this they all gathered at the Wm. Stoddart home for their party, hot cocoa, lunch and exchange of Christmas gifts.

There was a church service at the United church on Jan. 15th at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. There will be a service every two weeks at the same time during the winter months.

The regular monthly meeting of the P V Ladies Aid was held January 11th in the United Church hall with fifteen members present. Mrs. Geo. Venner [illegible]. The minutes of the last meeting were read, and the annual reports were given by the various committees [illegible] progress of the previous year.

New Telephone Office To Open February 1

The Alberta Government Telephones are planning an expansion program for Vermilion and as a necessary prelude to the room that is needed for the increase in equipment at the exchange here, a commercial office is to be opened February 1st.

Monty Hunter, a well known young man of Vermilion has been appointed commercial clerk in charge of the new office. The public is asked to do their telephone business at this office, and to pay bills, place requests, complaints etc. with Mr. Hunter. Space in the Legion hall has been arranged for and will be open for telephone business on Feb. 1st.

The present telephone building will be used solely as an exchange, and the added room, made possible by opening the commercial office in another building, will allow for an expansion of the present service.

This recent development is one of many such throughout Alberta, and indicates that Vermilion is progressing along with the best of them. Three years ago there were approximately 400 telephone subscribers in Vermilion itself, but during the last three years this number has been increased to well over 600. These subscribers represent just over half of the phones serviced by Vermilion because there are other towns, as well as many rural phones on this exchange.

New Bridge To Be Built At Lea Park

A Social Credit public meeting is planned for Marwayne on Monday at 4 p.m. when the Hon. Gordon E. Taylor is expected to announce that a new bridge will be built across the North Saskatchewan river at Lea Park, with construction to commence this year. Accompanying the Hon. Mr. Taylor to the meeting will be the Hon. Anders O. Aalborg, minister of education and member representing the Alexandra constituency, and the Hon. Ray Reierson, minister of industries and labor, M.L.A. for the St. Paul constituency, the two areas very much interested in the bridge.

The Marwayne Civic Affairs Association will take over the entertainment and at 6 p.m. the ministers and a large number of guests, including presidents of boards of trade and mayors from surrounding towns and villages will be present at a banquet.

Mannville Women Curlers To Edmonton

The Northern Alberta Women's Curling Association play-downs in the dominion-wide Eaton Trophy competition are to be held in Edmonton shortly.

Double Knock-Out for Eaton Play-Down

Three rinks from Zone 6 curled at Vermilion for the Eaton play-down on Monday this week.

Towns represented were Mannville—Skip Hasinoff, third Conlord, second Manz, lead Proudfoot. Clandonald—Skip Gower, third Schoonmaker, second Taschuk, lead Isert. Vermilion—Skip Locke, third Caron, second Payment, lead Pare.

Five consecutive games were played by Mannville with only one loss to Clandonald. A fifth game then had to be played by Mannville and Clandonald, with Mannville coming through with the "one" which made them the winners for this zone.

Five straight games prove you can take it.

On to the Coast now! You can make it.

Congratulations, Mannville, and good luck.

Illustrated Address On "Traffic Safety" At Home and School

The Vermilion Home and School Association will hold the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 31 at 8 p.m. in the Junior High school.

Red Cross Annual Meeting February 1

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Red Cross will be held in the office of the Vermilion school division on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m.

Vermilion Rink Zone Winners In Nor. Alta. Championships

The Vermilion entry was the winner of the sixteen rink zone play-off last Friday and Saturday and as a result will go to Edmonton on Feb. 8 to compete with other zone winners, and the chance to represent Alberta in the Macdonald-Brier Dominion Championship Curling competition. Sixteen of a possible seventeen clubs competed in this zone.

The elimination was by double knock out. The winner of one competition was the Dewberry rink, while the Vermilion foursome annexed the second one. This brought Dewberry and Vermilion together in the final. Vermilion took the lead from the first and maintained it, although the Dewberry curlers were always within threatening distance.

The Vermilion rink entered under the name of Currah was skipped by Glen Gibbons and was composed of Glen Gibbons, skip; Darrell Currah, 3rd; Roger Rowe, 2nd; Aldous Kent, lead.

For Dewberry it was Ralph Lunden, skip; Fred Braithwaite 3rd; Ole Lunden 2nd, Roy Maltais lead.

SCORE BY ENDS

Vermilion:	2	0	0	1	2	0	2	1	0	0	2	10
Dewberry:	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	3	0	6

Lunden ran out of rocks in the 12th, the score officially reading 10 to 6.

There was a surprising amount of interest all through the curling event and the final game drew a gallery of over 200 people.

Polio Fund Canvass Starts On Monday

The Canadian Legion has again taken over the polio fund canvass for Vermilion and district. The quota here is $1,000.00. In all Alberta the quota is $100,000.00.

The Legion president, Neil McLean, asks that citizens do the best they can in donating to the polio fund. It is believed that with generous giving the quota for Vermilion and district will be exceeded.

George Martin is the committee chairman. He is doubtful his canvassers will get to every place on account of blocked roads. If anyone is missed, they can bring their offering in to any of the following: Thos. Watts, Vic Tillett, Thos. Wilson or E. H. Buckingham.

The Legion officers would like to say again that the polio fund is to help everyone who contracts this dread disease. It is not just for veterans only. Any money collected is put into a special polio fund account. It is there for relieving distress when polio occurs in our town or district.

IMPROVING THE PARK FACILITIES

Seeking to further improve the beach on the south side of the Vermilion park lake, the local committee has already started work for the season that lies ahead, and is having additional sand hauled to this south side beach. The sand this year is being taken from the north sand banks of the lake and in so doing a two-fold purpose is effected. The sand is being taken from the huge hill of sand just to the west of the old swimming pool, established in the very early days of Vermilion. To obtain it means the stripping of the surface for a considerable distance of brush and roots. This will greatly enlarge the present sandy beach on the north side of the lake. The idea persists that the north shore, located as it is to catch the sun and with a small mountain of sand on which to work, will in time provide a bathing beach unsurpassed in Alberta.

Jim Kirk Passes Away In Edmonton

The town was saddened on Tuesday by the death of James Kirk, who passed away in an Edmonton hospital. Jim was taken ill last fall and had been in hospital in Vermilion and then in the city.

The deceased was well and favorably known in town and district, coming here in 1930 when plans were being laid for natural gas installation in Vermilion. His position was superintendent of the town system with the Franco Public Service. When the Franco franchise and business was purchased by Northwestern Utilities Ltd., Mr. Kirk continued as superintendent of the Vermilion business for the new company.

Born at Glengarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland, 64 years ago, Mr Kirk came to Edmonton in 1922. He conducted his own gas fitting business in Edmonton until 1930 when he accepted the task of overseeing the installation of natural gas in Vermilion along with distributing lines from the gas wells south-east of town.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, Jan. 27 at the Holy Name Catholic church Vermilion at 10:00 o'clock in the morning. Interment will be in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Left to mourn the passing of a loving husband and father are his sorrowing wife and two daughters, Mrs. Walter MacIntosh (Mary) of Edmonton, and Mrs. Ross McKittrick (Helen) also residing in Edmonton. There are three grandsons and two granddaughters.

Moyers of Vermilion are in charge of funeral arrangements.

V.S.A. Teams Win Basketball Games

Basketball teams at the School of Agriculture are developing nicely under the careful guidance of Coach Jack Flaherty. A large part of the student body is participating in the House League set-up from which players are selected for the School teams. An important part of this programme provides considerable coaching and refereeing experience for many of the students.

On Friday evening last week both girls' and boys' basketball teams travelled to Lloydminster for their first games away from their home gym this term. Both won their games but only after the keenest of competition. The girls' final score was 21-17 with Hazel Barr the leading point-getter. The boys' game was a thriller with a story-book finish. The V.S.A. squad were behind 9-21 at half time but were able to strengthen their defense and came through for a 31-30 win, with George Richardson and Ervin Howrish sharing high-score honors. Interest is certain to centre on these two teams when they meet again in the forthcoming district basketball tournament.

The V.S.A. students were highly impressed by the fine gymnasium at Lloydminster and by the hospitality shown to them by their hosts. The trip was made by Little's bus whose genial driver is always most obliging. The big question now is, how soon can another game be arranged?

ANNUAL MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY

J. R. Boake Elected President Board of Trade

J Ross Boake, well known druggist and a business man of Vermilion since the year 1943, was elected president of the Vermilion Board of Trade at the annual meeting of that body held on Wednesday. Thirty-eight business men and farmers attended the gathering which followed a dinner. To the position of vice-president the board elected Israel Miller, a pioneer business man and farmer of the province, who came to Vermilion five years ago and opened his 5c to $1.00 store. He has been keenly interested in community affairs ever since becoming established here. Mr. Boake, the new president, has served on the Vermilion town council, the school board, curling club executive, executive of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association, the baseball club, to mention but a few of his activities. He is also the president of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association.

Hon President — His Worship, Mayor Hill.
Immediate Past President — Dr. A. Ben King.
President — J. Ross Boake
Vice-President — Israel Miller
Secy-Treasurer — F. J. Richardson
Director of Publicity — Ashley H. Cooper
Farm Representative—Don Wilson

Executive members continuing in office for a second year are T. E. McPherson, Mitchell Taylor, E. A. Locke, R. K. Chalmers.

Executive members elected for a two-year term, Ron Williams, Warren Rosequist, Cliff McCormick and Paul Godt.

A review of the activities of the Board of Trade for the past year was given by the retiring president, Dr. King, who opened his address by saying "Before reviewing our efforts for the past year, I would like to suggest to you that the work of a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce has three broad aspects or levels, namely 1, Local; 2, Provincial; 3, National. I have put the classification in this sequence because you have to put your own house in order before you are of any value to the rest of the Province, similarly on a provincial scale, if Alberta's people are going to continue to give their best as loyal citizens of Canada. On the national level every citizen of Canada should be interested and alive to matters of naional concern if we truly wish to keep our freedom and our way of life."

Dr. King then went on to give those present a summary of what had been done and attempted during the past year by the Vermilion Board, and it is the intention of the Standard to reproduce this in an early issue.

Henry Young To Address Public Meeting Here

Henry Young, vice-president of the F.U.A., and for the past five years president of that provincial body, will address a public meeting at the Legion hall, Vermilion on Monday, Jan. 30 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Young is an eminent authority on farm questions and problems and everyone is cordially invited to hear him on this occasion.

1956 Fair Advance Prize Lists Are Now Available

Making it possible for all interested to obtain advance knowledge of the 1956 Fair Prize Lists for Ladies' Work, the lists are now available at the office of the Secretary, S. C. Heckbert. Lists have been mailed to those who have exhibited for the past year or two and all others desiring them will be gladly supplied on request. It is hoped that a large number of district ladies will interest themselves in the work of the annual Fair, making it of interest and value to themselves and others.

SCHOOL FAIR LISTS ALSO AVAILABLE

The Standard has recently completed printing of the advance School Fair prize lists and these have been mailed to teachers of the local and surrounding School Divisions. All boys and girls attending school are urged to compete both in the school work classes and the handicraft sections of the Prize List.

In addition to valuable cash prizes there are opportunities for a boy and a girl to win a free week's short course and also for the room receiving the highest average number of points to win the fine silver shield offered for annual competition. The shield is currently in the possession of Minburn School, having been won by a fine display of school work at the 1955 Fair.

All are cordially invited to secure a list and to start on their exhibits early. Show What You Grow and Share What You Know at Vermilion's 1956 Fair!

FLASH!

Coveted In-a-Cann Trophy as Grand Prize at Annual Olympic hockey tourney between Knights of Columbus and Kinsmen.

To be played for at the Vermilion arena on Wednesday, February 8, 1956 at 8:00 P.M. sharp.

Rumor has it that both Clubs are in top notch physical condition and are anxiously looking forward to hitting the ice.

As all players are in dire need of new stetsons, it is expected that the path to Clendennings Family Wear will be well trodden as each player intends to score at least 3 goals.

Further — Colorful Prince Ali Cann has been contacted by telephone and will be in Vermilion to make the Trophy presentation.

For more news on this Sport highlight watch next week's Standard for lineups, predictions and betting odds.

Grey Cup Film Here Friday and Saturday

The Vermilion Fish and Game Association is pleased to report that they have been able to secure the Grey Cup film for two showings in Vermilion. With all the interest shown in football last fall, it's certain there will be many who want to avail themselves of the opportunity to see just how that game really looked.

The Fish and Game Association is inviting the public to see the film, either this Friday evening at 9:00 o'clock or on Saturday afternoon, January 28, at 2:30 o'clock. Both showings will be held at the Legion hall, and there will be a silver collection taken.

The Game Association has further plans — there will be a whist drive, open to the public, at the Legion hall, on Tuesday, January 31, at 8:00 p. m. Lunch will be served and admission is 50c. Be sure to come to the whist drive not only to enjoy an evening of cards with your friends, but also to support the very worthwhile work of the local branch of the Fish and Game Association.

FIRST BULL SALE HELD 1901

The first bull sale in Alberta was held in Calgary in 1901 with an average price of $87.17 per animal as compared with an average sale price of $342 in 1955.

Viking Here Saturday Lloydminster Monday

Hockey fans are again in for a good week-end of top notch hockey action. On Saturday the champions of 1954-55, the Viking Gas Kings, play here in what should be a feature attraction. The Gas Kings and Tigers have already met twice this season with the Tigers coming out the victors by a narrow margin each time. You can rest assured of action a-plenty when the husky Viking squad takes the ice here on Saturday night.

LLOYD. CHEVIES MONDAY

On Monday night right in our own arena the Tigers will again try conclusions with the Lloydminster Chevies. The Chevies will come here nursing two straight defeats at the hands of the re-inforced Vegreville Rangers, but our Tigers have overcome their awe of the border-town aggregation, and with Gellin in their line-up are confident they can pick up another two points at the expense of Jimmie Stewart and his crew.

Be on hand for both these games, Saturday and Monday, Jan. 28th and Jan. 30th.

Vermilion Tigers Win At St. Paul

Vermilion Tigers played at St. Paul on Wednesday night and came home with two more points, winning a tightly contested game 5 goals to 4. At the same time the Vegreville Rangers set back the fancied Lloyd Chevies 5 to 3 at Lloydminster.

RACE TIGHTENS UP

Unofficial standing now shows Lloydminster, St. Paul and Vermilion each with 12 points, Viking and Vegreville with 10 points and Wainwright with six. This standing is not guaranteed and does not take into consideration a game played Wednesday night between Viking and Wainwright, the result of which was not known here at press time.

RON PHILLIPS WINS HAT

Ron Phillips is the second Tiger player to be presented with a new Stetson hat by Clendenning's Family Wear. Ron notched four goals on Monday night against Wainwright Commandos. For the first hat trick performance of the season by any Tiger player, Ernie gives a nice new Stetson hat of the winner's choice.

Hockey Chit-Chat will be found on page 2, and story of the last game on page 4, section 1.

Dept. of Highways Considering Aid For Snow Plowing

Word from the Alberta Government to the effect that the matter of snow plowing municipal roads and especially school bus routes, was being examined by the Department of Highways at the present time and further information in this respect would be issued at a later date, was received by the secretary of the Vermilion Constituency Social Credit Association, Ashley H. Cooper.

The information was received as a result of a resolution forwarded early this year to the Alberta Government asking that monetary aid for municipalities be considered as help for the very good work being done in keeping school bus routes clear.

Vegetables will stay crisp many days longer if placed in a polythene bag and stored in the refrigerator. If you have to keep them too long and they wilt, you can freshen them in a basin of cold water which contains a tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice.

Win Zone Curling Championship

High-Lights from the V. H. S.

To keep you in touch with the school activities, here are the Hi-Lites again, folks.

Ranking high in interest was the zone play-off in the Taylor & Pearson high school curling championship. This was played at Kitscoty on Saturday and was won by the V.H.S. rink comprised of Skip Brent Long, Donald Stewart, Bill Tough and Al McPherson. The boys won all three games by the following scores:

V.H.S.	10	Fur Valley	5
V.H.S.	16	Islay	1
V.H.S.	11	Kitscoty	4

This entitles the V.H.S. rink to travel to Edmonton and play in the competition there on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 27th and 28th. The winners of this will represent northern Alberta in the provincial playoffs at Calgary. The school wishes the best of luck to the boys.

Another item of interest was the midget game played on Saturday against Lloydminster Midgets (?) The score of the game was that's strange it has suddenly slipped my mind! Oh well, it gave the boys some practice.

During the past week the girls' basketball "A" team played and lost by a score of 25-22 to the college girls.

The dance for the month will take the form of a Snow Ball and will be held Friday evening. The Junior High and V.S.A. students will be the guests.

Those Jets Are Back

American Jets have been making night flights over Vermilion, and some of them are in evidence during the daylight too. Those flying at night come from McCord air base and were on their way to Thule, Greenland. They were flying from 38,000 to 44,000 feet high and at 440 miles per hour. On the homeward flight some of the Jets reported over here and 22 minutes later reported over the beam station at Lethbridge.

Kitscoty Musicians Radio Guest Artists

Batty and are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCorry of Kitscoty and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jack of the Wildwood district.

Trucks, Trailers Must Have Flaps

For the information of all drivers of commercial vehicles the following regulation in force since Jan. 1st, 1956, is published:

a. On and after Jan. 1, 1956, no person shall operate or permit to be operated on any highway any Public Service or Commercial Vehicle which is not equipped with fenders, covers or other devices including flaps or aprons which afford adequate protection effectively to minimize the spray or splash of water or the throwing of mud, gravel or other material onto the windshields of following vehicles.

WHAT INDUSTRY MEANS TO A TOWN—

Two very interesting addresses on the subject of "Industry", have recently been given to Vermilion organizations by eminent authorities. The first of these was Mr Richard Martland of the Industrial Development Board of the province, the second was Dr. Hu Harries, Economic consultant of Edmonton. Both addresses were timely and extremely interesting.

Mr Martland in one phase of his talk displayed a chart which showed just what a small industry can mean to a town's economy. He took a case of an industry with 100 employees in a town such as Vermilion. It was found that the location of the plant there, besides using 100 employees, indirectly provided work for 74 others. It meant a population increase of 296, school enrollment increase of 51, four new retail businesses and 112 new households were established in the town. Passenger car registrations increased by 107; trucks by 28. Seventy new telephones were installed. Retail sales increased $360,000 in a year and bank deposits $270,000.

It is to be hoped that in the coming year some type of industry can be encouraged to locate in Vermilion. Dr. Hu Harries says that in order to achieve this we must find out what there is in the district which might interest industrialists and should obtain some local money to invest in the industry. This latter move gives an identity of interest even if the actual investment is small.

An industrial payroll would add a stabilizing influence on the economy of western towns.

HAVE SEED CLEANED NOW

Waiting for seed to be cleaned during good seeding weather can be costly and annoying. This can be avoided by getting grain cleaned now when facilities are not so rushed as in late March and April advises Robert L. Pharis, Alberta's Supervisor of Crop Improvement.

Have your grain cleaned at a well equipped plant that can turn out a product you will not be ashamed to put into the drill box. Mr Pharis suggests getting in the habit of spreading out a pound of the seed you intend to plant. Count the weed seeds and multiply by the seeding rate per acre. The result may surprise you.

Last year one out of three seed drills sampled contained grain that was rejected for seed. Make sure the grain you sow is not in this class. Take your grain to a good plant for cleaning — now.

Business firms in Canada paid $1,154,000,000 in corporation income taxes in 1954, a sum equal to nearly half of all corporation profits that year. —Quick Canadian Facts.

FAMILY FOOD COSTS

What do families spend for food? It costs an average city family with two to six members, $6.94 per person every week according to a special DBS survey reported in the Financial Post. Largest single item is 22c per food dollar for meat. Then comes 14c for fruit and vegetables, 11c for cereal and bakery items, 10c for restaurants and smaller amounts for other categories.

Hockey Chit-Chat

By GERRY MARSHALL

After splitting a home and home series with the cellar-dwelling Wainwright Commandos the Tigers are still all alone in fourth spot. On Saturday night the Commandos found the hot and cold Tigers decidedly cold and clobbered them 9 to 4, but the locals came back to beat Commandos here 8 to 6 Monday evening.

In Wainwright the Tigers played a very ragged game and were a well-beaten club at the end. Wainwright's leading scorer, Bellerive, almost beat the Tigers single-handed as he ran wild to rack up six points in the evening.

Monday night however the Tigers returned to the form they can play and came from behind twice to clip the Commandos 8 to 6. The lead see-sawed back and forth but the Tigers finished strong to halt any thoughts Wainwright might have of climbing out of the league cellar.

RON PHILLIPS FINDING NET

Ron Phillips paced the Tiger attack with a hat trick plus one and became the second Bengal to win one of Clendenning's Stetsons. The four goals brought his total to six in the last two games as Ron is starting to find himself since joining the club early in the season.

BILL NOVAK ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

It's nice to see Bill Novak back in the harness and Bill has been playing good hockey despite the fact that he missed early season conditioning and the first part of the schedule. He adds the needed star power and ability to turn the second line into a scoring trio. Being a great hustler and a real team man Novak will be a real shot in the arm to the Tigers.

STRENGTH AND WEAKNESSES

Some interesting items perhaps are the various strengths and weaknesses which the Tiger club has developed. With a man off, the Tigers set up an air-tight defence and are very impressive indeed, but when in possession of the odd man the Tigers look considerably weaker. On the offence the locals are very effective and with added lustre around the net could win some of the games they have been losing. But once again when the reverse is true the Tigers look handcuffed as they have no set pattern for padding the rubber out of their own end. With the correction of this latter weakness the Tigers would do themselves a lot of good as well as goalie George Washington's average.

NEW PLAYERS

By way of the grapevine we hear the Vegreville Rangers have picked up some new players, one being former Edmonton Flyer sharpie Bing Merluk, and are trying to retain their title and the cup. Also by this medium of news the Tigers are supposed to have a new player in action against Viking Saturday night.

GAS KINGS HERE SATURDAY

The game on Saturday 28th (this week end) should be one of the best to date as the Gas Kings and the Tigers have no love for each other. To date the teams have split their two encounters and both need the victory badly on Saturday. The Viking club still think they were robbed last time and will be out to redeem themselves while the Tigers need the victory badly in their battle for last play-off spot. If the Tigers hit their stride of recent home games things should be very interesting and perhaps pleasing to the hometown fans.

Vermilion, Alberta.
Jan. 24, 1956.

Dear Editor:

I read in the Vermilion Standard last week about what farmers are getting for grade A large eggs, 29 cents, and it also said that almost as much was being charged for cracks. Now I have found that is not exactly correct for I have bought some cracks, but they cost me 35 cents a dozen. That is only six cents a dozen more than is being paid for A large.

Big money in cracked eggs don't you think?

Another Disgusted.

"GREEN ACRES"

GARNET WHEAT

The market price of No. 1 Garnet is 20 cents per bushel less than No. 1 Northern. It is a good thing that we stopped growing Garnet in this area two years ago. It would not be wise to start again.

4-H GRAIN CLUBS

All grain clubs are asked to reorganize right away for the 1956 season. There is room for another one or two grain clubs here. All that is needed is a grower who will look after their seed plots. There are 12 grain clubs in this district now. All clubs should have their lists of members in soon. Barley is always in short supply. First come are first served and the rest have to wait until next year. A meeting of the Vermilion Wheat and Barley Club is called for 7:30 p.m. Friday January 27th in the court house.

SEED CLEANING PLANTS

I understand that seed cleaned at municipal plants is much below the amount handled at this time last year. This is due to snow blocked roads and it would appear that there will be a great rush in the spring and a lot of farmers will be disappointed. Share holders and others are asked to take their seed to plants just as soon as possible.

JUNIOR SEED FAIR

Any boy or girl in Alberta between the ages of 12 and 22 may enter samples of wheat, oats, flax or barley in the Junior Seed Fair to be held in Calgary on March 1st. There will be hundreds of samples at Calgary and I hope some from this district. Only two pounds of seed are required. See me or write in for a prize list. There is lots of good grain in the country this year. Why not show it at Calgary?

LOSSES FROM DISEASE

The well known saying "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" must have been written specially about livestock diseases. In no other way can a farmer save himself more money than when he prevents animal diseases. It's mainly a matter of right feeding. Get some free bulletins from this office on the feeding of vitamins and minerals to livestock. Also there are circulars on treating cattle and swine diseases.

PUTTING ON WEIGHT

A lot of people are concerned about the bulging waistline but with farm livestock the faster and cheaper an animal puts on weight the more we make out of him. Twenty years ago a good steer put on 2 lbs per day. Now a steer has to make 3 lbs. [illegible] chickens [illegible] 4 lbs of [illegible] do it [illegible] 1 month.

WILDMERE WINKS

At time of writing the [illegible] is much milder and is a nice break in our long winter. Must be fine because we saw Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore of Deer Lake district out for the first time since before Christmas. We all thought you had hibernated for the winter folks!

We wish to congratulate our rink from the Wildmere Curling club for making such a good showing in the Zone spiel. They lost out in the final of one of the events. The rink was composed of Skip Kaare Seite, Cliff Cruthers, George Harrison and Art Lysens. Better luck next time boys.

Lloyd Howard took a load of fat cattle to Edmonton last Wednesday. Several Wildmere-ites attended the dance at Thorncliffe last Friday night. Messrs. Fortin and Bensmiller furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hughes and family of Basswood were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bauman at Preston Central teacherage. A small skating party was held at the school rink Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Holte were visitors at the Cruthers' home Sunday afternoon.

Laurence Graham who works for Frank Gibson of Basswood, visited at the Wallington home Sunday.

We are all pleased to hear Frank Gibson is doing nicely after his recent operation at the Vermilion hospital. He is to come home this week if all is well.

Joan Dibben also of Basswood, returned home on Wednesday last after having her tonsils out Monday. She spent part of Tuesday visiting her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dibben.

Hauling feed for stock this winter is really a problem with the deep snow. Just ask David Dibben. He upset two loads of feed near Hughie Stewart's and then had a flat tire, finally leaving one load after hours of hard work.

The writer had nice chats with Mrs. H. Barlow, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. A. Dicke, Mrs. A. Morrison and Mrs. Rock Mead on Saturday. The afternoon really slips by when you meet so many nice people.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. R. Seed on the birth of a daughter.

We wish Mrs. R. Mullen a speedy recovery to health and home. Have a good rest Mary it will do you a lot of good.

Miss Marlene Smith of town spent Sunday at her home in Basswood. Janet Cruthers who attends high school in town was home over the week end. Both these girls returned to town Sunday evening.

The Home Nursing course started last October and discontinued owing to storms, Xmas, etc. was concluded last week. We had our final class Monday evening and wrote our exam on Wednesday. Thirteen out of the 17 who started wrote. Miss Salisbury is a wonderful instructor and Mrs. Boulton was our examiner. Anyone wondering about this course take it — it's very interesting and worthwhile from the standpoint of its value to your own family if nothing else.

The writer enjoyed a wonderful evening Saturday. We were invited to a little party at Miss Craig's and our good friend and neighbor for many years. Mrs. Riley was there, also Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. Parkin of town while Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown from north of town came in a little later. A few games of cards as well as a good visit were enjoyed followed by a delicious lunch. One truly is made welcome at Miss Craig's and we will certainly drop in again sometime.

Here is something we have intended to correct for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sweeney's contribution was left off the list of those donating to the United Church fund in memory of the late Mrs. Osterberg. Sorry folks this was not acknowledged before.

Don't forget the Wildmere W. I. meeting at Mrs. Wallington's Feb. 1st. Mrs. Acheson of town will be present to talk on Handicrafts.

Mannville Locals

The men are going to have to look to their laurels as once more the ladies have won out while the men were defeated. On Friday the rink skipped by H. Whitson with Jack Parks, Ken Scoggins and Chas Matters representing Mannville at Vermilion for zone play-downs in the Macdonald-Brier won three out of four games but lost out on Saturday. However the ladies curling in the T. Eaton competition for Western Canada playdowns in Vermilion on Monday won all five games and will represent this district in Edmonton on Feb. 6 and 7. Mrs. Hasinoff, Mrs. Coxford, Mrs. L. Manz and Mrs. Proudfoot are the members of the winning rink.

Those attending the whist drive on Friday last sponsored by the L. A. to the Legion enjoyed the social evening although there was not too large a turn-out. Winners were: Ladies' 1st, Mrs. Lloyd Boe, consolation, Mrs. J. Finlay. Men's, Len Manz first and J. Finlay consolation. The white elephant draw was won by Jack Coxford.

It is with regret that Mannville and district learned of the death of Mr. Kirk of Northwestern Utilities, Vermilion. He retired late in the fall fall due to ill health. Mr. Kirk was well known in Mannville and was a regular visitor after the installation of the gas.

Mrs. Maud Ross is spending a few months with her daughter and family in Toronto.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

Last week the Circle Eight tried two experiments and as a result of them the executive have come to two decisions with regard to future dances.

We had changed to the third Wednesday chiefly at the request of several members who have other activities on the third Thursday of the month but found that those members didn't come to the dance anyway so we have decided to go back to and stick to our original Thursday night dances. Several other north-east Alberta clubs dance on Wednesdays and so we were conflicting with them. So once again we are back to the 1st and third Thursday. Next dance Thursday Feb. 2.

The second decision we have come to is to book Harold Schacher our club caller for at least our next three dances. We feel that in fairness to our new club members it would be better to give them Harold until such time as experience enough had been gained so that they will be able to cope with new voices, expressions, etc. as used by guest callers. Harold Schacher then will be calling next dance on Thursday Feb. 2.

Doug McColl possibly one of Alberta's best known and most popular callers had a very successful tour through the district last week. Thirteen squares in Vermilion, 12 at St. Paul and a large crowd of 21 squares at Lloydminster all enjoyed Doug's free and easy style. He invites any square dancers passing through Red Deer on a Saturday to attend the regular dance at the P.T.S. hall.

Break Three-Game Losing Streak

Tigers Take 8 to 6 Win From Wainwright Commandos Monday

Vermilion Tigers sent the home town fans home happy Monday evening by turning in a brilliant 8 to 6 victory over the fast-travelling Wainwright Commandos. The game was particularly fast and clean with only three penalties handed out by referee Scotty Munro. One of these was to Vermilion for having an extra man on the ice while changing players on the fly.

Goalkeeping by both custodians was particularly brilliant. George Washington is right back on the beam and turned aside many a shot and lone rushes which seemed certain to end up with a tally. Johnny Laporte former Tiger, now in the Wainwright net, was worked overtime and did a good job of robbing his former team mates of several more scoring points.

Ron Phillips led the parade of Tiger goals, notching four of them, and appears to have regained his old form. He had an outstanding night as did his line of Andy Redford and Bill Novak. For Wainwright the lightning fast Bellerive scored three counters. He is always in position to break fast and gets away like a streak.

Vermilion started fast and did a nice job of hemming the visitors in behind their blue line. At 3.37 Phillips opened the scoring on Les Williams' pass. Nothing daunted the Commandos came back with two, Bellerive from Carp at 6.54 and Berg from Giltner and Murray. The Tigers came back with two fast ones scored in 29 seconds, Phillips from Bill Novak and Redford, then Bill Williams from Gerry Grant and Bill Schmidt.

Things looked rosy from a Tiger point of view when, with only 39 seconds to go to the end of the period the Commandos rapped in two, Bellerive from Hardin, then Hallett from Giltner. The period thus ended Commandos 4, Tigers 3.

At 4.47 of the second Frankie Ewing tied it up on Gerry Grant's pass, making two assists for Gerry who was playing up on the first string. The teams battled on even terms for over six minutes but at 10.67 Bill Schmidt converted Kreller's pass to make it 5-4. Berg was thumbed to the bench for two minutes for interference and the Tigers really turned on the pressure with the puck flashing everywhere but past Laporte. The period ended with the Tigers leading 5-4, outscoring the visitors two to nil for the period.

Phillips rammed home his third goal early in the third and put the Tigers two up, assists going to Kreller and Redford. At this point the Commandos really turned on the power in an attempt to pull the game out of the fire but Washington rose to high pinnacles of brilliance to stave them off. It was not until the tide had turned and the Tigers were unleashing some hot shots that a pass out was made from the Wainwright defence zone to the unmarked Bellerive who went in unmolested to put the Commandos once more only one goal behind, so it was still anybody's game. Assists went to Carp and Hardin.

Bill Schmidt from Ewing and Kreller, and then Phillips from Bill Novak and Bill Williams gave the Tigers an 8-5 lead going into the dying minutes. Redford was benched for hooking at the 19 minute mark and Giltner promptly made the final score 8-6.

Referee was Scotty Munro and linesman Ralph Rudd.

We miss the Waterfields and Mr. Bower but know you attend church closer to home. We would like to know where are our neighbors from over 'dem dar' hills!

It is nice to see Mrs. Gow home again from the hospital and not having to go back for a few weeks. May the good reports still continue.

Darleen Marshall Becomes Bride In Double Ring Ceremony

In a morning ceremony at the Jubilee Hospital Chapel in Victoria, B.C. on December 17th, Darleen Ena Marshall, R.T., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Marshall of Vermilion, became the bride of Gerald Dale Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morgan of Estevan, Saskatchewan.

The Chapel was tastefully decorated with tall white baskets of holly and chrysanthemums in winter shades. Rev. Dr Wilson of First United Church, Victoria, officiated at the double-ring marriage service. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride looked beautiful in a gown of white velvet, of ballerina length with princess lines. Her bodice had three-quarter length sleeves and a scooped neckline. She wore a juliet cap of white velvet and seed pearls with a shoulder length veil. Her lily-point mittens were of white velvet and her only jewellery was a gold cross pendant with tiny gold cross matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried white gardenias and stephanotis surmounting a white Bible.

Darleen's [illegible] Norcross R.T. was dressed in a gown of cherry red velvet with a V neckline, torso waistline and a circular skirt with unpressed pleats. Her bandeau and lily-point mittens were of matching red velvet. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations.

The groom was attended by James P. Noble, best man, and Allan Johnson was the usher.

The prelude music, played by the organist, Miss Shirley Orr, was a selection of Christmas Carols, and during the signing of the register the choice of music was "Because," "Bless this House" and "Ave Maria."

At the reception luncheon held in the Mahogany room of the Strathcona hotel in Victoria, places were set for 20 guests. To receive, the bride's mother had chosen a spruce green dress with copper tan accessories, and yellow roses en corsage. The groom's mother wore a grey suit, with red accessories and red [illegible].

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with tulle and red rose buds, flanked by tall white tapers in silver candelabra.

The toast to the bride was proposed by J. Rowling, and the response was suitably given by the groom.

For the honeymoon trip to Seattle the bride changed to a two-piece knitted dress, burnt orange in color, with a winter white coat and hat with brown accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Darleen received her high schooling in Vermilion, and upon graduation from Grade 12, entered the Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria for her training as a Registered Technician. She graduated from her course there last fall, and obtained a position in the office of Dr. Edmison and Associates in Victoria, where she plans to continue working after her marriage.

Mr. Morgan is stationed at Victoria with the Royal Canadian Navy. The young couple have taken up residence at 678 Dallas Rd.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. W. E. Morgan and Audrey, of Estevan, Sask., mother and sister of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowling of Vancouver, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Marshall of Vermilion.

Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

LANDONVILLE. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Benamiller, who are old time residents of the North Star district, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Saturday, January 21st. A very quiet evening, with their immediate family, was shattered by honking horns of over forty friends and relatives who had gathered to congratulate them and give them their best wishes.

All had a wonderful time. The old timers talked over the years of the big storms. A few even spoke of bigger ones. The young people spent the evening singing and dancing. Madoline Benamiller and Willie Osinchuk supplied the music for the dancing and singing. Mr. Ray Richardson, an old timer of the district who is now living in Whitecourt, made the presentation to the couple. It is the sincere wish that this anniversary will lead to a golden one with many golden years in between.

The guests at the anniversary included Mr. and Mrs. George Butz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glovitski and family, Mr and Mrs. Paul Wasylishen, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nettleton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Johnson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cribney, Mrs. Polischuk and Archie, Mr. Ray Richardson, Mr. Albert Quickstad, Mr. Carl Burns and his daughter Lorraine, Mr Pete Melnyk, Mr. and Mrs. Colin West and family, Mrs. Edward Lovell and family, Mr. Willie Osinchuk and Mr Wynnychuk. Tommy and Elleen Benamiller who are working in Calgary were not able to get home for the occasion.

In the past 50 years the number of manufacturing plants in Alberta has grown from 97 to more than 2,000.

Local School Board Elected at Mannville

There was a good attendance at the January meeting of the Mannville and District Home and School Association. Following the regular business meeting during which Mrs. Maurice Smith was elected to represent the Home and School Association on the local Library board, Constable Norris of the R. C. M. P. at Vermilion gave a very interesting talk on "How Canada Got Her Laws" following the laws down through the years to the B. N. A. Act. The laws change as the country changes and with modern times. The laws of the Government are carried out by the R. C. M. P. and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure". They need the cooperation of the people to carry out these laws. Canada has the finest system of law but unless it is enforced it is no good. He went on to say that small children should not be allowed to become frightened of policemen — too many people used to say "If you don't be good, the police will put you in jail". This fright will grow into hate and the child will enjoy "pulling one on the cop" as he gets older. To make sure that this does not happen to young people the R. C. M. P. have become active in youth activities and the police coach numerous sports of youth groups. Const. Norton answered questions after his informative talk.

A very intricate piano selection was exceptionally well presented by Miss Donna McCauley. Miss McCauley has taken over a large number of pupils since Mrs. Elliott moved and is doing her best to fit all the pupils in.

A local school board has been discussed at several meetings but on Thursday night it became an actuality. As Mr. R. Whitson pointed out, before the large division was formed this area was served by 63 trustees and now one trustee has been responsible for the whole area. He felt that more interest would be stimulated and it would be a more satisfactory arrangement.

Provisions have been made by the Department for a local board of seven and the area divided as follows with those elected as trustees.

Mannville—M. B. Van Dusen. Brace, Wealthy, Chailey — Bruce Scott; Hamilton, Lake Geneva, Forest Hill, Ramsay — Harry Modin. Fidelity, Bird Hill, Bloomington, Indian Lake - Steve Nestorowich. Claysmore, Clovelly, Stellaville - Oliver Willes. Scotstoun, Underwood, Tankerton not decided yet. Creighton, Lefield, Birch Creek - Walter Donnenworth.

The Attendance shield was again tied for, this time between Mrs. Lugg and Mrs. Gamble.

A social time was enjoyed, with coffee and sandwiches served by those of Bloomington, Hamilton and Forest Hill bus route.

Legion Announces Poppy Fund Results

Vermilion Branch of Canadian Legion wishes to inform the public of the collections made in Vermilion and district for the Poppy fund.

Everyone knows that the Saturday before Remembrance day is set aside all over Canada for "Poppy Day". Legion members canvass for donations and the Ladies' Auxiliary sells poppies on the street corners.

The money collected is placed in a special poppy fund account in the bank. It can be used for one thing only and that is to relieve distress among returned men and their families.

In 1955 the total deposits to this fund were $819.29. Out of this $386.25 was paid out to Provincial Command in payment for the poppies and wreaths made by disabled veterans in veterans' hospitals leaving $433.04 for relief work in this area.

The payments for veterans' relief amounted to $813.30. In addition to the above receipts assistance totalling $450 was obtained from the Provincial Command Poppy fund because the requirements of one case exceeded the limits that the local branch can grant.

The response of the public was very generous indeed, and Vermilion Post 11 wishes to thank everyone who contributed to the success of our campaign.

Health Unit Notes

CHILD TRAINING

DESTRUCTIVENESS

Because it's wasteful, unnecessary and often costly, destructiveness in children arouses despair in the hearts of many parents. Children who destroy things may be roughly divided into two main groups:

1. Those who do it innocently or unintentionally.
2. Those who do it deliberately with malice.

Fortunately the former is much more common and parents who realize the distinction between the two groups and seek out the underlying causes are usually able to redirect their children's activities and help forestall the more serious problem of malicious destructiveness.

INNOCENT TYPES

There is the bouncing baby who has no respect for anything around the house. For him the desire to taste, feel and examine is all important and a slap on the hand or loud "No's" have little effect. Fill the needs of this child with toys that come apart and mud in which to dabble. Make sure that the valuables are well out of reach as well as anything with which he might hurt himself.

CURIOUS TYPES

Usually older and more orderly in his destructiveness this child will dismantle a watch, unscrew door knobs and tear papers into tiny shreds, then, more than likely, try to reassemble the bits and pieces.

A four or five-year-old who destroys things not his own should be helped to fix up what has been damaged, but without scolding. Giving him proper play materials will help satisfy his inquisitive nature — old watches, broken dolls, odds and ends for his fix-it box, reading material that explains how things are made, what makes them "tick" and so on.

CLUMSY TYPE

There is the clumsy child. He touches an article and it breaks; he bumps into things, knocks them over and demolishes them without seeming regard. Help is what he needs, not scolding. The doctor will advise about his co-ordination and sight and hearing. Often it's just slowness in development calling for patience and understanding in helping the child develop the knack of handling things.

STRONG TYPE

He doesn't know his own strength! Whether he is two or twelve, this child needs special handling. Broken couch springs, trampled garden flowers, flattened pen nibs, bear witness to his muscular vigor. Such children should be protected against themselves. Enforce rules consistently — no wrestling in the living room, or bouncing on the beds.

Constant reminders may be necessary and what is more important, plenty of alternatives. For under six supply a mat in the basement, heavy blocks, boxes, climbing apparatus, swings for muscle play, boards and a desk of his own. The older child should have opportunities for rough and tumble sports. With such outlets for their abundant energies super-activities in the house can be more readily curbed.

MEDICATED ATMOSPHERE

To help prevent colds, chills, catarrh, there's a medicated vapor packaged in a pushbutton aerosol container that is sprayed through a room to relieve congested nasal passages and make breathing easier, reports the Financial Post. Claimed to be the first spray product of its kind the new cold remedy is said to be safe and pleasant to use. Spraying of two seconds' duration is said to be enough to treat the average room.

Hobby Fair To Be Held At Marwayne

The Marwayne United Church are holding their annual Hobby Fair early in March depending on roads, date later. One of the finest things a boy or girl can do is to enter the fair. Talent is discovered and students are encouraged to work on hobbies and worthwhile activities. Exhibitions spur on other children to widen their hobbies and horizons. Making something new is the best cure for a case of the blues for an older person, be it sewing, knitting or anyone of the many interesting crafts. 29-30

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

Royal Commission To Resume Sittings Feb. 27

EDMONTON. — The Royal Commission investigating affairs of the Alberta government, adjourned since last Oct 21st, was in the news again last week.

Premier Manning announced the appointment of James C. Mahaffy, Calgary lawyer, as chairman, succeeding Mr Justice Hugh John Macdonald of the supreme court, who resigned because of illness.

Actually, Mr. Mahaffy's appointment is more of a promotion. When the commission was set up late last summer, the government chose him as commission counsel, and his job was to see that every available bit of evidence was presented to the commission.

From September until the adjournment in October, Mr Mahaffy worked as commission counsel, and his familiarity with the investigation to date was cited as a main factor in the government's choice. As the premier explained it, the appointment provides for continuity. The commission, with its new chairman, can take up where Mr Justice Macdonald left off.

There also is the factor that no other supreme or district court judges were available. But if a man unfamiliar with the investigation had been appointed, it probably would have meant starting all over again from scratch.

Shortly after his appointment was announced, Mr. Mahaffy revealed that hearings will resume in Edmonton Feb. 27 about two weeks after the 1956 session of the legislature begins.

Premier Manning also announced that William Morrow, Edmonton barrister, has been made commission counsel. During the hearings, he acted as assistant commission counsel under Mr Mahaffy.

It was also announced last week that before submitting his resignation, Mr Justice Macdonald cleared up an important question which was left hanging when he was confined to his home with a back ailment and forced to adjourn the hearings.

The question was whether the commission should investigate loans granted by the provincial treasury branches to corporations in which members of the legislature are directors or shareholders.

A ruling issued by Mr. Justice Macdonald and the four other commission members said the terms of reference of the commission would not permit investigation into the affairs of any corporations.

The inclusion of loans to companies was requested by J. H. V. Milvain, counsel for the Alberta Liberal Association, on the last day of the hearings. He argued that M.L.A.s should not be immune to investigation by reason of dealing "in the guise" of a corporation.

S. J. Helman, counsel for the government, objected on the ground that the terms of reference did not permit investigation of companies. He referred to a section of the terms designed to protect the interests of treasury branch companies, restricting the probe to members of the legislature.

When the commission adjourned, it had finished hearing evidence regarding the awarding of highway construction contracts, and was working on treasury branch loans to M.L.A.s. Both matters were hot issue in last summer's election campaign.

Mr Mahaffy, who has practiced law in Calgary since 1926, is a veteran when it comes to royal commission work but this is the first time he has been chairman of one.

In 1947 he was named commission counsel for the famous royal commission investigation into child welfare in Alberta. In 1952, he was counsel for the commission appointed to study flooding of the Bow River. He also is a former member of the legislature, elected in 1940 as an Independent member for Calgary.

Dome Redecoration Subject of Controversy

Raging controversies are nothing new under the dome of the Alberta Legislative Building in Edmonton. But the one under way right now has nothing to do with politics. As a matter of fact, the dome itself is the centre of the controversy, and particularly what's going on under it. Workmen are redecorating the vaulted ceiling in the massive main rotunda. And the color they're using are deep shades of red, green and brown instead of the white which has been there since the building opened in 1912.

Old time civil servants are indignant, claiming the appearance of the rotunda is being ruined. But the architect responsible, L. G. Macdonald, says "wait and see." He says much fine plaster ornamentation is lost in the white, and believes when it is finished visitors will notice the dome for the first time.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

I have a standard one-word bit of advice when people ask me about picking up hitchhikers and that advice is—DON'T. Unless you are capable of absolute infallibility in judging a person's character within a matter of the few seconds it takes him to climb into your car, you're asking for trouble sooner or later.

It is unfortunate that the honest and deserving hitchhiker must suffer by this rule—but you can't afford the one-in-ten risk of picking up a possible escaping convict, murderer, rapist, thug, AWOL serviceman, thief, minor crook or plain dishonest moocher. I mention a one-in-ten risk, but many law enforcement agencies say as high as 20% of hitchhikers are undesirable or dangerous.

If you make a practice of refusing hitchhikers you are bound to pass up a few deserving ones—but the point is, you never know. Don't tempt trouble.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Jan. 25th, 1940

A rink of curlers from the Thistle rink, Edmonton, were entertained here on Saturday evening last. The visitors curled against President George Webb of the local club and eked out a 7-6 win in a close battle.

Continuing their efforts to find out just how much gas and oil is contained in the Vermilion area and to obtain an accurate estimate of the extent of the field, the Franco Company has contracted with the S.W.S. Drilling Co. to drill a new well.

Two afternoons are set aside at the V.S.A., Friday and Saturday, Feb. 2 and 3, for discussion of hogs and beef cattle, all farmers and others interested being cordially invited to attend the sessions. These meetings are arranged under the war-time program of the Provincial department of agriculture and are sponsored locally by the Vermilion Agricultural society. Arrangement of the program is in the hands of the school staff.

A. B. Wood of Riverton and Mrs. Frank Redmond of Edgerton were elected directors of the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. representing the riding of Battle River at the convention which was held in Edmonton for four days last week.

Canon Leversedge was a visitor to Edmonton on business Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stewart and children motored to Edmonton on Wednesday to attend the 40th wedding anniversary of the former's parents. They expect to return home on Thursday evening.

Officers installed in the Britannia Rebekah lodge were: P.N.G., Miss Myrtle Macdonald; N. G., Miss Mary Zaparynuk; Vice Grand, Miss Nora Nelson; Secy., Mrs. Grace Adam; Treas., Miss Beth Witherbe; Conductress, Miss Marie Eyben; Warder, Mrs. Annie Cameron; Inner Guard, Mrs. E. Wright; Supporters, Mrs. E. Davis, Mrs. A. E. Taylor, Mrs. J. Beresford, Miss Myrtle Macdonald.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

London, England, Jan. 21. — The Conservative government, headed by Stanley Baldwin, met defeat in the House of Commons, and for the first time in the history of England a Labor government will probably take office.

Mrs. R. B. Gunn, the newly-elected president of the United Farm Women of Alberta, enters her work bubbling over with youth and enthusiasm, supported by four year's intensive training in the capacity of first vice-president, and the confidence of the members of the organization.

At a meeting in Calgary on Jan. 19th, J. Wotherspoon of Vermilion was re-elected president of the Alberta Horseshoers' and Carriage Makers' Association at the concluding session of the annual convention Friday afternoon.

The Vermilion Curling club is represented at the Edmonton bonspiel by a rink skipped by Dr. F. Day Smith and comprising W. R. Wiebe W. H. Duncan and Ed Corley. Ed says he intends to bring home the bacon or explain the reason why.

W. E. Sutton, secretary of the Vermilion Agricultural society, attended the annual meeting of the Western Canada Fairs Association held at Saskatoon the middle of the week.

Paradise Valley

Friday evening Chane Bush's High School Taylor & Pearson rink curled against Geo. Elliott's British Consuls rink at McLaughlin. The game was tied at the end of ten ends but Chane's rink won in the extra end. Mr Baxter's rink curled in McLaughlin the same evening, but we have a suspicion the results were not too good for the Baxter rink as the boys didn't seem too anxious to mention the score on their return.

Saturday evening two rinks from McLaughlin visited Paradise Valley. The Nickle rink won over the Johnson rink, and the Elliott rink won over the Knutson rink.

On Sunday the P. V. High school assisted by Joe Maye and Tucker Rauson played a fast and furious game of hockey with the boys from Earlie P. V. winning 6-1.

Tuesday evening the P. V. High school boys were hosts to the Kitscoty High school boys. The Kitscoty boys won 8-1.

Wednesday evening the P. V. men, assisted by Bob, Ken, Dick and Earnie played hockey with Earlie. The score was 6-2 for P. V.

The Ladies Curling Club is holding a variety night in the school auditorium on Friday Feb. 3rd. Proceeds to go towards building a new hall in P. V.

Mr Montie Hoskins received word this week that his brother had passed away. He left for the Coast on Thursday to attend the funeral. Montie's friends wish to extend their sympathy.

C. G. I. T. MEETS

The Valley Maids C. G. I. T. met at the home of Mrs. D. Clark on Monday Jan 16th with a fair attendance. Report on the Tea and sale of Christmas cards showed a fairly good bank balance. Donations to the church for light and fuel and to the British & Foreign Bible Society for the missionary project was voted on but other donations will be looked after later. Mrs Clark demonstrated the sewing kit for the first year girls and Mrs. Gunn demonstrated patterns and aprons for the senior group. Mrs Clark served treats.

The Distinctive Touch

Is there a special place in your home for house plants or are they scattered all over the house on every available ledge? Eileen M. Crowther, Alberta's Extension Home Designer suggests gathering all your plants and grouping together the ones that do best in each of the various exposures. There are a great many plants that do well without direct exposure to the sun so there is no necessity to clutter up all the window sills.

Miss Crowther advises that your plants should be incorporated into your interior decoration just as a chair, table or lamp are. A planting box built for the top of your book cases or if you have open shelves above your books use groupings of different types of plants here. An ivy or trailing plant with a cactus and grassy type of plant make a good contrast. A pair of candlestick holders combined with [illegible] arrangement

FUTURE CARS

Automobiles next year, predicts the Financial Post, will feature some revolutionary accessories. At least one manufacturer is planning wing-like doors that hinge in the middle of the roof, opening outward and upward instead of forward, allowing passengers to enter without bending over. Radar brakes will also be introduced. Hidden behind grills, these devices will bounce signals off vehicles ahead, applying brakes automatically when the gap between cars gets dangerously small. A fuel-injection engine, eliminating the more costly type of carburetor will be offered for the first time.

NEWS from ISLAY

The February meeting of the Home and School Association will be Monday, 13th. There will be a film shown which is a new one just out "Appointment With Youth" and deals with teaching. Because you have no children going to school is no reason for not attending. All are welcome. Education and the schools should be the business of everybody. This is your country, and the country is only as good as its citizens, its homes, its schools. We are apt to leave this business of schools too much to a few. So come out Monday 13th. Also plan to attend the annual meetings which will be taking place very soon.

Mrs. Evelyn Dalkin of Rivercourse visited her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Olds, this past week end. Mr. Olds Sr. of Kitscoty visited son Henry.

Mrs. Hilda Bell attended the 29th Alumni of Nurses at the Misericordia hospital, Edmonton.

A boys' rink from the school played at Kitscoty in the Taylor & Pearson curling contest, and although they won't go to Edmonton they did win honorable mention, playing well. All are in Grade 9.

The January meeting of Home and School was held in the school on Monday, Jan. 16. It was an interesting meeting. Mr. Moncrieff gave a talk on the school curriculum. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Clark and boys called on friends Sunday evening.

Mr. Ross received the sad word of his brother Norman's death. He had been here visiting Ross last fall.

Word has reached Islay that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robinson and family have moved to New Westminster.

The February meeting of the W.A. will be held Thursday, the second at Mrs. Clarence Robertson's.

Pleasant Valley News

Let us hope that the wind doesn't blow for another year or two as the roads are getting opened up now in most places. It enables one to visit the neighbours a bit, so there has been a bit of visiting in and around the district lately.

Mrs. Giles, David and Bill were supper guests at the writer's home on Wednesday night where some games of crokinole were enjoyed. On Thursday the Clark family and Marvin Gould enjoyed supper at the Giles home.

On Friday the writer held the supper that was prepared three times during Xmas but "oh how the winds did blow" which left a 27 pound turkey for the writer and hubby to devour alone and not a soul in sight. However on the Friday another turkey was cooked and there were 22 to have a taste.

On New Year's day the Clarke family entertained 16 to a bountiful dinner. Sorry this news is a little out of date, one sheet of news was left on the table. I hear that Isabel just took blank sheets in. It is easily done when one is in such a rush to get to town.

What did you do with all the scrambled eggs on the floor? Did you call the dogs in or did you use the shovel, Isabelle? We had a good laugh about it. That is what we need these days.

Glad to hear that Mrs. Jones is improving in health. Keep smiling, we hope to see you soon.

Soon we will see the naked earth warm with spring.
The green grass and the bursting trees and flowers blowing with the summer breeze.

We're Lucky!

Canadians can thank their lucky stars for the vast and rapid development of new natural resources in the last 25 years, thinks The Financial Post. Our economy may still be lopsided, as many competent observers have warned. But we have added new lines and new wealth and new employment.

Before the war we were hardly exporting a ton of iron ore and only producing a trickle. We had little or no oil or natural gas. Now look at the development in these lines. In the same period, production of newsprint, aluminum, chemicals, automobiles, farm implements, steel household appliances and many other things has increased enormously. The number of jobs in industry has almost doubled. Not so many years ago the biggest single factor in the health of our national economy was wheat.

A situation like that facing us today where sales are down and our grain elevators clogged, would have meant a general depression. For the western farmer and those directly depending upon him, of course, our wheat trouble is serious and tragic. But it would have been worse, infinitely worse for them and all of us had we not developed other sources of wealth and jobs in the last two and a half decades.

A few plants, pleasantly grouped, are much more effective than a great many plants better clutter about the house.

ST. PAUL HORNETS TO PLAY HERE

Last Home Game Of Regular Hockey Schedule This Saturday

St. Paul Hornets will play here Saturday evening in the last home game of the regular E. A. H. L. schedule. The game is slated for 8:30 and as can be recalled the last time the Hornets displayed their wares on local ice it was just about the fastest and best hockey game of the season to date. As it stands at present the Hornets and Tigers have met three times, with the Tigers winning two and the St. Paul entry one of the games. At the present time St. Paul is sitting two points above Vermilion in the league standing but have played one more game. Vermilion can do themselves a lot of good if they could manage to squeeze up into third or even second spot, and it's not impossible, as a glance at the league standing below will reveal.

Following their last home game here Saturday the Tigers play at Vegreville Monday, go to Viking on Wednesday, and then wind up their regular season at Lloydminster on Saturday, February 11th.

After that the play-offs start, bringing the top team against the fourth place winner, and the teams in second and third slots against each other. Winners enter the final to play for the Craig Cup and the league championship.

Be on hand Saturday night. The weather promises to be mild and a crowd of better than 1,000 is expected to witness the game. Remember, Saturday, Feb. 4th at 8:30 p.m.

Calgary Minister To Conduct Preaching Mission

The Evangelistic Planning Committee of First United church has been working for several months organizing the preaching mission which will be held in Vermilion commencing Feb. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Sam Parson, B.A., B.D., D.D., minister of Scarboro Ave. United church, Calgary, will be missioner. He is well known in southern Alberta as an outstanding speaker, pastor and lecturer. He comes with an earnest and dynamic message on the theme "Face to Face with Christ".

Assisting Dr. Parsons will be the Rev. Clint Swallow, talented young song leader and pastor of the United church at Viking. Mr. Swallow attended the Naramata Leadership Training school where he gained valuable experience as a song leader.

When the Edmonton Bulletin published its first paper in 1880, it was the first newspaper in Alberta and the second in the Canadian West.

Life Saving, Water Safety Demonstration

A team of extension workers from Red Cross headquarters in Edmonton will give an illustrated talk and demonstration on Life Saving and Water Safety in the V. S. A. gym next Monday evening.

Arrangements for this demonstration have been made in connection with the physical education program at the School of Agriculture but it will be open to the public and all persons interested in this subject are invited to attend. Those who have been taking swimming lessons at the park and who are boating enthusiasts will have a special interest in this program offered by the Red Cross.

If swimming and boating seem to be a far cry from present wintery conditions remember Tennyson's optimistic query — "If winter comes can spring be far behind?"

Kent Rink Wins Challenge at St. Paul

The Aldous Kent skipped rink, with Jack Baddock at 3rd, Johnny Gordey 2nd and Jack Hessam lead, were the big winners at the St. Paul bonspiel last week, bringing home the Grand Challenge.

Two other local entries were skipped by Gordon Park with Warren Rosequist, Bill McLaughlin and Tom McPherson; and skip Glen Gibbons with George Webb Jr., Bob Rowe and Norm McGinnis.

Banquet Adds To Enjoyable Event

Marwayne Audience Hears Minister Of Highways Announce New Bridge

The most largely attended meeting in the history of Marwayne heard the Hon. Gordon Taylor, minister of highways, announce that a new bridge would be built across the Saskatchewan River, replacing the old ferry crossing at Lea Park. While the reason for the public meeting was generally known, the people wanted to hear the momentous announcement from the Minister himself, and they were not disappointed in what Mr. Taylor had to say, or his description of the bridge. Construction will start almost immediately.

The Monday meeting was also attended by the Hon. A. O. Aalborg, minister of education and M.L.A. for the constituency of Alexandra in which Marwayne is located, and the Hon. Raymond Reierson, minister of industries and labor and M.L.A. for St. Paul, the riding on the north side of the river.

Chairman of the meeting was Mr. Merlin Moncrieff of Islay, the president of the Alexandra Constituency Social Credit Association.

The bridge will be about 1000 feet long and will consist of five 200-foot spans and will be a truss-type structure. It will have two lanes with a total width of 26 feet.

CIVIC AFFAIRS ASSOCIATION GIVE BANQUET

Following the public meeting in the afternoon, the Marwayne Civic Affairs Association gave a well attended banquet at night with 160 present.

Chairman of the enjoyable function was Mr. Gordon Hancock, the president of the Civic Affairs Association. Guests at the head table included Hon. Gordon Taylor, Hon. Anders Aalborg, J. Ross Boake, president Vermilion Board of Trade, Ashley H. Cooper, Vermilion, Mayor John Dale, Kitscoty, Mayor Wm. Curtis of Marwayne, who officially welcomed the visitors, Bert Stokes of the Kitscoty Board of Trade, Merlin Moncrieff of Islay, Arthur Shortell, president of Lloydminster Board of Trade and Jos. A. McLean, Lloydminster, Oscar Peterson and George Leslie, old timers of the area, and Councillors J. Anderson, Jim Stone and Tom Belsheim, Rev. McGuffin, Marwayne.

Guest speakers for the occasion were Hon. Mr. Taylor and Hon. Mr. Aalborg, while bringing greetings and best wishes from the various towns were Mr. Boake, Vermilion; Mr. Dale, Kitscoty; Mr. Shortell, Lloydminster, and Mr. Curtis, Marwayne.

The day, already memorable by the importance of the announcement, was made the more so by the excellence of the two functions arranged, and the genial sociability of the Marwayne and district people.

Sports Celebrities To Gather Here February 16th

The greatest gathering of celebrities from the world of sport will take place in Vermilion Thursday, 16th when the Vermilion Tigers hockey club will hold their annual Sportsmen's Banquet. The event will be held in the Elks hall commencing at 7:00 p.m.

Toastmaster for the interesting program will be the well known radio sportscaster Maurice Carter whom everyone has heard over CJCA. Guest speakers will include Frank "Pop" Ivy, coach of the Eskimos Football club, and he will have with him one of his more famous players from the Grey Cup champs.

Hal Pawson, sports editor of the Edmonton Journal;

Stan Moher, well known sports writer.

Another highlight of the event will be the showing of the pictures of the Grey Cup and Stanley cup games. The whole program promises to be "the affair" of the year — no one should miss it.

Admission is $5.00 per plate with funds going to help the Tigers hockey club. This year's attendance has been low at the games, due to the cold weather and risky roads.

Everyone is welcome to attend the Sportsmen's banquet and to take this means to make a donation to the funds of the hockey club. Many business men cannot find the time to help out by attending games, and this is one way you can make a donation to hockey and enjoy a unique event as well.

Tickets are available from any member of the hockey club executive or players. See that you purchase yours today!

The annual congregational meeting of the First United church, Vermilion, was held in the church hall on Wednesday, Jan. 25.

Preceding the meeting about 150 members of the congregation enjoyed a turkey supper served by the men of the church.

During the business session, reports of committees and organizations of the church were received. All organizations reported a successful year. They were fortunate in having good leaders, and there was evidence of increased interest shown in all departments.

The mission band has been reorganized with 42 boys and girls, from the ages of 5 years to 7.

The Session reported that there were 36 members who had joined the church during the last year.

Fred Maddex and R. Good were re-elected to the Session and three new members, Ken Tvedt, E. Schurman and D. C. Folk, were elected. There were four members elected to the Board of Stewards, viz: Stan Waldenberger, George Webb Sr., John David, Lawrence Hareuther.

Farm Leader Addresses Meeting in Vermilion

Henry Young Asks Support For Farmers' Union Petition

About eighty braved a sub-zero mercury on Monday evening to attend a public meeting held at the Legion hall under the auspices of the F.U.A. Practically every section of the district tributary to Vermilion was represented, and rapt attention was given the speakers who were introduced by Ralph A. Wilson, chairman of the meeting and official of the F.U.A.

His Worship Mayor Hill extended the meeting a cordial welcome to the Town of Vermilion, intimating that the people of Vermilion were vitally interested in whatever tended to make the district more prosperous and the people happier. J. W. G. Morrison conveyed greetings from the Board of Trade and assured the meeting that anything that appertained to the welfare of the F.U.A. and the best interests of the people as a whole would receive the unstinted support of Vermilion's Board of Trade.

A wide variety of subjects of concern to the organization was dealt with by Mrs. Mildred G. Redman of Hardisty. That town is included in District No. 7, which practically covers the federal riding of Battle River-Camrose. She made a special appeal for more members, as only with a larger membership could the Union increase its effectiveness when dealing with governments. Mrs. Redman recounted the good already accomplished by the Union and asked support for its continuance.

The guest speaker for the evening was H. Y. Young, vice-president of the Union, and who held the presidency for five years. He actually established the Union as a potent factor in proclaiming the rights of the farmers in the economics of the Province.

Mr. Young referred to the petition which the farmers of Alberta are to present to the Government of Canada and which asks for setting up an emergency food reserve by buying wheat from Wheat Board and holding an amount equal to an average year's crop, to be paid for immediately at not less than present prices, domestic price of $2.50 No. 1 Northern for all wheat sold for consumption within Canada, an immediate payment of 10c a bushel on the 1954 crop, floor price of $23.00 on hogs, basis Toronto, continuation of present floor prices on butter and eggs.

Mr. Young rapped the farmer who sold his cream and bought margarine. This, he said, was not dealing fairly with the principles of the F.U.A. Farmers doing this should not complain about butter surplus.

He advocated the establishment of a Power Commission to regulate the production of electric power rather than by private companies. He said it was a disgrace that farmers should be asked to pay for the installation of electric power on the farms. The total cost of rural electrification charged to farmers last year was over $25,000,000 for the 27,000 farms served.

The speaker also stressed that every car and truck licensed in Alberta should carry a basic amount of third party liability insurance paid for by the Provincial government.

The meeting was a success both from the point of attendance and the substance of the addresses given.

The ladies' auxiliary of the Farm Union members served coffee and doughnuts after the meeting and which was most acceptable.

Books Presented To Library In Memory Of G. W. Whitnell

The Vermilion Public Library was enriched over the holiday period by the donation of a rare and valuable set of 14 books entitled "Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East," published by the Oriental Foundation of New York and specially prepared for its 2000 members. The set is found otherwise only in the larger universities and public libraries in Canada and the United States. The volumes give the sources of the earliest human thought as garnered from the ancient clay tablets archaeologists have unearthed in Egypt and Persia. They deal with the moral rather than a spiritual world much older than the Divine revelations of Moses. The Koran, the bible of the Mohammedans, is given in full. The volumes are beautifully bound with large type and heavy paper.

The set numbered 161 was donated by J. W. G. Morrison, Q.C. in memory of the late George W. Whitnell through whose generosity the library building was made possible. The books of necessity are not for general circulation.

Derwent Boys Win In Curling Play-downs

Playing in the Taylor-Pearson high school championships in Edmonton last Friday and Saturday, the rink of high school curlers from Derwent won their division and went on to the semi-final play-off round where they lost to the champion Vegreville quartet. In Division D the Derwent rink went through without a defeat, racking up five wins. The boys were Joe Schur skip, Carson McConnell, Orest Bykowski and Elwyn Benson.

James A. Smith, M.P. Makes Maiden Speech in Commons

In looking over the proceedings of the House of Commons as reported in Hansard for Jan. 16th it is noted that James A. Smith, M.P. for Battle River-Camrose made his maiden speech that day. The speech was made during the debate on the Speech from the Throne, and contained a considerable amount of very valuable information about the constituency. Mr. Smith also dealt in some detail with the problems faced by the farmers of this area stating very emphatically that they are facing a crisis and that the problem of grain marketing was affecting the economy of the West right now and would soon have an adverse effect upon the economy of the whole of Canada. The new member notated four steps as the program of the Social Credit party for the alleviation of the crisis facing western agriculture. He also mentioned the fact that the steady decline in the price of both hogs and cattle was being viewed with alarm by livestock breeders.

The address was an excellent one, and it is quite apparent that Mr. Smith has all the qualifications of being a very able debater in the House.

Vermilion School of Agriculture Students Win First Class Honours

Keen interest in the results of Christmas examinations at the Vermilion School of Agriculture is focused on the winners of the major academic awards.

Under the awards system adopted two years ago provision is made for major awards in academic work as well as in the extra-curricular fields of athletics, literary and executive activities. These awards are placed on the results of the Xmas term exams and go to those who stand first in their class or who obtain First Class Honours.

The winners in the Agriculture classes for the current term are: First Year — Rudolph Hauch, Barrhead; Second Year — George Richardson, Vermilion; Two-in-One — Jim Brownlee, Hairy Hill.

In Home Economics the winners are: First Year — Joyce Featherstone, Langford Park; Second Year — Pierretta Noel, St. Lina; Two-in-One — Ardis Mathison, Dewberry. Of these first place winners, three obtained First Class Honors which means an average of over 80 per cent. They are George Richardson, Pierretta Noel and Ardis Mathison.

It is interesting to note that two of these winners had only Grade 9 standing on entrance to the V.S.A. but that they had been out of school and gaining experience 'on the job' for several years. The other winner has undertaken to write-off additional grade XII subjects next spring and is devoting considerable time to these extra studies.

High-Lights from the V. H. S.

The past week has been a busy one for V.H.S. The spotlight was on Taylor and Pearson curling, our "Snow" Ball and the scheduled basketball tournament.

Our four curlers, Brent Long, Don Stewart, Bill Tough and Al McPherson returned Saturday night and reported a very good time. Of the five games played they won three and lost two. Scores were as follow: Vermilion 9, Erskine 8; Vermilion 7, Sousa Composite 6; Hughenden 9, Vermilion 8; Derwent 13, Vermilion 3; Vermilion 7, Cold Lake 5.

The boys had their curling thrills and gained the experience that is so necessary. V.H.S. is very proud of the showing made by our curlers and as three members of the team will be back next year we have hopes for another strong rink.

THANKS TO KINSMEN

The students of V.H.S. would like to extend a very sincere thank you to the Vermilion Kinsmen for so willingly giving us the financial assistance needed to send the curlers to Edmonton. Thanks too, to Mr. Dowling who so capably managed the curling time and to Mr. C. Long for providing the transportation to and from the city.

"SNOW" BALL

Another outstanding feature of last week was the "Snow" Ball held in the armories on Friday Jan. 27. The Students' Union sponsored the party and with V.S.A. and Junior high as guests. David Smith as M.C., and Inman's orchestra as the music makers, the night was a successful one. We would like to express our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Kibblewhite and to Mr. and Mrs. Bell who acted as chaperones. By the way Mr. Bell, we certainly enjoyed your trumpet music.

BASKETBALL TOURNEY

Once again the Boake and Clendenning basketball trophies are up for competition. The tournament is scheduled for Saturday Feb. 4 at the V.S.A. gym. Boys' and girls' teams from Lloydminster, V.S.A. and the V.H.S. will begin the competition at 1 p.m. sharp. Vermilion won both trophies two years ago. This tournament is the first one since then. The competition should be very keen and we hope that this is the beginning of more and better basketball.

Spectators are invited to attend these games. There is no admission charge.

Scientists report that the average shower adds between a quarter and a half pound of water vapor to the moisture content to the air in a bathroom. Four tub baths, taken consecutively, are about equal to one shower. That is why the walls and ceilings of the bathroom should be painted with moisture-resistant enamel.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather has been a bit above zero on the odd occasion but at time of writing is again very cold, 30 below last Sunday morning and reports are for colder. More snow has fallen and there has been some wind but it didn't damage the roads too badly.

When the Ormsen sisters visited at Elk Point on Jan. 17, Stella Mayers stayed to visit her sister Gertie and other relatives at Spring Park.

Mrs. Mildred Baldock received a telephone call from her sister Georgina at Saskatoon on Jan. 21 which was her birthday. At the time Mildred was in the city visiting daughter Beryl, Tommy and family. A TV set was installed in the Greaves' home while mom was visiting, so would be very interesting.

The Pratts and Souders of the city send greetings to their relatives and friends at Allandale and other districts.

Congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. MacKay on the birth of a son, Stephen Wesley, on Jan. 22, a wee brother for David, Jimmy and Donald.

The Alberta Wheat Pool meeting and film program held at the school on Jan. 23 was well attended, 75 being present. Mr. and Mrs. Milo Fleming (Milo being our district representative), Mr. Don Matheson, our delegate from Dewberry and Mr. Bob Peck our agent from Clandonald were all present. The speeches were all beneficial, questions being asked, and the films included both educational reels and a comic. Lunch was served by the ladies after the show.

We missed Mrs. Peck at our gathering, and are sorry to hear she was in the Vermilion hospital. A speedy recovery is wished her by all.

Mrs. Idelore Nelson and son Leslie spent the week of Jan. 23 in town with daughter Anna, Helen and Frank and family.

A card party in the school in aid of the Red Cross will be held on Feb. 17 at 8:30 p.m. All are welcome.

"Clandonald Promenaders" held their weekly square dance on Jan. 24th. Had our caller Walter with us from Mannville and received the badges. Wednesday is Clandonald square dance night except when the hall is occupied otherwise on that night. Feb. 1 is our next dance. We are all looking forward to the big night, Feb. 14th.

Closing Thought: "If bad luck befalls you - don't go off alone and pity yourself. Your best friend doesn't keep reminding you of your troubles. He helps you to forget them. You have to live with yourself a long while, so be friendly and encourage yourself in misfortune that you may go bravely ahead."

Greenlawn Club Elects Josephine Gray

The annual meeting of Jan 19 was held at th home of Doris Jones. Due to the many roads still impassable only ten members were present.

Election of new officers for 1956 resulted as follows:

President Josephine Gray
Vice-Pres. Alma Rainey
Secretary Gertrude Blacklock
Sunshine Committee — Shiela Green and Doris Jones

A vote of thanks for a year's work well done was given to our retiring officers.

Instead of our February 16th meeting the club will have a Valentine pot luck supper in the evening at thGreene meeting nmesth ning at the Greenlawn hall to reveal our secret pals. It will be followed by an open whist drive beginning at 8.30.

The March meeting is to be held at the home of Sheila Green.

Anyone wishing to send woollens to be made into blankets, please bring them to the next meeting.

A delicious lunch was served by our hostess.

NEWS from CLANDONALD

SNOW BLOWER UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Sorry we cannot report on the success of the snow blower under construction at Izert's welding shop in Clandonald. Apparently it proved to be a bigger undertaking than anticipated, and although three men have been working almost continuously for the past several weeks, there are still a few minor details to attend to. We hope that very soon we will be able to report on the removal of thousands of tons of snow from blocked roads. If power is of any importance in machines of this type there should be no shortage. The two engines on the blower along with the motor on the truck add up to the rather imposing total of about 320 h. p.

It does not appear likely that feed will be as scarce this winter as was the case during the long severe winter of 1919-20. However, should the snow remain during the greater part of April, as happens occasionally, there will be, doubtless, a serious shortage in some areas. There is fortunately no lack of feed grain, as was the case thirty-six years ago. But normal snowfall during the next two months or more of winter ahead of us, could greatly add to the difficulties already vexing district farmers.

MRS. FILGATE BEREAVED

Sympathy of her many friends is extended to Mrs. Sarah Filgate. She recently received the sad news of the death of her only son, Eli, following a lengthy illness. On the receipt of the news Mrs. Filgate left immediately for the coast to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Filgate's husband passed away about fifteen years ago, and her only daughter, Mrs. Agnes Forsyth died in October 1930.

Eli was well known by old timers in this district, having spent most of his boyhood here prior to enlisting in 1915 at the age of seventeen. After several months of action in France he was invalided back to England. Following the end of the war he returned to the district with his English bride. After farming for several years, and having various other occupations, he moved with his family to Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, in the fall of 1930. During the second World War he served as a member of the security guard at Work Point barracks, holding the rank of sergeant.

CLANDONALD HOTEL SOLD

The business that changes hands most frequently in Clandonald, the hotel is again under new management. The new owners took over from Frank Kolodziejzyk and Pat McGuidn on Thursday last. Frank and Pat have operated the business for the past three or four years. Sorry that for the present we have no further details.

ROWNTREES AWAY ON VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rowntree left on Saturday morning planning to spend the greater part of February visiting in Edmonton with their daughter and son-in-law Margaret and Ray Phillips. Friends will be interested to learn that Ron Phillips, now playing with the Vermilion Tigers is a brother to Ray.

Although less than half a mile from an open road, Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree have been marooned since the December 12th blow, so are going to a location where they will have a little more freedom for a while.

The recent letter in the Standard regarding the price of eggs does seem to call for some investigating. We would suggest in the meantime, either to buy all cracks, or else deal directly with the producer, who at present prices would be quite willing to average around 30 cents per dozen.

Friends of Mr. Ted Etherington of the Landonville district, were concerned to hear that he had been in very poor health recently due to a heart seizure. During the past few years Mr. and Mrs. Etherington have been spending the winter at the coast. The latest report was that Mr. Etherington was much improved.

A paint brush that is gummy with hardened paint needn't end in the trash can. Soak it for a day or so in a liquid brush cleaner, working the bristles occasionally to loosen the hard paint. Scrape or comb out as much paint as possible and soak the brush in hot, soapy [illegible]. Rinse away all the soap and dry, and the brush will be ready for the next painting job.

LOVE YOURSELF A BIT

"Would you mind sharing a table?" the restaurant hostess asked sweetly, and I was reluctantly led to a far corner where a big, red-headed fellow was wolfing a huge [illegible]. He beamed at me. I realized that I had been seated with a "talker", but as it turned out he had something really valuable to teach me.

He carved off a portion of juicy steak, chewed with relish, and looked down his nose at my fruit salad. "Fasting?" he asked, in such a pleasant tone I had to [illegible] chap?" I asked.

And that started it.

"I don't act gluttonous every day," he said, calling the waitress to bring a side order of French fries. And then he added, "I'm kind of fond of myself today, so I'm giving myself a treat."

I wish I had room here to report verbatim the rest of his conversation, but I can only summarize.

He said his life had become exceedingly pleasant since he had learned to love [illegible]. Only then was he really able to love others. He wished that he had grown fond of himself earlier in life. "At one time," he confided, "I was so deadly serious about Life, and about doing Good in the World, that I must have been a complete bore. My kids even stopped running out to meet me and my wife told me one day that our family life was getting mighty grey and grim. I was so intent on Being A Good Citizen that I forgot to be good to myself."

"Interesting," I said, and beckoned the waitress who agreed to [illegible] my salad and bring steak [illegible].

My table mate beamed approval. And he said, very seriously, "Believe me, be merry, love yourself a bit, and the people around you will feel it and respond to it. Mind your own business, keep yourself joyful, be good to yourself—and without half trying, you will make others happy too." He finished the final [illegible] of his chocolate nut sundae and disappeared.

I called the waitress. "Who was [illegible]?" I asked.

"Isn't he nice?" she beamed, placing my super banana split (45c) in front of me. "He's our boss—he owns this restaurant, and business is booming."

My cheque came to $1.25. But I think it was worth it. We have a lot of fun around our house these days!

Tigers Turn Back Rangers, 7 to 5

In a closely contested and remarkably clean game Wednesday night, Vermilion Tigers turned back the Vegreville Rangers seven goals to five and made their chances of maintaining a play-off spot brighter. It was anybody's game from the start right to within [illegible] minutes of the end of the game when Novak scored to put Tigers two out in front — even that margin was far from insurmountable.

Lee Williams moved up to a forward line and promptly scored two goals his first of the season. The team's high school rookie, Brian Ford, also came through with two counters, with singletons scored by Bill Williams, Owens making his first appearance in a Tiger uniform and who comes from Minburn, and Bill Novak.

A great deal of interest was centred in the first appearance of Bing Meriuk on Vermilion ice. Bing is cagy but slow. He scored two. Another new Vegreville man, Otto Letourneau, gathered up two and really gave quite a display of fast, flashy hockey. Malinski scored one.

Owing to the proximity of the game to press time a detailed story is not possible. Dutchy Van Deelen refereed and Ralph Rudd was the linesman.

3rd period Letourneau (B. Charuk); Novak (L. Williams, Kreller).

Only one penalty was handed out and this went to Phillips for hooking.

Next and last home game before the play-offs, Saturday, Feb. 4th — St. Paul vs. Vermilion.

CHEVIES SMOTHER TIGERS MONDAY

Vermilion Tigers win streak of three games was abruptly halted Monday night when the Chevies free-wheeled in from Lloydminster and smothered the local league entry 11 goals to 2. The Chevies have too many goal producing plays, too much power, experience and too many good players for the other teams in the E.A.H.L., despite the fact that they have lost the odd game or two. The weather was cold and the smallest crowd of the season attended, 297 paid customers as compared to 600 Saturday night when Viking showed here.

The game was clean with a minimum of heavy body checking. Four two minute penalties were handed out by Ref Scotty Munro, 3 to Lloydminster and one to the Tigers. While they had the man advantage the Tigers maintained a powerful attack but couldn't get goals in keeping with their advantage in territorial play.

I. A. Gafka who recently succeeded Wally Footz at the local C.N. telegraph office, lined up with the Tigers. He learned his hockey in Vegreville, then teamed up with the Prince Albert Mintos for several seasons, but he has not played for the past two winters. Once he has the kinks out he should really fit in on one of our forward lines.

Scoring for the Tigers was Bill Novak from Bill Williams and Ron Phillips in the first period with Phillips from Gafka in the second. For the Chevies Hill scored two, McLean 2, Mills 1, Jeffries 3, E. King 2, McNairn 1.

Evergreen Tribute To Premier and Wife

Thirty six evergreens in the Queen Elizabeth Coronation Forest of Israel have been planted as a tribute to Premier and Mrs. E. C. Manning by Mr. and Mrs. L. Milner of Vegreville and Edmonton.

Visiting Israel last summer, the Milner's visit coincided with tree-planting ceremonies in which highly ranking representatives of many nations and religious denominations took part. Mr. Milner accordingly made arrangements to act as an unofficial spokesman for Alberta.

Choice of 36 trees was made, said Mr. Milner, because the number is symbolic of two lives of [illegible]. The number 18 in [illegible] can be rendered verbally as [illegible] and this word also has [illegible] nuances which make the [illegible] of twice 18 trees [illegible] of tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Manning.

The Queen Elizabeth Forest is located in the hills overlooking Nazareth. It is a project sponsored by the Zionist Organization of Canada and the Jewish National Fund. Recently, Mr. Hy Fogelman, western executive director of the Zionist body, called on Premier Manning in company with Mr. Milner to make formal presentation of a certificate of tribute.

Bearing a crest composed of a conventionalized tree in crown shape, surmounting the Star of David, the certificate records that the tribute of trees was planted in honor of Alberta's premier and his wife.

A War Of "Bugs"

Even the healthiest person among us could be harboring germs that, under certain conditions, produce such dreaded diseases as tuberculosis, polio and influenza. They are carried to us in the air we breathe, the food we eat, and on the things we touch. Yet we may remain healthy and unaware most of the time of this invisible world of germs that lurks both within and outside our bodies.

This paradoxical situation results from the interplay of countless factors that stand in the way of a germ's development and survival.

The great scientist Metchnikoff once observed that germs multiply so rapidly that, if provided with a favorable environment and adequate protection, they could soon destroy mankind and envelop the earth.

Scientists have discovered that one of the most effective barriers against the spread of deadly germs are other microorganisms. For while some of these minute agents seem bent on destroying human, plant and animal life, others protect and help us.

We now know, for instance, there are germs that actually prey on a variety of disease-causing agents. Such "cannibal" germs are called bacteriophages, which means "devourers of bacteria."

Other microorganisms have a more subtle but equally effective means of disposing of dangerous bacteria — they "manufacture" chemicals called antibiotics which are effective against a variety of deadly germs. The antibiotic tetracycline, for instance, is produced by Streptomyces, which are tiny mold microorganisms. Tests have shown that this drug, which is also known as Polycycline, repels germs responsible for scores of diseases which range from pneumonia to dysentery.

The process by which antibiotics are produced, in effect, reverses Metchnikoff's observation on the ability of germs under proper environment to multiply so rapidly as to destroy mankind. The Streptomyces organism which produces the germ-fighting Polycycline, is given the perfect environment in which to multiply at the greatest possible rate. The fermentation tanks where the antibiotic is produced are made sterile so the Streptomyces will have no competition from other organisms and can grow in complete freedom. The temperature, pressure, moisture, and food on which the productive little organism thrives best are then regulated under the most careful controls.

By thus studying the needs of "friendly" organisms which can be used to fight harmful ones, and then providing these needs under laboratory conditions, scientists are learning to tilt the balance of power in favor of the microscopic agents that help us eradicate disease.

Vivian's Style Shoppe has been undergoing considerable change for the past several weeks and this last week it has been necessary to close the store to complete the renovations.

The ceiling height has been raised by two and one-half feet, while 280 square feet of additional floor space has been added. This gives a spacious appearance to the store and will allow for a more convenient display of the ladies' wear merchandise.

The new store is a sign of the steady progress made by Vivian's Style Shoppe since it first started in business in Vermilion in 1947.

At that time Vivian Voss arrived in Vermilion to start a ladies' wear store, locating in the premises recently vacated by the Vermilion Stationery in the Quality Cleaners building.

Miss Voss' home is in Marsden, Sask., but before coming to Vermilion she had been with the Canadian Navy and had taught high school in Kelvington, Sask., for a year.

Miss Voss' brother owned the building in which she started her first store, and he worked for the New Way Cleaners which business occupied the other part of the building. It was this opportunity for a location and the feeling that Vermilion seemed to be a progressive town in which to do business, that decided Vivian to establish her shop here.

Those Vermilion residents who have lived here during that time will remember that Vivian featured style shows each spring for three consecutive years, 1951, 52 and 53, in which some of the ladies of Vermilion assisted her by modelling the newest fashions as shown in Vivian's stock. These fashion shows were very popular and there was always just standing room only for the latecomers at such an affair.

In the fall of 1950 Vivian's was moved to the present location, formerly a warehouse for the Franco Public Gas Service. Living quarters were built on at the back of the store and Vivian lived there until the spring of 1953.

In January of 1954 Miss Voss was married to W.H. Dyck of Vermilion. Bill and his partner, Ken Urquhart, are owners of Oilfield Motors.

Miss Lena Miller, an experienced ladies' wear saleslady, became an employee of Vivian's Style Shoppe in the late spring, 1953.

Vivian has been a member of the Vermilion C.W.L. and has taken an active part in all its undertakings. She was a very energetic member of the Vermilion Stagette club until she was married, and has also been a member of the ladies' curling club skipping a rink for several years.

Granary and Garage Destroyed by Fire At Kibblewhite Farm

On Monday evening, Jan. 30, fire struck at some of the buildings on the farm of W. A. Kibblewhite, which is near the department of transport transmitter station, a few miles east of Vermilion.

Mr. Kibblewhite was attending a practise of the Vermilion Mixed chorus at the Junior high school. Mrs. Kibblewhite, a staff member of the Vermilion high school, was working at her desk in town, while son Tommy was also in town taking a music lesson. That left Mr. Kibblewhite's sister Laura alone at the farm.

Miss Kibblewhite thought she heard their ring on the phone and lifted the receiver to hear a conversation concerning a fire at the Kibblewhite garage. She immediately ran to see for herself and found the garage was a mass of flames while the adjacent granary had also started to burn. The fire had not reached the workshop as yet.

W. G. Gilman and son Ronnie living to the east of the Kibblewhite farm had seen the fire in the meantime, and were even then coming onto the Kibblewhite place. Miss Kibblewhite phoned the Junior high to reach her brother but because the phone was in a locked office, was unable to get an answer, so she called Mrs. Kibblewhite at the high school.

Unfortunately the road to the farm is very narrow because of the snowbanks on either side making it impossible for the Vermilion fire equipment to get through. However shortly after the Kibblewhites arrived at the scene Ken Urquhart, a member of the fire department drove in to assist them. A bucket brigade was formed and snow was also used to good advantage to quell the flames. A double wall between the granary and workshop helped to prevent the flames from spreading to the latter building which escaped with only a charred wall.

Mr. Kibblewhite had the family car with him in town, and fortunately the granary was empty as the grain which had been stored in that building had been used for feed through the course of the winter.

A garage is a necessity on the farm as there is no power line so a block heater cannot be used. Mr. Kibblewhite's ad for a building suitable for use as a garage appears on the classified page in this issue of the Standard.

Hobby Fair To Be Held At Marwayne

The Marwayne United Church are holding their annual Hobby Fair early in March depending on roads, date later. One of the finest things a boy or girl can do is to enter the fair. Talent is discovered and students are encouraged to work on hobbies and worthwhile activities. Exhibitions spur on other children to widen their hobbies and horizons. Making something new is the best cure for a case of the blues for an older person, be it sewing, knitting or anyone of the many interesting crafts. 29-30

A welcome change has occurred in our temperature readings and for the first time since Nov. 10, 1955, the mercury has risen above the freezing point. Just one degree, but a very encouraging sign of things to come. On Nov. 10, 54 days ago, it was 39 above zero, and since then we have been in a deep freeze the readings being in the minus bracket most of the time.

Forecast is for continued mild weather.

Following the dinner evening's entertainment that followed, a mother- and daughter, one a Past Noble Grand, the other a Past Noble Grand, compared notes in the two small groups gathered in the two small homes and, judging by reports, it was a real

Retiring President Reviews Activities Of Board of Trade For Past Year

Dr. A. Ben King, retiring president of the Vermilion Board of Trade, at a very well attended dinner meeting on Wednesday at the Rio cafe, reviewed the activities of the board for the year 1955.

Dr. King's address was as follows:

"It is now my privilege to present to you the President's Report for the board year ending today.

It has been an honour to serve as President of the Vermilion Board of Trade during the past year, and I might add, I have enjoyed the office very much. The office however carries with it responsibilities, and your president could not hope to discharge without the loyal and enthusiastic help and co-operation of the executive and of the members at large. I have enjoyed this help and co-operation at all times throughout the year and I wish to say "Thank You".

Before reviewing our efforts of the past year, I would like to suggest to you that the activities of a board of trade or chamber of commerce has three broad aspects or levels, namely: Local; Provincial; National. I have put the classification in this sequence because you have to put your own house in order before you can say value to the rest of the province, and similarly on a provincial scale, if Alberta's people are going to continue to give their best as loyal citizens of Canada, on the national level every citizen of Canada should be interested and alive to matters of provincial concern, we truly wish to keep our freedom and our way of life.

LOCAL AFFAIRS

In the matters of local concern the board has been at all times attentive and eager to do anything within its powers which would promote the welfare, prosperity and well being of the town and district.

JUBILEE

Last year Vermilion celebrated its 50th Anniversary together with the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the province. The Board of Trade co-operated with the town in the celebration in Vermilion. The Board's committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Keith Chadsey, did a splendid job in the decoration of the business section of the town, and the results were fitted in the parade, which by the way, was the largest ever held in Vermilion. Thanks are due to Mr. Chalmers and his committee.

PROVINCIAL PARK

The special committee of the board to the Provincial park was active throughout the year in endeavoring to the park committee of the town wherever required. The board financed the expenses of a delegation to visit the Provincial Committee regarding water level of the lake as a result of which the water level was raised and the park committee was assured that it will be permanently raised to a higher level than it ever had been.

The board urged that road signs be put up showing what directions the public should go to reach the park and has been assured this will be done.

The board purchased from Fach photographic 8X10 colored post cards showing views of the park at a cost of approximately $120, to be distributed as a publicity for the park, town and district.

Also, as publicity for the park, the Managing Editor of Maclean's magazine was contacted and it was suggested that this magazine do an article on the park. This received favorable consideration from Maclean's but stated they might consider an article this coming fall, and would contact us later.

During the last year a fine band shell was completed in the park at a cost of approximately $1000. The contributions of the M.D.'s at Heraldton River and Minburn toward this project are much appreciated. The official opening of this band shell will be held this spring or summer.

In connection with the park Mr. M. Hill, chairman of the park committee of the town, stated in a report to the board that $5000 had been requisitioned from the Government for 1956 improvements in the park. He also stated the committee had in mind the necessity of having a resident caretaker for the park.

News Of The Buffalo Coulee District

Coulee Students Entertain Parents

The Students' Union of the Buffalo Coulee school took advantage of having a lovely new gym to entertain their parents at a social evening on Jan. 20. Various forms of entertainment were staged, including dancing, cards, crokinole, checkers, as well as some good silver guessing contests, which were enjoyed by the students. Several musical numbers including a male trio, a solo by Wm. Hamilton, accompanied by Lorene Everett at the piano, were enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served with the assistance of pies donated by the mothers. Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Dianne Conduct, Bette Caron, Barbara Hinton, Enid Hamilton and Mr. Ken Hinton, a lunch served by the students was enjoyed by a social evening to close, proving to all that young people and their parents can have a good time together.

"WELCOME PARTY" FOR NEW FAMILY

On Jan. 25 the showing of some films followed by a social evening was held in the B.C. gym to give a friendly welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spak and Gloria. Mr. Spak is the new part of social convenor in the district. About eighty-five people were in attendance. Mrs. Bert Duncan was in charge of entertainment. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the district.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR ROTH FAMILY

Last Saturday evening about 40 members gave a surprise party for the Roth family at their home to show them a Buffalo Coulee welcome. The Roths have recently moved here from Lashburn, Sask., and are at present living on the farm of Mr. Roth's father. They are quite a musical family and entertained their guests with several numbers.

CHURCH SERVICE IN GYM

Rev. C. W. MacKay of Vermilion conducted services in the B.C. gym last Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. with a congregation of nearly fifty present. Next service will be Feb. 5, at same time and place, with a warm welcome extended to all.

B.C. HOME & SCHOOL

The regular meeting of the B. C. Home and School will be held on Feb. 8th at 8 p.m. with Mr. N. N. Hall of V.S.A. as guest speaker. All members are urged to attend.

REVISED ECONOMIC SURVEY OF THE TOWN

The board undertook in co-operation with the town council the economic affairs of the province a revision of the economic survey of the Town of Vermilion, which was made some years ago. In this connection Mr. Bissell, the consultations of the M.D.'s at Heraldton River and Minburn toward this survey were much appreciated. The official opening of this band shell will be held this spring or summer.

In connection with the park Mr. M. Hill, chairman of the park committee of the town, stated in a report to the board that $5000 had been requisitioned from the Government for 1956 improvements in the park. He also stated the committee had in mind the necessity of having a resident caretaker for the park.

ADDRESSES

During the past year we had several interesting addresses given at our regular luncheons by out of town visitors and also by members of our own board.

Mr van Wageningen, one of our prominent farmers, addressed the board at one of our meetings in March on "Savings Credit Unions".

On April 4 Mr. D. K. Yorath, the President of Edmonton Chamber of Commerce and General Manager of Northwestern Utilities, was the guest of honor of the board at a banquet in the evening. Mr. Yorath gave a very interesting and illuminating address. Prior to the banquet the executive of the board tendered a reception to Mr. Yorath and invited the president and the secretary treasurer of each of the towns and villages immediately adjacent to Vermilion. These also were also guests of the board at the banquet. This was a very successful event and was thoroughly enjoyed by all members present.

Mr R. E. Byrne, director of vocational training for the province spoke to the board members on "Canadian Vocational Training" and his work in that connection.

Our vice-president, Mr. Ross Beake, addressed the board on retail selling which address was of particular interest to the retail merchants present.

Mr Tom McPherson discussed the work and objects of the board's industrial committee of which he was chairman during the year.

Mr. E. H Buckingham outlined the agricultural service provided in this district, and it is worthy of note Mr Buckingham stated that "Weed Control' was one of the greatest problems of agriculture here.

Mr. Bert Hancock, field supervisor of the M.D. of Vermilion River, gave a very interesting, informative and detailed address on the "Rat Menace" and methods of combating same. As a result of this address the Board reconsidered that branch of its activities and wrote Town Council to eliminate all conditions favorable to rats and to enact the necessary legislation to effect this.

Dr. M J Huston, Dean of the Faculty of Pharmacy, University of Alberta, was the guest entity at dinner in the Board at our luncheon in Harrison's Cafe.

Last November the Board was very pleased to have an address from Capt J. Mackay, Salvation Army, a former valued member of our Board, who had been in British East Africa for the past few years. His description of conditions and life in British East Africa was of great interest to the Board.

In the same month Mr. Joseph Larson, "Evangelist Lasso Artist of Colorado. U. S. A., addressed the Board.

I am sure the members of the Board who heard the foregoing addresses appreciated them I would like to see more guest speakers brought in from outside the district. It is a good thing to hear what is going on in other places. I feel that it is refreshing and broadens our outlook.

MISCELLANEOUS

Last spring the Board had the pleasure of entertaining as our guests at one of our luncheons the members of Town and Rider', whose hull won the Grand Championship in Inboard Class at Calgary last year At this meeting Mr. W. H "Bert" Mead, Provincial Commissioner for the Province of Alberta, Dr McElroy, head of the Animal Science Department of the University of Alberta, were also guests Mr Mead introduced the Elmore brothers. I think we should see more of this kind of thing. Approval by this the board has since had printed "Achievement Award Certificates," the secretary had reasons for the presentation of the same to be decided by the Executive.

4-H Church Service Conducted On Train

During National 4-H Club Week newsworthy happenings take place that are often not uncovered until after the delegates have returned home. This year for example, on learning that the train from Winnipeg would be late arriving in Toronto on Sunday morning, a committee of 4-H members organized an informal church service.

The committee comprised John McFarl of B.C. Mary Miller, Alberta, Lynn Shipley, Saskatchewan and Penny Treasure, Manitoba. Miss Clair Gardner of Alberta provided and scripture readings were given by Byrrone Rothwell of Saskatchewan and Dorothy Hunter of Alberta. Several hymns were sung and prayers offered by Beverley Nicholson and Betty Anderson of Manitoba and B. C.

The service concluded with a collection, totalling $18.31, which was forwarded to the Crippled Children's hospital in Winnipeg.

More University Graduates and Higher Level Of Education Needed in Canada

Of all our nation's rich natural people whose natural abilities and inclinations qualify for university training are denied it for lack of money to meet the high costs. If we are to prepare for the future of Canada, many more of these people must be given the benefit of higher education

Present high costs of education are felt most strongly in rural areas away from the great university centres of the country. Young people from these sections of Canada must face the task of raising often impossible sums of money if they are to meet the cost of living and studying in the cities that have the facilities for higher education and training.

The Scholarship Campaign Committee of the National Federation of Canadian University Students has presented a brief to Prime Minister St. Laurent and members of his Cabinet, outlining a plan for more scholarships to deserving students across Canada. They hope, by this plan, to make education available to qualified young people in Canada. Regardless of their finances, so that there can be real equality of opportunity for the country's youth and so that lack of money will not continue to be a handicap to create labor shortage. It is to the advantage of the youth and of the country for us to support this campaign and to impress on our representatives in parliament the importance of making it a reality.

Tigers Run Win Streak To 3 Games

On Saturday night last the Vermilion Tigers ran their winning streak to 3 straight when they defeated the Viking Gas Kings five goals to four before a paid crowd of 350 fans, the largest of the season to date. This with packed officials, are sounds that the crowd of rooters on hand was well worth the $60 mark.

The game had plenty of excitement even it it didn't produce any exceptional hockey, and both teams enjoyed the best of various stages of the conflict. There were a couple of flare-ups with Les Williams drawing four minutes on a combination of holding and roughing, the usually well-behaved Kay Bridge got five minutes for fighting Strate took after Ken Phillips while the latter was carrying the puck, herded him into the corner and began pommelling Ron with vim and vigor. What involved the attack wasn't visible from the press box but could be an old Edmonton grudge!

The Tigers started scoring early, at 1 23 of the first with Ken Phillips making no mistake with Frank Erling's pass. Zahn of the Kings was set off for tripping and despite being a man under-powered the visitors scored. Strate from Giltner. The goal was the kind that must breath a goalie's heart. Washington had the shot well covered when it deflected off Kreller into the far corner of the net.

Viking went ahead in the second while Bill Schmidt was off for holding. Zahn scoring from Giltner, Giltner, by the way, will have to soon make up his mind whether he is going to line up with Winnipeg or Viking, playing with both teams of late. Fuzz Ehmer scored an unassisted beauty at 13.30 to bring the count. Strate was ruled off for five minutes, but for four minutes of the same time the Tigers had two in the cooler also, Phillips and Bill Schmidt.

Starting off the third with the score at 2 all, Bill Schmidt put Vermilion in front with the period was only 21 seconds old, with Frankie Erling getting another assist. Here over 43 seconds later Ken Phillips Karlis went through and it was 3 all again. Tweedale and Giltner drew penalties in succession and Novak was ruled off for hooking. The Kings outskated quite a power attack, and had chances on two clear breakaways, but Washington rose to great heights in the Tiger goal and robbed the visitors of what appeared to be certain and dastiers. George was right on last night and turned in a stellar performance. At 13:10, Williams picked up Zahnski's pass and slid it screened shot into the corner of Viking's goal. A little later, Kreller carried the puck from his own blue line, outwitted the entire opposition until he had a clear shot and really burned one past Worster This made it 5 to 3 with five minutes to go and things were rosy for Kay Strate, not to be outdone by his rival playing coach, did some nice manoeuvering and banged in Viking's fourth counter at 18:35. Three minutes remained and the game finished up 5 to 4.

CHILD TRAINING — DESTRUCTIVENESS

Deliberate Destructiveness — While most children's destructive acts fall into the categories listed in last week's Health Unit notes, there are two additional classifications which are not with, and which require more serious consideration because they are the sources of deliberate destruction.

Bullying — Breaking windows, raiding a honey today and destruction and destructive pranks on Halloween by a neighborhood gang are only too well known. Destruction is usually the purpose, however, behind such activities. Going better to do and the deep needs of every child at a certain age to be part of a gang usually lie behind the devastation. Many parents of children from 10 to 13 years of age get a taste of this group destruction.

The reasons for this behavior are not hard to find. The child doesn't want to be considered a sissy; he wants to be accepted by the others so he joins with them in activities he would never dream of doing on his own. Lessons in property value, the rights of other people, sharing the cost of damages will help cut down on this kind of destructiveness.

When there is an undue amount of such trouble in the neighborhood, parents should do well to consult the schools regarding their children's spare time.

If the gang activity is only a minor annoyance, however, and in addition to group destruction he is inclined to be in with trouble, help in the value of money and property; even trips to the justice station to bring out the problems of community protection. If possible, break up the gang ideas with your own child.

The "Lone Wolf" — Finally there is the child who destroys for the sake of destruction — deliberate and unprovoked. The kind that sets fire to curtains, floods the bathroom or smashes some valuable object with malicious interest. And also include here the child who gets the demon out of destroying the play of other children.

Something has gone wrong in this child's growing up and cannot be handled with skill and deep understanding, his attitude can settle into a persistent defiance and destructiveness.

Parents often need professional help (family doctor or mental health clinic) to learn the cause, for the destructiveness itself is but a symptom. Taking matches away from the child who starts fires is but a temporary precaution; the underlying motives should be found and dealt with. It is rather awkward and embarrassing at times for the parents to determine the delinquent regarding their child's after outside support help is advisable and often of great value.

AND FINALLY — Since it's easier to be destructive than constructive, easier to be nasty, careless, than kind, thoughtful and careful and controlled, it's no wonder that children slip into the habits of destructiveness. But it helps to take heart in knowing that they also learn and unlearn quickly and readily, particularly when they are aware of the reasons for such changes.

CONSTITUENCY CONVENER'S LETTER

February 2, 1956.

Hello Ladies:

I'm afraid you have sometimes wondered this last month if you still have a constituency convener. But I'm sure you all suspect where I've been, and you are right — at home. I haven't dared to visit you for fear I would have to stay all winter and after all, there's a limit of winter fun, and you can get too much of anything! Never mind, time does march on even along these roads, and one of these days Old Sol will put an end to all this in his own way. Just sit tight, the worst is yet to come. Spring! But I suppose it's something like housecleaning — it has to get worse before it gets better. Whatever I'm a lot more sure of an improvement in the weather than I am in my housecleaning! Privately I hate it, and I am aided and abetted in my iniquity by my man about the house who hates it even worse than I do. With him it's not a matter of pure laziness, but supreme discomfort and bewilderment. One day the living room's in the kitchen, and the next day the kitchen's in the living room and ... let's see, where was I? But you know what I mean, and I'll bet your husband does too. And suddenly you wouldn't know the old place! Clean and shining (for a day). And that's what I mean about this winter too — one day everything will straighten out. The sky will be blue and the earth will be green and we'll think this is the only place in the world to live. Just you wait and see!

In the meantime this is wonderful weather to catch up on all your nearly-forgotten correspondence and a good time to make a new resolution regarding it. Letters are such wonderful things — a little bit of yourselves on paper, and as welcome as a visit. Are you careful about dropping a note to someone who has done you a favor? People are always doing nice things for us, why don't we let them know how much we really appreciate it? It's a lovely gesture and so easy to do. The time may come when we'll be so glad we sent that letter, or so very sorry that we didn't. I learned my lesson the hard way, and I'll never forget it again.

But now to business.

Claysmore, your idea for a financial survey and budget is a very sound one. I remember we discussed it last fall, and I'm very glad to see you trying it out. Let us know, a year from now, how it worked out. On those rare occasions when we are "in the money" it seems to melt like snow and we suddenly discover to our dismay that we need, say $20, to send a delegate to a convention and presto, no money! With a budget for a guide, that just can't happen.

Speaking of delegates, don't forget the convention in Edmonton in March. It lasts two days, and is held in the year that there is no provincial convention. This is our own District 2 get together, so it really touches us and our affairs very closely. Every delegate brings back to her branch fresh enthusiasm and new ideas, so do make an effort to have someone there representing you. Mrs. Beliah will preside, and either she or I will send you further details in plenty of time. This is all new to me, and I hope that I will be able to do what is expected of me.

I am glad to see that some of our groups are becoming interested in Civil Defence, in one way or another. In the event of any disaster, either natural or man-made, the women of our country can do much to alleviate sadness and suffering, and also save many lives if they have some idea of what to do. The Busy Bees of Bowtell have asked for some information on the subject and I have been asked by our director of civil defence to meet them Feb. 15th at the home of Mrs. O. Repp. I am glad to do this for any goup (provided I am not drifted under) and happy indeed to find the women so interested. "If we never need what we learn in Civil Defence we lose nothing, BUT if we never learn what we need we lose everything."

If you have finished any woollen toques send them to the Unitarian Services, Massey-Harris Bldg., Edmonton.

Hope to visit some of you soon, and love to see any of you anytime.

Your Constituency Convener.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by W. G. MALAHER, Director, Research Department, [illegible]

During the past 15 years, to some degree on account of weather conditions, but also resulting from the adoption of the combine method of harvesting there has been a noticeable change in the respective quantities of the three top grades of wheat in western Canada.

For the 15 years prior to 1941, No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat accounted on an average for between 3½ and 4% of the total western Canadian crop and in certain years reached almost 10%. At the same time the quality of No. 1 Northern wheat inspected was close to 1-3 and the No. 2 Northern wheat almost ¼ of the western crop.

The change, first apparent about 1941, and becoming more noticeable over the years that followed, has witnessed the almost complete disappearance of the grade No. 1 Manitoba hard. At the same time there has been a decrease during this period of approximately 46% in the average quantity of No. 1 Northern inspected and an increase of slightly over 50% in 2 Northern which has now become the dominant grade.

This shift in the grade picture, is not without significance for the reason that No. 2 Northern is now displacing No. 1 abroad as the standard of Canadian quality. This while Canada's wheat still maintains an appreciable lead in the matter of quality, the advantage, relatively speaking, is less than what it was in the period between the two world wars. More than ever, therefore, will it be necessary, not only to maintain the quality of Canadian wheat but also where possible, to improve it.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

National Health Insurance Plan Means Much to Alberta

EDMONTON.—A national health insurance scheme for Canada appears closer to reality now than it ever has before. It became practically a certainty last week when the federal government came up with a proposal which, on the face of it, seems too good to reject.

Under the plan as proposed by the Prime Minister, the federal government would pay $182,000,000 annually — or 50 per cent of the cost of a health program which would be undertaken jointly by the dominion and the provinces.

It appears that Alberta will be one of the first provinces to accept the plan. Hon. Dr. W. W Cross, Alberta minister of health attended the dominion-provincial health insurance conference in Ottawa last week and was the first provincial delegate to say he would recommend the plan to his government.

By the time this appears in print, Alberta may have officially accepted the proposal, because Dr Cross was to report on it to a meeting of the provincial cabinet on Tuesday of this week.

WHAT WILL THE PLAN MEAN?

What will the plan mean to Alberta residents if it goes into effect? According to Dr Cross, it will mean plenty.

Interviewed in Ottawa he said that with the dominion paying half the cost of hospital care, the entire share of hospitalization now being borne by Alberta municipalities could be eliminated.

At this point, it can be recalled that hospital costs have been a constant thorn in the provincial government's side. Every year, the municipalities request relief from ever-increasing hospital costs, and the same subject makes good ammunition for the opposition in the legislature.

Hon. A. J. Hooke provincial minister of municipal affairs, sees the proposed plan as going a long way toward alleviating the financial problems of Alberta municipalities. He pointed out that in 1954 Alberta cities, towns, villages, counties and municipal districts spent $5,400,000 on hospitalization.

Figures for 1955 were not immediately available, but Mr Hooke said it would be in the neighborhood of $6,000,000 or more. If the federal-provincial program is adopted, it could slice a sizeable chunk off municipal financial requirements.

Provincial officials could not find anything about which to criticize the federal offer. Some of them said it indicates a federal election is forthcoming, but as one said "So long as we get something out of it, why should we care?"

Before the plan is instituted six of the ten provinces, including Ontario, must accept in order that the majority of Canadians will be covered. According to observers in Ottawa, the optimistic atmosphere at last week's meeting indicates a majority will favor the plan.

If the plan is accepted Ottawa would put it into effect as soon as possible. It is considered likely that it will start in the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1957.

The federal proposal leaves one big question hanging fire in Alberta. The last session of the legislature approved in principle a provincial medical insurance plan, which would augment the present "dollar-a-day" hospital insurance.

The question is: "What to do with the medical plan?" The federal scheme seems to leave the way clear for Alberta to go ahead with its medical plan, since the proposed dominion-provincial insurance would not cover medical services.

Members of the legislature appropriated $1,200,000 to launch the plan, and health officials hoped it would be started last spring. However, the medical plan was delayed when talk of a possible national health plan developed, and action was left hinging on the outcome of federal-provincial talks.

The medical insurance, coupled with the hospital plan, would have given Alberta the only complete health coverage in Canada. It could still do that if the government decides to go ahead. Something definite may be decided at this week's cabinet meeting.

The medical plan would be voluntary. The government would pay a subsidy to private insurance companies, which in turn would offer medical insurance policies to Albertans at premium rates reduced by one-third. Residents of the province will undoubtedly be awaiting with interest further word from Premier Manning's cabinet.

NEWS OF ISLAY AND DISTRICT

Annual Meeting Is Held At The Islay United Church

The 4-H Sewing club met in the Islay school. On coming to order the roll was called, minutes read and adopted. At the next meeting in the school Feb. 1, roll call to be answered by naming of their favorite book. Names were drawn for secret friends. It was then moved and seconded that the business part of the meeting be adjourned. Shirley Fortien gave a demonstration on "Care of the Hands". They then made a cover for a hanger. Lunch was served and the singing of taps ended a pleasant evening.

Birthdays celebrated this past week: Mr Alf Turner, Jan. 25; Mr Machell, Jan. 26, who is in hospital. Both are past 70. Linda Torrance 9 years old on Jan. 28 had a fine party. Many happy returns of the day to these people.

The Knox United Church held the annual meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There was a good attendance. Mr McGuffin presided with Mr Charlie Robertson as secretary. A vacancy on the board of stewards was created when Mr D Clark moved to Paradise Valley and this was filled by electing Mr M. Moncrief. Dr. Sweet and Mr. Bill McLean, whose terms expired, were re-elected. Mr. Anderson, who has been superintendent of the Sunday school for many years, retired owing to health. Mr Moncrief was the choice of the meeting and after some persuasion he accepted much to the joy of the congregation. The report of the Sunday school was very gratifying as were the W. A. and W.M.S. reports, much having been accomplished and parcels sent to Korea, M.D. office, Cold Lake hospital and a German pastor's family in East Germany. The Sunday school sent a very lovely parcel with much knitted apparel to the Morley Indian residential school. A social half hour was spent after the meeting, combined with a shower for Mr. and Mrs. McGuffin who were recently married. Mrs. Sweet carried out a lovely decorated basket (a bushel basket) which was heavy. It contained a quilt from the W.A. also many miscellaneous canned goods and a purse of money. Mrs. Sweet remarked that it was the first time in the history of her time in Islay that our minister and his wife were setting up a home for the first time and wished them many happy years. This year, 1956, will be the 50th anniversary of Knox United and a committee of the board of stewards and the executive of the W.A. was appointed to lay plans for celebrating the event.

Hi, Yvonne Mitchell Steinhauer, glad to hear you are nearer home, now in the University hospital; also glad to know Marilynne Houston is there. hope she doesn't use the technique she used to serve Ronnie Inman when they were 5 years old, remember? When we heard those screams at first the neighbors used to rush out, but soon learned the cause, and ceased to become excited.

HOME & SCHOOL ORGANIZED

Thursday, Jan. 19th a Home and School Association was organized at Preston Central school. Mrs. D. Hughes is president, Mrs L. Alexander is vice-president and Mrs. F Gibson secretary-treasurer. The teachers Mr Bauman and Mrs. Watt will also help when needed. A nice crowd attended the meeting at which Mr. Simonson and Mr. E. Clendenning gave good outlines of the purposes of the Home and School. Our group will not register with the provincial body until the new year starts in May. By that time we will know more about it and can have a program lined up for the fall term. A lunch followed the meeting. Next gathering is on Feb 21. Mrs. Hughes, Mrs Alexander and Mrs Wallington to look after lunch. Mr. Simonson showed a very good film at the start of the meeting.

The writer and husband enjoyed a delicious supper at the home of Mr and Mrs. Fred Clark and family of Thorncliff on Thursday evening last week, also a nice visit. Later Mr. and Mrs. Clark were guests of Mr and Mrs. Wallington to the Gay 90's dance at the Legion hall in town where everyone had a good time. A nice crowd attended despite a cold night. As it was Burn's night, Mr Thompson had a couple of Scotch dances, Rye Waltz and the Highland Fling. The Young and Fortin orchestra furnished the music. T. Thompson was M.C.

The principal and pupils of the Preston school held a skating party last Friday night at the school rink. A nice crowd of young and old attended. The older ones played cards and enjoyed themselves while the younger ones skated. Lunch and coffee were also to be had and the young folks were always ready with a smile to serve you.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rustand (nee Margaret May) of Ross Creek, near Lavoy, on the birth of a daughter on Thursday, Jan. 26. Grandma and Grandpa May are very pleased grandparents.

Sunday evening a birthday party was held at Mr and Mrs. F. Gibson's home at Basswood for their daughter Mary who was 15 years old. Twelve young folks sat down to a delicious supper and games were enjoyed afterwards. A very pleasant evening was spent. Everyone wished Mary many happy returns of the day.

Curling got underway at our local rink last Monday night for the first time this season. A short schedule is planned with seven rinks taking part.

Congrats to Mr and Mrs. Allan Coburn of Triangle district on the birth of a daughter Jan. 30 at the local hospital. Mrs. L. Howard is taking care of the other children while their mother is away. One little son is also a patient in the local hospital at time of writing.

On Wednesday evening "Burns Night" Mr and Mrs J Wilson had in some Scotch neighbors Mr. and Mrs. C Cruthers, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hole and Baillie and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith. While the haggis was being carried in, the bag pipes were skirling on the record player, giving the affair a real Scotch air.

The Wildmere - Tolland annual telephone meeting is to be held on Wednesday, Feb. 15 at the curling rink. Please remember to be present and hear how and what it takes to keep this long line in shape.

The writer enjoyed chatting with Mrs. Hawley, Mrs. J. Johnson of town, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Mead and many others on Saturday.

Mrs. C. Cruthers and smaller children visited with Mr. and Mrs. G Cruthers of town while Cliff and older ones attended the hockey game Saturday night. Billie, Wendy and Kathleen wanted to see their little nephew Murray.

Hu Harries Is Speaker At Vermilion Gathering

Transportation Problems Subject Of Canadian Club Address

Speaking on transportation problems as they affect industrial development in Alberta, Hu Harries of Edmonton gave the members of the Vermilion Canadian Club considerable information to ponder. He made them realize that transportation was a very real factor in the lives of all Canadians.

Mr. Harries is an alderman on the Edmonton City Council, and his business firm acts in an advisory capacity on matters of economic concern to businessmen. He has earned his Ph. D. in Economics. He graduated in Arts from the University of Alberta, and has his Master's degree from the University of Toronto.

The speaker was addressing a dinner meeting of the Canadian Club on Friday, January 20. He dealt with transportation in its various forms: railways, pipelines, waterways and trucks, but mentioned that water transportation was of minor importance to the people of the Prairie provinces.

He went on to explain that industrial development was dependent to a very great extent on the cost of transportation facilities available in any given area. An industry tends to locate where the costs are cheapest. It may be near the source of raw materials, if, in the processing of those raw materials it is possible to transport the finished article to market cheaper than sending raw materials to the market and processing them at that place.

A case in point is the cheapness of pipeline transportation for oil, gas. Transportation of this type is very cheap, but it is necessary to have refineries to process oil before piping it. With the gas, it is possible that the industries concerned might find it to their advantage to make use of the gas at a point some distance from the wellhead, where the end products wouldn't have so far to be taken to their markets, because rail transportation is more costly than pipeline.

Transportation development, Mr. Harries went on, has been extensive in the last 10 years. And there is a new age of air transportation dawning which will change the picture even more in the next 10 years.

Because of these developments it has been economically possible for an increasing industrial development in the west.

Packing houses have been organized extensively in the prairie provinces because it has been found that their products are cheaper to ship than to send the stock 'on the hoof'. Likewise natural gas processing plants have been started because there hasn't been transportation for gas from Alberta as yet. The pulp and paper industries find it economically sound to process the logs into pulp and paper near the source of their raw materials because it is cheaper to ship them, rather than the logs.

There are other factors to be considered in the location of industries, but transportation costs are usually decisive.

Mr. Harries told the club that there are four prime transportation factors in the development of Alberta's industries.

1. It is a long haul for all goods from Alberta to densely populated areas, which, of necessity, are the major markets.

2. There is a relative disadvantage in freight rates to Alberta industries. It is cheaper to ship from the East to Vancouver than to ship to Edmonton. The prairie provinces don't have the salutary effect of a lowered freight rate due to competition with the cheap waterway routes that Vancouver enjoys. The new St. Lawrence Seaway may help Alberta to some extent in this regard.

3. Alberta has the disadvantage of long distances to ship to the American market. This involves two originating costs, that is, there is a comparatively short haul on the American side, and the same in Canada, and in neither case is there the advantage of the cheaper per mile rate customary as a volume discount.

4. Railway freight rates are graded for distance, with comparatively small zones, in Alberta. For instance, the costs vary directly with the distance travelled. But in the East, shipments originating in Windsor, Montreal, or Oshawa, and travelling to the west, are all regarded as originating in Toronto. Thus the inequalities of shipping charges which would otherwise work to the advantage of Toronto, have been eliminated, and industry has been encouraged to locate in many different centres in the east. Here in Alberta, the inequalities remain because of the 50 mile differential.

In answering questions at the conclusion of his address, Mr. Harries mentioned that the Board of Commissioners having jurisdiction over the freight rate structure wielded considerable influence over the possibilities of industrial development in Alberta and there is no western representative on that board.

Tips on Touring

The family car and the family camera mean Wintertime fun on the nation's highways and byways. These are the months when many of us can get away for only short trips. But they can be packed with pleasure for the countryside truly wears a "new look".

At this time of the year there's a wider look to many country intersections that were framed in flowering shrubs or young trees in the summertime. Pull off the road at some hillside lookout and take a couple of snapshots from different angles. Try one across the fields with a tree's dark trunk and its branches to frame the valley. Then stop for a snapshot of the store or church at the village corners which this year are piled high with snow. Definite lines of building fronts and tree trunk lines have a rugged rustic appeal special to the season. For the picture's sake, compose the scene in your view finder so that masses of lines and shadows lead into the centre of interest.

Whether yours is a brief excursion around home or an exploration of new country, your car and your camera are a hard-to-beat combination.

C N R officials said this was the first time three teams from the same league had travelled on the same train.

On these grey winter days, add a dash of color to any room with gaily painted lampshade. Coat the inside of any heavy paper or cardboard shade with aluminum paint. Then paint the outside any color you like. The aluminum will reflect the light inside the shade and will prevent light shining through the brush marks on the outside.

The annual Clean-up Day in the town. Credit for the success of this was largely due to the efforts of Dr. Haslam, Chairman of the Civic Committee, and to Mr. Ken Rossiter who saw to it that Clean-Up Day was well advertised.

The Board sponsored a Retail Selling course for clerks which was capably handled by the Retail Committee of the board under the chairmanship of Mr Albert Hazenbroek.

Last year the Board of Trade undertook the responsibility of the transportation of the baseball team, softball and hockey teams to the league games. Mr. Martin Hanke is supervising the transportation of the baseball teams and Mr. Rossiter the hockey teams.

The board last year, among many other things, urged the following:

A permanent A.M.A. station here.

A testing centre in Vermilion for driving tests.

The board also took steps to investigate the feasibility of establishing a modern laundry establishment here and the ways and means committee who had charge of this matter reported that in their opinion there was sufficient demand for one.

The board also appointed a committee to investigate the question of securing more connections for telephone service.

The board last year, which has now become an annual event, the Farmers' Evening Banquet, attended by both town and gentlemen. Mr. James G McGregor was the guest speaker. Mr. MacGregor is well known to the people of Vermilion having been manager of Canadian Utilities here some years ago when first opened. There was a large attendance at the banquet and Mr. MacGregor's address was thoroughly enjoyed. Arrangements for the banquet were capably handled by Mr. Walker, Chairman of the Agricultural committee who was assisted by Mr. Buckingham.

PROVINCIAL AFFAIRS

The Alberta Association Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture decided to hold meetings in each district in the province on a provincial level. The Alberta bulletin of this decision stated that the Board had reported that representatives of the Association met with the full Provincial Cabinet the previous month regarding various matters of provincial concern. The report stated that this trip was probably the best and most useful meeting in the history of the Association and it went on to say Premier Manning had said "You cannot come to us often for us". This shows the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture must be doing a valuable work in matters of provincial concern to the province and since the Cabinet pays attention to what the Association has to say it must therefore, have respect for opinions expressed by the Association.

The Association has a membership of several organizations numbering 113. Vermilion joined the Association again last year and Mr. Laslett was delegated. Mr. J. Miller and Mr R. Walker were sent to the annual meeting held in Edmonton and Mr Miller representing our President, attended the President's meeting held in Calgary. At the annual meeting Mr Miller took this opportunity to present Vermilion copies of our program for 1955. Mr. Roy Walker reported an excellent annual meeting held in Edmonton and mentioned the Peace River country very well represented and that it was better than some other parts of the province.

The board supported a resolution to have the office of the Associations moved to Edmonton where they have been done.

The board approved of the policy statements of Agriculture as presented by the Agriculture committee of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture.

At our Jan 31 meeting of this year Mr Marchand, Director of the Industrial Development Branch of the Province of Alberta, and Mr Morris, Secretary of the Board were guests to our luncheon meeting in addition to mentioning the new Economic Survey for Northern Mr Marchand outlined to the executive after the meeting the proposal of his department that the province be divided into four or five industrial regions. Subdivided into zones, each zone to be represented by one member on the executive committee or council, with an executive committee of the regional council.

This set-up was proposed so as to canvass the industrial possibilities of every part of the province and in bring each one in touch with the other so that where in any part of the province there was a possibility of new industry arising this would not be overlooked and the executive committee of the regional council would then be prepared to act immediately He stated his department would act only by request of and zones after obtaining the approval of the persons concerned in the zone boundaries.

I think this is a very important matter and I trust Vermilion will be the centre of a zone and that a Vermilion man will be the "representative". I suggest the board should carefully watch the development of this proposal by the Dept. of Economic Affairs.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

The Chairman of our National Affairs committee, Mr. Mitchell Taylor attended the district court sitting in Vermilion in Canadian citizenship. The president attended an address to them to stand any of our Wednesday luncheons when they happened to be in Vermilion.

The board gave its support to Mitchell Taylor's meetings in May and appointed a representative to attend a meeting of the local canvass organization which was held at the Legion hall in Vermilion on April 25.

Vice-President Mr. Ross Boake and Mr R. Mitchell attended a dinner given by the Lloydminster board of trade in honor of Mr. Thorvaldson, President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, who was guest speaker at the dinner.

At one of our meetings in May Mr Mitchell Taylor, chairman of our National Affairs committee, presented a very interesting address on functions of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. In the course of his address Mr. Taylor read the National Policy Statement of the Canadian Chamber".

"PLAY-NITE" AT THE V. S. A. NEXT WEEK

The annual dramatics programme known as the "Play-Nite" will be presented at the Vermilion School of Agriculture Saturday evening February 18th.

The "Play-Nite" programme contains six three act plays and should be most interesting to those who are interested in amateur dramatics. Forward This Week-End" is being held at the same time so that parents who are visiting their sons and daughters at the V.S.A. will have an opportunity to attend this popular feature of the winter's programme. However, the general public is also invited and a good attendance is expected.

Plays being presented this year include two comedies and a mystery drama. Mr. L. Seath and Mr. L. Seath are working together on the production of a western saga staged in a Montana ranch setting. Messrs. Harold Cooper and Ken Stone have another comedy emphasizing the fears of a cruise ship to bring together a variety of characters—and a love story. The drama Department under the direction of Mr. Boyko will be of special local interest because the cast includes Harold Roebuck, Hazel Burr and Allan Curningham—students who are in the Vermilion district. All of which promises an enjoyable evening's entertainment.

Anglican Club Hears Talk On Accounting

The members of the Anglican Men's club listened to a very interesting and entertaining talk on "Accounting" given by one of their own members Mitchell Taylor, C.A., on Monday night.

The speaker set out to prove that a surplus is a good thing and that a deficit is a surplus. He went on to give the historical background of accountancy, tracing the profession back a thousand years. Various angles of accountancy including agriculture were dealt with and indicated that the Alberta Institute of Accountants formed in 1910 was constantly striving to maintain and improve the standards of the profession.

The talk followed an excellent supper served up by the committee of Dick Cush, Keith Chalmers, Tony Bell and Andy Yeager. The supper committee for March is Wm. Fiske, Tom Watts, Hugh Evans and Bob Sprigings.

The club which has had a very enjoyable and successful career ever since it was started three years ago has been asked by Anglicans at Lloydminster to visit them and organize a club there. This will be done at an early date.

Twenty-one attended the supper Monday and an effort to increase this number in thirty will be made for the March gathering.

W. D. Rhodes Dies At Elk Point

(from Campbell Lake News)

W. D. Rhodes, an esteemed old timer and homesteader of the Clandonald district, passed away at the Elk Point hospital on Monday, Feb. 6th. He was 89 years of age and had been in poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes farmed for many years just south and west of Clandonald, later moving to Elk Point when they retired from the farm.

Legion Polio Canvass Favorably Received

Canvassers for the Legion Polio drive report that town and country people are making very generous donations to the fund. Canvassing is still in progress and it is expected that the quota of $1000 set for this district will be exceeded.

On account of road conditions very little canvassing has been done in the country districts. Many farm families who would wish to have a part in this work or help to polio victims have left their donations with Vic Tillett, Thos. Watts or Mrs. Buckingham.

People in this district are reminded again that over $1600 has been distributed in this district during the past two years. In all of these cases it was a matter of relieving distress of the patients or their families.

Home and School Hear Traffic Officer

The recent meeting of the Home and School Association was one of unusual interest. The speaker, Inspector McKay, of the Highway Traffic board, is especially concerned with Safety Education. The teaching of our young folks how to drive properly is not enough, we must give them good examples of safe driving Mr McKay presented two films. One dealt with the disastrous effects of an over indulgent father's failure to help his son accept responsibility. The other film showed the tragic effects of risking alcohol with gasoline. A very small percentage of alcohol in the blood impairs driving. He also emphasized that good driving habits pay dividends.

FIREMEN TO HOLD VALENTINE BALL

Things to be remembered about this tournament Al McPherson who broke his glasses and cut his eye but returned to play a good game Wayne Ireland, high scoring centre of the V.H.S. who was fouled out of the last game needed him the most. Lil Waszylk who starred in the first game with her amazing ball work, and Kaye Stevenson the river leaders who really were at their best.

To the students and staff of the V.S.A. we send a big "thank you" for the interests and co-operation without which we may have missed another year's tournament.

Thanks also are due the Lloydminster teams who helped make the tourney a success. Both the college and high school teams are looking forward to a tournament in Lloydminster around the end of February.

This Saturday at 8 a.m. girls four girls of "bosses and slaves" will participate in our annual two competition broadcast

Rotarians and Ladies Enjoy Banquet and Social Evening

The Rotary meeting last week took the form of a ladies' night. The members of the club were entertaining their wives at a dinner and card party in the Anglican parish hall. The delicious turkey dinner was served by the Anglican church W. A. groups.

Included among the guests were several couples from Lloydminster, who were given a cordial welcome.

One of the highlights of the entertainment was the introduction of their wives by the Rotarians. Perhaps the most outstanding was Jean Hemstock of Lloydminster and Mrs. Alma Waldenberger

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED—

Your help is needed, yes yours — if the work of the Red Cross in the Vermilion district is to be continued. Throughout the war years people have rallied behind the Red Cross. There was no lack of those willing to assume office and to see that the annual canvass for funds was made and to make arrangements for blood donor clinics.

In peace time the need, while not as obvious, still exists for an active and strong Red Cross organization all over the world. There are always disaster areas caused by floods, fires, storms ... we in Canada see this every year and the Red Cross is the first to move in with merciful aid.

The Red Cross too, is in charge of the voluntary blood clinics which supply hospitals with the [illegible] life-saving and life-giving blood. Systems. Just as in time of war on the battlefield, many lives are being saved daily by having blood for transfusions on hand ready for use, thanks to the Canadian Red Cross of which the Vermilion branch is a part. Maybe a blood transfusion has benefitted you or some member of your family. Maybe in the recent flood areas of the past few years, in Manitoba, B.C. or the Maritimes, someone you know has been supplied with food, clothing and shelter after losing his or her home, or in Toronto following the devastating hurricane which took many lives and left hundreds homeless. Possibly you know of a family whose child is being cared for in the Crippled Children's hospital in Calgary, and whose outlook on life is being cheered and given renewed hope by the treatment received there.

All this and much more is made possible by the Canadian Red Cross which is [illegible] of scores and scores of [illegible] like the one in Vermilion. Yet despite this merciful work there is danger that its activities here will have to be dropped because of a lack of interest, because of a lack of a few people to come forward to handle the duties of organization ... there must be someone who would like to render their community service this way!

Citizens of Vermilion and district must not let this work of mercy suffer here. Rally round and attend the annual meeting to be held in the Vermilion school division office on Wednesday, Feb. 15 at 8 o'clock in the evening.

There were more births in 1955 than in any other year in Canadian history.

According to the Canadian Farm Implements magazine it required 50 man hours in 1830 to produce a one acre, 20 bushel crop. With modern techniques, engineering and farm machinery, it requires about 3 man hours.

While it isn't Vermilion's turn to have a rural electrification school this year schools will be held at nearby points, at Wainwright from March 19 to 23 and at Lloydminster March 26 to 29.

BINGO GAMES AND RAFFLES

Here is a statement issued by the Department of the Attorney General in respect of bingo games and church raffles:

Recent police action in connection with the operation of Bingo games has focussed public attention on the Criminal Code as it affects games of chance, or mixed chance and skill.

The Criminal Code is a federal statute. Part 5 of the code deals specifically with disorderly houses, gaming and betting. The interpretations embodied in Section 168 define a gaming house as one "in which directly or indirectly, a fee is charged to or paid by the players for the privilege of playing or participating in a game or using gaming equipment."

This clearly brings Bingo games within the meaning of Section 168 of the Criminal Code of Canada.

However the same Section does make certain exceptions in the interests of bona fide social clubs, charitable and religious organizations. In the case of social clubs, no portion of the proceeds of games may be paid to the keeper of the place in which the games are held; and no fee in excess of ten cents an hour or fifty cents a day may be charged for the privilege of playing.

Charitable or religious organizations are permitted to conduct games "occasionally." They charge a direct fee for the privilege of playing, "if the proceeds from the games are to be used for a charitable or religious object." No limit has been fixed as to the amount to be charged the players or the value of the prizes given.

The responsibility of any Provincial Attorney General is limited to the administration of the Criminal Code and the enforcement of the law. No provincial official has any authority to amend the Criminal Code. This can be done only by Parliament. It is understood that a House of Commons committee is currently giving study to various suggested amendments.

It has been implied in certain sections of the press that the Attorney General can put his own interpretation on the law and can actually prohibit bingo games. This is not correct.

The Criminal Code of Canada gives no authority to the Attorney General of Alberta or any other Province, either to prohibit or to permit bingo games or any other matters confined to federal jurisdiction. The interpretation of the law is the function of the courts.

So long as the games are operated within the exceptions under the provisions of the Criminal Code in respect of gaming, the police may not interfere with or stop these games. Charitable and religious groups wishing to use the proceeds of such games for charitable or religious purposes may conduct them occasionally, i.e. at irregular intervals.

One other important exception is the promotion of raffles at church bazaars. Permission to conduct a raffle must be obtained from civic or municipal authority and the prize offered is limited to $50 in value.

It should be noted that, while a $50 limit is designated by the statute in the case of authorized raffles, no such limit is defined in the case of bingo. In consequence the Provincial authority has no power to order maximum or minimum values in the prizes offered.

Will We Be Telling Our Children?

Hockey Chit-Chat

By GERRY MARSHALL

With only three games remaining in the schedule the Vermilion Tigers are riding in the fourth and last play-off berth. Any combination of a Vermilion win and a Viking loss will clinch the play-off berth for the locals. By the time this reaches the homes of Standard readers the Tigers may have already wrapped up the fourth slot and if so they will likely run up against the Lloydminster Chevies in the play-offs.

This year's play-off has the first place club meeting the fourth and the second meeting the third in the best of five semi-finals. The series opens in the highest ranking club's rink and alternate until one team wins the odd game. Then the winners of each group engage in the battle for the Craig cup and the league laurels.

Last Saturday night the Tigers played their last home game of the schedule and lost a hard-fought battle to the St. Paul Hornets. Playing great hockey, both clubs played a tough game and the season's largest crowd, 834 paid customers, were treated to a thrilling battle with many nice plays. The Tigers came from behind a two-goal deficit twice only to have Hornets score the winner with about five minutes to play. Down 3-1 at the end of the first the Bengals opened the second with two quick goals to tie it all up. Then a deflected shot and a bouncing puck eluded Washington to put the Northerners two up again. But the Tigers came roaring back to tie up the game once more. Playing with a two-man advantage the Hornets buzzed back and scored the winner to wrap up the game.

The return to the scoring limelight of Les Williams, a perennial star, was the talk of the week end as Les moved up front and fired five goals in three games. He was robbed of a hat trick against Veg as he scored twice, hit the post once and just missed on numerous other occasions.

Rookie Bryan Ford seemed to find himself also as he rapped home two goals in the Ranger game and was playing heads up hockey throughout.

The Tiger team as a whole has come up with some terrific games and some not quite so terrific but if they ever settle down and play the type of hockey they can — they might pull an upset like last year's club. At present they are still as hot and cold as a two-bit [illegible].

With the Sportsmen's banquet only a week away plans are in full swing to make it a real highlight to the sportsmen of Vermilion. The Stanley cup film is rumored to be one of the best hockey films in circulation and of course the Grey cup film will be naturally enjoyable to us westerners. With these films and a fine list of speakers the local fans can be assured of a very interesting evening and at the same time assist our Tigers with their financial obligations.

SILAGE IS PAYING OFF

4-H GRAIN CLUBS

Grain clubs in this district are located at Marwayne, Paradise Valley, Islay, Vermilion, Kitscoty, Mannville, Greenlawn and Durness. Boys and girls living on farms at any of these points will be welcome to join one of the clubs. See your club leader. Why not join up and learn how things are done in 4-H clubs. Other districts not mentioned can form new clubs. Get information on organizing 4-H Clubs from this office. Act now as seed supplies run out and then you have to wait until next year.

THE ARITHMETICAL BEE

Add and subtract at the same time? Impossible! Not for the busy honey bee, for this [illegible] not only fills your honey [illegible] at the same time pollinates your clover to give you good seed crops. Experiments have shown that clover fields with three bee hives per acre produce 400 lbs of seed to the acre, two hives 370, one hive 250 and with no tame bees and only wild bees present yields dropped 30 lbs per acre.

Orders will be taken for package bees as usual in this office. All orders should be placed before March 1st.

SEEDING TIME

It won't be too long before the spring rush is once more upon us. Now is the time to get your seed cleaned. Make use of your local seed cleaning plants, however, give them a chance to give you good service by taking your seed to them before the spring rush. Last spring a good many farmers could not get their seed out to the plants because of the road ban. The roads won't be any better this spring. It pays to treat your seed for soil borne diseases and wireworm control. This service is available at all plants.

CORRECTION

The Fish and Game officer informed us that an error had been made in the write up on Beaver Trapping in Green Acres last week. Trapping of beaver may again be done in this area this year on a residence trapper's permit.

Wins Self Feeder

A ticket draw was made at the Vermilion 4-H club meeting on Friday, Jan. 27 on the hog self-feeder raffled by the Vermilion, Mannville and Islay 4-H clubs. The lucky ticket belonged to Gus Maron of [illegible]. Congratulations Mr. Maron.

The feeder was donated to the Vermilion, Mannville and Islay 4-H clubs by the British Columbia Plywood Manufacturing Co.

Tigers Lose Valuable Points As St. Paul Wins 6-5

Vermilion Tigers lost two valuable points Saturday night in the last of the regular league home games as far as Vermilion was concerned, when the St. Paul Hornets came out on the long end of a 6-5 score. The 6 goals included two strictly of the gift variety but these things happen once in awhile but seldom does any team benefit by two softies in one game. The first easy goal came when a long floating shot going well wide of the cage was deflected in by Tiger defenceman Owens. The second was a long slow shot from the blue line during a lull in the action, everyone watched the puck slide along the ice towards George who had it well covered. Just in front of the goal the puck hopped crazily, went over the goal stick and into the corner of the net. No one was blamed in either case but they provided the margin of victory for the Hornets.

Incidently the biggest crowd of the season attended, 834 cash customers. They expected a good game, and they saw it, with the score tied up three times and anybody's game right to the final whistle.

Les Williams opened the scoring at 2.54 and made the home fans hope that the Tigers were in for a good night. Pundick evened the count at 8.58 and then Richard put the Hornets in front on Dion's pass at 15.27. There was only one penalty, Hryciw going off for tripping. No harm was done during his sentence and the period ended Hornets 2, Tigers 1.

The Hornets widened their advantage at 4.24 in the second, Dion scoring from Richard, but Merv Little hammered in Ewing's pass to make the score board read 3-2. Referee Bob Haxby blew his whistle for a slashing penalty to Richard, thereby ruining a promising Tiger attack which actually ended in a goal, but it was no score and didn't improve Haxby's popularity with the crowd. However while Richard was off the power attack of the Tigers paid off and Bill Novak scored at 7.39 assisted by Bill Williams. This evened the count and it was then the Hornets were handed their two gifts, the first off Owens at 9.28, the credit going to Roberts of the Hornets, then an even five minutes later Laboucane dribbled his shot along the ice from the blue line which ended in the Tiger net. This made it 5-3. Kreller halved the margin at 16.15 with the assist going to Ewing. Bill Williams went off for a trip, followed closely by Roberts at 18.20 for elbowing and Hryciw at 19.15 so that the Hornets for the last 45 seconds had two men off.

Starting the third the Hornets still were two men short for a few seconds but survived the ordeal. At 9.55 Bill Schmidt started fighting with Roberts, with Bill getting 5 minutes for fighting and Roberts 2 minutes for roughing. Richard was banished a minute later for hooking so that the teams were battling 5 men to 4 during which Tigers capitalized on the man advantage, Les Williams from Bill Williams and Kreller, tieing the score at 5 all. Before Schmidt was back on Phillips went off for a trip and the Tigers found themselves three men to five, with the result that Laboucane scored the winner from Dehid's pass. At the 18.30 mark Kreller and Dehid were banished for roughing. Neither team scored although the Tigers pulled goalie George and threw out six men. It almost paid off as the boys set up a checkerboard play that just missed, then it nearly back-fired as the play surged down toward the Tigers open goal and the Hornets slid it just by the corner.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The regular club dance held last Thursday by the Circle Eight was a tremendous success. Harold called to a capacity crowd, in fact the Legion hall was literally rocking, with a very happy and enthusiastic lot of square dancers from several district points, as well as a full turn-out of the Circle Eight.

We were very glad to welcome dancers from the two new clubs to the north, Derwent and Elk Point, as well as Dewberry, Wainwright and Mannville. It's a great pleasure to welcome our visiting dancers, and we hope that they will continue to have a good time at our dances and will come back again and again.

The Northeastern Square Dance local will meet in the Legion hall, Mannville this Sunday at 2.30.

Our next regular dance will be on Thursday, Feb. 16th, the Legion hall with Harold Schacher calling. See you there!

Expectations Are For Quiet Session Of The Alberta Legislature

EDMONTON — A fairly quiet session of about six weeks' duration members of all parties began preparing for Thursday's opening of the 13th Alberta legislature.

The session was to be officially opened by Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen lieutenant governor of Alberta reading the Speech from the Throne which gives a general outline of legislation the government proposes to introduce.

Political observers see several factors pointing toward a relatively uneventful session — barring unforeseen issues which can always arise and ruin political predictions. In any event it most likely will be tame in comparison with the 1955 session which was the most heated in almost twenty years and which ended with the calling of a snap election.

FEWER BILLS — LESS ARGUMENT

Government officials say the legislative program this year will be lighter than usual with considerably fewer bills than were introduced last year. This would mean less time spent on clause-by-clause study of bills and consequently less argument.

Another factor is that a number of charges hurled against the government during the last session and the summer election campaign are currently under investigation by a royal commission. This is expected to have the effect of restricting debate.

For one thing, officials seem agreed that the house cannot or at any rate should not debate any issue before the commission. It would be in the same category as contempt of court — when comments are made publicly about cases before the courts.

In addition, as one opposition member pointed out, a politician might make a big mistake discussing any issues before the commission completes its investigation and makes its report public. Anything said now might look awfully silly by the time the commission report is released — which incidentally, won't be for some time.

On top of all this it is a session following an election year and at such a session there usually isn't as much incentive to raise a fuss. Unless something terrific develops, there won't be another election for a few years.

Despite these factors, the 1956 session will be an interesting one from a political standpoint. It will be interesting to see how the government and its supporters react when faced by the largest opposition in the house since Social Credit came to power in 1935.

As a result of the election last June Social Credit's standing in the house was reduced from 51 to 37 and opposition ranks total 24, made up of 15 Liberals, 3 Conservatives, 2 CCF, 1 Lib.-Con., 1 Coalition, 1 Independent and 1 Independent Social Credit.

BILL OF INTEREST TO ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES

There has been scant information about proposed legislation, but there will be one bill of extreme interest to Alberta municipalities. The bill would set up a corporation to finance the capital expenditures of cities, towns, villages and municipal districts.

A draft of the proposed bill was approved last week by officials of the Union of Alberta Municipalities and the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts. The proposed corporation would borrow money on the open market and re-lend it to municipal authorities. The government - sponsored corporation would guarantee the principle and interest of the loans, and by so doing obtain them at interest rates one half to three quarters per cent lower than municipalities could obtain by acting individually.

Government action is necessary because for the first time in three years municipalities can't borrow all the money they need from the province. The municipal revolving fund, which started with $100,000,000 is almost depleted. The government has about $43,000,000 left in liquid reserves to lend to the municipalities and this will fall about $30,000,000 short of requirements. The proposed corporation likely would have to borrow that amount.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Another record budget is expected, with the likelihood of more money for education, health services, roads and a new program of aid in establishing regional libraries. The government also may say more about its intention to conduct a full-scale review of provincial-municipal financial relations, and there likely will be legislation enabling the province to enter into a health insurance agreement with Ottawa.

Ladies Choose New Spring Paint Tints This Way —

Cartoonists take great glee in portraying a housewife stewing over the choice of color in paint. On the wall she has a splash of this color and a dash of that and at her feet are a half a dozen cans all dribbling paint down their sides.

Someone should bring the cartoonists up to date. [illegible]

NEWS from LANDONVILLE

Parent-Teacher interviews were held in the Louise Lake school recently. Although the interviews were on a voluntary basis, 92 per cent. of the interviews were held as scheduled. Each parent was allowed fifteen minutes per child with the child's teacher. In many cases this time proved too short.

A discussion will be held at one of the future Parent Social Club meetings to determine whether the parents would like to continue the interviews, and how these may be made more effective if the scheme is carried on.

Meeting of the Parents Social Club will be held in the Louise Lake school on Friday this week. An amateur night featuring the parents and children of the district will be held after the business meeting.

Mrs. Frank Anderson had a short visit in the Elk Point hospital, but is now home looking after the family.

Our local sheep herder and janitor held an early spring round-up last week. It seems they mistook a jack rabbit for a frisky spring lamb. We never heard if they caught it or not.

Decided Progress Is Reported At Annual Meeting St. Saviour's Church

A very happy and satisfactory annual meeting of the parishioners of St. Saviour's Anglican church was held on Friday evening, January 27, when despite the cold and stormy weather 52 parishioners sat down to a pot luck supper, arranged by the ladies of the two branches of the Women's Auxiliary.

The happiness and satisfaction arose from the fact that progress had been made in every department of the work of the church, more services had been held throughout the area, Sunday School attendance was still on the increase, three new organizations were active in the life of the parish. On the material side improvements were still being carried on with final stuccoing of the church, and a further addition to the north side of the church which provided for study, storage, and room for additional Sunday School classes. Church giving had kept up despite the fact that economic conditions were not so good, and the debt of the Parish had been all but wiped out. In other words, the sweeping renovation program started ten years ago, which has seen a new rectory, a new hall, and a completely renovated and modernized church, has been accomplished and practically completely paid for. Outstanding is a loan of $750.00 with more than enough in various church funds to retire this amount.

The meeting was opened with prayer, the Rector acting as chairman for the evening, and L. H. Puckett as recording secretary.

THE W. A.

Mrs. W. G. Urquhart dealt with activities of the Afternoon branch of the W. A., with Mrs. J. V. Kneale giving the financial report of that active organization. Receipts for the year were the amazing amount of $2643.00. Chief items of expenditure were $1290.00 donated to the church funds, $223 for costs of light and heat for the church and hall. They retained a bank balance of $480.00.

A similar story was told by the officials of the Happy Hour group of the W.A., with receipts totalling $1,074.00. Of this $400.00 had been donated to church funds, $187 spent for caretaking of church and hall, and $80 for a new vacuum cleaner. Balance on hand is $122.00. The report was given by Mrs. Vic Tillett and Mrs. Mitchell Taylor.

Sunday School, Men's Club, and Badminton Club all were reported very active and with funds on hand. Reports were given for each respectively by Mitchell Taylor on behalf of the Sunday School secretary Mrs. D. R. Mitchell; Mr. J. V. Kneale for the Men's Club, and Miss Eunice Clark for the Badminton players. Mrs. Muriel Bohenske gave a resume of the work being done by the Junior Auxiliary.

A new organization commenced during the past year under the auspices of the Men's Club, and called the Junior Men's Club, is proving quite a successful venture. It meets in the armouries and has a variety of activities mostly athletic. Many boys have joined the club from other churches, as all are welcome. The gratifying report of the interest being taken was given by Robin Kneale.

Mr. R. Cosh also told of a new venture, the publication of the monthly parish paper the Focus, quite familiar throughout the district now, and which had been very well received by reader and advertiser alike.

INTERESTING DATA

Mr. Thos. Watts, who has acted as envelope secretary for many years, has made quite a study of the giving habits as depicted by the envelopes and gave a very interesting report on his findings. If those in the 25c to 75c per week brackets could increase their monetary support just a little the burden of financing the church would be eased greatly.

CHURCH CHOIR

The church choir has now 12 members with more needed, and an invitation to join was extended by Miss Joy King. She also paid tribute to Mrs. Minchin for the leadership and training of the choir. Miss King told of the Altar Guild, a new organization of the church ladies whose purpose it was to prepare the Altar for Communion service.

Mr. L. H. Puckett who rendered yeoman service to the church as People's Warden and church secretary, gave the financial statement for the general fund showing receipts for the year of $[illegible] and a bank balance from 1954 of $[illegible] for a total of $7081.00. Total expenditure totalled $6[illegible] leaving a small credit balance for the year of $117.00.

In the building fund the receipts had been $2383.00 plus a bank balance of $178.00. Expenditures were $2178.00 so that $384 remains in the treasury. A loan of $750.00 is outstanding, and is the responsibility of the building fund.

RECTORY FUND

A rectory fund into which $10.00 is deposited monthly, is maintained for purposes of maintenance and repairs for that residence. Expenditure during the year was $117.00, with a balance left of $122.00.

GIVE $1307.00 TO HOME MISSION FUND

E. H. Buckingham, the Rector's Warden, in his report dealt chiefly with the apportionment, money which this parish donates to the diocese for home mission work. This amount for 1955 was $1307.00, and there will be an increase during the current year.

OUTSTANDING SERVICE

A special vote of thanks was moved to Mr. Lorne Puckett, the church secretary who during the year handled approximately $10,000 in receipts and practically a similar amount in expenditures.

The Rector, Rev. K. A. Minchin, commented on the very fine reports given by the various organizations. This was tangible evidence of the vigorous life of the Parish. He gave details on the number of services held in the many points which he serves, Islay, Kennilworth, Pleasant Valley, Basswood, Buffalo Coulee, King Edward and Vermilion. Besides this, communion services are conducted in other parishes. At St. Saviour's there have been nine weddings, fifteen funerals and 27 baptisms during the year.

Rector's Warden: E. H. Buckingham.

People's Warden: L. H. Puckett.

Lay Delegates to Synod: E. H. Buckingham, L. H. Playne, K. C. Chalmers, with alternates being J. R. Robson, R. Cosh, J. K. Thompson.

Auditor: J. R. Robson.

Members of the Vestry: Ashley H. Cooper, J. R. Robson, K. C. Chalmers, J.V. Kneale, Mitchell Taylor, J. W. G. Morrison, R. Cosh, K. King, J. K. Thompson, C. N. Brennan, Wm. Fooks and O. R. I. Stephen.

STUTTERING

Common Between 2 and 5 Years

Many children go through a period of stuttering between the ages of two and five. They try to say something, hesitate, then try repeatedly to utter the sound or word they want to use. They may repeat the first letter of a word several times, or a whole word, or may even become so stuck they can't utter a sound. A great many children stutter at some time in learning to talk. By understanding its causes you may help prevent it becoming a persistent habit.

NERVOUS TENSION TO BLAME

A young child's stuttering is the signal of too much nervous tension, making him lose control of the delicate muscular balance he needs for speech. That's why, in this early stage, you should do nothing directly about correcting his speech, such as having him say the word or sentence over again. Your job is to find out what's making him so tense. This may not be simple since the causes can be varied and far removed from the speech itself.

HIDE YOUR OWN ANXIETY

Ignore the stuttering itself and for the time being accept your child's speech as normal. Above all, do your best to prevent him from becoming anxious about his speech. Remember that your anxiety is readily felt by him. If you're upset, or show pity, he'll react with more hesitation and stuttering.

Fatigue has a bearing on speech control, stuttering spasms happen more often when the child is overtired. The stammering child needs more rest than other children. An early bedtime is important. Poor toilet or feeding habits may cause emotional tension. Dealing wisely with feeding troubles, or with bed wetting may cause the stuttering gradually to disappear.

An emotional shock or fright sometimes results in stammering. Your task here is to build up his feeling of security after the disturbing experience. Let him pour out his fear and anxiety and don't try to correct his stuttering as he tells it. Help him forget the nasty shock by giving him pleasant experiences to enjoy — a family outing, or new plaything.

ARE YOUR DEMANDS TOO MUCH FOR HIM

It's possible that his stuttering began when he tried to speak like the older ones around him. It turned out to be too much of a load. If you demand a lot from him and set impossibly high standards, he may find trouble in this hard business of learning to speak. When a child is making fast progress in talking, why complicate things by making a show of it in having him recite nursery rhymes and jingles? Don't urge him to say long words or show amusement when he makes mistakes in pronunciation.

Sometimes, after a long illness, a child will start stuttering because he isn't quite ready to resume his usual daily routine. See that his readjustment to everyday normal living takes place gradually. He had extra attention during his sickness and if you take it away too suddenly the emotional reaction may show up in stammering.

Children who show a tendency towards stammering are usually overactive, emotional youngsters. Too much activity and excitement in play can have a bad effect on their speech. A regular routine is needed for them. Keep movies and parties to a minimum. Temper tantrums, jealousies, fears, in fact any sign of emotional insecurity should be examined carefully and handled with patience. When there is constant quarreling between parents, lack of harmony in the household, the child's speech development may be deeply affected. Emotional security is your child's main need. The periods at which stuttering is most common after the 2-3 age are when he enters school and at adolescence—both times of big adjustments of life.

STEPS TOWARD HELPING

Parents can do a real job of helping to prevent or cure stuttering if they always keep in mind the close tie-up between the child's emotional stability and his speech habits. Relieve his tensions and never hurry him in his attempts to talk. Give him a chance to speak without interruption; listen with patience. Some direct ways of helping your child strengthen his speech muscles are through blowing bubbles and balloons, whispering and singing. They also bolster his confidence and make him feel he's doing something to overcome this uncomfortable habit. Curing the confirmed or severe stutterer is not a quick or easy matter and setbacks are to be expected. It may be advisable in stubborn cases to seek the advice of a speech specialist.

We hope there is a continuance of the creative effort as in other years, both with younger and older ones.

C.G.I.T. Celebrates Fortieth Anniversary

A History of the Organization

In December of the year 1916, a group of five women were having lunch together in downtown Toronto. Many requests had come from teen-age girls for a church program of their own. The boys' Trail Ranger and Tuxis Movement had literally "swept the country." Now the girls were asking for a [illegible] group experience.

These five women, calling themselves the "Advisory Committee for Co-operation in Girls Work" decided to ask the girls themselves what they would like in the way of a program. The women felt that the program must be truly Canadian, basically Christian, and not just a copy of the boys' program.

Sunday School Class Basis

Right from the beginning the movement was planned by representatives of the Protestant churches and the Y.W.C.A. It was early felt that the Sunday School class should be the basic unit for the organization, so Sunday School classes of teen-age girls were invited to become C.G.I.T. groups, with their teacher as leader. People were sent out right across Canada, and large rallies of girls were held in Edmonton and Calgary to acquaint girls with the new movement. Everywhere the rallies met with great response from teen-aged girls.

Camps Started in 1919

As early as 1919, C.G.I.T. started to camp. In the early twenties, campers wore gym. bloomers out-of-doors, but to those early 500 campers in 1919, camp meant a highlight of the C.G.I.T. year, just as it does today.

Birthdays Celebrated

The C.G.I.T. movement has celebrated some of its highlight birthdays. In 1935, the 20th birthday was celebrated with the beginning of C.G.I.T. Week. On the 25th, or Silver Anniversary in 1940, Canadian Girls in Training wore tiny silver bells, which actually rang, attached to an Anniversary badge on their middy pocket.

Vesper Service

The first nationally published Vesper Service came out in 1940 — although many groups had had their own services prior to that. Now, groups all across Canada each December use the same service of worship.

Camp Council

Here in Alberta, each summer at Camp Council, Senior (15 years and over) members of C.G.I.T. meet together to discuss the movement in our Province and make plans for the coming year. At Camp Council, the Provincial president and vice-president are chosen. On Thanksgiving week-end, delegates from senior groups meet together for the Senior Provincial Conference. This Conference started in 19[illegible] and has been held annually since. In 1952 the Conference moved to the Agricultural College at Olds, in order to provide a living-in experience for the girls.

From the early days of C.G.I.T., the Women's Missionary Society has taken a great interest in the movement. This interest has been a great encouragement to the girls [illegible].

400 Groups in Alberta

The Alberta Girls' Work Board composed of representatives of the Baptist, Presbyterian and United churches, meet monthly to plan for Alberta C G I T. In 1956 there are over 400 groups in Alberta.

MORE FREIGHT COMING

Volume of rail freight traffic is expected to increase by 60% over the next twenty years, reports The Financial Post. That means a healthy outlook for the builders of Canadian locomotives and freight cars. The completion of the Seaway is not regarded as a serious threat to Canada's rail freight volume.

Fire Takes Lives The Lives Of 42 Albertans During 1956

A total of [illegible] persons lost their lives in fires in Alberta during 1955, according to figures released today by provincial fire commissioner A. E. Bridges. Over [illegible] of these fires, which took the lives of 19 men, [illegible] women, and 16 children, occurred in private homes with the loss of life almost equally distributed between rural and urban areas.

A [illegible] of the fatalities [illegible] that eight deaths were [illegible] by overheated stoves and stove pipes, seven persons died as a result of accidents with gasoline, while six other deaths were caused by careless smoking. The lives of six persons were taken when trapped in burning buildings in which [illegible] of the fire was unknown. [illegible] of [illegible] in lighting fires resulted in three deaths, while five deaths occurred through children playing with matches when left at home alone. Miscellaneous fires caused seven fatalities.

[illegible] Fire Commissioner stated that new ways must be found to prevent loss of life through fires, and urged home fire drills be practised in an effort to reduce fatalities.

"We cannot tell at what hour of the day or night fire may strike," said Mr Bridges. "A fire in a room can [illegible] to very serious proportions [illegible] a few minutes and it is always dangerous to remain in a burning building. Therefore, a fire drill plan for the home must provide that every member escapes the building as quickly as possible. Those home owners that practice fire drills realistically and particularly when the children are asleep find that it takes 10 minutes or more to get everyone safely out of the house, using alternate escape routes to avoid a predetermined fire location."

Seven points of a home fire drill practice were outlined by the fire commissioner. They include: get everyone out of the building immediately a fire is discovered, call the fire department and other help, [illegible] stop to dress or to salvage valuables, use available [illegible] outlets to avoid going through fire areas, [illegible] steps of the fire drill before practicing it; keep a time record and practice for fires at different locations; own a fire extinguisher and know how to use it.

Decorative Fabrics In Folding Doors

Accordion-type folding doors, introduced a few years ago, looked like a practical answer to the problem of saving space in small homes and apartments. But new fabric patterns and lovely colors also made them a joy to the home decorator.

The latest fabric to appear in space-saving doors is vinyl-coated and embossed to give the effect of warm, corded cloth. The vertical pattern tends to "slenderize" wide doors and the material can easily be washed clean with soap and water. It comes in delightful colors such as pomegranate, smoke grey, moss green, mocha and robin's egg blue, and it's designed to withstand years of flexing without wear or cracking.

Modern home builders have found a folding door to be infinitely more practical than an awkward panel of wood swinging on hinges. It [illegible] of an accordion-type steel frame hanging from an aluminum track set into the top of the door [illegible]. It moves silently and so [illegible] [illegible]

Canada's commercial airlines in 1952 averaged only one accident every 736,795 revenue miles, only one death every 43,300 paying passengers or every 1,103,954 payload miles.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT
by
W. G. MALAHER,
Director,
Research Department,
[illegible] GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

[illegible]

A great deal has appeared in the Canadian Press lately about Koga 11 wheat, a new wheat variety developed in Germany and exhibited at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair where it placed 18th in competition with other Canadian hard red spring wheats.

With all attention focused on Koga 11, the fact that two other English varieties entered in this class placed 21st and 25th respectively, seems to have passed unnoticed. The first of these, only 3 places below the Koga award was the variety Atle which is the most widely grown spring wheat variety in that country. It originated in Sweden and it was the variety which because of its performance and quality gave an impetus to the growing of spring wheat in Britain at the end of World War II. Atle is a hard milling wheat and is reported to give grain of excellent baking qualities. Atson, which placed 25th at the Royal Winter Fair is a higher yielding variety than Atle and gives grain of a similar quality. Thus far tests made in England on Koga 11 seem to show that it is superior to the average English wheat but it seems doubtful whether its quality is quite as good as Atle.

The important thing from the Canadian standpoint is that in the post-war years there has been a very definite improvement in the quality of British wheats and that not one but three of the varieties most prominent there at the present time were placed ahead of some Canadian entries at the Royal Winter Fair. This must not be construed, however as meaning that they are superior in quality, that is something that can only be determined if milling and baking tests are made and such tests would unquestionably place these varieties at a disadvantage to Canadian wheats.

MOVE MOUNTAINS

The idea that faith can move mountains is now easy for me to accept, because I have seen it. I moved from one city to another, [illegible] month, and tried to meet all deadlines while making the transfer. One bleak Monday when I arrived at my new office in the morning and stared at the mountains of work to be done, with only a green staff to help me, I was filled with despair. Files were mixed, equipment had been damaged in transit, and so many details plagued me I didn't believe I'd be able to think — let alone write. I turned around and walked out of the office.

I got in my car and drove to the open fields away from the whole caboodle. I could still see in my imagination the piles of correspondence and the research material to get through. I felt more blue than I have felt in years. And then I saw a tractor in the distance, pulling a plow, leaving a narrow [illegible] line of black behind it in the huge field of grey-white stubble.

I watched the [illegible] for a long time. I am ashamed to say, [illegible] I realized that it was powered more by faith than by gasoline. Here was a giant field, and a few furrows looked so mean and insignificant on its broad surface; even when finally plowed it would need more cultivating, and a winter would pass before seeding, and a summer before harvest. What faith the farmer needs to begin the task with that one thin pencil line!

I hurried back to my office and attacked the mountains. I would like to say that everything is now well in hand. It is not — but I am, which is more important. And little by little the mountains are [illegible] moved. Guess I owe some farmer a few furrows of faith!

CHATSWORTH CHATTER

At long last we take a peek from behind our snowdrift, to resume the contributing of the "Chatter", though there's not too much activity due to the road conditions. Our community centre the school is inaccessible, and many other roads in the district are also blocked. To get out from our location has taken three days of snowplowing. We certainly have had more than a goodly share of snow and wind, and it has been a hard winter, so far, for man and beast. Hardly more than a few days go by without more snow and drifting, so that it is almost impossible to keep the roads open.

Bus drivers have really had their headaches this term, with spring road conditions still to face. On the day of the "Big Storm" —Dec. 12th—Joe Farkash Jr. spent all of that day and early into the following morning delivering school children to their homes by truck, with Jim Panter having to open the road before him with the snowplow. Jim, after finally "plowing" Joe home, became lost in his own field with tractor and snowplow and didn't arrive home till 7 a.m. Looks like the little red schoolhouse is still the best bet.

The Chatsworth Country Club meeting scheduled for Jan. 19th, at Myrtle Thompson's was cancelled. The February meeting is Thursday, 16th at Mrs. Thompson's. Lunch committee Mrs. Farkash, Kae Good and Mrs Patterson.

The annual meeting of the Chatsworth Community club was held at Jim Thompson's on Wednesday evening, Feb. 3rd, with nine members in attendance. The slate of officers was returned by acclamation, president being J. Thompson, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jim Thompson.

Mr C Robson, who was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Good for Christmas and early January, returned to his duties at Whitehorse on January 10th.

The writer of "Chatter" spent two weeks with daughter June in Edmonton during the latter part of December and first of January, returning home on the 12th.

We extend deepest sympathy to Mr and Mrs Mike Malik on the loss of their little son.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

Fluoridation Of Drinking Water Gaining Support In Province

EDMONTON. — The long battle over fluoridation of public drinking water may be nearing an end in Alberta.

The preponderance of evidence that fluorides help to eliminate tooth decay appears to be drowning out the cries of vociferous minority which opposes the introduction of chemicals into public water supplies.

In Alberta, it has been well over a year since the Research Council made an exhaustive study of the matter and presented a report expressing unconditional approval of fluoridation.

Nothing has been done, but the pressure for action is mounting and the government has been forced to lift slightly the veil of silence it has held over the question since the report was handed down.

Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, indicated last week that something may be done soon one way or the other. With a politician's usual caution about not disclosing too much, he said the government is giving "careful consideration" to all available information and "may make an announcement within the next month".

It is known that a number of Alberta municipalities are prepared to go ahead with fluoridation as soon as the government will let them and others are interested in hearing about it.

COMMUNITIES ASK FOR ENABLING LEGISLATION

At least four communities — the cities of Edmonton and Lethbridge and the towns of Grande Prairie and Raymond — have submitted written requests for enabling regulations. Representatives of other municipalities have made verbal requests.

So far, the health department has been non-committal. But there are high ranking officials within the health department who have studied the evidence amassed in favor of fluoridation and are anxious to see a start made in Alberta. They have been forced to remain silent but are hoping public sentiment will be aroused enough to prod the government into action.

REDUCES TOOTH DECAY

The Edmonton and District Dental Society took a crack at it last week by inviting Dr. Cross and five other cabinet ministers to a panel discussion on fluoridation.

The dentists made the cabinet ministers listen to statistics on the reduction of tooth decay in eastern Canada and U.S. centres where fluoridation has been introduced. They also answered some of the claims made by those opposed to fluoridation.

One of the main arguments against it is that fluorine is poisonous. The dentists agreed BUT said a human would have to drink 450 glasses of fluoridated water at one sitting to be poisoned by it. Another poison added to drinking water is chlorine to make it safe to drink.

The addition of fluorides to water was compared with the introduction of vitamin A into butter and B complex in flour.

While most public health officials and practically all dentists and medical men agree on it there are strong indications that fluoridation must overcome a political road block before it is accepted in Alberta.

There appears to be something in the philosophy of the Social Credit movement, expounded by one of the fundamental Social Credit theorists which is opposed to fluoridation. They regard it as compulsory mass medication and as such are against it. There has undoubtedly been some rousing discussion [illegible] in the Social Credit caucus which could explain the fact that no one spoke about fluoridation at the last session of the legislature.

On the other hand, the Social Credit membership in the house may now be more receptive to the idea than it was a year ago. The election last June eliminated two of the most violent anti-fluoridationists, Mrs. C. R. Wood, who represented Stony Plain riding and Wilson Cain, who was defeated in Bow Valley Empress. At every session except the last one, they voiced dire warnings about the impending poisoning of the human race, and upheld the right of the individual to drink fluoride-free water.

Technically the question of to fluoridate or not to fluoridate is outside the sphere of the legislature. The government can permit its introduction simply by passing an order-in-council.

The legislature did its part in 1952 by amending the Public Health Act permitting the Alberta Board of Health to authorize the introduction of chemicals into public drinking water. However a clause in the amendment prevented the board taking advantage of the new provision until the Research Council had presented its report on fluoridation.

All that is needed now is an order-in-council establishing regulations for the safe use of fluorides in drinking water.

Wildmere Women's Institute Notes

Wildmere W.I. met at the home of Mrs. J. Wallington with seventeen members present and Mrs Wilson came after school. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada" and the recital of the Creed. Roll call was answered by telling "What new handicraft I'd like to learn".

The treasurer's report was moved adopted by Mrs Steele, seconded by Mrs. L. Howard. There is not much money on hand.

HOME COOKING SALE

A home cooking sale is to be held on March 3 at Craig's store in Vermilion. Mrs Hughes Mrs Howard and Mrs Cruthers are to be the conveners. Each member is to contribute $1.50 worth of cooking or pay the W.I. the money.

Correspondence: A letter was received from Mrs. Mead saying that the delegate should be chosen for the March convention in Edmonton. Either Mrs. W. Garnett Jr or Mrs David Dibben will be our delegate to be decided at the March meeting.

A letter from Mrs. Dibben was read thanking the W.I. for flowers sent to Robert. Letter from Mrs. Wagner re handicrafts and one from Mrs. Acheson saying she would come to our February meeting.

Mrs. R. Dibben reported a blanket had been sent to school from the W.I.

A discussion took place concerning the presentation of some little gift to members with a perfect attendance during 1955. But it was finally tabled until the next meeting.

It was moved that the secretary write the Canadian Association of Consumers re the price spread on eggs.

The March project is a donation to the Polio fund drive. Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs Hughes.

MRS. ACHESON SPEAKER

Mrs. Gibson then introduced Mrs. S. C. Acheson from the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Mrs Acheson gave a very interesting talk on the handicraft we have this year for our conference. Also she had some lovely work done by the girls of the V.S.A., which she showed the members.

Mrs Acheson demonstrated on a sewing machine the proper way to put a zipper in a dress without basting it, and other short cuts in sewing which proved very interesting. The writer is sorry she could not be in the room to take it all in, but, being hostess, had other things to attend to.

The afternoon went by all too quickly and Mrs. Gibson thanked Mrs Acheson for her kindness in coming out to give the talk. It is hoped that she can come again some time.

The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen", after which Mrs Wallington and willing helpers served lunch.

NEXT MEETING MARCH 7th

The next meeting will be held on March 7th at the home of Mrs. C. Sweeney. Roll call name a fact of or about Ceylon. Topic: U.N. Serial, Mrs Osterberg. Lunch, Mrs. A. N. Garnett, Mrs. W. J. Garnett, Mrs W. T. Garnett.

Specialized Training Course Offered Free To Welders

Alberta's thriving oil industry continues to create new employment opportunities for workers — but in certain specialized jobs there is a chronic lack of men with proper training.

One of these jobs is downhand welding, a vital operation in the construction of pipelines.

In a concerted move to fill the demand for this type of welder, the federal and provincial governments are joining with contractors and oil firms to make free training available to certified welders who are currently unemployed.

Classes will start Wednesday, February 15 at a Calgary location. It is expected the trainees will be graduated in time to fill jobs which will open when pipeline work starts in the spring. Under the co-operative plan, contractors will lend equipment to the trainees, oil firms will supply the pipe, and the two governments will bear the cost of operating the school.

Applications will be accepted only by local offices of the National Employment Service. Trainees will be permitted to draw unemployment insurance during the training period, if they are currently eligible.

This is the second such school to be organized, according to the Alberta Department of Education, Canadian Vocational Training Branch. The first was held last year in Edmonton. At that time 72 trainees were graduated.

The last remaining large herd of Buffalo, about 700 animals, was purchased by the Canadian government in 1906 from a Montana rancher and shipped to parks in Alberta.

Claysmore Clippings

Twenty guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willes on Feb. 1 for a turkey dinner in honor of Mrs. Willes' birthday. All enjoyed an evening of playing cards after the dinner. There were five tables of 500 played and prizes were given for the winners. Music and a sing-song ended a very pleasant evening.

We have heard many comments on the January weather and many remarks were not very complimentry, but no one can find fault with February as so far it has given us a nice break. Snowdrifts have settled and some thawing took place over the week end. Who knows? We may make another record, this time for a mild February.

The F.U.A. held a dance at the school Friday, Jan. 27, and were pleased to have a good crowd. The Willes orchestra supplied the music and all enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. Willis of Mannville spent the past week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Olstad.

Mrs. Laura Van Nest spent a day in Edmonton last week on business and while there visited at the home of Mr and Mrs. Martin Van Nest.

Canada's famed Welland Canal was opened in 1932.

Archeologists' research shows that at approximately 1,500 B. C., a strictly Stone Age civilization existed around Mortlach, Sask., similar to the ancient Yuma tribe of the southwestern B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stone very kindly brought Peggy Graham to Vermilion when they went up for Doreen last Wednesday. The girls have finished their nurses' training and will be going out for practical work now. Doreen goes to Stettler hospital and Peggy goes to the Health Unit at Lac La Biche. They have to come back to Edmonton in April to write their R. N. exams. Good luck girls, and many thanks Mr. and Mrs. Stone for your kindness.

Our weather has really taken a turn for the better at last, although quite a lot of snow has fallen of late too. It is still nearly impossible to get out in fields for feed or grain.

Enjoyed your note re eggs, Clandonald, also "Disgusted's" letter. Our W.I. group has written to Canadian Association of Consumers on the price spread. They have really done some good work in the past and hope they can on this.

Congrats Vermilion W.I. on receiving Mrs. Batke as a member. She was one of Wildmere's charter members so our loss is your gain.

Laurence Graham leaves this Saturday by plane from Lloydminster for Arnprior, Ont., to take a two weeks' instructor's course in civil defence. Good luck Laurence, hope you do as well there as in Edmonton.

A few boys from out our way went to town Sunday afternoon to play a game of hockey with a team from north of town. The north boys emerged winners.

Several from our district attended the hockey game Saturday night in town between the Tigers and St. Paul Hornets.

The warm weather has put an end to curling here for a while as the ice is covered with water.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith had in a few to supper on Sunday evening: Mr. and Mrs. C. Cruthers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith, Diane and Ruby, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Batke and two children from Lloydminster. The occasion was Albert's birthday supper, his birthday being on Feb. 2.

We chatted with Mrs. G. Harrison, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Stone and many others on Saturday. Glad to see Mrs. Jones able to be out again.

German rearming, when fully under way, will produce some 500,000 troops for about the same money Canada spends for 120,000.

When buying fresh fish, freshness is a prime requisite of good quality. No amount of careful cooking will make up for lack of it. To discover if a fish is fresh, look it square in the eye. Its eyes should be glassy-bright; gills red; fresh and mild; and the flesh firm to the touch — the impression of your finger should not remain. Frozen fish should be solidly frozen when purchased, show no signs of discoloration and have little or no odor.

Deadly Carbon Monoxide Gas Cannot Be Seen, Smelled or Tasted

Each and every year, deadly carbon monoxide or poison gas takes its toll in Alberta. Several deaths have been due to this cause since the opening of the new year only a few weeks ago. The victims were all car drivers or passengers.

Official figures are not yet available on the number of fatalities due to this "Creeping Killer" in 1955. In 1954 the number was six, of which five occurred in cars and one in a truck, according to officials of the Alberta vital statistics branch.

A price of six deaths or less is too much to pay, when safety precautions would almost wipe out this toll.

The Alberta Safety Council has just issued another warning that carbon monoxide is one of the deadliest killers of the cold weather season. It sneaks up without warning.

The victims often are lovers who park with the engine running, business men who warm up their car in a garage, and drunks who go to sleep in a car with the engine running.

Paul Lawrence, safety director for the Safety Council, says there are cases on record where whole carloads of people were overcome without one victim noticing that the others were dropping off.

The official says the deadly gas may enter the car through the floor boards, as the result of a broken or burned out muffler. On the other hand it may be carried by the wind to the front of the car and drawn in by the air conditioning heater.

When one realizes that the deadly gas cannot be seen, tasted, or smelled, the hazards appear all the more alarming.

"The only defence is plenty of fresh air to carry the gas away" said the Safety Council official. It should be realized that whenever a gasoline engine is running, it is producing carbon monoxide gas and this gas must be prevented from accumulating in any enclosed space where there are people.

"Defective exhaust systems have caused thousands of people to be overcome because when the gas escapes under the passenger compartment it so often finds a way inside, even if the car is travelling at 60 miles an hour.

"A quick and effective inspection can be made by placing the car on a hoist with the engine running. If the temperature is freezing or nearly so, exhaust gas can be seen wherever it escapes.

"Examine the exhaust system from engine manifold to tail pipe and replace any part which has burned through or been broken by striking rocks or other obstructions on the road. If there is a burned out muffler, it is impossible to have repairs made. The only solution is a new muffler.

Hunters Careless

There may be some doubt as to whether more deer have been slaughtered in recent years, but, declares The Financial Post, there is none at all about more hunters. And many of these, judging by the scanty amount of evidence revealed, were victims of gross carelessness or worse. Yet the public and the provincial governments concerned show little serious interest.

So long as this casual attitude prevails, more people are going to be carried out of the bush every fall.

For too long hunting has been regarded as just another sport, an opportunity to get some fresh air and exercise. It is a sport but with the 'players' toting rifles that will kill at a mile or more and some of them quick to use their rifles when they see almost anything move. It can be a dangerous sport for the hunters as well as the [illegible] interested bystander too.

Everything is interesting, if only one makes a study of it.

Experts say declining tax revenues in Canada in recent months indicate present high taxation level has reached the point of diminishing returns.

Hockey Injury Fatal To Mannville Boy

MANNVILLE — Don Schrader, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Schrader of Mannville, passed away suddenly on Friday morning Feb. 10 as a result of an injury suffered in a hockey game played Jan. 31st.

Don was hurt in the first period of a hockey game between Mannville Junior high and Buffalo Coulee school teams on Jan. 31, but he played the other two periods. After the game he became ill and was taken to the hospital. He underwent an emergent operation and was progressing favorably until Friday when he passed suddenly away.

Funeral services were held in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Mannville, with John R. Nielsen, pastor, officiating.

F. Van Wageningen Wins Provincial Cream Competition

F. Van Wageningen won first prize and the silver challenge cup in the Provincial cream competition sponsored annually by the Alberta Dairymen's Association. It was the first time Mr. Van Wageningen had entered the competition and he was naturally elated that his four-gallon can of cream won with the almost perfect score of 99½ points.

There were 47 entries, quite a number from distant points. The trophy and prizes were awarded at the banquet on Tuesday, Feb. 7th at the Alberta Dairymen's Association annual meeting.

Water Softener, Enlarged Disposal Plant, More Road Oiling, Sidewalk Building On Tap For Town In 1956

It is probable that Vermilion will see a plebiscite in the spring asking the ratepayers to expend about $25,000 to $30,000 for a water softener and iron removal system for the water supply.

Another major move will be the enlarging of the sewage disposal plant. Although it is only eight years since the system was installed it is now found that the effluent is 250 per cent overproof. That is, the present plant is handling two and one half times more sewage than it was designed to handle. Investigation has led to the astounding discovery that the plant was planned to handle a population of 900 people. At the time the plant was built, 1947, the population was over 1800. To do its job properly now the plant must be enlarged.

These will be the major projects for the year with other programs being continued, for example road oiling and sidewalk construction. Every year sees some old building, or unsightly spot in the town cleared up, this activity will also be carried on.

These were the main points which were gleaned from the detailed reports given by Mayor Hill and Councillors G. W. Sutherland, C. E. Thompson, H. J. Payne, E. A. Locke, D. R. Mitchell. R. K. Chalmers was out of town but left prepared reports for his department of water and sewer.

WATER SOFTENER

The water softener proposed for the water system came in for considerable discussion. It appears that Councillor R. K. Chalmers and Sanitary Officer Wm. Boulton have gathered up a considerable amount of material as to the cost and ...

... from the lack of major fires in town in past years. Coming in for considerable praise was the local Board of Trade. Meeting every week they are able to keep their finger on the pulse of town and district and thus are looked upon for their valuable suggestions and voice of public opinion.

Gas by-laws, enacted for the protection of the householder, would be revamped this summer, as were the traffic by-laws in 1955. Building by-laws and zoning regulations would also come in for some study during 1956.

A tribute was paid to George Martin for his tireless work in connection with Civil Defence in town and in Vermilion River M.D.

SURPLUS OF $25,736

The big point in the financial statement was that a nice surplus of $25,736 was shown as a result of the year's operations. Total revenue from all sources reached the gigantic total of $203,021.01, with expenses reaching $177,284.99.

NEW HOSPITAL WING IN USE

Hospital board member Frank Welsh, who represents the town, surveyed the hospital situation quite thoroughly. The new wing and all facilities are now in use and a move is being made into the new administrative offices. An official opening is being planned and will take place possibly in April.

Future plans call for the supplying of an adequate nurses' residence. This can be achieved by the renovation of the original wing, at one time the complete hospital, but now but a small portion of it.

Hockey Chit-Chat

By GERRY MARSHALL

Well the curtains rang down on the Tiger hockey season Monday night when they dropped out of the play-offs by losing 11-6 to Wainwright. The loss let Viking enter the play-offs on the basis of their for and against goal average as Wainwright, Viking and Vermilion ended in a three-way tie. Thus for the first time in many a year the Vermilion Tigers are on the outside looking in.

But, don't blame the Tigers for the loss. It was simply a matter of not having enough players. In every game the Tigers skated onto the ice with only two lines and three defencemen ... often they could hardly ice this many. George Washington, the goalie, was plagued with injuries and often was under quite a handicap. No, no one can blame the local hockey players for a poor effort. They spotted every other team in the league a decided player advantage and still managed to tie two of them in points. The only thing wrong in Vermilion is the obvious fact that the town lacks hockey players. There are too few players being produced by our minor hockey leagues and thus the Tigers will have to continue to struggle along short-staffed.

LACK CONTINUOUS EFFORT

The local hockey set-up functions well until the young players approach juvenile age. Then, just when the fellows are learning the game and becoming intensely interested in it, they are cut loose to try and make hockey players of themselves. Oh yes, there are some who make the jump to the Tigers but too many don't, and then they fade out of the picture. But even so, the people expect a miracle when they look for the 16 and 17 year olds on the Tigers to beat the Dunnigans, Barracks, Bellerives and the like. Let's face it ... no other town expects this so they produce some young experienced players through the juvenile set up. Why then shouldn't Vermilion "get on the ball" and follow suit, thus supplying the Tigers with that much needed third line.

JUVENILES NEED SPONSOR

Surely you'd think in a town our size, some organization could come up and sponsor a club. The players are there for the asking and many of them would gladly pitch in and aid with the financing. All that is needed are some sweaters, sticks, pads, all of which can be bought on a small budget. Furthermore, if anyone is wondering about a coach, we could easily name some former hockey players who would be only too glad to take over the reins. But getting back to the problem of expenses, with proper backing the gate receipts of a good season could help defray any first year expenses. Therefore there seems little reason that the aforementioned ... [illegible] ... of Vermilion will soon be without Canada's National sport — hockey.

It's been cold this week, the coldest yet of the winter. But at time of going to press there was a promise of warmer temperatures to come soon. However the southeast wind of from 12 to 14 miles per hour made Thursday one of the most bitter days experienced so far.

Homework and Comics Are Subject of Lively Discussions At Dewberry Home and School Meeting

A meeting of the Dewberry Home and School Association was held in the Dewberry high school on Thursday, February 9th.

After the reading of the minutes and the Roll Call, there were two panel discussions which lasted for an hour and a half and gave rise to a great many arguments. The first discussion was on "Homework", the chairman being Mrs. Witmaney. Those speaking FOR Homework were Mr. Angus Smith, Miss Lily Krawchuk, and Mr. Cecil Grant; while those speaking AGAINST Homework were Mrs. William Helmsen, Mr. Lorne Braithwaite and Miss Deidre Woollett.

The second discussion was on "Comics", the chairman being Mrs. Woollett. Those speaking FOR Comics were Mr. John Anderson, Mrs. Purser, and Mr. Brian Braithwaite; while those who spoke AGAINST Comics were Mr. Ernie Marshall, Mrs. Elsie Braithwaite, and Miss Joyce Parker. Mr. Billy Bacalla, our local newsboy, gave a very well-tabulated list of the intake of comics among the local small fry. He later brought the house down by announcing that he liked comics and movies that "show lots of shootin', because it makes me learn that crime doesn't pay."

One of the interesting features of the discussions was that school students were represented on the panels, and gave very well-planned informative speeches. In the Homework panel, Mr. Lorne Braithwaite represented Grade 9, Miss Deidre Woollett Grade 11, and Miss Lily Krawchuk Grade 12. In the Comics panel, Mr. Brian Braithwaite represented Grade 12, and Miss Joyce Parker represented Grade 11. The outstanding humor of Mr. Cecil Grant and the gusty hilarity of Mr. John Anderson made one hope that there would be other opportunities for these panel discussions.

Mr. Mike Trach is currently spending a short period in the Elk Point hospital. We hope he has a speedy recovery.

A whist party was held in the home of Mr. Harry Glovitski. Mrs. Heinemann, Mrs. Stuparyk and Miss Cassie Stuparyk were the lucky ladies. Mr. Willie Osinchuk, Mr. Mike Osinchuk and Mr. Andy Melnyk were the gentlemen card sharks for the evening.

About one hundred people attended the Louise Lake social club meeting which was held in Louise Lake school on Friday, 10th. A short business meeting was held in which Parent-Teacher interviews were discussed and a vote was taken whether to carry them on or to send out report cards. The parents felt the interviews were better than a report card and voted to carry on with them. An amateur hour was held after the meeting. The next meeting will be held March 9th.

The amateur hour which was held after the Social Club's meeting brought out all the crooners and musicians in these hills. Those who did not compete in the amateur hour did show their stuff after the competition. This lengthened the show and gave some of the timid ones a chance to show what they could do.

In the 12 and under group there was a battle royal between Deanna Butz and Beverly Bensmiller, who tied for first. Both chose songs in a comey vein and both did a wonderful job on them. Deanna sang "Look What Followed Me Home Last Night". It must have been Ted Etherington, because he followed her up on stage. Beverly sang "That Crazy Mambo Thing". Sonia Glovitski rendered "Eat, Drink and Be Merry" to win third.

Yvonne Butz came through with a Kitty Wells number, "That's What Makes the Juke Box Play" to win first in the adult class. Mr Edward Lovell teamed up with Walter Glovitski to do a banjo number which he composed. Madoline Bensmiller placed third with "Just Call Me Lonesome."

There were only two pre-school children, so each won a prize. These went to Myrna Bensmiller and Jerry Butz. The following is a list of the others who took part in the program: Cassie Stuparyk, Barbara West, Darlene West, Rosie Zuk, Florence Nettleton and Albert Quikstad.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom F. Bensmiller would like to thank all their neighbors, friends and relatives for the surprise party they gave them on their 25th wedding anniversary. They would also like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Mat Kada for the beautiful kitchen clock.

The annual school board meeting will be held in Louise Lake school on Saturday, February 18th.

93 Snow Removal Units Clear Alberta Highways

Keeping Alberta's 3,300 miles of district highways and 5,400 miles of main and secondary highways free from snow during the winter months is a task that constantly faces the department of highways. Using modern equipment and employing the latest snow control techniques, the highway maintenance branch is constantly improving its ability to minimize the paralizing grip of winter storms.

Snow removal units, administered by district engineers at Lethbridge, Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton, St. Paul, Grande Prairie and Peace River, go to work when the snow storms occur and keep at it 24 hours a day until the roads are cleared.

Ninety-three units, which range from the heavy 10-ton four-wheel drive "V" plows to rotary snow blowers, are located at strategic points along the highway system are held in readiness to assist in snow removal in any part of the province should the necessity arise.

Rapid extremes of temperature during Alberta winters, which cause hazardous icing of roads have necessitated the use of sand spreaders to coat roads with a protective layer of sand. It has always been an established practice to spread sand on dangerous corners and hills. However, with the introduction of automatic sand spreading trucks in 1954, it is now possible to completely protect great stretches of highways. These large rotary spreaders, travelling at a rate of 15 to 30 miles per hour, are able to spread a fine layer of sand over the entire Calgary-Edmonton highway in the short space of 24 hours.

Board from Straw

Experiments over six years in the Prairie regional laboratories of the National Research Council will provide Saskatchewan with a new industry and some farmers with another source of income, reports the Financial Post.

Allied Securities Ltd. will start construction this spring at Saskatoon of a $2 million plant to manufacture building board from wheat straw. The venture follows work by N. R. C. on converting the virtually waste wheat straw into building material. It's claimed that the new product compares favorably with similar items made from wood pulp.

The plant will be in production by mid-winter 1956, and will turn out fibre and hardboard for sale on the prairie market, now in short supply of similar commercial products produced from wood pulp in eastern Canada and B. C.

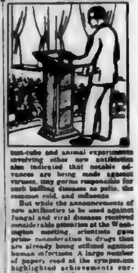
New Advances Against Unconquered Infections

In less than a half century, science has produced new drugs that can be used to prevent, treat, or cure most of the killing and crippling infectious diseases of mankind. Pneumonia, syphilis, and typhoid—to name but three that have taken millions of lives—can now be controlled.



The infectious diseases produced by the viral and fungal organisms, however, remain a challenge despite the increasing rate at which new and more effective drugs are being developed by the pharmaceutical industry. But even these hitherto invincible germs now appear to be losing ground in the face of science's intensive search for new therapeutic weapons.

The promising report of this search was disclosed at the Third Annual Antibiotic Symposium, recently held in Washington, D.C. The symposium, sponsored by the government and attended by scientists from many foreign countries as well as the United States, heard descriptions of more than a dozen new antibiotics scheduled to be tested in [illegible] against a variety of human diseases. Some of these diseases are presently regarded as incurable.

Several of the antibiotics were reported to have shown promise against infections caused by fungi, which are plantlike organisms that affect both the skin and internal organs. One antibiotic, derived from the Streptomyces family of molds, has produced good results against internal as well as external fungal diseases, the symposium was told. The drug was tested in mice infect... with moniliа yeast-like fungi that cause many different human diseases ranging from mild skin conditions to fatal infections of the heart, lungs, and other organs. The results warrant considering the drug a potentially valuable agent in human therapy, the experimenters reported.

Preliminary results obtained in test-tube and animal experiments involving other new antibiotics also indicated that notable advances are being made against viruses, tiny germs responsible for such baffling diseases as polio, the common cold, and influenza.

But while the announcements of new antibiotics to be used against fungal and viral diseases received considerable attention at the Washington meeting, scientists gave prime consideration to drugs that are already being utilized against human infections. A large number of papers read at the symposium highlighted achievements currently being made against scores of diseases with the potent new antibiotic, tetracycline. This drug, also known as Polycycline and Steclin, has proven particularly effective against wintertime diseases such as pneumonia and bronchitis.

Vermilion Tigers Out of Play-Offs

For the first time since the inclusion of more than four teams in the league, Vermilion Tigers will not be in the play-off this year. The Tigers ended up in a three-way tie for the fourth play-off berth, sharing it with Wainwright and Viking. Goal averages decide the winner in such cases and the Viking Gas Kings were tops of the three in this department.

The league ended up with Lloydminster on top of the heap, then Vegreville, St. Paul, and Viking.

Lloydminster now plays Viking, and Vegreville meets St. Paul in the best three of five semi-final series. Winners then play for the Craig cup and league championship. This is also a best of five series.

The semi finals were due to get underway Wednesday evening with games at Lloydminster and Vegreville.

More hockey news will be found in Gerry Marshall's column "Hockey Chit Chat" on page 2.

Game results over the week end were:

Saturday — Lloyd 9, Vermil 5. Veg 13, Wainwright 4. Viking won from St. Paul

Monday — Wainwright 11, Vermilion 6.

Kinsmen Express Appreciation

The Knights of Columbus made good their threat on Wednesday night when they whipped the Kinsmen 3 goals to one and proudly skated away with the coveted Is-A-Can trophy.

The Vermilion Kinsmen would like to extend a very sincere "thank you" to the general public who turned out in such great numbers, and to the Knights of Columbus who co-operated so willingly and so whole-heartedly in supporting this effort to promote midget hockey. In addition, appreciation is expressed to the following people and organizations: Mr. A. M. West, who did such a fine job of pinch-hitting for Prince Ali Khan; Mr. Gordon Williams and the rink committee, Russ Carroll, Gordon Park and Marshall Jackson, the referees; Tony Korpe, the photographer; the Reserve Army Pipe Band; the Tigers Hockey Club; and finally the Vermilion Standard for giving valuable space for write-ups that at times may have seemed rather light.

The Knights of Columbus will hold the trophy until next February at which time the two clubs will meet again. According to Kinsmen President Sam Selden a much improved Kinsmen team will avenge this year's most humiliating defeat.

Thanks once again to the citizens and organizations of Vermilion.

Knights of Columbus Win Is-A-Can Trophy

The Knights of Columbus upset the old dope bucket, or rather the Is-A-Can Trophy, when they belted down the Kinsmen in the annual set-to at the arena last Wednesday night. Words fail to adequately describe the event, the spilling and to and raging, the terrific shots floating through the air, the crashing body checks and surreptitious [illegible] that were to... glee so obviously ... of any one is just out.

The big surprise of the evening was the arrival of Prince Ali Can himself, who having heard of the big event while sojourning among the film stars in Hollywood, promptly took to the air to present the cup and to take a look at Vermilion. The appearance of Prince Ali on the ice [illegible] an immense number of [illegible] and half wheeze... but he, finally in between ... handed the cup to the captain of the Knights.

Ushering the players onto the ice was none other than the Legion Pipe Band. And it was the Legion Band, with a great fanfare of pipes and drums that heralded the arrival and appearance of the great Ali Can.

A very large crowd watched the game and the voluntary contribution at the gate amounted to the tidy sum of $113.60. This will be used to promote midget hockey in...

It is hoped and expected that one year from last Wednesday the Kinsmen and Knights will again meet in another epic contest.

YOUR LEGISLATURE AT WORK

By R. J. Whitson, M.L.A. Vermilion Constituency.

Galleries were crowded and space reserved on the floor of the house was full to capacity when Lieutenant-Governor J. J. Bowlen delivered the Speech from the Throne and officially opened the second session of the 13th legislature in the capital city on Thursday, 10th.

This formal opening, first since the election, was markedly different from those of the past several years in that the opposition side of the house is now much closer in numbers to the government side. Seated in the opposition are 15 Liberals, 2 C.C.F., 3 Progressive-Conservatives, one Coalition, one Independent, one Liberal-Progressive-Conservative and one Independent Social Credit, a total of 24, compared to 10 previous to the election. There are 37 Social Credit members.

The Speech from the Throne in which the government gives a general outline of the legislation it intends to bring down, promised expanded services to the agricultural industry, added flood control measures and an accelerated program for the control and eradication of diseases of livestock, as well as further encouragement to rural electrification development. A suggestion was made that measures would be introduced to increase the number of qualified teachers and that increased grants would be made for educational purposes.

The most important section of the speech indicated that increased municipal aid would be forthcoming by means of a corporation which would borrow money on the open market to be re-lent to municipal authorities.

This part of the speech drew detailed comment from J. Harper Prowse, Liberal leader and leader of the opposition in the house. Mr. Prowse assured Premier Manning that he need expect no opposition to the principle involved, since it was one which had been advocated by his party since 1948. He emphasized however, that "as the municipal organizations are the creations of the provincial government, and as the responsibilities for which they must borrow money have been delegated to them by the government, this government should not hesitate to give the corporation their unconditional guarantee as to both principal and interest to insure that we may finance our borrowings at the least possible cost to the taxpayers of Alberta."

He suggested setting up a group of efficiency experts to conduct a continuing survey of all departments of government, stating that some are badly in need of an overhaul and shaking up.

The Throne Speech was moved by J. C. Hillman, Social Credit, Sedgewick.

800 Attend A.C.T. Search For Talent Show At Mannville

More than eight hundred people attended the Second Search for Talent Show in the Mannville school auditorium on Saturday night. The Associated Canadian Travellers and C F R N Radio were very well pleased with the turnout and the response of the local people in aiding the Crippled Children of this province.

Due to the local high school going to the Ice Capades in Edmonton on Saturday afternoon there were not so many town entries this year but twenty-two entries were received and most of these will be heard over C F R N on Saturday of this week. The Myrnam Ranch Boys opened the program with two lively numbers. They were number 21. Following are the contestants according to their correct number for those still wishing to mail in their votes: 1. Ken Steinmaschuk, Mannville. 2. Lily Poliakewiski and June Metrunec, Mannville. 3. Mary and Iris Lakusta; 4. Edith Gadke. 5. Ray Petrowski and Orchestra of Innisfree; 6. Mary Bilyk; 7. Harry Steinmaschuk; 8. Lorne Miskiw. 9. Andy Zaharko, Derwent; 10. Elizabeth and Elsie Sywenky; 11. Jean Wright, Karen Nicholson and Claude Hinecker. 12. Francis Ducharme and Violet Atkinson. 13. George Stewart, Vermilion; 14. Alex Stewart, Vermilion; 15. Mary Stewart, Vermilion; 16. Gloria and June Weaver. 17. Marian and Anne Yasak. 18. John Sawiak and Jim Durie, Vegreville; 19. James Croft; 20. Ruth Gamble; 21. Myrnam Ranch Boys; 22. Peter Krynak, Vegreville. Unless otherwise designated, the entries were from Mannville and district. It was a varied program with piano solos and duets, violin solos, vocal solos, accordion and guitar selections, etc. John Sawiak and Jim Durie of Vegreville added a bit of novelty, playing their violins in various positions and ending by playing each other's violin. At the end of the program the standing in votes were as follows: Ruth Gamble, Harry Steinmaschuk, and Innisfree Orchestra (Ray Petrowski). Listen to CFRN on Saturday for the latest count.

The second part of the program by the A.C.T. entertainers was again, as last year, excellent. Mr. Jack Dennistoun, producer of the show, was welcomed back as was Miss Bobby Englund and Poochie. Newcomers this year were Mr. Tony Biamonte as Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Nick Van Der Meent virtuoso of the harmonica, Mr. Jack Oldfield, ventriloquist. Mr. Walter Melnyk was unable to come and Mr. Clifford, magician, took his place. Mr. Clifford is well known to Mannville audiences as his show played here on July 1st, 1954. He delighted the children with card tricks, using two boys from the audience to help him. And his impersonation of Ole, the Swede kept the audience in stitches. Mr. Van Der Meent was indeed a virtuoso of the harmonica. He played several sizes and types of harmonica, even proving to Mr. Dennistoun that he could play a harmonica behind his back. Miss Englund was at her usual best with the accordion, guitar accompanying herself. And Poochie this year played her own small piano, did a few acrobatic tricks and made her exit in a small car. To the children it wouldn't be a good show without Poochie. The youngsters were also thrilled with "Joe" and "Gerry", friends of Mr. Jack Oldfield, ventriloquist. Mr. Tony Biamonte, besides doing an excellent job of emceeing the show, delighted the audience by singing in English and Italian. Jack Dennistoun again gave a vivid description of the dial twister, and with Mr. Biamonte kept the show going at a good pace.

Mr. Bill Fisher introduced the travellers who came with the show to look after the details. So many of the travellers and their wives travel to each point and look after setting things up, taking care of the tickets, counting and collecting the votes and the hundred and one things that are necessary in putting on such a show. We were very pleased to welcome the A.C.T. show to Mannville this year and hope they will return again in 1957.

A BARBER'S POWER

When it comes to building a satisfactory life, I think my barber could teach most men a lesson. One guiding principle to which he adheres constantly, has brought him numerous blessings.

When he bought his first shop, in a small Manitoba town, he was not in town. He knew from experience that a barbershop can be a point of harmony or a centre of discord. He had to be neutral in politics and religion and that has also would try for harmony and avoid the opposite.

It wasn't easy. He opened shop on a Saturday night and was immediately busy. An extremely frugal farmer came in and had his hair cut. When the farmer left the shop, a customer said, "Did you see the pained look on old Joe's face when he paid up?"

It would have been easy for the barber to join the laughter and add to it. Instead he said, "Well, he paid you. I've never left a bill unpaid anywhere in this town. Bet he don't owe a nickel to any one of you." The farmer never heard any case where Joe was a deadbeat he always paid his share.

Customers came to learn that if any barber in their hair they could be walk out of his shop afterwards and know for sure that there would be nothing derogatory said about them the moment they closed the door. They knew that if anyone started throwing sarcastic remarks around the barber would quietly set them right.

My barber is a good barber he is also a good man. He has done well. He has succeeded financially, and he is happier than most men. I should have served all this. What do you think?

William Courtenay Speaks on 'Far East' At Canadian Club

On Monday evening, February 13, at the Junior high school, the Canadian Club members listened to an address on "The Far Eastern Countries" given by William Courtenay, [illegible] M.M. Mr. Courtenay has spent considerable time in the Far East, in Japan, Korea and in the south of Asia in Indo-China and Malaya.

The speaker recalled to his audience that at the cessation of World War II in the Pacific theatre, the Americans and British demobilized their forces as speedily as possible. But Russia, who had entered the war against Japan at the last possible moment to be considered an ally, had retained her armed forces in strength on the Asian frontier.

While the Western countries were in a weakened condition in this area Russia was ready to take advantage of the situation and move in from several directions.

Malaya was a desirable territory for its rich natural resources in such things as rubber, tin and quinine. And Japan was susceptible to invasion from the north into Hokkaido, and from the west by way of Korea. The northern attack was forestalled by a few American forces, and by home defence forces encouraged by the occupation policy of General McArthur. Also the Russians deemed it advisable to come south through Korea and start that part of the invasion first. However, the U.N. decision to prevent an advance into South Korea, which resulted in the Korean war, had the effect of stopping the Russians from carrying out their plans to enter Japan.

Japan has been encouraged to stand on her own feet, and thus be able to protect herself against Communism without being entirely dependent on the Western countries. To that end an army has been organized, and Japan is to have an air force of 27 squadrons of fighters by 1960.

America's [illegible] in Formosa is strategic, not political, declared Mr. Courtenay. With Chiang Kai-Shek in possession of Formosa it is an [illegible]

Hawaiian Goose Faces Extinction

Believed to number fewer than 50, the Hawaiian Goose is another species of waterfowl faced with almost certain extinction. One of the most colorful of geese and his habitat one of the most unusual. He lives on old lava flows on the slopes of volcanic peaks, where the only water is that of small and temporary pools. Thought to have originated with the Canada Geese which regularly visit Hawaiian Islands, the [illegible]

One of the most courageous and irritable of western waterfowl is the Western Grebe. This long-necked character has a bill to match its neck and an excellent set of claws. Bitterly resentful of handling by humans, the big Grebe can severely gouge with bill and feet.

Many Events Planned For Ladies At Varsity Guest Week End

Preparations are in full swing for this year's Varsity Guest Weekend, to be held February 24th to 26th at the University of Alberta. Senior high school students and parents of university students will be especially interested in the work produced by various faculties, and exhibited in colorful and informative displays. Other features of the weekend include teas, musical concerts, guided tours of the campus buildings, variety shows, church services, color films and stage productions. Greater student participation is expected to make the weekend this year one of the most successful to date.

A special opening tea on Friday, February 24th will officially open the Weekend's program, with Mayor Hawrelak of Edmonton, Lieutenant-Governor J. J. Bowlen, Premier Manning, Dr. Andrew Stewart and University Chancellor E. P. Scarlett of Calgary, in attendance.

Studio Theatre, noted for its excellent performances in the past, will entertain visitors with its production of James Thurber's "The Male Animal". In a lighter vein, Varsity Varieties will feature an all-student cast with a series of acts on an international theme. This show will take place in Convocation Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, that is, February 23, 24 and 25th.

Former students of the University may wish to renew acquaintances at the annual Alumni Ball, to be held at the Macdonald Hotel on Friday night, and this year honoring the class of 1931. The Department of Fine Arts, in co-operation with Professor Norman Yates, will design the decorations for the ball.

Saturday's activities will be highlighted by displays of the various faculties, indicating the type of work carried on by students through the year. Perhaps of greatest interest to our female audience will be the Household Economics display where new notes and ideas in cooking and sewing will be viewed. Student guides and a special bus service will be in operation between the main campus, the Education Building and the University Farm, in order that guests will have an opportunity for convenient transportation to all displays.

Music lovers will have an opportunity to listen to the University Mixed Chorus, University Symphony and Musical Club concerts on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Many of our listeners will have been entertained by the well-known Mixed Chorus on the occasion of their spring tours.

Many other items of interest, such as the World University Service display of oriental handicrafts, will greet those who accept this open invitation to be the guests of the University of Alberta at this year's edition of Varsity Guest Weekend.

Principal N. N. Bentley Is Guest Speaker

Possibility Of Boy Scout Troop Discussed At Buffalo Coulee H. & S.

The Buffalo Coulee Home and School Association held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, February 8th in the new auditorium at the school.

Wilson Brooks, president, was the chairman at a short business meeting. There was some discussion of the projected plans for forming a boys' club and a girls' club. Alf Green, chairman of a committee formed to investigate the possibilities of a Boy Scout troop for the Buffalo Coulee district, reported that although it seemed unusual to have a strictly rural boy scout organization, Gordon Ross, Boy Scout commissioner, thought it possible, and offered his services in starting such a [illegible]

Mrs. Alex Stone, chairman of the committee investigating the possibilities for a girls' group, reported that she had received some literature outlining the work of the Girl Guides, and she also suggested that a C.G.I.T. group was another possibility. The matter of 4-H clubs [illegible]. It was decided to call a meeting of the teen age girls and their mothers, and perhaps it would be possible to learn at that time just what the girls would like, and what the parents would find feasible.

Mr Brooks introduced the speaker of the evening, N. N. Bentley, principal of the School of Agriculture. Mr Bentley showed a series of pictures on the screen of beauty spots taken in the summer time right around Vermilion and district. He pointed out that the trees, shrubs and flower beds, for the main part, were of common varieties that could be easily obtained and would prosper in this environment. He mentioned that farmsteads and school grounds could be beautified with plants that are hardy and suited to this climate.

Mr. Bentley also spoke of the opportunities in education that were available at the School of Agriculture. One point that he brought out, was that high school students who had the compulsory high school subjects, but lacked the total credits necessary for taking University entrance, could make up the extra credits by taking the course offered at the School of Agriculture.

Mr. Brooks thanked the speaker on behalf of the Association.

Lunch was served by the members of the Home and School Association.

Health Unit Notes

THUMB SUCKING

Sucking is one of the first things your baby does. It's natural. It's satisfying. He gets his food that way and thus it is one of his very first experiences of pleasure. When, early in life, he begins to move his hands about, they find his mouth sooner or later. A finger or thumb touches his lips and he begins to suck it. Since sucking gives him a pleasant sensation, he'll want to do it again. In this simple, natural fashion, the habit of thumb sucking begins. But as your baby gets older he gets other satisfactions and you can expect him to spend less and less time at his first pleasures, of which sucking is one. The sucking instinct is strongest in his first six months, usually tapering off gradually from then on.

IT BECOMES A SUBSTITUTE

If your baby is not getting enough of the satisfactions he needs, he may cling to the thumb sucking habit even after he has passed through the infancy stage. This is how the habit sticks and grows with the child. You are now faced with the problem of stopping it.

There is no ready-made answer, no simple solution to stop thumb sucking in the child, because any one or more of a variety of causes may be to blame.

If he isn't getting enough of the right kind of food to satisfy him, his hunger may drive him to thumb sucking. Perhaps he is tired, not getting enough rest, and filling in this lack of satisfaction by sucking his thumb. Good sleeping habits can be taught. See that he has a quiet place, cool and darkened, in which to sleep; pleasant thoughts to go to sleep on, a small book or toy to hold in his hand. He should have enough opportunities during his waking hours to get about and do things so that at the end of his day he is healthily tired. Frequently a parent will keep a child too quiet for his growing needs. Quite early he should have time for stretching and turning for a change of scene, for leaving his carriage or bed to move on the floor or in a play pen.

Boredom can drive your child back to his early pleasurable pastime of thumb sucking. If you restrict him too much in his activities with your "Don'ts" or scold him continually, he always has his old comfort to which to return.

HE NEEDS YOUR INTEREST

From early days he needs toys to look at, later to hold. He needs you to talk to him, love him, share his fun in listening to the rattle, watching the light on the wall, the trees moving in the wind, the way he pushes with his feet and raises himself up. Your companionship in such things will help him to grow out of his earlier pleasures, including thumb sucking. As he grows, he will want places to play, children to play with, and play materials that will encourage a wide variety of activities. Little children need a wide variety of play things: paper, blunt scissors, modelling clay, blocks, paint, brushes, a doll, a wagon, all sorts of simple things like string, painted cans, old kitchen utensils. Life without these is sure to be unsatisfying. He may stand or sit around sucking his thumb.

All the time that he is growing and learning so much he should be feeling above all that he belongs to you because you love him so much that you want him around and are proud of the things he does. Nothing can give him deeper or more lasting satisfaction than this. But if you nag, choke off his natural curiosity, curb unnecessarily his efforts to learn by exploring, shout at him when you're angry or tired, then you are encouraging such a habit as thumb sucking.

It is important to remember that any small child is apt to suck his thumb at times. If he does it only when falling asleep or even for short periods sometimes when awake, there is little cause for concern. But if it becomes a very frequent practice in a child of over one year you can be sure that something's wrong in his world.

It occurs very rarely that the thumb sucking habit is carried to such an extreme that the thumb gets sore, or the shape of the mouth is affected.

Avoid mechanical remedies. Seek the cause of your child's dissatisfaction that is to blame for the habit. Remember that as your child grows, he needs new and different interests. He will discard early habits once they've stopped serving their original purpose. If your child has plenty of opportunity to do things, if he has a happy and interesting home life—then, he isn't likely to go back for long to a baby's way of getting pleasure.

THE SOIL BANK

A Proposal To Curb Wheat Surpluses

The "soil bank" proposal put forward by some farm leaders in Western Canada recently as a possible means of curtailing the production of wheat and building up the soil until such a time as the land might again be needed for grain production, has received little encouragement in Ottawa. Whatever the merits of the plan—and it has not a few supporters in the west—it is apparently the opinion of those who formulate policy that Western Canada should continue to support at least 20 million acres of wheat (roughly the 1955 acreage) and that there would be a danger of eventually placing wheat in a deficit position if a proposal of this kind were adopted. Better, it is stated to have surplus wheat than not enough to supply our export markets.

Possibly the stand taken is a sound one. There is no assurance, however, that the wheat acreage, abnormally small in 1955 because of the late and backward spring, will remain at the same level. The figure could, in fact, easily revert to somewhere in the neighborhood of 24 million acres, the average for the five year period, 1950 to 1954. Moreover, many observers feel that our wheat problem is likely to be a continuing one for which some long-term solution must be found and eventually some means may have to be devised to encourage a shift in the production pattern, in those areas which are best able to diversify.

Again, while the odds are that Western Canada will again experience some "off" years which could change the supply picture, even if she does, it seems reasonable to expect that, because of the many advances in agriculture during the past 10 to 15 years, yields, even under adverse conditions, will be on a somewhat higher level than formerly. Nor, as we have seen during the past few years, does it pay to count too heavily upon Nature to [illegible] between supply and demand. Whether the wheat surplus problem will be solved in a natural way, therefore, or whether some man-made plan such as the "soil bank" will have to be resorted to, [illegible]

NEWS from ISLAY

ISLAY 6 - DEWBERRY 3

The Junior hockey boys played a return game at Dewberry recently. The ice was in excellent condition the boys say and the game was really enjoyed. Result was 6 to 3 in favor of Islay.

All are now preparing for the carnival. The 4-H boys are making a float. Ken Gunn stayed in town Tuesday night to help with it. The gowns for the Princesses are being made at the school and fever is running high in the race for the Queen.

The sub-division No. 4 annual meeting of the Vermilion S.D. was held Saturday in Woodvale school with a record attendance. Opinions were [illegible] learned that the dormitories at Kitscoty are not closing. In fact, some would like to see more opened and seem to be quite popular with those who have children in residence.

Saw Mr Anson, Mr. H. Simmons in town. Both are standing the winter well.

HOME AND SCHOOL HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

The Home and School Association met Monday night with a good attendance. It was suggested sending a delegate to the convention and this is to be decided at the next meeting. The film "Meeting Youth" was a good one, and the questions put to the audience after were interesting. It seemed as if each was waiting for the other to answer or give their views. Though there was some discussion and quite good. The Home and School papers were sold too. A nice lunch was served, coffee was excellent Jean, thanks. Keep in mind the second Monday of the month.

Miss Catherine McEachern is home this week as Mr. McEachern was taken ill suddenly and rushed to hospital. We are happy to say he is much improved.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Jack Miller one time resident here, is quite ill in hospital in Edmonton.

Mrs. Jack Carey, Marie and Norman were in Edmonton last week. Mrs. Carey remained a few days.

Noticed Mr Graham Skinner in town Tuesday, also Ulva McFadyen, Mr Jim Barnett Sr., Bill McGuigan, Bill Purves and so was Mrs. Purves, Jack McNeely, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Anson and Iris, and still going strong is Omar Easton doing his good deeds with his electric shaver.

A Ramble Through West Suffolk, England

By ALFRED W. SCOTT
Claysmore District.

In England last year for a holiday, my two brothers and I left my sister's early one morning in August for a ramble around places we were familiar with from our birth to our late teens in West Suffolk. The first place of interest was Pentland where an eccentric, or he might have been an amateur astronomer, built a large house in a spacious area, which he surrounded with a very high wall, made of brick to prevent anyone from looking in, and he built a very high tower so he could look out. The tower was used in the last war for observation purposes.

The next stop was at the parish of Barley. We visited the church, signed the visitors' book, walked up the aisle where we were very much interested in a small mahogany cabinet on a table with a lot of flowers around it. We later learned the cabinet contained the ashes of someone cremated, and buried that day. Barley has been in the world news for a number of years now, as the place where the ghost of a nun appears at times. Also a carriage and pair arrive at the church door with a bridal couple and then disappear into the clouds. The rectory has been burned down by a mysterious fire two or three times during the last 200 years. Although we walked around the site of the rectory, also around the church, we didn't get a glimpse of the ghost.

The next stop was at Long Melford, with only one street, over a mile in length. Our road came out of an avenue of trees on to a green facing Melford Hall which was built several hundred years ago. It is surrounded by a moat.

The late King Edward the Seventh and Queen Alexandra spent part of their honeymoon here. Also close to the green stands the church, one of the finest in England. The interior is especially lovely. I was first in it in 19[illegible] when I was best man at a friend's wedding. Close by is Kentwell Hall, another historic place.

A stop was made at Lavenham where we visited the church which stands on rising ground dominating the town. The walls of the church are very thick and faced with split flints in beautiful designs. The tower is 132 feet high. It has no battlements, as it was never completed, the reason - a mason was killed by falling from the top. He was buried where he fell. We saw his grave. There is a lovely peal of ten bells in the tower which I have heard ringing on a frosty winter's evening many times in my youth.

Ringing of bells is becoming a lost art in England, apparently, from what I gathered, as very little ringing is done now. Sixty or seventy years ago there was always a waiting list of young men and women as pupils. I suppose that radio and TV, the cinema are the attractions now.

Lavenham had a very flourishing wool business also hand weaving at one time, when I was a boy. I used to deliver firewood around and almost every house had a loom. Weaving is still carried on, in and around the district. Part of the Queen's Coronation robes were woven close by. It was also the birthplace and home of the authoress who wrote "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star".

We passed on to the adjoining parish, to the Horse and Manger Inn, on the London Turnpike a stopping place for the coach before the age of railways. My father's four oldest brothers left here by coach for London at intervals. The whole neighborhood turned out to see them off, firmly believing they would never see them again. The distance was 70 miles.

We next went on to Coldham Hall, a large mansion which has been standing there for several centuries. A Lord Rokerwood lived there at one time and was one of the leading conspirators in a plot to blow up the Houses of Parliament, generally known as the Gunpowder Plot or Guy Fawkes' Day.

We stopped at Bury St Edmunds a very old city, noting many of the changes that have taken place during the last fifty years since we were last there. But all the places of interest were still the same, where they have been standing for hundreds of years.

Our first visit was to Moyse's Hall which has walls four feet in thickness. In my boyhood it was used as a police station, now it is a museum where we saw relics of a bygone age. Stone coffins, vases all kinds of pottery, jewelry, coins, tools, some of these things are over 100,000 years old, others of a more modern age. The harness of a four horse team, lavishly decorated with all the metal of solid silver was there. It was donated by the Marquis of Bristol. I have seen them when a boy, as the team was hitched to a coach. We saw a sedan chair, the last used in England to convey a lady to a ball, and ladies' costumes as worn during the last two hundred years.

There was a gibbet dug up in a nearby village when constructing an air field during the last war. It contained the skeleton of its last victim. Also other gruesome objects, the tanned scalp and a book bound with skin, of the notorious Red Barn murderer, Corder. His skeleton is in the city hospital.

Next was the Angel hotel. Dickens' Pickwick papers portrayed this hotel. Opposite the hotel, across the large open space "The Angel Hill" once used as a fairground for hundreds of years up to about 1870. We then passed through the Abbey Gate. Looking up we saw the machinery for raising and lowering the portcullis which is still in place. We entered the Abbey grounds, now maintained as a pleasure park with beautiful lawns and flower gardens. A gala used to be held in these grounds once a year up to about 1910. I saw my first balloon ascent from these grounds in 1896. Here we saw the Baron's stone, marking the spot where the Barons met to frame the Magna Carta, later presented to King John at Runnymede in the Thames Valley for him to sign. The ruins of the Abbey are much in evidence. This Abbey, before the Reformation, was one of the largest and most wealthy in England. One gets an idea of its size by a study of its ruins. The cathedral must have been magnificent, judging by the foundations and also by part of the high altar which still stands. What a peep into the past of nearly 2000 years ago!

Bury St. Edmunds was a walled city — parts of the wall still standing. It derives its name from the martyrdom of St. Edmund who was buried in the city nearby. We visited St. James church, or rather St. Edmundsbury Cathedral. A beautiful building quite close by is the Norman Tower of Keep, the best preserved in England. It [illegible] a peal of ten bells.

Close by is the Church of St. Mary's, the largest church in England. I have heard the tower as a peal of ten bells. The tenor bell weighs two [illegible]. Inside of the [illegible] is the [illegible] of Mary Tudor, Henry the Seventh's sister. He married her to the King of France after whose death she returned to England and Henry consented to her marriage to Charles Brondon on condition she never appear at his court again. History records that she spent the rest of her life in Suffolk. Charles Brandon was subsequently created Duke of Suffolk. His suit of armor can be seen in the Tower of London. It weighs a little over 100 pounds.

We saw the monument erected to the memory of Quida, the authoress who lived in the city for a long time. One of her well known works is "Under Two Flags".

Passing down the Southgate Street we came to all that is left standing of the county gaol, a wall and a main gate. This is the only gaol I ever was in. I can just remember an uncle of mine who was a butcher, taking me in as he delivered meat, telling me when I grew up I could say I had been in prison! That was eighty years ago. A few years ago it was demolished. Here Margaret Catchpole, who was born close to my home, was imprisoned for horse stealing, while awaiting trial. She was sentenced to death, later commuted to imprisonment, she escaped and was again arrested, tried and sentenced to death which sentence was again commuted to deportation for life to Australia. The life of Margaret Catchpole can be obtained from some libraries, written by Rev. Gobbold. Here also I believe the last person was hung publicly. A man by the name of Carnt. My grandmother, who with thousands of others, witnessed the execution, had told me about it. Close to the city is the Marquis of Bristol home, Ickworth Building, started some hundreds of years ago. It is still being added to. The central part of the building, which is a fishpond, is circular in shape with a dome on top, the height is over 100 feet. It stands in a very large park 13 miles in circumference I have been around the building but never inside. Hardwicke House also stands in a beautiful park. The house and attached buildings extended a quarter of a mile. A yearly temperance fete was held in the grounds annually on the first Monday in August for a number of years. Here I saw oranges and lemons growing, for the first time. One of the great attractions in the park was a herd of old English cattle, pure white with red ears and muzzles, one of the three herds in the whole of England. For some reason thirty years ago the owner decided to cease living there and pulled it down piecemeal, and sold it by auction. The auction continued for several weeks. Over 20 tons of sheet lead alone was sold. The building contained a large library of very rare works which was given to the city where it can now be seen, also some wonderful works of art, which the family collected over the years from all parts of the world.

We passed along [illegible] miles to Rushbrooke Hall [illegible] years ago. It is in good shape, surrounded by a moat which is still wet and has a drawbridge. It has 365 windows. When we were boys it was owned by a family with the name of Rushbrooke. It was a treat for us to go there once a year when a race meeting was held in May. One very peculiar thing about the Hall was a public footpath that went right through the hall. The Hall has passed to several different owners the last half century. I believe the present owner is one of the Rothschilds who had offered it for sale for a few dollars but apparently there were no takers. The last time it was used, was during the war as a convalescent home for soldiers. It had been fitted up with electricity, bathrooms and all the modern conveniences. When we visited it all these had been torn out recklessly, parts laid about everywhere broken, and a wall knocked down — a general wreck. In the large entrance hall farm implements were lying about, and bags of fertilizer. The floor of the huge ballroom which was made of oak boards of two inch thickness, was warping owing to the roof leaking. The kitchen garden, the flower garden, were overrun with weeds and brambles. It seemed almost incredible that a place that had been kept in such perfect shape for hundreds of years should be in utter ruin in so few years. Even to us it had a most depressing effect. We remarked that if there was a ghost (all places of this kind are supposed to have one, which is a belief in England even today) they or it would feel very lonely. The one redeeming feature was that the park had been broken up and had a fine crop of grain growing thereon.

The next place of interest to visit close by was "Haizill Hill", a place which apparently was a burial ground about 100 years ago. The owner thought it would make a good stable for his horses so he excavated a place into the heart of the hill. In the course of this he found some stone coffins containing remains of skeletons. They all contained coins about where their head would be, the assumption being that the money was to be used by the deceased to pay Peter at the gate "Peter Pence". I have seen some of the coins. As there are scarcely any horses used there now the hill is overrun with bush.

Our next stop was in the parish where we were born. Both the houses where we commenced life and lived for several years have been torn down, one for over 50 years, and the sites overrun with weeds. We met several of our school chums of the 1870-80's and had a chat with them. One lady in particular, who with her husband, was living in the house in which she was born, after wandering about England for years. She was 80 years old, had been married 58 years and her hair was just as black as it was when I knew her as a girl; an interval of nearly 70 years had elapsed since I had last seen her. In an adjoining parish we passed a common green where we played cricket in the 1880's, also the rectory where R. L. Stevenson lived with his cousin for some time when he was a boy.

We arrived at our nephew's in time for supper after which we were entertained by another nephew relating episodes of his life in India where he lived for seven years. We finally reached home at our sister's at midnight, tired and glad to get to bed.

A True Experience With A Buck

By H C F

If there is a field of young green oats or tender tame hay, and the deer get to know of it, they will come every evening at about dusk to feed and strange as it may seem, each deer has his or her own pet spot, or vantage point to do his or her feeding at.

Now I knew that this old buck was coming into father's back meadow, and I also knew just about where he fed. As several had tried to shoot him, I knew I would have to be foxy to get a close-up of him, so I went early and settled down into the grass with a book, and waited. Around 6:30 a doe and her two fawns came and how those little things did play! But at all times the mother deer seemed to be very nervous although I don't think she even suspected me, but no lambs or little calves ever frolicked like those fawns, and I thoroughly enjoyed their fun for about two hours. When suddenly, the doe whistled a warning, and all three streaked for shelter. I immediately alerted for what caused them to go in such a hurry?

Then I saw the cause of their alarm. The old buck standing like a statue at the edge of the clearing, looking in, about two hundred yards distant, not a move for a good five minutes, and then he came at a steady lope to within 40 or 50 feet of where I lay, and started to feed. His antlers were full ten prongs with perfect balance, thicker than a man's wrist for they were still in the velvet. I moved to ease the tension and he heard me but did not catch the motion, so he whistled! Nothing happened, but I think by this time he had seen me but in the gathering dusk was not sure, so he circled at about 40 feet distance and all the time was stamping his forefeet and whistling. Then a turn about the field, jumping and blowing, and back again, this time a bit closer and the same antics all over again, about the field. How I would have liked a movie of that game! Now he was back again, this time he came directly towards me, stamping and whistling all the time until he was within eight or ten feet of where I lay. By this time I thought it wise to get acquainted, so I rose to my feet. My friend stood transfixed for a full second and then streaked away from me for about one hundred yards, stopped, looked back and when nothing more happened he gave me the entertainment of my life for about fifteen minutes, treating me to every antic I think that a deer could think of, and whistling all the time. By this time it was getting quite dark so I walked home. When I started to move away my buck left the field at the exact spot he entered.

LETTER FROM THE CAPITOL

Pomp And Splendor Mark The Opening Of Alberta Legislature

EDMONTON—The second session of the 13th Alberta legislature opened in the capital city last week amid the traditional pomp and splendor of ceremonies dating back to the beginnings of the British parliamentary system.

Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen, lieutenant-governor, arrived to open the session as a 15-gun salute boomed across the river valley. While a military band played, he walked through the vaulted main rotunda and into the chamber where he read the speech from the Throne officially opening the session.

Some 450 invited guests - the men in dark suits and the women in semi-formal gowns - watched the ceremonies from special seats on the floor of the house, and later attended a tea given by Mrs. E. C. Manning and the wives of the cabinet ministers.

More Aid to Municipalities Forecast

As usual, the Throne Speech gave only a vague outline of legislation the government proposes to introduce. But it also confirmed earlier suggestions that the Social Credit administration has decided to devote more attention to the financial plight of the municipalities. The highlight of the speech was the forecast of more aid to towns, cities, villages, municipal districts and counties.

The major step will be the establishment of a proposed corporation which would take over most of the task of municipal financing. At the outset, according to officials, it would borrow as much as $30,000,000 on the open market and re-lend it to municipalities.

Survey Provincial-Municipal Financial Relations

The government also promises a "comprehensive survey" of provincial-municipal financial relations, which could result in new sources of revenue for local governments.

According to plans, the corporation's first job will be to revise the difference between the amount the government can lend to municipalities in the coming year and the amount the municipalities will need to finance their capital programs.

Replenish Fund

It is expected the legislature will be asked to replenish the municipal revolving fund to the tune of around $43,000,000 which is about all the government has left in cash on hand to lend out. The proposed corporation will have to raise the remainder of the estimated $73,000,000 municipalities will want to borrow.

The government-sponsored corporation will guarantee principal and interest of the money it borrows and thereby gain a saving of one half to three quarters of one per cent in interest rates.

It will have other wide powers to raise money, including the issue of short-term bonds for sale to the public.

Another Royal Commission ?

The government had no sooner announced its intention to survey provincial - municipal fiscal arrangements, than the Liberal members of the house got into the act by letting word leak out that they are considering a motion along the same lines. They are considering a motion asking the government to establish a royal commission to investigate distribution of responsibilities and revenues between the two levels of government.

The government didn't say how it plans to survey the field, and there has been no indication whether it will favor a royal commission. However, the Throne Speech said the intention is to revamp the existing tax structure and establish a "more satisfactory allocation of responsibilities and sources of revenue."

On the second day of the session the reply to the Throne Speech was moved by J. C. Hillman (SC—Sedgewick) and seconded by Dr. J. D. Ross (SC - Edmonton). Both dealt with the current grain surplus difficulties facing prairie farmers. While they agreed some individual farmers have problems, they saw surpluses as more of a blessing, saying they may be vitally needed at some future date.

OF INTEREST TO RURAL M. D. s

Another piece of legislation of interest to rural municipalities is anticipated during the session. It will give municipal districts taxing powers to raise money for weather modification rain-making and hail suppression. Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of municipal affairs, says the legislation has been requested by MD's and farm groups, and he sees no reason why it shouldn't be granted.

A highlight of the opening day ceremony was the presentation of a new $3,000.00 gold and silver mace to the legislature. It was presented by the Civil Service Association of Alberta, marking Alberta's 50th anniversary as a province last year. Hon. Peter Dawson (SC—Little Bow) Speaker of the assembly, accepted the mace, which is the legislature's symbol of authority and its link with the crown.

The elaborate new mace, hand engraved by master craftsmen in England, replaced a 'temporary' one of wood, metal and gold paint which had been in use since Alberta became a province in 1905.

RIOT OF COLOR

The Legislative Building was a riot of color for the opening. Smartly uniformed men of the PPCLI formed the guard of honor in the flower-banked rotunda, and a red plush carpet led up the main staircase where the governor walked with his aides. The new decorative scheme of the rich cathedral tones under the impressive dome was finished the day before the opening.

Manitoban Wins National 4-H Essay Competition

Miss Margaret Jelfs Manitoba and John Hickie, Saskatchewan, stood first and second in the annual national 4H essay competition sponsored by the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs and open to the 118 provincial winners who attended the 1955 National 4H Club Week. The contestants wrote about their impressions of the trip. Books will be awarded by the Council as prizes.

Miss Jelfs is 18 and lives on a 320 acre farm. She has completed seven years in 4H and plans to become a teacher. John Hickie, 20, has been in 4H for six years and is presently enrolled in the Diploma course of the University of Saskatchewan. His home farm consists of 1,340 acres, 600 of which are under cultivation.

The competition judges were three members of the staff of the Canada Department of Agriculture in Ottawa: E. F. Pineau, Production Service; C. H. Hodge, Information Service; and L. H. McMillen, Marketing Service.

The following is a list of the top ranking essays, followed by those submitted by Miss Jelfs and John Hickie: 1. Margaret Jelfs, Foxwarren, Manitoba; 2. John Hickie, Waldron, Saskatchewan; 3. Mary Smith, Markerville, Alberta; 4. Marlene Robinson, Harvey Station, N.B.; 5. Marie Johannson, Markerville, Alberta; 6. Donalda Sanford, Westville, N.S.; 7. Don Waddell, Holland, Manitoba; 8. Iola Block, Shellbrook, Saskatchewan; 9. Claire Anne Gardner, Miller, Alberta; 10. R. A. Nicholson, Firdale, Manitoba.

Northern Canada is potentially one of the greatest mining areas of the world. Mines in Yellowknife work some of the richest gold ore in Canada, and the NWT may become one of the richest oil fields in the world.

HOW TO GROW HAIR TO BE EXPLAINED BY EXPERT

Internationally Known Trichologist To Hold Clinic in Vermilion

. . . Offers Written Guarantee . . .

(By Jack MacDonald)

TORONTO, Ont. (Special)—"When in the world will people realize that there is no need for baldness", says B. Gagnon, Director of the Dominion Hair and Scalp Institute of Canada, in an exclusive interview today. The trichologist told of many instances of successful treatment of loss of hair and emphatically states that the fear of baldness can be banished for good.

The trichologist further explained: "No man need be bald or look prematurely aged because he is losing his hair. This stigma of baldness need not affect his business and personal life. Science has shown that with correct treatment you can prevent baldness, turn colorless fuzz into healthy growing hair and look youthful again."

CLINIC TO BE HELD AT THE BRUNSWICK HOTEL NEXT WEEK

You are invited to see this modern method of home treatment for the hair demonstrated at a free clinic to be held between 1:00 and 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 23rd. B. Gagnon, Trichologist, will outline how this treatment achieves healthy growth. Each interview is private—there is no cost or obligation for advice given.

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this internationally known authority. "If a scalp is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness, hair simply cannot grow. The scalp that is exercised will produce healthy hair and hair and scalp hygiene should be taught to children. If this were the case baldness would be a rarity today."

HEREDITY ALONE IS NOT THE CAUSE OF BALDNESS

"The belief that baldness is hereditary is not founded on facts. Science has proven it false. No one need be bald because baldness runs in the family but it is true that some families tend to have unhealthy scalps."

The purpose of the Dominion Hair and Scalp experts is to teach the correct way to strengthen and nourish the weak scalp into a healthy vigorous condition. At each private examination a hair and scalp analysis, together with a diagnosis of the disorder is made. If there is any fuzz at all they can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended. Should there be cases where baldness is beyond help, these experts frankly tell the person the truth. All those accepted for treatment must be satisfied. If they are not delighted with the results at the end of sixty days any money which has been invested in the treatment will be gladly refunded.

If you are worried about your hair call at the Brunswick Hotel between the hours of 1:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 23rd. The public is invited. Free examinations are private and the clinic is open to both men and women.

To Arrange A Special Appointment

For your convenience we will be pleased to reserve a special time for you. Just complete this slip and mail it to the Hotel Brunswick.

NATIONAL HEALTH PLAN

"My goodness, you're surely not going to oppose a national health plan? You'll lose all your readers! Why on earth do you write against things like health?"

How do you answer a letter like that? I've tried a dozen approaches. "Dear lady I do not oppose things like health. I am all for good health. But I DO oppose this new national health plan because I am sure that more people could have more health for less money."

I have a friend who, last year, put off buying a new car so he could pay the bill for a heavy siege of hospital expenses incurred by his family. In his case, since he was not a millionaire, he was able to get by with the old car for one more season. The hospital and medical bills really hurt, but he valued the health of his family, and he paid them.

But he knew another family in the same town, who also incurred hospital bills. They also bought a TV set and they have their case of beer every week-end, and many other luxuries. They didn't pay their doctor. Furthermore, the family needs dental care, and won't get it. They would rather spend $400 on a TV set than pay $200 for a set of teeth.

There will be thousands of instances where the man who does care, the man who saves and sacrifices because he values health, will have to foot the bill for folk who couldn't care less. The government will lump us all together, treat us all the same.

If the proposed national health plan would give us all some coverage security against disastrous hospital and medical bills, I would find it hard to oppose. I know that a series of unfortunate illnesses can wreck the finances of even the most prudent family.

But in the main, it is far less costly and, I suspect, far more effective, when citizens insure themselves by joining the Blue Cross or such services as the Manitoba Medical Service. Plans of this kind are made by people who value health. government plans on the other hand, (and I mean all governments, Liberal or Conservative), usually are made by people who value votes.

WILDMERE WINKS

Cold! Brr, it really is cold and it came in a hurry after our nice spell of good weather that one really feels it. Hard on stock too. We see a lot of old straw piles being opened up as feed grows less each day.

Here is an item we left out last week as our mail man came along too quickly. Several from Preston Home & School attended [illegible] and School meeting in [illegible] on Jan. 31st and enjoyed hearing Mr MacKay traffic inspector. Too bad more did not hear him. It really is terrible the deaths that are caused by reckless and drunken driving. Thanks to the ladies for the good coffee and lunch afterwards.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. George Seuffert hurt her leg by stepping backwards into the floor furnace after lifting the grate. It required [illegible] stitches to close the wound. Speedy recovery is wished you Beryl from all your Wildmere friends.

Laurence Graham left on Saturday by plane from Lloydminster for Arnprior, Ont., to attend the Civil Defence college for two weeks instructor's training course in rescue work.

Miss Peggy Graham left Friday evening by bus for Edmonton on her way to work at Lac La Biche in the Health Unit. Good luck Peggy.

A nice attendance at the Anglican church service held at Preston Central school on Sunday, Feb. 5. Mr. Cash accompanied Rev. Minchin on the journey.

Little Larry Dunlly had the misfortune to have a tooth [illegible] out by a hockey stick as they were playing shinny on some snow (not on the rink) on Friday. Hope it did not hurt too long Larry!

Baillie Holte has been helping Don Johnson at the Friesen farm while the latter family is away to Prince Albert.

A few Wildmereites attended the dance at Battleview last Friday and reported having a good time. A nice crowd was on hand to enjoy the good music.

At a special curling game on Friday evening Gary Cruthers' rink won over the Ian Clark rink thus getting the box of chocolates which was the prize.

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bauman, Peggy Graham and the writer attended the Kinsmen and Knights of Columbus hockey game last Wednesday night. It really caused lots of laughs anyway, also the sham fights were good. Mr West made quite an All Can in presenting the trophy.

Don't forget the annual M. D. meeting of Vermilion River No. 71 will be held at Kitscoty this Saturday Feb. 18 at 1:00 p.m. Plan to attend.

A nice chat was enjoyed with Mrs. B. Gould over a cup of coffee at Noonan's on Saturday. Mrs. Moore also dropped in. Next time Mr. Gould we will let you pay.

Braes Community Elect Officers

MANNVILLE — The annual meeting of the Braes Community centre was held recently with fourteen members present. The officers for 1956 are as follows:

President — Fred Paniak
Vice-Pres. — W. Fedeschko
Secretary — Mrs. A. Hubbard
Directors — Mrs. F. Paniak, Pat McLaughlin, Peter Bellish, Mrs. F. McLaughlin, Bob McLaughlin, Mrs. J. J. McLaughlin.

After the meeting a general cleaning was given the school, then all enjoyed a lovely lunch.

The dance held at Braes on Feb. 4th was a big success. The proceeds were given to the Red Cross and Polio Fund, $15 to each. The door prize was won by Andy Smith.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

The Irritating ...

Almost everyone can become easily alarmed about his heart, his lungs and his stomach, but takes his 20 square feet of skin very much for granted.

Yet skin diseases rank among man's most widespread and annoying ailments. They seldom destroy their victim's life, but they can harass it with their nagging itch, pain or unsightly appearance.

The number of skin disease sufferers in the U.S. today is rapidly multiplying. The Journal of the American Medical Association estimates, for example, that 600,000 U.S. workers are afflicted with inflamed skin [illegible] of their occupations. [illegible] two-thirds of all [illegible] workers receive insurance payments are the result of skin eruptions.

As undemocratic as they are uncomfortable, these ailments have plagued many famous people—often pushing their victims to desperate measures. One of the most famous Biblical stories, for instance, concerns Job whose sudden affliction with a terrible skin disease drove him to curse the day he was born.

To combat the secondary infections and complications which commonly follow scratching and dangerous self-medication with unreliable "cure-alls," scientists have developed a potent new topical ointment with a double-barreled action. The ointment Terra-Cortril combines the hormone Cortril with the broad-range infection-fighting antibiotic Terramycin. Tested on 190 patients suffering from a variety of common skin diseases complicated by secondary infection or unhelped by ordinary treatment, Terra-Cortril yielded good results in 97 per cent of the cases, according to U.S. specialist Dr Seymour I. Shapiro.

The fact that these diseases "are among the most frequently encountered in medical practice," concludes Dr. Shapiro, underscores the usefulness of Terra-Cortril in the treatment of skin diseases.

Fluffy New Fibre Fills Bed Pillows

In the past few months, technicians at the new "Terylene" plant on the shore of Lake Ontario near Kingston have developed a fibre filling made-to-order for bedding purposes. Snowy white threads of "Terylene" are spun from molten polymer given a tight curly crimp through heat-setting, chopped into short lengths and fluffed up into a soft springy mass ideal for pillows.

The new fibrefill is just as soft and resilient as the very best down available—and many times lower in price. It doesn't pack down through use and it can't escape through pillow ticking the way feathers tend to do. This sparkling-clean product of chemistry does not mildew or harbor vermin and since it is dust-free it is a boon to allergy-sufferers.

A good substitute for water fowl down has been sorely needed for years. High quality down has become scarce and expensive. The ultimate in downy comfort has always been contributed by the eider, a large sea duck which makes its home in Arctic and sub-Arctic regions and lines its cozy nest with fine grey down plucked from its breast.

The natives of Iceland and Southern Greenland made a precarious living climbing cliffs and robbing nests to meet the commercial demand for eiderdown. But today most Icelanders are far too busy building airforce bases to bother with down-gathering. Eiderdown is almost unobtainable.

Next best down for stuffing pillows, comforters and sleeping bags comes from domestic water fowl such as geese and ducks. Away at the bottom of the feather scale are the chopped feathers used in bargain-basement pillows.

The problem of the housewife in buying a pillow is that the word "down" has no legal meaning. In between the high-grade water fowl down and the harsh chicken feathers are dozens of blends of feathers and down varying widely in quality. How is she to know what she is buying, all neatly sewed up in pillow ticking?

Foam rubber appeared in pillows about 10 years ago and was considered a tremendous advance over [illegible] feather and down. However, many people find them too bouncy for comfort and too warm for hot weather use.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The milder weather was enjoyed very much and a grand break after the long cold spell, 57 days. Colder again today, the 12th, snowing and enough wind to drift.

It was a happy occasion for the Jimmy Martin family when they [illegible] to the Campbell Lake power on Feb. 1st.

[illegible] Promenaders had their caller for the square dance on Feb. 1st. We were pleased to meet Walter's parents and others from Mannville, those from Derwent, and well known couples the Parkers, Mathesons and Curtis's from Dewberry. On the 8th the Parkers and Lemps attended from Dewberry. Some will recall years ago a Lemp family lived in the [illegible]. These would be cousins. Feb. 11th was another good practise evening, ably put through by Mr Bob Peck.

Mr and Mrs. Wallie Curtis of Dewberry accompanied her brother Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Johnson of Edmonton on a holiday trip to California. Mother Johnson left last December to visit a sister in that state. She may return with her daughter and son. We wish them a happy holiday. The Johnson family at one time lived north of Allandale. That land is now owned by Mr. Tkachuk of Clandonald.

Last Tuesday morning Stewart Laird left for Rosetown, Sask., where he was transferred from the Toronto Dominion branch of Clandonald. Mr. and Mrs. Laird and family were in Rosetown for some years before coming to Clandonald.

We were pleased to meet Mrs. Edith Darling in town on Feb. 3. Edith and Frank now live at Minburn. Mr. Filgate, Edith's dad, is staying with them.

Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Rhodes and relatives on the passing of Mr. Rhodes. He was a well known pioneer in all the surrounding districts. His friendly disposition and kindly acts will long be remembered. "There is a link death cannot sever, love and remembrance last forever."

On Feb. 7th Mr. and Mrs. Idelore Nelson and daughter Anna went to the city, taking a truck load of cattle and returned the next day with a load of coal.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Mrs. John McMorrow of Clandonald on her 70th birthday, Feb. 9th. The family used to live in our district.

The Allandale monthly W. A. meeting was held at the Baldock home on the evening of Feb. 9. All members were present. We were pleased to have the Omness sisters from town, Mrs. Nora Ronaghan, Mrs. Stella Mayers and Mrs. Mabel Lee, and Aunt Mamie and Uncle Wilmer Hogaboam from Derwent. The menfolk did their kindly deed by taking the ladies. The March meeting will be at the Idelore Nelson home in the evening. Lunch — Mrs. Mosey McPhee and Mrs. Del- [illegible]

Mr and Mrs Wilmer Hogaboam have been holidaying at their niece's, the Baldock's since the first of the month. They spent Christmas in the city with their son Prentice, Loree and family, Wendy and Donna. They all spent New Year's in Red Deer with son and brother Charlie, Joyce and family Arlene, Lyle, Lorraine and Keith. On their way home they visited again at Prentice's and also with the Greave family in the city.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold on their 38th wedding anniversary on Feb. 5th.

A turkey dinner at the Omness home on the evening of Feb. 10 in honor of Orley's birthday—a surprise who was coming, his five sisters were present. His brother Rufus Ruth and girls were not able to attend from New Sarepta. Sister Gertie Swanson and son Rufus from Elk Point, sisters Mabel Lee, Stella Mayers, Nora Ronaghan and daughter Rena from town, sister Erna, Bill and son Albert Armstrong daughter Hilda and Don Wilson, and Joe Killion from town. Joe is an old friend of the family, hale and hearty in his 83rd year, and enjoys a good game of euchre. Daughter Hilda baked the birthday cake all decorated and adorned with 59 candles. His sisters gave him a lovely silk plaid shirt, suggested he wear it for square dancing. Flash snaps were taken at the table. The evening went all too quickly, a family gathering not too often held.

Recently the shocking news came of the death of Charlie Martin of Ferguson Flats. Our deepest sympathy to Mrs Martin and family (Rosie Phillips). Rosie was a local girl and well known in the district. Also our sympathy to Mrs. Lloyd Darling (Edna Martin) on the passing of her brother. "When tears are alone there is one line to say the one who cares is not so far away".

It was good to see your news again Chatsworth. The snow must be a problem in your part and very difficult to cope with.

Lundblads Expand Business, Valleyview

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Lundblad have considerably expanded their business, Valleyview Building Supplies, in Valleyview, Alberta. Mrs. Lundblad, the former Lucy Throndson, went to school at Moreton in th Clandonald district. She taught school in the Peace River country for sixteen years, but has resigned that position to help her husband in his business.

A cabinet-making enterprise begun in Valleyview in 1951 by Enoch Lundblad blossomed into a $12,000 business recently with the completion of two large additions to his hardware and building supplies firms.

The expansion program was necessary in the face of a large scale building boom in the thriving [illegible] of Valleyview due to the [illegible] oil activity in that area.

An invaluable assistant to her husband is Mrs. Lundblad who has obtained a complete practical knowledge of the hardware and building business throughout the years. Mrs. Lundblad handles demands for every type of hardware item and seldom is at a loss to come up with the needed article.

Mr and Mrs. Lundblad have two daughters, Florence in high school in Grande Prairie and Elaine in public school.

Letters to the Editor

Ottawa 4, Ontario
Jan. 20, 1956.

To the Editor,
The Vermilion Standard.
Dear sir:

The supreme test of the year for the Postal Service of Canada comes at Christmas time, when the millions of cards and gifts which Canadians exchange with their friends and relatives both here and abroad must be handled in the few short weeks before Christmas Day.

In meeting this test, the Postal Service, of course, makes very extensive internal preparations to cope with the flood of mail, but each year also it solicits co-operation from the public in mailing early so that the emergency schemes set up can be made as effective as possible.

The co-operation extended by the public in this respect has been increasing from year to year, as more and more people come to realize its importance to a satisfactory mail service at Christmas, and it is a pleasure for me to be able to state that in the rush period just closed this co-operation was in evidence to an extent never equalled before.

Postal workers have a special reason to be thankful that this was the case, because as you are no doubt aware weather conditions were very difficult in many parts of Canada just before Christmas, but in spite of this it was possible to make most deliveries on time.

Generally speaking because of the co-operation received from the public, most post offices were back on a normal operating basis, one, and in many cases, two days before Christmas, which I am sure you will agree was a very satisfactory result.

On behalf of the Postal Service of Canada, therefore, I wish to thank the public for the assistance so considerately given through a difficult period, and also the newspapers for the part they played in making their readers aware of the need for co-operation in mailing early.

Yours truly,
W. J. Turnbull,
Deputy Postmaster General

Famous Author Visits Southern Ontario

Fourteen years after the publication of his best-selling study of the Canadian scene The Unknown Country, author-editor Bruce Hutchison (shown working in his study at his Victoria home) is completing a second coast-to-coast report, to be published in fifteen instalments in Maclean's magazine. He recently visited Ontario, touring the entire province for material that appears in the March 3rd issue. To gather material for the series, Hutchison, editor of the Victoria Times and author of the Incredible Canadian and Struggle For the Border travelled twenty thousand miles throughout the nation.

Near the shores of the Arctic Ocean, at Aklavik, Northwest Territories, the temperature sometimes rises to 80 degrees in July. Fort Smith, in the Northwest Territories, has recorded a high of 103 degrees.

WOODVALE

With a week of nice weather to look back on, roads once again well travelled, the usual winter activities have returned to our community. Skating parties for the young folks at Bowman's one week, at Nelson's the other, always so much enjoyed by everyone there; a card party at the Woodvale hall once a weekly occasion, was [illegible] but no one came, maybe when the warmer weather persists there will be others. Again, two rinks, one skipped by Kaare Sette, one by Art Lysons are traveling to Vermilion and playing in the league, doing all right the last we heard. Youngsters are sleighing and tobogganing, losing their mitts, wanting to go out without their jackets, even a blackbird sighted by Keith Lysons.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. J. Crooks (nee Mable Lysons) of Airways on the birth of a daughter Barbara Jean on Jan. 13.

ART LYSONS TAKES A CHANCE

At Tollad store they have a nice big, black and white pussy [illegible] but occasionally they have black and white striped visitors who are presumed to live under the school nearby. As long as they stay away from the buildings and just catch mice, they are not objected too, but when they start coming into the porch and their strong odor wafts into the kitchen, no one likes them anymore. So one day, noticing a skunk between two boxes Art took his fishing rod, made a strong loop on it and after a few tries snared the culprit, dragging it outside and into some willow bushes where the line got tangled, so Art went to get a gun, but on returning the skunk was smart enough to dodge around the bushes and snow heaps and escaped when the line broke. Just whether he told his mate that he had had that afternoon or whether he never came back and now she is looking for him, we don't know but every once in a while back is a black and white visitor in the store's back porch, but this one is not taking any chances on being caught!

Mr Fred Kettner who underwent an operation for stomach ulcers in Edmonton on Jan. 23 was home again on Friday, Feb. 3 feeling and looking much better.

The Red Cross auxiliary held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty Lysons with nine members present, working on two large crib quilts and enjoying their afternoon together. Later remnants were given out to be made into aprons, shirts etc. The collection, amounting to $4.10 will be donated to the March of Dimes fund. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Flo McQuid on March 7. Betty Ann and Wayne helped to pass around the delicious lunch.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane — Women's Travel Authority

Civic minded people are fast realizing that a community traffic programme really pays off in fewer accidents and fatalities statistics.

As a result of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference held in Ottawa recently, I can now offer some suggestions for successful action by women in any community.

(1) Get the co-operation of all your club or organization in order to have enough figures, facts and 'phoners to reach every section of your community.

(2) Form a committee to gather information from the professional sources about your community's safety score sports.

(3) Decide whether to focus on a single aspect of traffic safety—such as a pedestrian or driving training programme—or an all-inclusive programme. Gather ideas for programming it.

(4) Check your list of safety elements and your programme for treating them with your local professional safety organization, police department or traffic commission.

(5) In planning your programme, consider every medium of publicity and safety to the public: movies, newspapers, radio stations, posters, [illegible] demonstrations, etc.

Three to be Elected; Election Day March 5th

Five Candidates Are Nominated For Council

Monday, nomination day, brought forth a wealth of candidates for the three vacancies on the town council as the papers of five prominent citizens were handed in to Returning Officer H. W. Johnstone at the town office. Last year there were seven nominated for the four empty seats. The number and calibre of the candidates denotes a healthy interest in town affairs.

Election day is Monday, March 5th, and the voting takes place at the Elks hall from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The candidates as they will appear on the ballot are:

Edward Joseph Herzog, auto dealer.

Elvin Leslie Locke, treasury branch manager.

William Frederick Stewart, school principal.

Charles Elmer Thompson, retired gentleman.

Locke and Thompson are seeking re-election having already served for one year. Hareuther, Herzog and Stewart are making their first venture into the municipal government field as far as Vermilion is concerned.

The two candidates polling the highest number of votes will sit for regular three-year terms. The third highest will complete the unexpired term of Joe Payne, which still has one year to run. Mr. Payne resigned due to ill health.

Frank Welsh Hospital Board Member

Frank Welsh, town member on the Vermilion Municipal Hospital board, was re-elected by acclamation for a further full term on that body.

M. Mercer, N. Crooks Re-elected, Mannville

MANNVILLE. - There will be no election in the village of Mannville this year, as Mr. M. Mercer was unopposed and was re-elected to the council by acclamation.

Mr. Norman Crooks, Village representative on the Municipal Hospital Board was also re-elected by acclamation.

45th Annual 'Spiel Starts On Monday

NO ICE TROUBLE THIS YEAR

Vermilion's 45th annual bonspiel will start on Monday, Feb. 27 and run for four days. Entries are limited for the first time to 72 rinks so the first 72 in are the fortunate ones. Entries for the past few years have been over 80. For the past several years the Vermilion bonspiel with the largest entry list of any rural spiel in the west, has been plagued by warm weather and resultant soft ice. There is no danger of any trouble this winter as the rink is now equipped with an artificial ice plant. The six sheets have matched rocks.

Five complete competitions will be played with the short draw being used as in the past several years. There are five outstanding trophies and four complete sets of prizes for each and every event.

On Tuesday evening the curlers' annual get - together and buffet banquet will be held from 5 to 7.

All entries must be in the hands of secretary Russell Carroll not later than Feb. 25th.

Obert Gunderson, Ernest Schurman and Ashley Cooper Elected to Board

Operation of the schools in the town of Vermilion cost $121,894.60 during 1955. Of this amount the town paid $65,812.70. The school staff in Vermilion consists of 28 teachers, three caretakers. The plant is comprised of four main schools with two one-room cottage schools. At present two temporary rooms are being operated in school basements.

In 1955 the figures are very little different than 1954 despite the fact that one more classroom is being operated. Total cost for 1954 was $121,047.73 with the town requisition that year being $64,280.

GRANTS TOTAL $38,192.66

Grants from the department of education reached an all time high for 1955 with funds from that source being $38,192.66. For 1954 the grants totalled $29,142.97.

Despite the magnitude of the business handled, people of Vermilion continue to take very little interest in school affairs. Present at the annual meeting on Friday were just eleven persons, five of these were teachers, four were board members, one was the divisional secretary and the other represented the 1500 or so electors in the Vermilion school district. The interested citizen was Mr Obert Gunderson who was elected to the school board during the course of the evening.

The meeting was opened for nominations for a half hour to fill three vacancies on the board, the terms of Ashley Cooper, Wm. L. Roebuck and Ernest Schurman expiring. Cooper and Schurman agreed to stand again while Gunderson was elected to the vacancy caused by Mr Roebuck's retirement.

The school board for the coming year will be comprised of Donald Taylor, Claude Brennan, Ashley Cooper, Ernest Schurman, Obert Gunderson. The terms are for two years duration with those of Mr Taylor and Mr Brennan running until February next.

Mr. Taylor was moved to the chair to conduct the meeting with Ashley Cooper nominated as secretary.

Principals of the four schools, Miss Tyleski, Mr Stewart, Mr Novak and Mr Bell, gave attendance reports and general information of considerable interest regarding their pupils, students and schools.

FAVOR MORE VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Chief discussion centred around the student who is not able to master the academic subjects in high school. How to keep him in school, how to fit him for the future, were the questions uppermost in the minds of those taking part in the discussion. There seemed to be a feeling that maybe the vocational side of youth training should be emphasized just as much as the academic. Despite strides made in vocational training in recent years in our junior and high schools, this is far from an actuality. How to achieve it is the problem. It was felt that schools along the lines of our agricultural colleges with short courses taught in carpentering, in motor mechanics, in electricity, would go a long way towards fitting many young people for the future who are not academically inclined.

DIVISION OF COSTS

Possibly few people realize that the costs of operating the schools in the town of Vermilion are allotted on a per capita basis. Total cost of operating the town schools is ascertained, receipts in the way of grants are deducted from the total cost, and the cost per pupil then obtained. The number of young people attending from outside the town school district is known and that number is multiplied by the per capita cost, the same is done with the number who are the responsibility of the town school district. Thus town and school division pay exactly the same per pupil cost.

FAVOR WATER SOFTENER

The meeting went on record as unanimously favoring the installation of a water softener system on the town's water supply by the town council.

A FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE

The meeting also took note of the fact that William English, truant officer for 30 years had resigned from that position. Mr English never failed to pay his weekly calls on the school principals for instructions during all that time, and everyone is sorry to see such a faithful employee retire.

Vermilion Elks Stage Second Annual 'Spiel

Vermilion Lodge B.P.O. Elks were hosts to the curling members of neighboring lodges on Sunday last, February 19th, at their second annual bonspiel. Seven visiting lodges were represented, rinks of Brother Elks coming from Myrnam, Marwayne, Lloydminster, Wainwright, Irma, Viking and Mannville.

These, with nine local entries, made up a 16-rink competition which was played so as to give each contestant 3 games. Coming through with an unbeaten record was the foursome from Irma, the only one to accomplish this feat.

During the day a social club was set up in the Armouries, where the curlers relaxed during games, and in the evening a banquet, served by the Royal Purple, was tendered the participants.

Following the banquet which was a most hearty one, prizes were awarded by all the Elks trophy and individual prizes were presented to Skip Charlie Milne and his quartet from Irma. The prizes were four individual pedestal table lighters, and the presentation was made by Bro. Tom Smith, chairman of the bonspiel committee. Bros. Marshall Jackson and Al Locke were in charge of the draws and the games and other details in connection with the successful affair.

The whole day was hugely enjoyed by the visitors and local rinks as well. Already all the Elks who participated are looking forward to next year's event.

Scout Troop Is Proposed, Marwayne

MARWAYNE. - At the February 14th meeting of the Home and School Association, Rev. A. Potter gave a talk and answered questions on the formation of a Boy Scout troop in Marwayne. He asked if the Home and School would sponsor this group. A motion was made to table a decision until the next meeting as there were very few fathers with boys of this age group 12 to 15 years present. Would interested parents contact or come to the next Home and School meeting on Tuesday March 13th.

Plans were made to have a whist drive in the school auditorium on Wednesday, Feb. 22.

Mr Reinheimer showed the very interesting and beautiful collection of pictures which he has taken.

Two Top Pictures At The Columbia Next Week

Manager Nick Kowalchuk has two outstanding pictures coming to the Columbia theatre next week. First of these is "The Quiet Man" which will be shown Monday to Wednesday, Feb. 27, 28 and 29. For the last three days of the week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday March 1, 2 and 3 that great comedy mixed in with a romance "Private War of Major Benson" is the attraction.

No one needs to be told what an outstanding picture "The Quiet Man" is, as it has already proven itself to be one of the best outdoor films people have seen for years. It is filmed by Technicolor in Ireland, with the beauty of the green, green hills, and the sun on the roses, as the background for a great story of romance, beauty and charm. It is the story of an American prize fighter, seeking to forget that he had killed a man by accident in the ring, who goes to the birthplace of his mother and falls in impetuous love with red-haired Maureen O'Hara. John Wayne very capably plays the part of the prize fighter and that old time favorite actor Barry Fitzgerald portrays Michaleen Flynn, village bookmaker, marriage broker and general character who will keep you laughing from beginning to end.

"PRIVATE WAR OF MAJOR BENSON" MARCH 1, 2, 3

You'll have to see this picture to believe it, because the cast names don't knock you out, the title has its limitations (except in length) and a synopsis of the story sounds very unpromising on paper.

However, it is a clean, convincing story of a man and 200 boys. A family, adult and child picture all in one. The story stars Charlton Heston as an army major for fifteen years, who is taken out of [illegible] and assigned to take charge of 200 boys in a military school run by nuns. It is a great comedy, and through it a romance between the soldier and the school doctor (Julie Adams) is presented also.

Alliance Ministers Visit Vermilion

Some twenty ministers of the Christian and Missionary Alliance visited Vermilion Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week as guests of the local Alliance Chapel. The occasion was that of the Alberta Pastors' Prayer Retreat, an annual gathering of Alliance workers for prayer and consultation. Inclement weather conditions did not affect the graciousness of Vermilion's hospitality, for which the visitors bespoke their sincere appreciation.

Rev. Keith Lantz, Alliance missionary, from Whitecourt, stayed over from the conference to be guest speaker at the Chapel, Sunday, Feb. 19th being Home Missions Sunday. On that occasion the annual pledge and cash offering for the mission work in Western Canada was received, amounting to $1130.00. In the month of June the annual missionary convention will be held and the church's pledge for foreign missions made.

Sportsmen's Banquet Highly Successful

Leading moguls in Edmonton's sports world visited Vermilion last Thursday evening to attend the Sportsmen's banquet. The event, which is arranged in support of the Vermilion Tigers' Hockey club, has become an annual event highlighting the close of the regular hockey season. Some 120 local and district sports enthusiasts attended this year's banquet and enjoyed a full evening's entertainment.

Bud Poile, the burly coach of the Edmonton Flyers along with two of his players, Jerry Melnyk and Harry Della, represented the hockey world. Frank "Pop" Ivy and Frankie Morris of the National Champion Edmonton Eskimos were the football representatives while Dr. Maury Van Vliet from the physical education department of the University of Alberta along with Price Starry Towne [illegible] represented [illegible].

Maurice Carter, CFCA's ebullient sportscaster acted as M.C. for the visitors and introduced each of the coaches who spoke briefly on behalf of their own sports field of interest. Sportswriters Hal Pawson and Stan Moher took time out from their busy rounds of sports events also to come and were on hand to renew acquaintances with many friends in Vermilion.

A highlight of the evening's program was the showing of motion pictures of the two premier sports events of the year — the Stanley Cup National Hockey League finals and football's great Grey Cup game. Both the pictures were excellently filmed and most interesting to all.

Arrangements for the banquet were made by Mitchell Taylor, Russell Carroll and Neil McLean.

Mayor Hill welcomed the visitors and Reg Rooke as President of the Board of Trade expressed pleasure at having this opportunity to honor the sportsmen and their supporters at an event of this kind.

Board of Trade Hears Dr. Sam Parsons

The thirty-one Board of Trade members who attended the regular meeting on Wednesday were given an unexpected treat when they were addressed by Dr. Sam Parsons of Southwood United Church, Calgary. Dr. Parsons is here conducting a preaching mission at the United Church. The short address was on the subject of community organizations and service clubs and while the speaker praised the many achievements, he warned that it was also possible to become a little narrow and self-centred, even in community activities. He had praise too, for the men who headed and supplied the spark for community endeavors, noting that it was indeed surprising how cooperatively they bear the load for town and village projects.

The speaker was introduced by an old friend, Mr. A. M. West, and following his talk was thanked by Rev. C. W. Hartley and the president of the Board, Reg Rooke.

Next Wednesday the Board is entertaining the members of the Board of Directors of the [illegible] on this occasion at least will be treated as honored guests.

WORK WHILE PROPOSAL

The proposal made by the members of the town council at the annual meeting last week to the effect that the installation of a water softener had been investigated, found both feasible and desirable, and probably would be proceeded with this spring and summer, coupled the subsequent statement that it definitely a progressive and desirable one.

A softener according to the information gathered, would not only pump the water over money each and every month, but would provide a safer and more pleasant liquid which would do a better job than the present hard water.

The method of meeting the required debenture payments by making the charges 50c per month is also a fair one as by this means the cost is born by those actually benefitting from the system. Considerable of cost will be greatly reduced there will be less expense in recovering and cleaning of the water rolls taps which are now being replaced at considerable cost, will last longer as will ordinary galvanized hot water tanks which so many people use.

There are several cases in town of home owners installing water softeners of their own at a cost of around $200.00. They have evident by studied the product too and found it to their advantage and enjoyment to have the softer water even at that price.

The council is to be commended for their study of the project and the sooner the water softener is in use in Vermilion the better! It will be for everyone. It is a progressive move and will meet with little or no opposition.

What Career?

Here is a tip for parents and for students who are pondering what course to enter when they go to University suggests The Financial Post.

Dr George S. Allen, dean of the faculty of forestry makes that only one student in every 10 graduates from the University of B C last spring. He estimated that at least 150 graduates are required annually in British Columbia alone to meet present and future demands.

Assists Tradesmen From British Isles

The immigration office of the Alberta Government has been directed under the administration of the Industrial Development Branch, according to announcement by Hon. A R. Patrick, minister of mines and minerals.

The office which assists trades men from the British Isles in locating suitable jobs in Alberta will form a close liaison between labor, industry and industry. It will also co-ordinate the province's efforts in the matter of employment, working closely with Alberta's Employment Service in London and helping immigrants after they have come to the province.

The office will keep complete files of skilled craftsmen requiring employment and will work in close co-operation with Alberta industries to provide trade men wherever needed. Richard Hardwick, director of the branch, states that any immigrant who has difficulty in getting employment should contact the Industrial Branch in the Legislative Building, Edmonton.

RETARDING THE WHEELS OF PROGRESS

It takes a long time to sell a new idea to the general populace. This is borne out by the march of some one hundred women and children last week on The Alberta legislative buildings last week, protesting against the fluoridation of water supplies in the province. For years new dentists and doctors have effectually approved this procedure in clinic, scientific bodies after years of studying the great mass of accumulated evidence. Yet a group of people with little or no knowledge or evidence to support them, try to prevent such a move a move which, after years of experimentive study will benefit the young people of today and those of tomorrow by reducing tooth decay. The Alberta Research Council was ordered two years ago to study the matter fully and the council's final report unanimously approved fluoridation. The cities of Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton Saskatoon and Brantford are among cities which carried out detailed studies and then approved fluoridation. Tooth decay is quite common even in baby teeth, and progresses until many young people in their teen years have false teeth.

The Standard feels that it is the bounden duty to do anything possible to overcome the incidence of caries.

"Self Discipline"

BY A. J. WILSON, B. D.

A story which had been, fired after the American Civil War was pretty well down in the heels. One day he met his former owner "Wouldn't you like to come back to me?" the owner asked. "Didn't you have a better home with me and better clothes and more security?" "Yes," said the former slave, "but there is a lonesome about this here freedom that I like."

Most of us would go along with the slave—to some extent anyway. There is quite a bit of lonesome in democracy. That is because it is based on the worth of the individual. In theory at least each person in a democracy has a right to his own views, and to his way of life. But a democracy couldn't function at all if everybody did that which was right in his own eyes with no regard to the rights of others. A lot of discipline is needed in a democracy, and self discipline.

The writer was in Germany in 1937. There were five million unemployed. Hitler was looking at the very heart of the nation. The people were in a bad way. There was moral degeneracy, juvenile delinquency and other strident evils. Discipline had broken down.

He was back in 1955 and on his first night in Berlin was awakened by singing and marchal trumpets. Thousands of young people, attired in white linen, clean and tidy, were marching out to work in the fields, singing as they marched. The whole nation seemed to be singing. Hitler had restored spirit had been revived. Instead of apathy there was enthusiasm. But it was disciplined. Imposed from without. In time the spirit of this nation would die. It is proven that the whole nation became a mechanical robot to be moved about at the whim of one man. That is what happens when discipline is imposed arbitrarily by the state.

In a changing culture such as that which marks our day, if we

Lloydminster-Vermilion Hassle Only Hockey Activity This Week

The only activity in hockey circles this week has been a hassle with Lloydminster over the Vermilion-Lloydminster game. To the uninitiated, able publicity which appeared in the Lloydminster Times, it would appear that the story as it appeared put them in a very poor light indeed in the eyes of the hockey fans. The official executive hold that remarks made by fans should not be taken to the heart as the Tigers did. The executive The original story as it appeared in the Times was misleading written to counteract the statement by the local hockey club follow:

LETTER LEAVES TIGERS

THE LLOYDMINSTER CHAPTER

The Lloydminster Chevies defeated the Tigers on Wednesday of last week in order to assure themselves of first place in the Northern Alberta Hockey League, and then went on to defeat Vermilion on Saturday to leave the Chevies in the leading position. The unfortunate thing, however, is that by winning the league they jeopardized the chances of the league's playoff next year Vermilion, whose vote was necessary for Lloydminster to succeed after their defeat on Saturday that Lloyd would be out of the league next year. First of all it is the first time in years—if not in the history of the league that Lloyd has had a really amateur team, and, secondly all the imports brought in by the other members of the league. Lloyd has proven too strong

"Financially this policy has worked out fine for Lloyd who are very much in the clear, while at least some of the other clubs are having difficulty breaking even for the season. The whole situation is heaped on Lloyd's head by Vermilion who claim that at least three of the five clubs find that Lloyd drawn the biggest gate.

"GREEN ACRES"

WIRE WORM CONTROL

There is far more loss from wire worms in this area than most farmers think. Damage to crops goes on all summer and the wire worms seldom get the blame. The cost of treating grain for wire worms is much lower this year. The triple treatment for smut, soil-borne diseases and wire worm control now costs only about 25 cents per acre. All the seed plants can use it. Also seed treatments can be bought at most drug stores.

GRADE "A" PEAS

Hog grading figures for 1955 show that this year's increase in quality to Lloydminster's marketed 21 per cent "A" grade pigs. This is the highest in Alberta except for the Peace River district — now don't think this is due only to enough At Vegreville Co-op shipments have an average of 21.2% "A's" and Lloydminster's 21%. Farmers are making $5 to $7 more are to avoid the degeneration of body standards or the production of soft pork. Vermilion need a new kind of plants on self discipline. We—and the world—need a new kind of self discipline. Without it democracy is not for us. This is a matter it is a voluntary process. That is why the writer is not in favor of compulsory military training. It is not just a class for practicing self discipline. Compulsory drill is not character or citizenship. It does much damage. It is not democratic. It is the opposite. It is developing and strengthening a strong virile autocracy.

Without self discipline a democracy can go haywire. With it a nation's strength is unbeatable. There is no withstand democracy from within or from without. Democracy is worth a pig when they grade "A"

They would not want to go back to raising lower grades.

SLOUGH DRAINAGE

There is slough drainage on nearly every farm in this district. It would pay to drain most of them. If the water is pumped onto crop land larger crops can be grown. Where land is brought into grants from the P.F.R.A. can be obtained. A new circular on "Slough Drainage" can be had from this office.

POULTRY LOSSES

During the past few years a number of poultry raisers in this district have had losses from baby chick diseases C.R.D. (chronic respiratory disease) E. Coli (colon) and slipped tendon seem to be the most common offenders. Get circulars on "Brooding and Feeding Chicks" and "Poultry Diseases". It is best to prevent diseases of course but next best is to know what to do if the diseases do break out.

WEEDS ARE SPREADING

Mr Bert Hesson in his report to the council meeting of Vermilion Sheet M.D. said that thistles, Tansy Flax and Tartary Buckwheat are spreading fast. Farmers are being asked to watch for Tartary Buckwheat. It looks like a very hardy grain. Mr. Hesson said that straw and other feed should not be hauled across crop land without the permission of the owner. "Tarps" should be used on all loads to prevent seeds from blowing out all along the roads.

Farmers who are getting poor yields may get into a 4-H club." Grain and Tartary Oats are now being organized. All you need is twelve boys and girls in a community to join up in a club. Get particulars from this office.

Of Many Things . . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

PARSNIPS

We had company the other night and somehow the conversation got around wee freedom. I've never had many over since. Not one of our many friends has ever refused the request to come over and need freedom. They have a vague notion it is a thing that Canadians have and that the Mongolese-rers plenty for, but we hadn't given very much. Well I'm satisfied. I've had my fill of freedom for a long time. But if the truth were known I'm not sure that I'm not a bit bored by freedom right now. Not bored with freedom itself but bored by YOU! or me or the other Tom, Dick and Harry who is always talking about it. Why don't you do something about it? Or are you afraid? Are you afraid to do anything? Are you afraid of your job, your home, your friends? Are you afraid to be a show or play unfashion, or read, or think, or write, or say what you think? Are you afraid to be a non-conformist?

There are so many choices. Suppose at the end of your day you could say something constructive or memorable at a State dinner? Suppose your reading habits were all pre-digested for you? Suppose you didn't have to worry about your income tax? Suppose you needed a permit to travel? Suppose all your decisions were taken away from you? What would you be working for then? A chance to be unfree?

To me freedom is the real profit from a days work. And because I have freedom I can choose the work that comes as close to my desires as is possible. Of course I could make a living that is a drudge for someone by nature not by man made law. I could be a bricklayer, a ditch digger, a lumberjack, a miner, a garbage inspector. I'll be nobody's slave. All of these happened by man

The number of horses on Canadian farms dropped another 17.6% during the past year to only 972,000 head the lowest of statistics records. Alberta's horse population dropped 20 per cent on Dec. 1, 1955, to 1,000,000 head from 1,250,000 a year

Accident Rate is Lower This January

Alberta's traffic deaths dropped to nine in January compared to 17 in the first month of last year, according to a report compiled by the Alberta Safety Council. All but one of the nine deaths occurred in rural points. The only city death occurred in Edmonton when a pedestrian died after coming from behind a bread van and was struck by a car.

In January last year 97 accidents points showed 12 deaths while 92 accidents in Calgary and Edmonton resulted in 5 deaths.

Safety officials point out that the winter driving hazards complex caused by the ABC undoubtedly had a large influence in persuading safer motoring during the recent month and thus reducing accidents.

While the number of car accidents increased in January, there was a drop in the number of persons who suffered injuries. There were 277 persons injured, which was 39 less than a year ago. At the same time, accidents rose from 1,975 to 1,988.

In Edmonton, 50 persons were injured, up 18 from the comparable period last year. On the other hand,

Midgets Lose

The Vermilion Midgets lost a 4-2 decision to the Kitscoty high school hockey team on Friday at the local arena last Saturday evening.

Calgary dropped from 51 to 33 and Lethbridge had 4, two less than in the opening month of 1955. Medicine Hat and Jasper-Banff had one accident each, up one and two respectively, a year ago. At rural points on the route of R. C. M. P. there was a member fell from 210 to 188.

In motor accidents, Edmonton had all eight with 68% of the province's total. The city's total of 363 was a loss of only 13. In Medicine Hat there were 23 accidents, two less than the previous year, while Lethbridge dropped from 45 to 33. Jasper Park had none as against 14 one year before.

The R. C. M. P. reported a month's total of 66 accidents in rural areas while those points started 1955 with a total of 712.

The Motor Vehicles Branch reports registrations at the end of January totalling 283,875. This was up 5,000 from 1955 passenger cars and 150,961 trucks.

Taming A Killer

Tuberculosis, once a major killer of mankind and known as the "white plague" is being rapidly brought under control reports The Financial Post. An international survey says that in the seven year period ended 1953 the decline in deaths from this disease was the most rapid "the world has ever seen" It was in this period that the three post-war wonder drugs, streptomycin, PAS and isoniazid came into common use.

In Canada during this period the gain has been spectacular. Price 1953 deaths per 100,000 averaged 5,000 a year. with little noticeable trend either way A short term decline between 1946 and 50% had been registered and the decline has become more rapid every year Today with a much larger population the TB deaths are less than third of the number of a decade ago.

Many Vermilion Ladies Hold Offices

St. Paul United Presbyterial W. M. S. Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the W. M.S. Auxiliaries of the St. Paul United Presbyterial was held in the United church at Holden on Feb. 9th.

Fifty or more ladies representing Wainwright, Viking, Irma, Vermilion, Kitscoty, Lloydminster, Vegreville and Holden were present.

Morning coffee and doughnuts awaited the delegates when they arrived. Our Presbyterial president, Mrs. Hamilton of Wainwright, then took the chair and conducted the meeting in a most pleasant and orderly way.

The morning devotionals were taken by Mrs. Riley of Irma who spoke from the text: "Return unto thine own house and shew how great things God hath done unto thee.

Presbyterial was then declared constituted. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Glebelhaus of Holden and the reply by Mrs. Leturneau of Ryley Minutes were read by the secretary Mrs. Mcleod son of Vegreville. Following roll call the literature exhibit was inspected.

A fine dinner served by Holden W.A. was then enjoyed. The nominating committee was busy during the dinner hour and greetings were received from Presbytery W. A. brought by Mrs Lee of Vermilion.

The afternoon worship service based on the 23rd Psalm was then given by Mrs. McLean and Mrs. French of Vermilion. Dr Villet of Alberta college led in prayer.

Others present were Mrs. read by Mrs. L. Mitchell of Wainwright and Mrs. Hendricks of Vegreville.

All allocations had been met with five allocations oversubscribed. It was agreed to accept a three and one-half percent raise on the allocations.

When voting on GBA projects it was agreed to send money to the Children's Home at Neerlandia.

Rev. McPherson of Wainwright, chairman of the Presbytery, then addressed the gathering and said that the W.M.S. was a source of joy and pride to the Christian Church. He said the church must deepen its sense of Missionary.

Departmental reports followed. All reports were very encouraging. A few of the highlights were as follows: Vegreville Auxiliary has adopted a Korean child; Silk has of clothing, etc. were shipped to Korea from St. Paul Presbytery in 1955. There are 107 C.G.I.T. members in our Presbyterial at present. The Christian Citizenship Reg. were pleaded with the members to use their influence to keep alcoholic beverages away from us. Christian instituted festivities as the celebration of Christmas and wedding.

Miss Ila Newton, W.M.S. worker from Yihsi then conducted the service of "In Memoriam" for those members of our Presbyterial who have passed on to the higher service during 1955 and Mrs. Taylor of Holden sang "Teach Me to Pray".

Our guest speaker and branch president, Mrs. Villet of Edmonton, then gave a splendid address. She told how the changing patterns in life of today hold a challenge for the church and stressed the need of a closer tie between W.M.S. and W.A. Also the increasing importance of children's work and the need for the parents leading parents through the children. She told how the "Layman's Forward Movement" of Sask. and Alta. had brought new life and strength to the Christian Church and how this had been accomplished by prayer and study groups within the various churches and finally challenged one and all to go forward with prayer and dedication to again bring about a similar revival during the National Evangelical Mission of the United Church. Quiet, inspiring, speaking, living and witnessing so that people will know we have been with Jesus.

Following offering and prayer, Mrs. Campbell of Holden gave a fine talk on the film "Martin Luther".

The president then spoke briefly and expressed her joy in the past year's work.

Civil Defence Development

The only absolutely certain defence against the hydrogen bomb is to be where it isn't. Even then there is danger of radioactive fall-out unless you're far enough away.

The long-range bomber capable of spanning oceans in a few hours, has brought the H-bomb threat into the very front yards of North America. Its destructive capabilities are so great that not only would large cities be in danger but also towns, villages and even farms. It is this possibility of infinitely greater horror on the home front should a third world war come that has created a need for civil defence measures in Canada more urgent than it was for Britain during the worst buzz-bomb days of the Second World War.

But what is Civil Defence? When and how did it take on such importance?

The ultimate aim in war today is to break the enemy's will to fight. The ultimate aim of Civil Defence therefore says the federal civil defence co-ordinator F. F. Worthington is: "To reduce the effects of enemy attack in order that the people maintain their will to win, public utilities are restored, essential production can continue and the government can continue to govern."

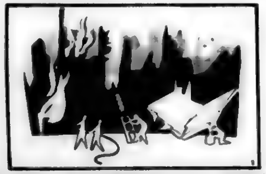
The value of the civilian population organized to care for itself when disaster strikes was never more clear than during the Second World War. With an efficient civilian defence organization, Britain was able to sustain months of terrible bombings without losing the will and ability to fight.

It was built, as Canada's is being built, by using the normal services and facilities of governments at all levels, assisted by volunteers and non-government organizations. Civil Defence must be built through a network of organization from the federal government through the provincial to the municipal level. The services required of Civil Defence are the same now as during the war: police, fire, health and medical, welfare, ambulance, warden, engineer and public utility, transportation, communications and information.

But destructive as they were, the bombs of the Second World War were like mites compared to the H-bomb. There was not the need, as there is now, to evacuate whole cities. There was still safety in the bomb shelters. The big C. D. job then was after the raid.

Most important was to assess the damage and casualties as quickly as possible. The wardens with their neighborhood setup proved invaluable for this. But another problem followed close behind a bombing raid. People flocked to the damaged areas to seek information about relatives and friends. And the British found people didn't want to go to city hall say to get it. Setting up inquiry points on the spot became part of the C. D. service to sort out this information so important to the civilian population's morale.

The trained volunteers provided through Britain's C. D. setup to supplement normal fire fighting forces were able to increase the speed with which fires were controlled and put out. Countless lives were saved by the quick action provided through volunteers trained in rescue and first aid work. The normal services would have been swamped. C. D. volunteers often worked 72 hours at a stretch.



Should a nuclear war come to Canada, Canadians would face all the dangers Britons faced multiplied several thousand times. Main difference is that against H-bomb attack the only real safety is in evacuation of potential target areas — chiefly large cities. The day of ducking into a shelter during a bombing raid and cleaning up after it is over has ended.

Canada's civil defence policy for target areas has evolved into four stages:

1. Evacuation of non-essential persons — children, expectant mothers, aged, infirm and so on — to outlying towns and villages when intelligence reports indicate an impending attack. This likely would be about 12 hours before the bombers were expected to arrive and would involve about 35 per cent of a city's population.

2. Planned withdrawal of the rest of the population as based on the alert from the radar warning devices being thrown up around North America's outer fringes by the U. S. and Canada.

3. After the bomb, potential fallout areas must be ascertained and alerted, populations evacuated from them must be found shelter in towns [illegible] directed to help those who may not have escaped in time and get necessary production of essential materials under way again.

4. Disposal of those disrupted by the bomb, rejoining families, providing food and shelter and medical care and so on.

With the capability now in Communist [illegible] of wiping out whole cities and endangering vast rural areas with radioactive dust particles raining from the sky from one exploding H-bomb borne in one aircraft, the importance of civilians organizing themselves and being trained to provide themselves the maximum protection from such destruction [illegible].

Bicycle production in Canada in 1954 reached a ten-year low while imports of bicycles reached an all time high. Production dropped to 71,530 from 101,480 in 1953 while imports rose to 91,262 from 63,126. —Quick Canadian Facts

SCOUTING and GUIDING

The Scout Association wants to take this opportunity of thanking the Vermilion Standard for so generously giving this space and enabling us to bring to the parents and those interested the doings of the boys and girls in Guides and Scouts. It is very much appreciated by the executive.

The Guide and Brownie mothers are having a tea and bake sale on Saturday March 3 in the Elks hall, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon. If any mother wishes to bring her baby or small child there will be baby sitters there who can mind them while she is having tea.

* * *

The Mothers' Association are again saving Quaker coupons — these are the guarantee certificates from Quaker all-purpose flour, the Quaker Graham flour, Quaker whole wheat flour and box or bag tops from Quaker oats, any size. If you have any of these would you turn them in to any Guide, Brownie, Cub or Scout.

BROWNIES

There are now about 70 girls turning out for Brownies. They are all being kept busy at various stages of working for the different badges. One group under Mrs. Kay Hart are doing very well at sewing aprons, etc. To commemorate their Thinking Day or Founder's Day program they cut out and put together the Brownie outfits of the different countries.

GUIDES

The Guides started off the year with a sleighing party, ending up with a pot luck supper at Mrs. Bottorff's, which was very much enjoyed. Miss Gray is turning out to their meetings and leading them in community singing, then Mrs. King is teaching the girls their First Aid.

CUBS

The lads have been working on their various projects and a number of them have obtained their proficiency badges. Weather permitting they are hoping to get some skating in with a view to making up at least two hockey teams. If they can ice a team, the Wainwright Cubs have challenged them to a game to be played at Wainwright. The boys are very pleased to hear that one of their members, Bobby Ford, is now well on the way to recovery after having his appendix removed.

SCOUTS

Don Dixon, Jim Ferguson, Bert Riedale, Murray Ross, Jack Marfleet, Norman Wiwchar, Bob Ackerman, Bob Parks, Dave Ackerman.

Plans are underway for an overnight winter camping trip as soon as weather will permit.

THE PRACTICE OF SEED TREATMENT

Failure To Keep Pace

Despite the steady progress in the development of chemicals for the treatment of seed, there appears to be much more of a lag in farm usage in this particular field than in others. Farmers in Western Canada, for instance, are quick to adopt the new varieties of grain and other crops as they become available. They appeared to be well informed, too, about the various herbicides and fertilizers and to be making increasingly greater use of these aids to better farming and greater production. But when it comes to the preparation of seed for planting and that takes in both the cleaning operation proper and the treatment of the seed, the record is, for some reason, not as favorable.

The treatment of smut and other seed borne diseases has come a long way since the day when the use of formaldehyde was standard practice and there are now available a number of reliable organic mercury chemicals for the treatment of seed which can give very satisfactory protection at relatively small cost per bushel. In addition, there is now protection in the form of dual purpose treatments against seedling blight, root rot and even wireworm damage.

At many points, where facilities have been provided at the local seed cleaning plant, the farmer is assured of a 100 per cent job being done at a reasonable cost and there is, therefore, every incentive for him to have his seed treated there. But clearly this is not the complete answer and the practice of treating seed will become more general only when the benefits resulting from it are fully realized and appreciated.

A lovely supper was served to the ladies in the church basement and a vote of thanks was given to Holden for the hospitality and the Christian fellowship enjoyed.

YOUR LEGISLATURE AT WORK

By R. J. Whitson, M.L.A. Vermilion Constituency.

This has been a busy week in the Legislature. Though the sessions begin at 2:30 and adjourn at 5:30 each afternoon, a member finds that he has little free time. Mornings are usually devoted to party caucuses or committee meetings, and the evenings are filled by study of the many matters coming up in the house and by appointments with constituents. Tonight (Feb. 21st) the first night sitting is being held commencing at 8 o'clock. This is being done at this early date because the government hopes to be able to bring down the budget on Friday night. With more members in the opposition than for many years previously, more speakers rise to take part in the Throne Speech debate, which must be concluded before the budget comes down. This is because once the budget is brought down there can be no increases in any suggested expenditures, though decreases may be made. The Throne Speech debate affords M.L.A.'s, both government and opposition, an opportunity to ask the government to consider various matters which may cost money and which if adopted would make a difference in the budget.

Another factor which is making this session most interesting is the number of motions and resolutions placed on the order paper. It is by this means that members may ask the government for answers to questions regarding different departments, and by which they request the government to adopt measures they feel would benefit their own constituency and others throughout the province.

For example, you will be interested particularly, I believe, in three motions which are presently being discussed. One which I introduced asks the government to give permission for the use of purple gas in farm trucks and tractors when in use for agricultural purposes.

Michael Maccagno (Lib.) Lac la Biche, has asked for a study of the merits and practicability of an air ambulance service for Alberta such as is operated in Saskatchewan.

In view of the bad storm we are now experiencing, you will be interested also in a resolution by Richard Hall (Lib.) Athabasca, and seconded by myself asking for a program of assistance to municipalities in snow removal on school van routes. In a winter such as this the costs of this service become a grave problem to those charged with municipal responsibility.

Alfred Macyk (Lib.) Redwater, is asking that annual compensation be paid by power companies to farmers in addition to paying for the privilege of building lines on their property.

Civil Defence Appeals for Boats

Alberta Civil Defence Units are being warned from their headquarters in Edmonton of the possibility of flood conditions in many areas in the coming spring and summer. This is due to the heavy snow fall and long winter.

Civil Defence is therefore requesting that all municipalities make a survey of the situation in regard to possible flooding in this regard, first, to consider how best they can help themselves, also how each municipality could render assistance in neighboring municipalities.

This survey should include a listing of all available boats, sand bags and other equipment. In listing the boats, information should include size, whether equipped with motor, ownership and location.

The above request was received by all mayors, reeves and Civil Defence directors of all municipalities.

George Martin, Civil Defence Director for Vermilion River M.D., is in charge of listing boats available in this area and boat owners willing to co-operate are asked to contact him. 32-3

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Battle in The Barnyard

When it comes to farm management, an "ounce of prevention" can be worth literally millions of pounds — pounds of meat and poultry and dairy produce which the nation stands to lose through animal diseases. Since livestock products account for 50 per cent of farm income, protecting animals from disease is a major problem for American farmers.

Livestock diseases often hit hardest in spring months, when the newborn animal population reaches a peak. The young animals fall easy prey to deadly microbes during the first few weeks of life, before natural defenses can be mustered.

This spring an estimated 56 million pigs, 7 million dairy calves, and more than a billion chicks will be added to the nation's barnyard population. But unless preventive measures are taken, diseases such as scours and pneumonia will cut down three out of 10 pigs and three out of 12 calves. Millions of chicks, too, will be stricken.

Although the newborn animals themselves are defenseless against microbial onslaught, modern science in recent years has developed some effective means of protecting them against once-deadly diseases. Terramycin, for example, a powerful antibiotic, has proved effective in preventing and treating scours, pneumonia and other diseases of pigs and calves, and in clearing up open-wound infections. Added to drinking water, Terramycin wards off infection and helps both to reduce chick mortality and end laying slumps.

Animal diseases are still plundering farm revenue at a rate of more than $2 billion a year. The U.S. Department of Agriculture believes, however, that much of the loss can be prevented by presently available means. And, the Department adds, much more can presumably be prevented by further research.

HELP YOUR RED CROSS

NEWS from ISLAY

Mrs. Armstrong (Mary McEachern) of Smooth Rock Falls, Ont., arrived here Monday night to visit her father who is ill in hospital, and her mother Mrs. Neil McEachern.

Mrs. Jack McNeely is in University hospital at time of writing. We wish her a quick return to health and home.

World Day of Prayer was held at the home of the Misses Stone and was well attended.

Keep in mind the next W.A. meeting which will be March 1 at the home of Mrs. Dave Buchanan. We think there will be an auction — so come prepared, ladies!

Mr. McGuffin spent most of last week in the hospital but was on duty Sunday and gave us a good sermon Sunday night.

Congratulations are due to Miss Betty Martin who recently wrote her Theory Grade 2 Music and passed with honors.

As we write — Tuesday — the weather is almost equal to the blizzard of Dec. 12 with a strong wind from the east. No busses went out and the temperature of the school was just too cold as the furnace had refused to work.

OBITUARY

MANNVILLE. — Funeral services were held on Thursday, Feb. 9th at McQueen United church for Mr. William Smith Tod, old timer of the Scotstoun district, who passed away at the age of 88. Rev. I. Holter officiated and interment was in the Mannville cemetery.

Pallbearers were Messrs. James Hill, Alex Stone, Horace Smith, Frank Renspies, James Young and Ian Young.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, William of Mannville, Robert and James of Edmonton and one daughter Margaret at home.

Vermilion and district experienced the third bad "snow and blow" of the season during the past week. On Tuesday the wind was easterly at 32 miles per hour with gusts up to 40 miles per hour. There was a snowfall of two inches accompanying the high wind on Tuesday. This, combined with the very heavy snow already blanketing the area, made most of the country roads completely impassable. In Vermilion itself, where snow has been cleared from streets and sidewalks to quite an extent, the drifts weren't piled as high as after the big blow early in December but many did experience difficulty in clearing roadways to their garages and walks to their homes.

During the last week the temperature dipped to 41 below, the low for the winter thus far. The total snowfall for the week was nearly 3 inches, 2.8 to be exact.

Spring is coming? It says so on the calendar, less than a month away. A very welcome arrangement . . . when it comes true!

Pleasant Valley

It's anything but pleasant these days. Cold, and more cold to come, so they say. It's nice to have a warm stove to sit by and watch your kettle boil week in and week out but it would be nice to have a cup of tea with someone sometime too.

Hello May, it's nearly a year ago when we had tea at your lovely shop. I still remember the nice blue bird special. I won't tell a soul, yum yum!

We are glad to hear Sylvia Gould is home and feeling much better again. The Inman's were supper guests at Durrow's home on Sunday.

Annie and Christie Clark visited at the Sherwood home. Real brave to travel this weather.

Born to Mr and Mrs. Bill Gillies, a daughter. Congratulations!

Sorry I missed you on Saturday Mrs. Jones, do hope you are fine again. Hope to see you—

When the wheat grows high and bursts into gold,
The flowers in the vale or on the hill,
The meadow lark singing, the green branches waving,
Everything will be lovelier still.

Although Alberta has been consistently producing the best grades of beef the same is not true in the case of hogs, said R. K. Bennett of [illegible] the federal livestock marketing division. Last year only 18.9% of Alberta's hogs graded 'A' compared with 27.1% for all of Canada. —Budget.

Figures recently given by Canadian railroads show that there are approximately 23,000 Canadian boxcars in the U.S., compared with the 14,500 U.S. boxcars in this country. Railways claim it is difficult to get their cars back because of a shortage in the United States and the low rental they are able to charge when their cars are on the American lines.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Jean Robson of Calgary recently experienced two extremes of temperatures in that she left Calgary by plane one day last week at which time the temperature was thirty below zero and the next stop worthy of mention was Houston, Texas, where it was 75 above. Jean is holidaying there for two weeks. The trip was made in the company of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hunt. Mrs. Hunt is the former Miss Pat McCallum who at one time taught school in Vermilion.

Formerly of the Turkey Hill district, Harv Fields died in California on February 17th. Mr. Fields had been living in San Francisco, but passed away while en route to Arizona for a holiday. He was 55 years of age and left here about 20 years ago.

Several of the Vermilion young people who are now pursuing their education in Edmonton were home for the week end and included Joan and Marilyn Maxwell, Rhea Ireland, Karen Acheson, Betty Hawley and Peggy Stephens.

Miss Dorothy Eldom, of Edmonton, visited with her mother Mrs. L. Eldom Saturday and Sunday last.

Mrs. W. W. Eadie of Edmonton accompanied Ross Boake home on Thursday morning last when he was returning from his trip to Toronto. Dr. Eadie and daughter Laverne arrived in Vermilion to join Mrs. Eadie at Boake's on Saturday afternoon, returning to the city on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stetson and their young son Wayne, of Edmonton, were visitors at the home of Mrs. Stetson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cross, during Friday and Saturday of last week.

Two rinks from Vermilion Lodge A.F. & A.M. participated in the Masonic bonspiel held at Vegreville last Saturday. The day-long event was climaxed by a banquet in the evening and the whole program was most enjoyable, bringing members of lodges together all the way from Edmonton to Lloydminster, as well as north and south. Those attending from Vermilion Lodge were Gordon Larson, Alex Stone, Ort Strome and Alf Green; George Webb, Loyal Amos, Cliff McCormick, S. C. Acheson and Ken Greenwood. The champion of the spiel was the well known curler Don Greene of Vegreville. 32 rinks competed.

Vermilion W. I. Notes

In spite of the very cold day an enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. J. McCaig, Feb. 14th, when the Vermilion Branch of the Women's Institute met for their regular meeting.

Nine members listened to an enlightening paper on causes, symptoms and treatments for mentally ill. This was followed by an informal talk by Miss Bailey, public health nurse, on mental health. She stressed that those suffering mental ills are truly ill, as one suffering with appendicitis is ill, and should be recognized as such. A person who has had an operation tells all about it, but the family of one mentally ill says nothing. The public must be educated to recognize mental illness as sickness.

The roll call was answered by a gift of a face cloth for the local hospital and twelve were sent. Also $5 from previous roll calls went to buy towels for the Vermilion hospital.

The 1956 programs were given out. There were five get well cards and two sympathy cards sent. Mrs. J. Perkins was elected as treasurer. Mrs. Rooks won the mystery box.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Dunsmore on March 13th. Roll call is to be answered with a knitted toque or used clothing for Korea.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Marfleet, Mrs. Moses and Mrs. Rooks served a delicious lunch.

The World Day of Prayer was held in the Anglican church on Friday at 3 o'clock with ladies from the United, Christian Alliance and Anglican congregations. The service was conducted by the members with special prayers read by those delegated. The theme was "One Flock, One Shepherd" and the responsive reading was from the pharaphase of the Shepherd Psalm, translated from the Indian sign language by Miss Isobel Crawford. Appropriate hymns were sung and the address by Mrs. Van Dusen on "Prayer" was also appropriate and well worth listening to.

Two rinks from Mannville are curling in the Elks bonspiel in Edmonton. M. Morrison, Jack Conford, L. Kreiler and A. Bodard make up one rink with M. Malin, M. B. Van Dusen, Vern Willes and Frank Richardson the second.

Two local rinks are participating in the Innisfree rink this week also, C. Thumlert and H. Whitson. K. Scoggins is skipping a local rink at the Buffalo Coulee spiel.

HOME AND SCHOOL MEET

Due to weather conditions and other activities the attendance at the Home and School meeting on Thursday was very poor. It was impossible to carry out the program as planned by the executive. The High school girls' chorus included a number of girls from the country and road conditions made it impossible for them to attend. The impromptu play was cancelled for the same reason. A short business meeting was held, then a sing song led by Miss Nelson with Mr. R. Stuart as accompanist. A film on "The Great Lakes" kept the small audience occupied until the Braes ladies had coffee and sandwiches ready. The shield was won by Mrs. Morrison's room.

F. Van Wageningen Presented With Cream Trophy

At the dairy convention held in Edmonton recently F. L. Van Wageningen of the Tolland district was honored for winning first prize for the best can of cream in the class open to all Alberta. There were fifty four entries on exhibit.

The class calls for at least 30 pounds of sweet cream. Mr Van Wageningen obtained the unusually high score of 98½ points.

The trophy donated by the Alberta Dairy Association for this award will be on display in town during the next couple of weeks.

Mr Van Wageningen started building up a herd of high producing Holstein Cows more than 20 years ago. Most of his cows now have records of 12,000 pounds or more of milk each year.

It might be of interest to dairy farmers in this district to know that Mr Van Wageningen has the only loose housing and milking parlor set up over a wide area. He states that he would never go back to the old system again of tying up cattle in stalls.

Nautical Engineer Addresses Rotary

A nautical engineer told an absorbing story of his life to fellow Rotarians on Friday Feb. 10th. The engineer was Jack Kunnie and the true life story unfolded would make a most interesting novel. After learning his trade in England under anything but easy apprenticeship, he sailed to all parts of the world. The years of the war found him in the Orient and during that action-packed era he plied the dangerous eastern waters with the merchant marine.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Nick Evasiuk and Archie Miller of Lloydminster.

The speaker was introduced by J. R. Robson, and thanks of the gathering extended by Ken Rowe.

Mr and Mrs. Joe Vert of Three Hills Alberta, enclose an interesting note with their renewal sub., stating how much they enjoy the Standard and look forward to it each week to catch up on the news from home. They send greeting to all friends and acquaintances at Vermilion.

United Church Reports Most Successful Year At Marwayne

MARWAYNE. — The annual meeting of the United Church was held on Jan. 18 in the church hall. The meeting opened with a brief devotional period conducted by the minister.

Reports from all the departments of the church work and life were presented and accepted, showing a very good year. The report from the minister showed a membership of fifty. Sympathy was expressed to the two families bereaved, Mr C. H. Hancock and Mrs W. S. McLean having passed on. Mr Hancock was secretary of the Official board for a number of years. Sympathy was also expressed to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Elliott in the loss of his mother at Coronation.

A record for the M. and M. fund was played, "The God of Chisamba", giving a very good idea of what our money does on the mission fields. The minister announced he would commence a series of addresses on the theme "Things that accompany Salvation", leading up to the Eastertide. He spoke of his desire to commence a membership class for any desiring to unite with the church and would look for a possible opportunity to begin. He also reminded all that no matter what came in the future the people were to "look upward" and see that there is a bright sky and the assurance of strength for the journey ahead. As a church, as a people as in dividends we must of necessity move forward taking one step at a time.

Election of officers for the Session resulted as follows: Messrs. S. A. Berg, E. A. Meiklejohn, Wm. Giles, and R. Pinsent, clerk. The Board of Stewards — Messrs. C. Boyce and H. Hathaway for a three-year period. Messrs. L. Perks, R. A. Johnston for two years. Messrs. G. Berry and A. Lucas for one year. The Conference and Presbytery delegates were left for an official board meeting.

The ladies of the congregation served lunch and coffee bringing a very successful annual meeting to a close.

—J. F. WELSH who was re-elected to the Vermilion Municipal Hospital board on Monday by acclamation. Mr. Welsh represents the town of Vermilion on the board.

W. R. Jory Awarded Merit Certificate

Mr W. R. "Roy" Jory of the Searle Grain Company Ltd. elevator at Vermilion for the past 23 years, has gained the distinct honor of being numbered among those who have won the Twenty-Year Elevator Master Merit Certificate. This is the highest award given by the Grain Insurance and Guarantee Company and is granted in recognition of outstanding proficiency in the maintenance of grain elevator premises. The award is only granted if an agent has a perfect record for a period of twenty consecutive years.

Inspections of all plants insured by Grain Insurance and Guarantee Co. are carried out by Affiliated Inspection Bureau Ltd. which has for the past twenty years majored in the inspection of grain elevators, flour and feed mill properties, etc. The Bureau's inspection service is acknowledged by all as being extremely thorough and rigid. Winning the award is therefore recognized as an outstanding achievement by the grain trade and fire prevention authorities throughout Western Canada.

Wainwright Wins 4th Play-Off Spot

Wainwright won the fourth playoff slot in the E.A.H.L. by eliminating Viking in a total goal home-and-home series. The Commandos won both games, 10-8, and 8-4.

To quote the Viking News: "Viking agreed to a home-and-home series with Wainwright and Vermilion for the fourth play-off position and everyone felt it was a good arrangement. But Vermilion Tigers reneged and went home dragging their tails behind them."

The above three teams ended up with 16 points each. According to the league constitution, goal averages decide the winner in such cases.

Lloydminster and Wainwright are now playing in one semi-final, with Vegreville and St. Paul meeting in the other.

Ducks Unlimited completed the construction of 25 new projects in the western Canada prairie region during 1955. This is worthy of note in view of the abnormal weather experienced during portions of the construction season. First portion was one of excessive moisture conditions and the latter part proved very difficult because of the early onslaught of winter.

Canada's population was estimated to be 15,782,000 at December 1st last, an increase of 382,000 from a year previously.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

In spite of blizzard warnings, sub-zero temperatures and some blocked roads, eight squares turned out to Circle Eights' last dance. Harold did the calling and everyone had a good time.

We hear it said [illegible] that square dancing is just a passing fad. A visit to the Legion Hall last Thursday, on such a wintery evening, would have changed that idea.

Red Cross Sunday February 26th

Sunday Feb. 26 has been named "Red Cross Sunday" and Saturday Feb. 25 has been named "Red Cross Sabbath" across both Canada and the U.S.

Each year the Sunday closest to March 1, opening date of the annual campaign for funds, is selected as "Red Cross Sunday" with clergy of every denomination invited to mention the work of Red Cross either from the pulpit or in the church bulletin, thus putting the work of Red Cross under the best possible auspices.

Through the years the Biblical story of the Good Samaritan has been used as the model for Red Cross workers.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

The 'Winter tire deflation mystery' is old hat to car owners who have gone through at least one winter—but it is still a puzzler for a good many neophyte drivers facing their first cold weather.

The first-time car owner is usually conscientious about taking care of his car and he knows enough about the importance of proper tire inflation to pay particular attention to that aspect. So he inflates to an exact poundage of, say, 28 pounds.

But, within the space of a few miles of driving, his tires have gone soft—all four at once. He discounts the possibility of slow leaks because the tires are new and each tire has gone down by the same amount. He is further puzzled when he looks at the tires in his garage the next morning—and they are properly inflated again.

He is already to shrug it off, except by the time he reaches the office the tires are down again. He calls the corner service station for an explanation, and it's a simple one.

He inflated his tires in a 70 degree heated garage but forgot that for every 10 degree drop in temperature his tires would lose one pound of pressure. He drove out into the zero weather, and consequently, his original pressure shrank to 21 pounds— and the mystery is solved.

Health Unit Notes

HEALTH UNIT
A CHILD'S FEET AND HIS FUTURE

The healthy feet of the adult depend upon the care of the feet and choice of shoes and socks from infancy to adolescence.

Most young mothers are inclined to put their babies into shoes too soon. Anxious mothers often ask, "When should I buy shoes for my baby and what should I buy?". The correct answer is that the baby should be without shoes as long as possible. he needs nothing on his feet and very loose wool socks for warmth in winter until he definitely shows signs of trying to toddle.

First shoes are important and should have four essential characteristics:

1. Lightness
2. Flexibility
3. Depth to allow toe room right up to the end
4. Firmness of fit to brace around ankle

Strap shoes for the very small child are not recommended. The shoes must be so light that the child does not feel their weight, flexible so that he can wriggle his toes with freedom.

The toddler's shoe should be fitted to allow length enough for growing but not too much so that the child inclines to trip. When a child emerges from the stage of toddling in which he places one foot ahead of the otherwithout bending his feet, he needs a half to three quarters of an inch in the new shoe between toe ends and the end of the shoe. When he begins to walk, flexing his feet, he should never have less than three quarters of an inch in length to spare. For when he begins to walk his toes develop rapidly, the big toes becoming longer than the others. It is at this stage children's feet need watching, because they grow very fast, and a regular size check every three to four months is recommended to ensure the shoes are big enough.

The shoe needs of the child who walks and runs and has emerged from the stage of toddling are different. He needs a sturdier shoe carefully fitted at the instep and heel so that it follows the movements of his feet. The shoe should be broad enough to allow spread of his feet laterally at the fore-part, but not so wide that the foot slips about inside the shoe. When the child has been fitted, there should be enough looseness of the upper for a tiny fold to be picked up between thumb and finger. If the shoe is too loose in the forepart it will crease too deeply as he bends his feet, causing blisters and corns to start. It is important that the shoes or sandals that the child wears should fit well at the heel and not slide up and down. When the new shoe is on the foot, get the child to bend his feet and walk in the shoes before deciding to buy them and watch the heel.

1. That only one pair of shoes should be bought for the child at a time.
2. That the child should have two pairs of shoes in wear to allow for repairs.
3. That new shoes should not be kept for best but put in wear at once, or they will be outgrown before they wear out.
4. That shoes should never be bought for the child by the mother or any member of the family without the child being fitted in the shop by a trained shoe fitter.
5. The children should never be asked if their shoes are comfortable. A small girl who likes the color of a pair of shoes, or a boy who is bored with the procedure of fitting will say yes to anything.

WHAT SORT OF SHOES ARE BEST?

For the tiny toddler a soft unlined shoe or low-cut boot, lacing over the instep.

For the school girl and boy, lacing shoes for every day in winter, well cut and shaped sandals with one or two straps for summer.

Canadian Drivers' Records Worse Than In U. S.

OTTAWA Canadian drivers' records are worse than those of their U.S counterparts.

With population and miles-per-driver taken into effect, Canada's traffic accident record is tragically higher than that in the United States W. M. V Ash chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference said.

Although U.S. casualty figures always dwarf those of Canada, when figured on a population basis Canada's record comes out a good 30 per cent higher" Mr Ash said

"During the past twenty years some $1000 Canadians have been killed in accidents. And the record is getting worse Unless preventive steps are taken the next 20 000 will be killed in ten years

Prime victims of auto accidents, the figures show are young people Last year traffic accidents killed more people in the 3 to 30 age group than all other causes combined

During 1954 traffic accidents cost $100 million That's far more than was lost as the result of Hurricane Hazel or the Winnipeg floods

In the same year 2,386 persons

MORE HELP FOR ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES IS FORECAST

Report from Alberta Legislature by Ken Mason

EDMONTON — Albertans should know by the end of this week how much their provincial government plans to spend during the coming fiscal year.

From all indications, members of the legislature will have finished debating the reply to the Speech from the Throne, and it is expected a special night sitting will be called on Friday to bring down the budget.

Hon E W Hinman, who represents the southern riding of Cardston will present his first budget speech since his appointment as provincial treasurer in the cabinet shuffle last summer

There probably will be a normal increase in estimated budget expenditures for the 1956-57 fiscal year with more money expected to be sought for highways, education, health welfare and aid to municipalities.

Estimates are that proposed government spending will amount to roughly $240 000,000 in the fiscal year which begins April 1. Last year's budget called for expenditures of $222,863,072 which was an increase of $18 013,380 over the previous year.

Of special interest to Alberta municipalities will be details of a ten-year increase in government financial assistance. According to reliable estimates the government plans to set aside between $40 000,000 and $50 000 000 for capital loans to municipalities and the purchase of school debentures.

It is expected that the proposed municipal financing corporation, which is expected to save money on the open market and re-lend it to municipalities. The government will guarantee the loans to the Vermilion region resulting in a saving in interest rates.

The budget speech is traditionally delivered on a Friday night in order that the leader of the opposition can study it and prepare to launch the debate when the assembly resumes on the following Monday

WILL ASK RE-VAMPING OF LIQUOR LAW

At the time of writing 11 members had taken part in the debate on the reply to the Throne Speech but there had been little in the way of fireworks.

However notice was served that the legislature will be asked for the second successive year to consider a possible re-vamping of the province's liquor laws.

J Percy Page (PC, Edmonton) and Arthur Hatch (PC Calgary) said that they will ask that a royal commission be established to investigate the liquor question. Mr Page a bootlegger, cited a report that nearly 15,000,000 gallons of beer and liquor were consumed in the province in a year, and said the situation "is getting out of hand"

So far government spokesmen haven't hinted at their attitude toward the liquor question But last year they said many information must be gathered before Alberta and Manitoba where liquor laws have been changed recently

Other speakers devoted much time to praising their constituencies and congratulating friends who were in the house they sit criticizing or praising the Throne Speech itself.

Mr Hinman had more to say about the proposed survey of provincial-municipal financial arrangements forecast "radical change" in himself as possible source of revenue for cities, towns, municipal districts counties and school and hospital districts.

He spoke during debate on a Liberal motion calling for a royal commission survey the financial set up The Social Credit majority defeated the motion.

DEFEAT LIBERAL MOTION

The house also defeated a Liberal motion condemning the appointing magistrates in the province, the government chose county chairmen traffic accidents And at least that many more were totally and permanently disabled meaning a loss in earning power, a tremendous burden on family and community which runs into millions of dollars a year

The Highway Safety Conference has hopes and intends to help in getting this toll from its present height down to a more minimum

TURN OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FORECASTING

In France during the first week of February the weather was very cold with temperatures registering between 12 degrees and 20 degrees centigrade according to the region The fields are not protected by snow and the result it is feared that the wheat will thin out the number of ears diminished and the more vigorous plants remain. Some vegetation was good before the cold set in over a week ago and is restricted Any wheat which is destroyed will be promptly be replaced by spring varieties

Agriculture may not remain for long as Alberta's leading industry, says R M Putnam provincial deputy minister of agriculture Last year farm production had a value of $363 million while mining production (predominantly oil in Alberta) was set at $351 million

The president, Ross Banks, was in the chair, and arrangements were made to attend to matters of the civic election day. TOWN ELECTION MONDAY, MARCH 5th.

Electors will be given the opportunity on Monday, March 5th to elect three councillors to sit on the governing body of Vermilion. Five prominent citizens are the candidates and after looking them over the Standard can safely say that any three will make conscientious and progressive town legislators. One year ago at the civic election 511 citizens cast their ballots out of a possible 1200, approximately 43 per cent. This does not appear to be a very large proportion but it is still greater than the average turn out at civic elections in other centres of similar size. Taking a glance at voting percentages in other elections held in 1955 we find at the federal by-election 896 of 1200 cast their ballots, 75%; at the provincial election 1144 voted in town from a possible 1400, 82%.

Pick your candidates for Monday and be sure to cast your ballot.

AUDITOR'S CERTIFICATE

I have examined the balance sheets of Vermilion Municipal Hospital and Municipal Hospital District No. 2 as at December 31st, 1955 and the statements of operations and surplus for the year ended on that date. My examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion the accompanying balance sheets and statements of operations and surplus present fairly the financial position of the Municipal Hospital and Municipal Hospital District as at December 31st, 1955 and the results of their operations for the year ended on that date.

SHORT COURSES NEXT WEEK

Mr Harry Hargrave, assistant superintendent of the experimental station at Lethbridge will speak at the Vermilion short course on Tuesday afternoon next. Mr. Hargrave is an authority on beef cattle and there should be a good turnout to hear him. It is Mr. Hargrave's job to test out feeds for cattle and new breeds such as the Cattalo and Brahman. He will discuss dwarfism, minerals for cattle and many related topics. (See program on another page of the Standard).

LACOMBE BREED OF PIGS

Mr. Jack Stothart, superintendent of the Lacombe experimental farm developed the new breed of pigs known as "Lacombe". Come out and hear what Mr. Stothart has to say about this breed and how anyone can get breeding stock. Mr. Stothart will discuss many [illegible] points on pig raising. He will [illegible] on the first day of the [illegible] course.

SPECIAL CROPS

I have more enquiries in my office about growing special crops than anything else. People want to know about growing rape, rye, grass seeds, Durum wheat, sunflowers for seed, flax, peas, etc. Mr. Wilson, field crops commissioner of Edmonton will talk on "Special Crops" on the first afternoon of the short course.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Mr. Wm. D. Sharpe of Edmonton will discuss making out income tax returns. The Agricultural Society felt that farmers would welcome a talk on this subject. There are a good many places in the tax returns where deductions can be made if the farmer knows what to do. Mr. Sharpe will be ready to answer questions on this subject.

FOR THE LADIES

All I can say is: Ladies, get a program and read all the subjects to be discussed". Mr. McCalla, supervisor of horticulture, Edmonton, will talk on "Flowers, Shrubs and Trees". Ladies living in town and county are all welcome to attend the short course.

INVITATION TO ALL

The Vermilion Agricultural Society, the Provincial Department of Agriculture and your District Agriculturist all invite you to take in these meetings. Lloydminster is having a short course this week and the attendance is around 200 each meeting. Can we do better here?

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather is really remarkable. On Feb. 15th the thermometer read 55 below at Wilson's and J Nelson's, their locations are lower than the Omness farm where it registered 40 below.

Another blizzard on Feb. 21. The snow piled the roads high again but to date the 25th, most of them are opened. North of the school it was impossible to open the road so detours are through Johnny Nelson's and Omness' fields. Bill Axley and Idelore Nelson opened the roads, Idelore doing the driveways and lanes on his route.

Fraser — Word from the Whelan family (Orlene Omness). The cold and the terrific strong winds were almost unbearable, then it was 5 below. Since we hear it has been twenty below. The air is so damp making it much colder and heating facilities aren't of the best.

Mr. Edwards has been in the Vermilion hospital for a few weeks. A speedy recovery is wished him by his friends at Allandale.

Mr. McBride is with the Jim Johnson Sr family in town. He is feeling very much better. We hope by spring he'll be able to be home and enjoy the great outdoors. I am sure the kindness of the Johnson's is appreciated very much.

We are pleased that Uncle Bill Armstrong is getting on very well after dislocating his hip. He fell doing chores. Almost a week after the injury he went to Dr. Sweet who put it back into place again. He came home and is now at his usual routine of work, chores and shovelling snow.

Sorry, a bit late — but congrats to you Uncle Bill on your 74th birthday on Feb. 22 and may you have many more.

Mrs. Nora Ronaghan was holidaying at her sister's, the Armstrong family during the storm, returning to town on Feb. 25th.

Feb. 14th sisters Nora Ronaghan and Mabel Lee visited their sister Gertie Swanson at Elk Point returning home to town on the 19th. Sister Stella Mayers kept the home fires burning.

Mr and Mrs. Ray Stetson and little son from Fort Saskatchewan were visitors at the home of Mrs. Stetson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cross' the week end of Feb. 17.

The Red Cross party at the school on Feb. 17 was well patronized by Campbell Lake folk. Prizes were won as follows: ladies', Mrs. W. L. Hall, Mrs. Jessie Strome, Mrs. Mossy McPhee. Men: George Mead, Idelore Nelson and Hank McKinnon. Draw, cushion won by Mr. Gordon Good and blanket by Alvin Throndson. Proceeds from both amounted to $31.25. Thanks to all who helped in this donation for the Red Cross.

The Clandonald Promenaders square dance party on Feb. 14 was well attended though it was a chilly night. Folks came from Greenlawn, Dewberry, Elk Point and Derwent. Our caller from Mannville, Walter Donnenworth, did the calling to nine squares and the three hours went all too quickly.

A party at Greenlawn hall on Feb. 18 was enjoyed. We were able to attend through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Peck. The Brake family and Bert Shaw attended from Clandonald. It was nice to meet old friends and new. It seems as if there is more snow in that area and around Dewberry the snow banks are really high — and with this last storm will be higher.

Though a cold evening a large congregation was in attendance to hear Dev. Dr. Sam Parsons' message at the United church on Feb 18. We visited at the Fleming home after service leaving around midnight some trouble was experienced on the river hill . then along 41 a flat tire. Just passed Island Hill hall . . . another flat and no more spares! Hubby walked a mile to disturb Mrs. Thelma Armstrong 2 a.m. to phone son-in-law Don Wilson who good naturedly came to the rescue with a wheel and tire. Got home at 3 a.m. 30 below with a cold wind. We did appreciate the kindness of these good folk. The cold just seemed to take the patches right off the tubes.

Visiting at daughter Hilda's your writer was caught there during the storm and was unable to get home. Hubby doesn't enjoy batching any too much and especially when the flu comes along.

Sunday dawned bright and sunny but it was 30 below and no sign of a let-up.

a slippery road, a worn-out tread!

A tread is the ups and downs on a tire that keep you from slipping. When the tread is worn off, there isn't anything to keep you from slipping. This is particularly bad when the roads get slippery, like they do these days. You really ought to ride on tires that have treads. Oughtn't you?

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their help and expressions of sympathy extended to us in our recent sad bereavement. Special thanks to all the men who assisted during the transportation difficulties on Tuesday.

Mrs. E. Etherington and family

Pleasant Valley

The news is scarce but weather is certainly making the headlines. All one hears nowadays is someone telling someone else how terribly deep the snow is and how cold it is going to be tonight again. The men folk won't want to see snow like this for a long time I feel sure as they are still shovelling snow away from feed stacks yet and the teams too get stuck in places. The days however are nice and bright with warmer weather forecast.

Spring must be around some corner as Lloyd Gould saw a gopher hole if that will make one feel a little more cheerful.

Some of our neighbors have nice flowers in bloom too. One lady phoned me and asked me to come and see her red tulips and yellow daffodils another lady has a beautiful Amaryllis Lily. All knowing we are drifted in seven feet deep.

Mrs Giles is more fortunate. She journeyed to town on Friday, had tea with the girls. Then again on Saturday night. Nice to be near a main road. Hello Mrs. Moore— can you get out to town?

Come down and see the hyacinths, they are grand. One is a primrose yellow and the other two are pink.

Sorry to hear Mr. Shaw is not so well. Keep away from your nice apple pies John.

More than 700 women are volunteer hospital visitors of the Canadian Red Cross. They make regular visits to 108 hospitals.

YOUR LEGISLATURE AT WORK

By E. J. Whitton, M.L.A. Vermilion Constituency

RURAL TELEPHONES

On Monday the Throne Speech debate was resumed by Lee Sims (Lib., Acadia Coronation) who dealt with problems of districts coming under the Special Areas Act. He was followed by John Mills (Lib., Lac Ste. Anne) who suggested that the government should seriously consider some plan to promote the revival and development of our rural telephone set-up.

EDUCATION

Education Minister Ashberg gave a comprehensive report on the affairs of his department. He stated that the objective of his department was to improve and equalize educational opportunity and better the status of teachers. He stressed the centralization of schools and stated that more students are now taking senior high school work, and that the supply of teachers was the best since 1938. The Minister spent considerable time dealing with the matter of school grants stating that the tax reduction subsidy grant had been successful in equalizing mill rates for education to a considerable extent over the province as a whole.

SOCIAL CREDIT PRINCIPLES

Independent S. C member for Ledue, Earl Anslay, criticized the government very severely for failing to implement the basic principles of Social Credit, and for ignoring the recommendations of the last party convention.

McNALLY REPORT

Abe Miller (Lib., Edmonton) said he hoped there would not be too much delay in acting upon recommendations of this report as the development of the metropolitan area would be retarded until transportation was clarified and suggested that, if necessary, a special session be held early next summer to deal with the problem.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

Refusal of the government to accept a Liberal move to reduce the bulky Public Accounts committee to a smaller size touched off the first real fireworks of the present session with many government and opposition members taking part in the heated debate. Liberal Leader Prowse re-affirmed his belief in the great value of an active and hard-working committee which would have the power to fully investigate any government department at any time. He suggested that a small body with a majority from the opposition would be much more likely to be active and effective in checking on government accounts, and stated that it was his belief that any government with the courage to appoint such a committee would probably stay in power for a long time.

Premier Manning and other government front benchers stated that our present set up was satisfactory and similar to that of the House of Commons and other provincial legislatures.

SNOW REMOVAL

A Liberal motion urging that the government make special grants to aid rural municipalities in removing snow, particularly from school bus routes, also generated some heated discussion. Richard Hall (Lib. Athabasca) quoted figures to show that all northern districts are hard hit and some as high as $40,000 or more have already been spent by some municipalities for emergency snow plowing. He stated it is obvious that, unless some government aid is forthcoming, the serious financial strain on these districts will greatly reduce the amount of road work they can do next summer. Russel Whitson (Lib., Verm.) pointed out that 70% of rural school children are now bussed and there had been a serious disruption of education this winter due to lost school days.

Highways Minister Taylor stated that snow removal was only a small part of the overall highway problem and that funds allocated had been exhausted. He suggested that the municipalities should establish their own funds for snow plowing by setting aside part of their road monies for that purpose. Liberal Leader Prowse remarked that the government spent considerable money raised by special warrant and could handle emergency grants that way if they so decided.

It is forecast that some measure of government aid for this purpose may yet be granted.

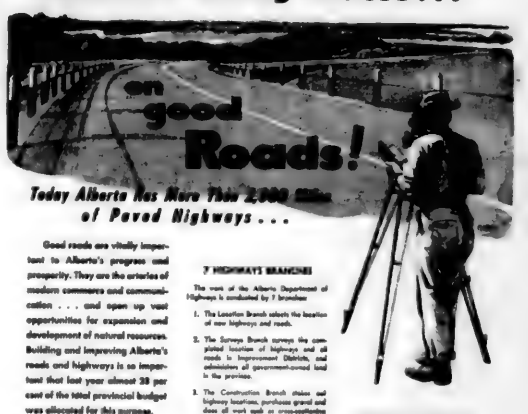
Alberta's Going Places . . .



Good roads are vitally important to Alberta's progress and prosperity. They are the arteries of modern commerce and communication . . . and open up vast opportunities for expansion and development of natural resources. Building and improving Alberta's roads and highways is so important that last year almost 28 per cent of the total provincial budget was allocated for this purpose.
22,500 MILES OF ROADS
A network of 23,000 miles of highways and roads, more than three times the earth's diameter, is controlled by the Department of Highways. Over 2,100 miles of the system are hard-surfaced highways — compared with 231 miles in 1946, just 10 years ago.
Alberta also has more than 23,000 miles of gravelled roads; 30,000 miles of graded roads which are still to be gravelled, and nearly 19,000 miles of district and local earth roads.
7 HIGHWAYS BRANCHES
The work of the Alberta Department of Highways is conducted by 7 branches:
1. The Location Branch selects the location of new highways and roads.
2. The Surveys Branch surveys the completed locations of highways and all roads in Improvement Districts, and administers all government-owned land in the province.
3. The Construction Branch stakes out highway locations, purchases gravel and does all work such as cross-ditching and levelling.
4. The Bridge Branch builds all highway bridges and is presently conducting an expanded program to provide for modern traffic requirements. Bridge design is carried out by this branch, but construction is distributed among private contractors.
5. The Accounting Branch assembles costs of each type of highway, bridge and ferry.
6. The Maintenance Branch maintains all main highways, grants grants to municipal districts and improvement districts for road work and supervises all such roads under these grants.
7. The Motor Vehicles Branch, which includes the Highway Traffic Board, issues all vehicle licenses, conducts driver tests and possesses on safety tests and controls truck and bus traffic.
HOW HIGHWAYS ARE BUILT IN ALBERTA
All main highways in Alberta are built to the best standards. The first year the sub-grade is applied, drainage structures and grade are fine graded and first course surface gravel is applied.
The second year a stabilized base course of screened gravel is spread to depths of 4 to 6 inches or more. Then two layers of crushed gravel course road, the second consisting of crushed gravel screened road, bringing the total thickness of the base course to nine inches or more.
The third year a coat of asphalt is first applied over the crushed gravel, and if asphalt and sand, about four inches thick is rolled into place.
The final year of the schedule the surface coat of asphalt is applied. Then shoulders are rounded and guide posts and markers erected.
Expert engineering skill and heavy-duty equipment are the secret of the construction and maintenance of Alberta's vast highway system. Safety and economy are the watchwords of every mile of road, and the result is better roads every year.

WILDMERE WINKS

No Winks last week as we were snowed in. When will all our snow storms end is the question on everyone's mind these days.

On Sunday Feb. 12th Mrs. C. Cruthers had the Albert Smith family in for a turkey supper as a farewell party for Marlene Smith. Marlene has since gone to Calgary to train for a nurses' aide. Good luck Marlene. Mary Gibson, [illegible] Martin of Basswood, Warren Marfleet of town and Baillie Holte and Donald Johnson of Wildmere were also visitors at the Cruthers' home the same day.

One of Mr and Mrs. H. Friesen's little sons tumbled off a couch and fell on a tricycle cutting an eyelid badly enough that it was necessary to have medical attention and four stitches in the wound. All hope the eyesight will not be impaired by the fall.

Miss Margaret Fadden who is a nurses' aide at Lloydminster hospital was home for the week end of Feb. 11th.

Cliff Cruthers, Baillie Holte, Gary Cruthers and Robert Graham comprised a rink entered in the Buffalo Coulee bonspiel but only got in one game before the storm. Cliff then was on a rink playing at Wainwright and won third in the Grand Challenge. Harry Symes was the skip and Lewis Alexander, Ray Ostertberg along with Cliff made up the rink.

J. Wallington returned home on Saturday evening from Edmonton where he attended a week's Orientation course of Civil Defence. Mr and Mrs R. Martin, Mrs. T. Thompson, Mrs. G. Webb and Roy Garnett attended from Vermilion and district.

Laurence Graham returned on Saturday afternoon by plane to Lloydminster from Arnprior, Ont. where he took an advanced instructor's course in the civil defence for two weeks. He is working again now at Frank Gibson's in Basswood.

Another old timer has passed on to his well-earned rest in the person of Mr. J. Titus of the Cummings district (now known as Buffalo Coulee). His funeral was held Tuesday at Auberndale United church.

Wildmere W.I. will hold a bake sale at Craig's on Saturday March 3rd. Everybody welcome.

The two Farm Forum groups of Edwen vale and Auburndale held a joint meeting at the Buffalo Coulee school on Monday, Feb. 20. Mr. Glen Smiley provincial chairman, was guest speaker. Mr. Smiley answered a number of questions after the discussion period and he assured the groups that Forums were serving a useful purpose. C. G. I. T. Girls Are Hostesses At Tea

A very successful tea was held by the Canadian Girls in Training on Saturday, February 18th in the United church hall. For the occasion the hall was nicely decorated in a very interesting manner, by the junior group of the C.G.I.T. They chose an Indian theme as the missionary study book this year is the "Turquoise Horse," the story of North American Indians. Decorations included teepees, dressed dolls, tom-toms, papoose in Indian cradle, tomahawk and Indian pottery.

Refreshments were planned by the Intermediate group. Margaret Wilson as hostess greeted the guests at the door. Pouring tea were Marjorie Waldenberger and Elizabeth Stewart. Presiding at the coffee urn were Ruth Beatty and Shirley Porter. Serviteurs and kitchen staff included the remaining members of the C.G.I.T. The girls were gracious and efficient hostesses.

The senior group was in charge of entertainment. A short program with Donna Cooper as emcee was carried on during the tea. The numbers were piano solos by Kaye Simonson, Betty Robinson, Joan Stephens, Dorothy Jean Stewart, Sharon Surby and Lynn McPherson. vocal solo was rendered by Marilyn Smith and a vocal duet by Margaret and Carol Goodwin.

NEWS from LANDONVILLE

The Louise Lake School District held its annual meeting in the Louise Lake school on February 18th. About thirty rate payers were in attendance.

Mr. Ted Dorey was elected chairman and he asked Mr. Clarence Goldsmith to act as secretary for the meeting. The school, buses and teacher shortage were discussed. Some bus routes in the district are still not plowed and the bus drivers have been under fire as a result. It was felt that these routes should be plowed out as soon as it is possible.

An election was held and three trustees were elected. Mr. Ted Dorey will represent Louise Lake for two years, Mr. Eric Nettleton will represent Telegraph for a year and Mr. Andy Melnyk will represent Northern Star District for a year.

After the election of the trustees a motion was made that the trustees meet the divisional board and ask for permission to have power put in the school.

Mr. Robert Butz, an old time resident of the Landonville district has been visiting his son Mr. George Butz. He will stay here for a few weeks renewing old friendships and amazing the young ones with his stories of the "good old days".

Mrs. Poloschuk has left for Winnipeg to attend the funeral of her father who passed away in that city a week ago. Archie is looking after the farm and his father who has not been feeling too well this winter.

Report from Alberta Legislature by Ken Mason

Social Credit Budget Plans Record Expenditure on Behalf Alberta People

EDMONTON. — Alberta's 21st consecutive Social Credit budget was handed down in the legislature last week, and as usual indicated the administration is doing well under the orthodox monetary system.

Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman's "prosperity budget" was the largest in Alberta's history—calling for record expenditures of $242,421,385 in the coming fiscal year. Based on Alberta's population of 1,060,000, that's about $227 for every man, woman and child in the province.

The budget speech, delivered by Mr Hinman at a special night sitting last Friday, had the earmarks of an "election budget," even though last year was election year.

ABOLISH UNEARNED INCREMENT TAX

The best feature, so far as the average citizen is concerned, was the promise that the unearned increment tax will be abolished. The tax, which nets the province about $1,300,000 annually, has been levied on the increase in the value of real property when it changes hands.

To compensate for the loss in revenue, the government proposes a slight increase in land title fees, which haven't been changed since 1914. So far as the individual dealing with the land titles office is concerned, the increase in fees will be small. But the collection of revenue will be spread out over that many more people.

Opposition ranks in the legislature are hailing the abolition of the tax as a major victory. They have been urging it for several years. So have real estate agents and anyone with occasion to sell property.

As in past years, highways, education and public health—in that order will take the biggest bite out of the public treasury during the coming fiscal year, which starts April 1st.

RECORD HIGHWAY PROGRAM

An all-time record $56,988,870 highway program is forecast, with $42,492,105 going to the construction of main roads and bridges. $8,225,000 for grants to improvement areas and contingency grants. The total cost of highway work will be an increase of $2,374,885 over last year.

INCREASE FOR EDUCATION

Education department spending of $38,137,280 will be an increase of $3,638,915 over the previous year. Most of the increase is due to larger operational and construction grants, which will amount to $33,340,100. The government will spend another $7,180,000 on tax reduction subsidy grants, which were started last year in an effort to keep school taxes throughout the province at 25 mills or lower.

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICES

Public health services will cost the province $28,054,450 and will include what the budget terms ample provision for the province's entry into the proposed federal-provincial hospital and diagnostic service insurance. Ottawa would pay up to half of the cost.

OPERATING SURPLUS

Mr Hinman giving his first budget address since his appointment as provincial treasurer in the cabinet shuffle last summer called for an operating surplus of $16,239,97[illegible] for the year.

DIP INTO SURPLUSSES

However, the province will have to dip into its accumulated surpluses to the tune of $33,660,975 to make ends meet during the year. The reason is that $48,900,000 has been set aside for statutory payments.

These payments will include placing $25,000,000 into the municipal revolving fund, from which municipalities obtain low-interest loans to finance their capital works. $8,000,000 in loans to Alberta Government Telephones: $12,000,000 for school construction loans. $4,000,000 for the rural electrification revolving fund, and $900,000 for homestead lease loans.

Payments such as these are investments which the government expects to be repaid, but for budget purposes they are listed as expenditures. The total estimated expenditures of $242,421,385 represent an increase of $19,458,313 over last year's estimated $222,963,072.

The budget speech traditionally is delivered on a Friday night, so the opposition can study it over the week-end and be prepared to launch the budget debate the following Monday. J. Harper Prowse Liberal opposition leader, was expected to start the debate Monday of this week.

SILENT CONTEMPT

Premier Manning's Social Credit government last week defeated its first non-confidence motion since it was returned to power in the election last summer. And it was accomplished without a government spokesman uttering a word.

During debate on the Throne Speech, Liberal Harold E. Tanner of Edmonton introduced a motion expressing lack of confidence in the government for its policies on education. Mr. Tanner, an Edmonton high school principal, charged the government with allowing educational standards and teacher qualifications to slip.

After Mr Tanner had spoken, Hugh John MacDonald, Calgary Liberal, seconded the motion and made a few more charges.

As soon as Mr MacDonald had finished, Social Credit members called for a vote. Hon A. O. Aalborg, minister of education, had been taking notes but didn't rise to debate the issue.

A standing vote was taken, and the non-confidence motion was defeated 36 to 21. One opposition member, Bryce C. Stringham Independent from Bow Valley-Empress riding, supported the government.

Thorncliffe F.U.A.

February's meeting of the Thorncliffe F.U.A. was held on the 11th at the home of T. Thompson. The first topic for discussion concerned compulsory membership in the Union. It was felt by all members present that any effort to introduce this would be detrimental.

Another subject was weed inspection. Would the farmers prefer weed inspectors, [illegible] weed control if it were applied to lowering the cost of chemicals to farmers?

It has been arranged for Mr. G. Martin to speak on Civil Defence at the next meeting which will be held at the home of [illegible] Tuesday, March [illegible].

Department store sales in Christmas week in 1955 were [illegible] per cent higher than in the like period of [illegible].

Former Vermilion Man Celebrates 81st Birthday

On February 18th Patrick McNamara of Edmonton celebrated his 81st birthday with a family gathering and a few close friends at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Taylor. A lovely evening was spent playing bingo.

Mr McNamara is well known in the Vermilion and Landonville districts where he homesteaded in 1907. He worked for the C.N.R. in Vermilion as a car inspector until his retirement. After that time he lived at the old home at Landonville until moving to Edmonton in 1950.

Mr McNamara is still active and gets great pleasure in telling about his pioneering days. Early in the New Year he fell, breaking his right arm.

Four of his grandchildren were able to be present to help Granddad celebrate his birthday: Mrs Lloyd Donnelly, Neil Taylor, Lorne Taylor and Pat McNamara. After a visit with his family and friends he joined them at a delicious lunch served by Norma Donnelly, Margie Taylor and Una McNamara. A beautifully decorated cake was brought in, and while Mr McNamara was blowing out the 81 candles, all the guests sang "Happy Birthday" and "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow". Everyone wished him many more years of health and happiness.

Mr and Mrs. McNamara have two children: Mrs. Bert Taylor of Edmonton, and Charles McNamara of Ardmore, also eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

PREPARING THE CHILD FOR REGULAR DENTAL CARE

By the time Junior is 3½ or 4, he is ready for his first visit of many to the dentist—a visit that should be fun and helpful.

Why start so young? Cavities don't wait for children to grow up. Sixty per cent of three-year-old children have cavities. Among them, 12 these cavities are filled while they are small, they won't get big. If they are neglected, the child may lose some of his first teeth before the permanent ones are ready to come in. This often means that the second teeth are crushed — making it easy for tooth decay and gum disease to develop.

Many mothers don't realize that the primary teeth are far less sensitive to pain than permanent teeth, and small fillings are practically painless.

It's a good idea to start your child on the habit of regular dentist visits at an early age when they can be pleasant experiences. The child who makes a friend of his dentist at an early age and who keeps having his teeth repaired with little pain is the first stage will never fear dental work.

Tooth decay is most active during childhood: yet it is then that the growth of the jaws and jawbones on. It will save many disconforts and even illnesses in later years if the first baby teeth can always in first-class condition.

Regular maintenance of the teeth usually is established when a child is established without the loss of a single tooth. In Canada today, the average 16-year-old has already lost two permanent teeth. This is largely due to after the cause of tooth growing crooked, not eating properly and not being able to chew well. Neglected mouths often suffer from gum disease and bad breath. It is by no not uncommon sight, to see people in their early 20's with only a couple sets of false teeth.

It is mother who makes the appointment and it is she who arranges who prepares her child for his dental date. It should be treated as a matter of fact, not a subject for discussion. It should be described like any other visit. Above all, mother should not give her child the idea of fear. Many adults like to exaggerate their sufferings in the dental chair, which may have been real enough in the days before local anaesthetics were widely used. Never frighten your child by tales of torture or threats of the drill or anything else so silly. If you do, you will be starting up trouble for him and for yourself.

It is not hypocrisy, but quite true, to tell a child that it is fun to the dentist regularly and looks after his teeth well. He will enjoy his dental visits. Children brought up this way look forward to a session with their dentist as a treat.

Never try to fool your child. Don't tell him you are just going down town to buy them something, to him into the dental office without warning. If he is faced with corrective work, like straightening the teeth, don't pretend that it won't be a nuisance. If your child trusts you, he can take bad news.

Of course you have been telling your child to brush his teeth or rinse his mouth after every meal ever since he first had teeth. But now the dentist will tell him too, and Junior will begin to think that there's something important to it. It will be yours before he will brush his teeth without urging, but it should be possible before long to have him head for his toothbrush at the right times.

The reason it is so important to brush your teeth immediately after eating is that tooth decay is caused by acids produced by bacteria feeding on sweet food particles in the mouth. Brush them right away and you've brushed out the possibility of decay.

Decay is increased by sweet foods, so cut down on them, plain and candy. Encourage your child to eat the foods for health: milk, fruits, vegetables, meat, fish, cheese and whole grain cereals. Limit between-meal snacking to after meals, just before tooth brushing.

PAINT IS NO TIME KILLER!

In spite of our "modern age" it's amazing how many old-fashioned things still persist. For instance, there's the one about painted surfaces being especial fire hazards.

Actually, dried paint, instead of tending to spread flame, effectively prevents it! In the early stages of a fire ordinary paints, particularly high-gloss ones, char down the blaze. You can check this the next time you are around a bonfire. Throw on pieces of painted wood and paper and watch which catches fire and is burned up first!

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

The World 1955 farmed production is now estimated at 130,000,000 bushels. This is 9,000,000 bushels less than an earlier forecast, resulting largely from revised estimate of the harvest in Argentina and the United States. However, it is 12,000,000 bushels or 10 per cent larger than the estimated outturn of 1954 and only slightly less than average pre-war production.

In England and Wales an official report to the end of January states that good progress was made with field work before the weather deteriorated and on the whole it is well forward for the time of year. Wheat and other cereals are generally strong and healthy.

Manufacturing now employs one out of four working Canadians, the same proportion as in the United States. Quick Canadian Facts

Of Many Things . . .

VOLUNTARY WORKERS

Not long ago I wrote a column complaining about the fact that governments pay high fees to any Toronto nightclub singers in the name of Canadian culture, while really fine novelists get no help and instead pay a terrific sum in income tax if they produce a best seller. I said the whole thing seem ed rock-eyed to me, and that I think it is a poor way to promote Canadian talent.

Well, apparently many weekly newspaper readers agree with me. One man wrote from Winnipeg to say he was fully in accord with me. His letter was interesting and I'd like to quote part of it.

"More good work along cultural lines is done in one week by various voluntary groups of business and professional people than is done in a month by government TV. Right here in Winnipeg, for instance, the Men's Musical Club does a marvelous job. On March 26, in the City Auditorium, they're sponsoring Mendelssohn's ELIJAH presented by the Philharmonic Choir and full symphony orchestra, featuring Sir Ernest MacMillan. People come in from small towns all over Manitoba to see and hear such performances. It rather burns folks up that did previous has paid in TV taxes something close to three million dollars, a large portion of it is used for the presentation of suggestive dances, sexy night club songs and perverted dramas which, if they must be presented, might as well be done by private interests at no cost to the taxpayer.

He went on at considerable length to point out that in many small towns of Canada voluntary groups work hard all year to raise money for cultural projects and they also resent being taxed to provide a TV screen for pop singers. The man had for popular songs is great enough without government money being spent on it . . .

I agree completely. I think the vast majority of Canadians agree. I hope that many of them will write to the Secretary, Royal Commission on Broadcasting, Ottawa, Ontario, and tell the commission the same story. We want genuine culture encouraged of course but we don't want to pay taxes to have some night club type sing SIXTEEN TONS. We should get that kind of entertainment for free!

Snow and more snow is the order of the day. Roads are plugged, buses not able to run and even the Townsville Trolley was unable to make the run on Wednesday. Hamrh no mail, no freight and no bread. The winter of 1955 and 6 will go down in history as an equal to 1949 and 50 and 1956 and 7.

Alberta's Natural Gas Industry OPERATING THE SYSTEM

How GAS goes home!

Delivering natural gas from the field to your home has a great deal in common with the delivery of milk from the cows. (1) It must be fed through field gathering lines for treatment in processing plants. (2) Field pressure and compressor stations (3) force the gas through transmission lines to Alberta's communities. At the transmission line terminus (4) natural gas is measured and its pressure controlled as it enters the distribution system. Supplying homes and business customers presents more. From the street mains a service line feeds gas to your home — processed, measured and ready to use!

With GAS you get service —we plan it that way!

WOODVALE

We have not gathered much news lately it has been too cold and after last week's storm roads are pretty well blocked some place so is busy digging themselves a path out to the main road — if possible' This is not always the case however and that plays havoc with school attendance. There are pupils who have missed almost two weeks' school due to impassable roads and what will March and April bring with their usual storms?

However we do have congratulations for Mr. and Mrs Douglas Young on the birth of a baby daughter on their anniversary Saturday Feb. 11th.

Then we welcome back to Woodvale Mr and Mrs. Bill Wells and baby Diana who have come to live with Bill's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Wes Isley.

All Five Beaupiel Trophies Leave Town

Zazulak Rink of Derwent Wins Grand Challenge

Vermilion's 40th annual bonspiel was completed on Friday evening, a little later than planned due to some draws being delayed on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. The trouble was the same as that experienced in many of the big rinks, frost and drip falling on the ice, making it unplayable. The soft ice problem has been solved but the drip and falling frost from the ceiling must still be overcome.

FIVE TROPHIES LEAVE TOWN

One remarkable feature of the bonspiel was the fact that all five trophies were won by visiting rinks. This covered prize of the spiel, the Grand Challenge, went to the Zazulak rink of Derwent, the number 2 event, Telford Memorial, was won by Don Lauvencesson, Manville; number 3, Vermilion Hotel, by Fred Brathwaite of Dewberry; No 4 by Jack Braithwaite of Manville, quartet; No. 5 by Len Mann, also of Manville.

It will be noted that three of the trophies went to Manville.

RINKS ENTERED

Six even 64 rinks competed, with 41 of these being visitors from other points. The remaining 23 were local foursomes. It is interesting to note that while Vermilion attracted 41 visiting rinks, the Edmonton bonspiel had barely twice that number, 80 to be exact.

GRAND CHALLENGE WON BY STEVE ZAZULAK. DERWENT

The No. 1 event of the spiel was won by Skip Steve Zazulak of Derwent with Marshall Mudryk 3rd, Emil Mudryk 2nd and Paul Zazulak, lead. They took the final game from the quartet of Vermilion curlers skipped by Bill Sutherland. Ross Beebe 3rd, Bill McLaughlin 2nd and Don Tyrell, lead. The winners got away to a poor start then gave a remarkable exhibition of curling to win the grand prize 17 to 8. The score by ends was:

Sutland 2 2 3 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 9

Third prize went to Glen Gibbons of Vermilion with Allen Hinderbrand 3rd, Walter Robinson 2nd, Ken Miller, lead.

4th — A.C.T. Edmonton, skipped by Tom Tompkins. Russ Carroll 3rd, Gene Smith and Jim Forsyth, lead.

TELFORD MEMORIAL

The Manville rink of Stan Don Lauvencesson, Bill Ross 3rd, Nick Wyrozvitka 2nd and Jim Conkins, lead won the Telford Memorial, also with the other prize winners being: R. D. Guthrie, St. Paul; S. M. Hanzuk, Derwent; 4 J. Bryden, Manville.

VERMILION HOTEL

1. Fred Braithwaite, Dewberry; 2. Carmen Lawrence, Vermilion; 3. Ivy Chivers; 2. B. Tesluy, Islay; 4. The Jack Saddock-Hitchcock rink of Vermilion.

VERMILION BEVERAGES

Another Manville quartet won the Vermilion Beverages Skip Jack Parks, Phil May, Leo McLaughlin, Emmett McLaughlin. Second was won by Elmore Stewart skipping a rink of Don Stewart, Bob Barr and George Gow. Third went to Skip Reynolds of Wainwright and 4th to Skip Kushowski of the Brunswick.

THE BRUNSWICK HOTEL

Les Mans of Manville with Jack Custard, Ken Scoggins and Malcolm Morrison carried home the Brunswick trophy. Consolation prize went to "Cold Draw" Marshall (skip); 3rd Harold Wilson; 2nd Manzville; 4th George Manson of Wainwright.

Prizes were presented to the winners by President Aldous Kent following the conclusion of the various events

A 'smorgasbord' luncheon was held Tuesday evening replacing the former banquet of a few years ago which bonspiel just outgrew the traditional banquet.

Due to the efficiency of the draw committee the bonspiel would have been completed by midnight Thursday if the draws on two afternoons had not been delayed by the frost and drip from the ceiling

INVESTIGATE FILTRATION SYSTEM

A party consisting of Councillors Keith Chalmers, D. R. Mitchell and Public works superintendent Cecil Weldon went to North Battleford on Wednesday of last week to investigate an iron removal system used on the water supply

The delegation gathered quite a considerable quantity of valuable information regarding iron removal and filtration while there

Agricultural Short Courses Cancelled

Snow blocked roads forced the Vermilion Agricultural Society to cancel two proposed agricultural courses at the School of Agriculture here and at Mannville.

The courses were featured out standing speakers of the provincial and federal governments, with a separate booklet course for the benefit of ladies.

Following the snowfall and more particularly the drifting of Saturday and Sunday many roads were blocked because of the road conditions and no definite promise of improved weather, the society decided on Sunday to cancel the courses.

LOCKE, THOMPSON, HERZOG ELECTED TO TOWN COUNCIL

Two candidates, E. A. Locke and C. E. Thompson, seeking re-election to the Vermilion town council headed the poll in Monday's voting, while a newcomer to municipal ranks, Edward J. Herzog, was elected to fill the third vacancy on the town's governing body. The two defeated candidates were Albert Harshaw and Fred Stewart.

The complete poll was as follows: Locke, 388; Thompson, 369; Herzog, 339; Harshaw, 199; Stewart, 185.

The total number of votes cast was 451, down from the 511 votes of a year ago, due no doubt to the somewhat cold and stormy day. There were seven spoiled ballots, five of these were spoiled by using the figures 1, 2 and 3.

The two top candidates, Locke and Thompson are elected for terms of three years. Herzog will sit for one year, completing the term of H. J. Payne.

The swearing-in of the town council for the coming year will thus be Mayor Melvin Hill, E. A. Locke and Chas. E. Thompson for three year terms, Keith Chalmers and G. W. Sutherland two year terms, D. R. Mitchell and E. J. Herzog, one year terms.

Death Of Mrs. Nora Playne Saddens Friends

The sudden death of Mrs. Nora Playne, aged 45 years, on Sunday, March 4th, saddened many friends and acquaintances in town and district. She leaves to mourn her loss her sorrowing husband, Mr. Fred Playne, one daughter Lawrence, one brother Mr. George Richardson of Vermilion, and three sisters Mrs. J. Summers, Mrs. J. Mitchell and Mrs. M. Downie, all of Edmonton.

The funeral services are being held at St. Saviour's Anglican church this Thursday March 8 at 2 p.m. Interment will be in the Pleasant View cemetery. The Rev. K. A. Minshall will officiate.

Moyers are in charge of funeral arrangements.

V. S. A. Alumni Re-union Attracts Good Attendance

Despite snow-clogged roads and all the hazards connected with cross country travel this winter, a large number of former students returned to the School of Agriculture for the annual re-union last Friday evening.

Among the visitors who travelled some distance to attend this function the visitors attracted special attention Dave, who is in charge of their rather extensive construction and road building operations in the Drayton Valley oil fields, and Bob of Edmonton who had come all the way from the Peace River area and together they came on to Vermilion — Just to see how the old school is getting along this winter.

A total of over 300 attended the dance and enjoyed the program of music supplied by Bob Brouseau and his Rhythm Kings

1955 Tax Collections Set All Time High Mark

Reeve John Kelly Reviews Position Of Vermilion River M. D.

At the annual meeting of Vermilion River municipality held recently Reeve John H Kelly gave a general review of the work carried out in the MD during the year 1955. He also gave a short synopsis of the financial standing

The Reeve's report is as follows:

Despite the unfavorable circumstances under which farmers are operating at the present time, our municipal finances are in a sound position

Tax collections for the past year are an all-time high of over $350,000 this being 97.6% of the current levy with a cash balance on hand at the end of the year of $330,126.58.

Even with last years increase of 1½ mills, the municipal rate of 21 mills compares favorably with that of other Alberta municipalities for which we have the final statements for 1955.

Despite the heavy snow in April which necessitated a late start on the road building program all the provincial government grant moneys were earned

During 1955 there were 133 miles of roads graded 61 miles of which received the government grant.

100 miles of road were gravelled, of which 100½ miles received the government grant.

In addition to the above, 4½ miles of road were constructed under the 100 per cent grant from the provincial government contingency fund at a cost of $24,120.

Breaking down the public works expenditure of $391,175.78 into construction, gravelling maintenance, snowclearing etc. we find

Construction 133 miles at $1,264.16 per mile average $168,133.28
Maintaining and snowplowing etc. $41,275 Patchwork surface repairs, culverts, snowfences, utilities etc. $23,229.50

Machinery repair costs while down slightly from last year are still high. The high cost continues work necessitated by snow removal in November and December are partly responsible for heavy repair costs. Extra additions to our grader sheds were erected this year at Paradise Valley Dewberry and Lotus Lake. All the motor graders are now under cover. Reeve Allie Chalmers motor grader and snow plow and 1½ ton pickup scraper were purchased during the year

Our thanks are extended to our provincial and federal members, particularly Mr Anderson for their interest and assistance in the affairs of the MD. Also to the secretary-treasurer and staff and to my fellow councillors for their loyalty and cooperation

FATAL ACCIDENT IN RAILWAY YARDS

Dennis Roberge Crushed Between Switch Engine And Grain Car

Dennis Roberge aged 27 years, engine backed up slowly no one of 11723 32nd street, Edmonton, was killed instantly shortly before 10 o'clock Tuesday morning while working in the Vermilion yards of the Canadian National Railways. He was crushed between a C.N.R. switch engine and a freight car loaded with wheat.

Roberge who had been an employee of the railway for several years, is survived by his widow, one daughter Judith Gail his parents Mr and Mrs E. J. Roberge of Edmonton two brothers and four sisters.

At the time of the accident Roberge, a brakeman, along with an engine crew, was engaged in switching cars in the Vermilion yards. Three freight cars loaded with wheat had been left by the engine on one track. The engine then moved ahead to the switch by the C.N.R. crossing on highway 16. The switch was changed and the locomotive began to back up with the intention of going down another track. Roberge was riding on the step of the engine cab. As the engine backed up slowly no one noticed that the three grain cars had unexpectedly commenced ahead, to a point close to where the two sets of tracks merged. There was not enough clearance between the two sets of tracks and the slowly moving engine ground into the side of the boxcar. Riding on the step of the engine cab Roberge was caught between the two.

Wrecking equipment was used to separate the freight car from the engine in order to recover the body. The freight car was broken open at the end with wheat spilling out. One of the rails under it was snapped in two, and the engine itself was disabled

Students Present Missionary Musical Program Here

A group of some thirty students and faculty of the Western Canadian Bible institute, Regina, presented a missionary musical program in the Alliance Chapel Tuesday evening

The party, returning to Regina after having performed in Calgary, Edmonton and other larger centres, discovered that roads were blocked ahead which necessitated the stopover here. Supper was served upon short notice in the basement of the church and accomodations for the night provided in the homes of the congregation. The service presented by the group was greatly enjoyed.

United Church Preaching Mission Well Attended

The Preaching Mission held in the United church commencing on Sunday, February 19th and finishing on Friday, February 24th under the leadership of Dr Sam Shoemaker missioner and Rev Clint Swallow as song leader was of great spiritual value to the life and work of the Christian Church in this community. Despite unfavorable weather conditions there was a good attendance at the mission Many of the charges outside Vermilion were planning to attend but because of weather and road conditions were not able to be present

The Planning Committee were indeed grateful for the support given by the other denominations in Vermilion and district. We were grateful not only for their presence but for their prayers and sympathy that without their support and prayers the work of the Spirit that got accomplished the definite results that were realized. Dr Parsons commented on the fact that prayer was called throughout the meeting and of course that he felt the presence of God as he was supported by the prayers and thoughts of the people in remarkable ways

The pastor of the United church is conducting a membership class for those who have made a decision for Christ and for those who have not yet become members of the Christian way of life

Study of the Faith classes are held on Sunday evenings at 8:00 p.m. in the United church. Anyone interested in these classes kindly get in touch with the minister

Minister Skiis From Kitscoty to Marwayne

Many make excursions for missionary deputations, but not as the Rev. A. E. Potter of Kitscoty. He had promised to be in Marwayne to take the evening service in the Anglican church as Sunday but the roads were impassable.

So, Mr Potter just climbed on to a pair of skiis and got to Marwayne anyway. His congregation had reckoned without the resourcefulness of their leader and hardly expected to see him that evening, consequently the church was not packed. However church services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hewlett.

Saturday Blizzard Causes Cancellations

The blizzard which held sway last Friday evening and Saturday caused the cancellation of a number of anticipated events. The first of these was the ladies' bonspiel at Buffalo Coulee scheduled for Saturday. Many ladies from various surrounding clubs started out for the Buffalo Coulee rink but turned back when they ran into drifting snow and heavy roads.

The second event to be blown out was the band concert scheduled for Sunday afternoon in the theatre given by the Lloydminster Lions community band. It was an event sponsored by the Vermilion Rotary club. Even the highway east was plugged with snow and there was no alternative but to cancel this date with the hope that the concert will be planned for a later time.

The most ambitious undertakings to lose out were the two-day short courses planned by the Vermilion Agricultural Society for Vermilion and Mannville. Of interest primarily to farmers it became quite evident Sunday that few people would be able to move around the country. It was then regretfully decided to cancel the courses.

Oil income in Alberta is approaching that from farming operations, says Hon. Russell Patrick, Alberta's minister of economic affairs. Total farm cash income in 1955 was [illegible] and that of oil $224,000,000, up from the $201,000,000 in the previous year.

During the month of March the Canadian Red Cross is asking for your help. Please give generously. The work of mercy never ends.

Premier Manning Endorses Red Cross Campaign

"I am pleased to endorse the Red Cross appeal for funds and would commend it for the consideration of all the people of the Province of Alberta.

The work of the Red Cross needs no detailed explanation to the public because all of us, at some time, have either heard at first hand or have been in personal contact with at least one of the many and varied services to mankind performed by this great service dedicated to the relief of sufferings. The Red Cross has willingly accepted the responsibility to be ready in any emergency or disaster to bring help and comfort to those who are suffering. It is our responsibility to see that this organization obtains the necessary financial support to enable it to fulfil its pledge.

The Red Cross will ask for your support in its fund campaign and this can be given willingly and in the full knowledge that your contribution will in the months ahead help someone suffering and in need. I sincerely hope the Red Cross campaign in our Province will meet with the whole-hearted support of our people."

AUTOMOBILE HISTORY

Sixty years ago, "thanks for the buggy ride" was not a wisecrack. It was an expression of genuine gratitude. Riding in a "buggy" was much better than riding or driving a horse. Sixty years ago motor vehicle engineering got a good start. Some of you may recall those early days of your life when you used to ride or watch the "wonders of the road." There was the one-cylinder engine, mounted on a flimsy chassis and connected to a pair of high narrow drive wheels by a chain, one open air seat, and a stick to guide this 'wonder' down the road. This was the automobile of the early days in Alberta.

Sixty years ago was not the first time this 'horseless carriage' made its appearance. As far back as 1600 A.D., a Hollander by the name of Simon Steven constructed a sailboat on wheels. In 1770 A.D., a Frenchman named Nicholas Cugnot constructed a steam tractor to haul cannons around for the army. In 1829 Sir Goldsworthy Gurney operated a steam powered passenger carriage from London to Bath. In 1885 a German by the name of Gottlieb Daimler built the first internal combustion engine which used a mixture of kerosene vapor and air and was used on a bicycle. About the same time, another German by the name of Benz made a three-wheeled motor vehicle. Many people from here on undertook to make and improve on the "horseless carriage." William Morrison of the U.S.A. made and produced an electric automobile. In 1893, Charles E. Duryea [illegible] in a car race at the World's Fair in Chicago. In 1895, the world saw the first [illegible] in Madison Square Gardens.

By this time automobiles were here to stay. Such manufacturers as Henry Ford, Stutz, Stanley, and Maxwell, started a manufacturers' competition in order to capture the demands of a motorized world. Comfort, horsepower, speed and price supplied the main competitive arguments.

From that time to now, many other manufacturers have entered the automobile industry and competition became keener with the same arguments in sales competition.

Today we have horsepower beyond the capabilities of most drivers, with speed around the 100 m.p.h. mark, [illegible] and comforts equal to anything in the world.

The automobile has become a necessity in our living, and it has become a weapon in the destruction of lives and property.

"GREEN ACRES"

FARM ACCOUNTS

If you have never set up a farm account book now is a good time to start before the rush of seeding comes on. Get an account book from this office. Records are very useful and necessary when income tax forms are made out.

FERTILIZER ON GRAIN CROPS

Ammonium phosphate fertilizer has paid off well for many years in increasing yields of grain crops. It is especially useful on late seeded crops to give a quick growth and earlier maturity. Nitrogen fertilizers are advised for land containing a lot of straw and stubble. Whenever we see pale yellow-green fields of grain we know that nitrogen is needed and would increase yields when used on these fields. Get a circular on "Use of Fertilizers in Alberta."

LIVESTOCK IMPROVEMENT

Let us forget the machine age long enough to remember that good sires must be used to maintain or improve our cattle and pig crops. The provincial government has a bull policy whereby 15% of the cost of bulls is paid from the horned cattle fund. The swine improvement policy allows $10 discount on boars bought under the policy. Get applications and full particulars from this office.

LIVESTOCK TONICS

It would appear that a lot of farmers in this area are feeding expensive tonics to livestock. It is questionable if they are of any use whatever. What livestock need is good feed and plenty of it. It has come to my attention that some farmers are not feeding their livestock enough although lots of feed is right there on the place. It is poor business to skimp on feeding livestock. They get thin, [illegible] and often some of them die. Calves and pigs are born dead or weak causing big losses.

VENTILATION IN BARNS

Farmers have reported having more trouble this winter than usual in keeping the frost from collecting on the walls and ceiling. Besides the foul air there is a drip which makes the barn damp and unhealthy. A ventilator will take care of this problem. Get a circular from this office which shows how intake and outlet ventilators are built into barns and chicken houses.

GRASS SEED AVAILABLE

Grass seed, alfalfa and sweet clover seed are much cheaper this year. It would be a good time to seed down an acreage to grass. The Alberta Seed Growers Co-op has appointed the following agents: Gordon Rosa, Vermilion, the Seed Cleaning plant, Marwayne; Seed Cleaning plant, Paradise Valley; [illegible] Cyril Hoyes, Lloydminster.

W. R. Jory of Vermilion is handling seed for the Crop Testing Plan and for Western Grain Co. Also the Seed Cleaning plant at Vermilion is agent for Western Grain Co. seeds.

Engineers Wanted

You can expect an increase in U.S. job offers to Canadian engineers, reports the Financial Post. The shortage is becoming desperate. A Los Angeles daily recently carried an 18-page want ad section, largely filled with offers to engineers. Toronto's Avro Aircraft has found a stop-gap solution to the Canadian shortage, by hiring U.S. professional men at piece rates for specific jobs.

THIRD DOOR EAST OF THE TREASURY BRANCH

Prowse-Bowman Vows Pledged

Vermilion United Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding recently when Joan Bowman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowman of Dewberry, became the bride of Mr. George Prowse, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Prowse of Marwayne.

Rev. MacKay performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length strapless gown of imported Chantilly lace styled with a tiered skirt of nylon net and completed with a lace bolero fashioned with a pearl trimmed Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves. Her embroidered Chapel veil clouded from a cap of nylon tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and pink carnations.

The attendants were the bride's three sisters, June Romanchuk, Mildred Molineux and Bernice McKnight.

They wore similar ballerina length strapless gowns of nylon net and Chantilly lace styled with lace boleros and matching headdresses in shades of blue, pink and yellow. Each carried a bouquet of carnations and mums.

Shannon McKnight and Darlene Bowman were flower girls and wore similar dresses of organdie and nylon net in shades of yellow and green and carried bouquets of lily of the valley and pink roses.

Mr. Wm. Romanchuk, Mr. Leslie Bowman and Mr. Frank Molineux were groomsmen and ushers were Mr. Frank Mead and Mr. Ben Axley.

Bouquets of roses and sweet peas graced the bride's table which was centred with a three tiered wedding cake, at a reception for 125 guests in the Dewberry hall.

Receiving her guests, the bride's mother wore a navy afternoon dress complemented with white accessories and a corsage of red Talisman roses.

A wedding dance with over 400 present was held in the Dewberry hall at night.

Mr. and Mrs. Prowse will make their home in Drayton Valley for the present time.

Telegrams were received from the Bruces, Adams, Jacksons and Miss Donna Fleming, all of Vancouver.

NEWS from CLANDONALD

Any country news column which did not mention the weather and the accompanying annoyances certainly would have little to write about nowadays. It begins to look very much as if March may be like a lion, period — and not only just go out like one!

We were interested in the summing up of the weather as seen by the local weather station but feel that it was not quite complete to say there had been three blizzards. Our summary would be something like this. Four and one half months of winter in which time we have had three major blizzards, six minor ones and about two months of wind. During the same period we have opened our road to town approximately fifteen times, broke road to the strawpile about forty times and shovelled about 20 tons of snow from gates, barn doors and garages etc. Hope the next six weeks will be a little less rugged. Next problem will be our flooded granaries probably.

Edwin Lawrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lawrence who joined the air force a year or so ago, has been at home on leave during the past month. He is now stationed at Moose Jaw doing radio maintenance work and likes the life quite well.

Stuart Liard who has been employed in the bank for several months was recently transferred to Rosetown. Prior to his leaving a number of young friends organized a party in his honor at which time he was presented with a sum of money. Stuart will not be among strangers in his new location as Mr. Liard was manager of the bank at Rosetown some time previous to the family being moved to Clandonald. Every success is wished Stuart in his new surroundings.

Word from Mr. and Mrs. Rowntree who are at present visiting at their daughter's home in Edmonton is to the effect that they are passing the time quite comfortably. Mrs. Rowntree recently took a ten day trip to the coast to visit their elder son Jack and family. Jack has not been keeping too well being troubled with asthma. At the time of his mother's visit however he was in better health.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Peck seem to have been having a bit more than their share of troubles lately. Bob has been having considerable grief with his ears, an after effect of the flu probably, and has been off work for about two weeks. Last Sunday night Mrs. Peck was rushed to hospital where she was operated on immediately for appendicitis. We are glad to hear that both are feeling better now.

Mrs. Gerald Powell and infant daughter Deborah May have been visiting with the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barclay for the past week or so.

This being the most severe winter for years with snow removal the greatest problem ever several district farmers have been building their own pusher-type snow plows. Constructed of scrap iron, plywood and sheet metal a very satisfactory plow can be built at a cost of $35. Using two engines where the going is tough it is possible to do a quite satisfactory job. However when conditions are too severe a large heavier machine is necessary.

Fate dealt two farmers near town, Mick Convey and Norman Sutherland, the cruelest of blows recently. Their road, impassable for motor vehicles since Dec. 12, they were overjoyed to see the bulldozer opening it up early Friday morning. By the next night they were just about back where they started following the blow all day Saturday.

Since writing our last news three highly respected long-time residents have passed on. To the Rhoades, Morrison and Etherington families is extended deepest sympathy in their great loss of loved ones.

During the past week Fred Goddard's pool room was broken into and a sum of money removed from the cash register. Police are investigating.

To Advertise Alberta Roads, Attractions

Hon. A. R. Patrick, Minister of Economic Affairs, has announced that his department and the Canadian Rockies Tourist Association are completing plans for the operation of a mobile tourist information unit at St. Mary, Montana, during the summer months. This is the first time such a program has been launched and is designed to provide literature to American tourists and encourage them to visit Alberta. St. Mary is located 20 miles south of the International Boundary near Glacier National Park.

The mobile unit will be provided by the Alberta Government and will be staffed by members of the C.R.T.A. under a cooperative arrangement. It will be equipped with direct teletype service to Waterton, Fort Macleod, Calgary, Banff, Jasper and Edmonton by the C.R.T.A. It is expected to be in operation during July and August which is the peak season in Glacier Park.

According to Mr. Patrick, a large number of American tourists travel via U.S. Highway No. 2 and Cross Logan Pass at St. Mary but do not visit Canada because of the lack of information concerning highways, accommodations and facilities. Location at this strategic point travel [illegible] to intercept tourists, provide information and literature and arrange for accommodation in Alberta.

The summer information unit is expected to become a regular service.

Rotarians Hear History of Accounting

A vocational talk on his profession of "Accountancy" was given by Rotarian Mitchell Taylor at the Rotary club meeting on Friday last. The history of accounting, its aims and objectives were well told in a witty, informative manner. It was an easy, enjoyable talk to listen to and the thanks of the club members were extended to 'Mitch' by Newcombe Bentley.

Israel Miller has just returned from spending six weeks in California. During his absence he attended meetings at South Edmonton, San Francisco, Hollywood and Vancouver. He sketched the procedure briefly at each gathering and noted that despite the large number attending he was made very welcome and always departed with several more friends than when he entered the place of meeting.

WILDMERE WINKS

At the annual Telephone Co. [illegible] of the Wildmere-Tolland [illegible] Roy Dibben was elected as president, Bill Garnett Jr. and Frank Gibson trouble men. We are not sure who all are directors this year. Outside of a few being behind in their dues the company is in good standing.

The writer accompanied Mr and Mrs. David Hughes of Basswood to the funeral of Mr. J. Titus held at Auburndale church last Tuesday. Many close friends and neighbors attended. One nephew Mr. Harold Smith of Lloydminster was present. Mr Titus was a man of quiet nature but very friendly and a good neighbor. He was an old timer who had seen this country grow from pioneer days. Rev MacKay gave a very comforting sermon and one that fitted into the life of the deceased. He was laid to rest in the Mount Auburn cemetery adjoining the church among many of his pioneer friends who, like himself, have gone to their well-earned rest.

Everyone was deeply shocked when word came that Mrs. Fred Playne had suddenly passed away. While she has not been well for many years no one thought her book of life was to close so soon. She spent several years in the san and since she has been home has been very happy with her family. Our deepest sympathy to the sorrowing husband and son and to the relatives left to mourn her passing.

Peggy Graham is now nicely settled at the Health Unit at Lac La Biche. She likes her work very much.

The ladies' bonspiel to be held at Buffalo Coulee last Saturday had to be cancelled due to the drifting roads. Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Cruthers all made the journey over but came right home as the storm was blowing so hard the roads were filling in at a great rate.

Cliff Cruthers, Ian Clark of Wildmere and Art Lysons and Kaare Solts of Tolland composed a rink playing in the Vermilion bonspiel. They did not manage to get into the prizes.

Owing to the actions of the weather, Mrs. Wilson of Wildmere who teaches at Thorncliffe, has moved into the teacherage beside the school.

A number turned out to the Home and School meeting held at Preston Central school last Monday. A fine film on "Priceless Cargo" was shown. Next meeting is to be on March 20 roads permitting when a card party will be held after the meeting. Each family to bring lunch.

The Wildmere W.I. bake sale had to be postponed last Saturday owing to the storm. We hope the sale held by the Brownies that day was a success. We fully intended to have tea with them.

We wonder if all the councillors are the same this winter with all these blocked roads — whenever the phone rings Jim jumps and says, "Can't open all the roads at once"

Thousands of Canadian women volunteer their time and talent to sew and knit for the Canadian Red Cross. The materials they use are supplied through your contribution in March.

APPRECIATION

I would like to thank the citizens of Vermilion for the support I received at the polls on Monday, and will certainly do my utmost to merit their confidence.

E. J. HERZOG.

Kitscoty High School Notes

"Let the snow-clad valleys echo, 'Long live the Queen'!" rang out as loyal supporters of the 1956 K.H.S. carnival queen turned out on the night of Feb. 24 to greet her procession. Major John Dale crowned Joan Cunningham as the popular choice over two other candidates, Betty Lane and Merven Bootsman, who presided as princesses. Sandra Gerritts acted as crown bearer, while Alice Bush and Mary Ellen McIntyre carried the royal standards.

Besides the crowning ceremony, the usual judging of the carnival costumes and the awarding of the prizes rounded out the remainder of the outdoor program.

A dance later on in the evening culminated the annual event.

MARWAYNE

The 4-H grain club met on February 7th and elected officers for the coming year: Fred Quist, president; Ted Kent, vice-president; Joan Rooks, secretary-treasurer; L. G. Kent, club reporter. The 4-H beef club met the same evening. Feed reports and feed bills were presented to Mr. Jefferies, Assistant D. A. They decided the money from the two clubs should be pooled and divided 50—50. There was good entertainment and lunch followed. The next meeting is March 6th.

Mrs. T. Rea entertained Miss F. Archibald, Hobby Fair judge, while she was in town.

The High School bonspiel which started on Friday could not finish Saturday on account of the storm.

THANKS TO HELPERS

The United Church W. A. who sponsored the Hobby Fair, takes this opportunity of expressing their thanks to all who in any way helped make this 5th annual Hobby Fair such a success. It is through the co-operation of town and country that these lovely things are produced and shown. Plan now to enter in next year's Hobby Fair.

F. U. A. MEETING

The Annual meeting of the F. U. A. will be held in the Community hall on March 12th when the officers for 1956 will be elected. Mr. Walter Parker, acting sub-director of this division, will speak. Also Mrs. Geo. Finlay, Durness, of the board of directors and an officer in District 7, will give a talk. The F. W. U. A. and any person interested are cordially invited to attend. Lunch will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Whitamny Jr., Messrs Herman Bystrom and Al Lowrie started for Lloydminster Saturday morning by way of Alcurve and were seven hours getting there.

Mr. A. Fairbairn motored to Edmonton on Thursday and got back as far as Kitscoty Saturday. Went to Lloydminster and spent the week end with the other Marwayne men stranded there.

Christening Rites For Hazelmere Baby

MANNVILLE.—Wearing an heirloom baptismal robe, Harold Darwin, 7-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Arnold of 18844 Bluff Road, received the sacrament of baptism at the hands of Rev. E. Flit Griffiths in St. Matthew's Church on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12th.

Standing sponsor for the baby were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ambler of Vancouver and Walter Gale who acted as proxy for Darwin Davis, at present in Germany with the Armed Forces.

A buffet supper was served following the christening, at the home of the baby's grandfather, C. B. Swain. Guests included Mr and Mrs E Ambler, Mr. and Mrs Walter Gale and Donna, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Miller, Sharon and Stewart, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Raymond, Sandell Road; Dr and Mrs. H. R. Ross; Mr. and Mrs. R. Treleaven and Lyle.

This news item is particularly of interest to the residents of Mannville and district because Mr and Mrs Arnold, Mr Swain and the majority of the guests mentioned are all former residents of Mannville.

More Smokes

Canadian cigarette consumption has more than doubled during the post-war years, reports the Financial Post. It is estimated that 23.5 billion cigarettes were sold last year. An 11% gain over 1954 and a full 100% increase over sales in '44. Cigar sales show no similar skyrocketing trend. These total an estimated 252 million in '55, up 3.2% from '54 and 27% from '44. Sales figures are based on the sale of excise revenue stamps.

Paradise Valley Bonspiel Great Success

The Paradise Valley Men's Bonspiel was a splendid success this year and some real good curling was shown by the different rinks. When it was all over Robertson's rink took the Grand Challenge winning over Richardson's from Kitscoty in the final. D. Clark's rink, third, and A. Weeks of McLaughlin, fourth. In the Merchants it was A. L. Johnson first, P. Howe of Rivercourse second, A. Welin of Rivercourse third and M. Hoskins fourth. In the third event it was all Rivercourse: G. Foley, first, J. Jacobs, second, D. Haan, third and Art Nicholson, fourth. For the Hard Luck, E. Collins, McLaughlin, D. B. Baxter and L. Knutson were all tied up, E. Collins taking out D. B. Baxter in the final. For the first time in the history of the P. V. rink an eight ender was laid when Art Nicholson's rink did this on Haan's rink. This week three ladies rinks are curling at Kitscoty in their bonspiel. Latest reports would appear as if the locals are holding their own. Mrs. D. B. Baxter, Mrs. Eric Flint and Mrs. G. Davidson are the skips.

Mrs. R. Smith left on Wednesday for a three months visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, in Toronto, and with other relatives in Ontario.

Quite a number attended the agricultural short course held in Lloydminster during the past week and all report that the meetings were very interesting and instructive.

Tonight is bingo night in the High School auditorium. Very good prizes will be given and all proceeds are for the new hall. We understand that the committee is very well pleased at the support they are receiving and a new hall is assured.

We regret to hear of the serious illness of a former Paradise Valley resident, Mr. Walter Murray, now of Edmonton, who underwent a serious operation recently. Mr. Murray's host of friends in the district hope for a speedy recovery.

Our local barber, Nels Ruttan, and Mr. Boomer of McLaughlin left for Cold Lake to try their luck at fishing during the week.

What You Should Know About WELFARE

The following is a summary of what may be regarded as pension plans for certain categories of Alberta citizens:

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE—Under an Agreement with the Government of Canada the Province has, since 1st January, 1952, been paying assistance up to $40.00 a month under a means test to persons in the 65-69 age group who have resided in Canada for 20 years or its equivalent.

Fifty per cent of the assistance paid may be recovered from the Federal Government.

BLIND PERSONS' ALLOWANCES—Pensions to the blind had for several years been paid under the former Old Age Pension Act. On 1st January, 1952, a special Blind Persons' Allowances Act came into effect and, under an Agreement with the Government of Canada, the Province continued to pay an allowance up to $40.00 a month under a means test to blind persons who had attained the age of 21 years and had resided in Canada for 10 years or its equivalent.

Seventy-five per cent of the allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS—Since April 1st, 1952, the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to widows of the 60-64 age group who had resided in the Province for the greater portion of the three years prior to the date of application and had resided in Canada for a period of 15 years or its equivalent prior to the date the age of 60 years was attained.

DISABLED PERSONS' PENSIONS—Since 1st June, 1953, the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to disabled persons who have attained the age of 21 years and who have resided in Alberta for the 10 years immediately preceding the date of the application.

SUPPLEMENTARY ALLOWANCES—An allowance up to $15.00 a month is payable under a means test to Alberta residents in receipt of Old Age Security, Old Age Assistance and Blind Persons' Allowances.

DISABLED PERSONS' ALLOWANCES—Under this Act, the Province pays up to $40.00 a month under a means test to certain permanently disabled persons who have attained the age of 18 years and who have resided in Alberta for the 10 years immediately preceding the date of application. Half of this allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

Mothers' Allowances

These allowances have been paid in Alberta since 1919 to any needy widow with dependent children according to the schedules in effect which vary from $50.00 a month to $145.00 a month. A special allowance up to $10.00 a month may, in addition, be paid in cases where the need is apparent.

The municipality in which the widow has acquired residence assumes 20 per cent of the cost of the regular allowance, the Province paying the balance in addition to the special allowance. This allowance is payable until the child reaches the age of 16 years or of 18 years if attending school and making satisfactory progress.

Hospitalization For Pensioners

HOSPITALIZATION AND TREATMENT SERVICES
The Province, at its own expense, provides certain hospitalization and treatment services to Alberta residents who are in receipt of Old Age Assistance, Mothers' Allowance, Widows' Pension or Supplementary Allowance. This is also available to recipients of Old Age Security under a means test.

The Province pays the entire cost of the administration of the foregoing services.

OLD AGE SECURITY—To persons who have attained the age of 70 years and have resided in Canada for a period of 20 years or its equivalent the Federal Government pays a pension of $40.00 a month without a means test.

Yvonne Maltais Bride In Dewberry Ceremony

Pink and white carnations graced the altar of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, Dewberry, on Friday 9th for the double-ring wedding of Yvonne Lucile Maltais, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maltais, Dewberry, and Mr. Leonard John Romanchuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Romanchuk, also of Dewberry. Rev. Father Stewart, Clandonald, celebrated the nuptial mass. Altar boys were Gerald Toner and John Convey, Clandonald.

The bride, entering the church with her father, looked very charming in a floor-length dress of chantilly lace, fashioned in redingote style, fastened in the front to the waist with tiny buttons. The skirt had frills of nylon net down the front. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was held in place by a sequin-trimmed tiara. She carried a white prayer book surmounted by a cascade of small pink roses.

Miss Bernice Romanchuk, Edmonton, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and wore a floor length dress of blue net over taffeta, a blue chenille and net bandeau on her head, and blue mittens.

Miss Louise Berwick, Edmonton, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a pink net over taffeta floor length dress, pink bandeau and mittens. Both carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Attending the groom were Eugene Maltais, brother of the bride, and Bill Romanchuk, brother of the groom.

The choir, led by Mr. Powell, a former teacher of the bride sang "Hail, Queen of Heaven", "Oh What Could My Jesus Do More" and Panis Angelicus. Mr. Powell was also the organist.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Maltais chose a grey suit with red accessories and yellow roses on corsage.

Mrs. Romanchuk, mother of the groom, wore a navy dress with winter white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A wedding breakfast was held in the home of the bride's parents for the families. Rev. Father Stewart proposed a toast to the bride. The groom responded.

An invitation reception was held in the Dewberry hall from 4:00 until 5:30 p.m. The bridal table was covered with damask cloth and centred by a four tiered wedding cake with swan pillars and topped by a miniature bride and groom beneath an arch of orange blossoms flanked by vases of pink and white carnations.

Louis Garnier, Clandonald, uncle of the bride, said grace and proposed a toast to the bride, reading a very appropriate poem. The groom responded. Telegrams were received from Mr. and Mrs. Gunderson, aunt and uncle of the bride at Lac La Hache, B. C. and Miss Mollie Conlon, Brooks, Alberta.

An open reception from 5:00 to 7.00 p. m. was held in the hall. At this reception Mr. Powell proposed the toast. Again the groom responded. During the reception Mr. Powell sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed" accompanying himself on the piano accordian.

About 240 people attended the receptions which were catered to by the Dewberry Ladies Aid who served a very delicious repast.

A dance at night was well attended. Bendixon's orchestra supplied the music.

Attend Convention Of Marshall-Wells Stores

Expansion to the point of a Marshall-Wells store in every Western town, was the keynote of Marshall-Wells' 8th annual stores convention in Vancouver last week. The world's largest wholesale hardware business will gross $100 million in 1956 and plans a 50 per cent expansion in the next five years.

Hyman Sobiloff of Duluth, new president and owner says there are now 600 Marshall-Wells stores in the U.S. and 200 in Canada but that "most of the business is done on this side of the line".

R. A. Hobday, Winnipeg, president of the Canadian company, was enthusiastic about Marshall-Wells expansion and about new products soon to be in the stores. He told about a new electronic stove which cooks without heat in seconds and predicted that Marshall-Wells new JELLenamel will revolutionize the paint industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hill were among the 150 delegates and 100 guests attending the convention. The theme was Sales Ahoy and the convention room resembled a ship's lounge complete with port holes, anchors, pennants and rope. Social events included a banquet in the Stanley Park pavilion and a full day on Vancouver Island.

The Canadian Red Cross Society will celebrate its 50th anniversary in 1959.

Wildmere Beavers Girls' Club

The meeting of the W.I.G.C. was held at the home of Mary Gibson on Feb. 11 with 13 members and three visitors present. The constituency convener, Mrs. R. Mead, was also present.

The meeting opened with "O Canada," the code, and the flag salute. Roll call was answered with an exchange of home made Valentines.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Treasurer's report showed a nice balance on hand.

It was decided to have a dance at Basswood on March 16. Mary was to phone for music and Betty, Doreen and Marie were the other conveners.

Some of the handicraft and the toques were shown to Mrs. Mead. The kitchen floor plans were given to Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. Mead read some interesting articles on "How to be Popular" and "Study Habits".

The Mystery Box was won by Wendy Cruthers and Mrs. Bauman. Doreen was in charge of the social and Mrs. Mead conducted two contests. The winners were Betty Smith and Isabelle Gibson.

The meeting adjourned with "God Save the Queen" after which a very tasty lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting is at Doreen Martin's home. Roll call will be answered by "Your Favorite Name for a Boy or Girl". Marie Smith is in charge of the social. Lunch committee is Linda, Marie and Margaret Steele.

BED-WETTING

Understanding is first step to correction

By the age of four, most children have good bladder control and will not wet the bed. But some children at this age have not yet learned the "dry habit" and the parents are faced with the problem of the bed-wetting child. Normally it's not hard to correct if the proper steps are taken. The child of four who is a bed-wetter needs your understanding help.

Wetting when it occurs in a child of four or over, is usually at night. It may happen only once during the night or three or four times. Some wet their clothes during the day, usually when excited and busy over their games — especially on a cold, damp day.

WHAT MAKES YOUR CHILD DO IT?

Your child may wet his bed for one or more of a number of reasons. The first step in tackling the problem is to find out what is causing the trouble. Here are some of the causes your doctor will look for.

A tight foreskin; pin worms; infections in the bladder, kidney or other prats of the urinary tract; a foreskin that is too long; irritation of the sex parts in a girl; urine causing irritation because it's too strongly acid or ammoniacal, rough or tight underclothing, deformities in that region.

Foods could well be a contributing agent. Some diets are too rich in salts and minerals. Spicy foods like pickles, relishes, meat sauces will often irritate the urinary system. And don't forget that chronic infections in the tonsils, adenoids, sinuses, teeth, appendix and lower bowel are sometimes to blame.

Now you can easily see that if you treat your child's bed-wetting as just "a bed habit" when one of the above factors is to blame, you are being unfair to the youngster.

But, you say, you've checked off all the above list and none applies to your child. Yet, he still wets his bed! Then you've got to seek other causes. Your training may have been faulty. This is a very common source of the trouble. Some parents tend to become a bit careless and say "Oh, he'll outgrow the habit some day." Or they're too indulgent and take the attitude that their child is too delicate to be trained or excuse him by saying he has a weak bladder. Sometimes your child will get his habit during a long illness when he's kept in bed for long periods. And what about it when your child wants to go during the night but the toilet is too far away, in the cellar or back yard?

CONSIDER YOUR CHILD'S FEELINGS

Have you ever thought what your bed-wetting child feels about it? After all it's his problem! His habit can have serious effects on his future so that long after the bed-wetting is outgrown, the harm to his character remains. It may happen in this way: If he's conscientious he may develop a feeling of utter hopelessness, lying awake for hours, fearing to go to sleep and wet himself. Shame and lack of self-confidence may drive him into seclusion.

If you punish him or scold him he may develop a guilty feeling that he is "bad" and it is possible for him to mope over it so that his personality and his school studies suffer.

HOW TO TREAT YOUR PROBLEM

From what we know of bed-wetting it becomes plain at once that each case calls for careful study. You will seek the physical causes and correct them and check your training of the child. Be sure something isn't upsetting him emotionally. Family quarrels, expecting too much of the child in manners, neatness or immediate obedience, a change to a new neighborhood and a new school — any of these may be the cause.

Your child should be helped to understand that he can be aided. Replace his feeling of helplessness, guilt and shame with self-confidence and optimism by encouraging him and letting him feel you are not finding fault with him. Above all, do not try to solve his problem by scolding, beating, shaming or bribing.

It may help to cut down his drinking of fluids for several hours before bed-time. Have him go to the toilet before retiring. Find out the time he wets and then try waking him up about half an hour earlier to go to the toilet. Make this a habit. Every time he does the right thing towards breaking his bed-wetting praise him.

March 7th, 1940

Ed Patton of Weller & Williams, in company with P. O. Williamson, succeeded in buying five carloads of very good grain fed cattle in the Vermilion district last week. They were purchased from such well-known feeders as Jack Tucker, J.B. Sanborn, Homer Campbell and A. J. Newman.

The Hon. W. A. Fallow will address a meeting of the electors of Vermilion provincial riding in the Elks hall on March 11. Accompanying Mr. Fallow will be Hon. E. C. Manning, provincial secretary.

Mayor Morrison in his address on Feb. 28th after referring to the efforts of the town council both as to the sale of the plant and to borrow money covering all of which five different by-laws had been submitted to the ratepayers, and all being defeated, followed with a reference to the negotiations opened last fall by the Canadian Utilities which ultimately ended with their submitting an offer of $70,000 in cash and the debenture payments after the 31st of December 1939.

Mrs. H. A. Boyd and Mrs. A. Y. Low are delegates to the Presbyterial of the W.M.S. of the United Church meeting in Edmonton this week.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

March 8th,

Rev. M. S. Kerr was formally inducted as pastor of the Vermilion Presbyterian church in the presence of the members of the Vermilion presbytery and a large attendance of the congregation.

The rink winning the final game in the primary event, the Vermilion Hotel, was composed of S. R. P. Cooper (skip), Vernon Cooper, S. Arrowsmith and Sam Wener.

At the regular meeting of the town council it was decided that the tax rate would not exceed 30 mills. There will be a reduction of 20 per cent on land values, an increase of 10 per cent on the assessment for improvements, but business assessment will remain unchanged.

Jas. H. Walker, local manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the past three years, has received intimation of his appointment as assistant inspector with headquarters at Toronto.

W. I. Newsletter

February — holding on hard, but nevertheless on the downhill side of winter. It's a snug little month, comfortably tucked in between two of the longest and lustiest months of the year. A little too early to start spring cleaning, a little too early to plant tomatoes and celery, but just right to do a few of the things we've been trying to get around to all winter. This is the month of the year when most of us seriously take up applique work on the knees of Junior's underwear and father's overalls, and become really proficient at that fascinating little weaving stitch that we use on elbows, heels and toes.

February — with its optimistic little myth about the groundhog. No sun! Spring in six weeks! Where's that seed catalogue that came in the last mail — the one with the gorgeous red flowers on it? Better order those baby chicks tonight too — might as well have that 10 per cent extra!

The Valentine Party — How we loved it in our country school! We mothers made our biggest cake, decorated it with pink hearts and arrived at the party with our still-at-home small fry. We'd settle ourselves comfortably at the back of the school all set to watch the antics of our young hopefuls. But — Nothing doing, Mom, this is your party too and mother is swept up into a game where, spike heels and all, she has to run a race with a six year old in flying pigtails round and round the laughing circle till she spies a small gap to drop into, only to find the six-year-old already firmly established there. And the race begins again, with squeals of delight from a fresh competitor. Or trying to get her nose into a tiny match box perched precariously on the little button of a nose of the first grader behind her. And that elusive tin plate, it wouldn't be so bad if we didn't have to bend over so far. But best of all the Valentine box. My valentine, a big red lop-sided heart with a golden arrow through it and underneath it:

Dear Mom
Roses are red, violets are blue
Hurray ... and so are you

He's a ... and far away but I still ... and I still have that valentine.

Oh, you February, there are lots of nice things about you but perhaps the nicest thing of all is that you'll soon be March!

SHORT SHORTS

I have just officially received the news that we are to have the privilege of meeting and hearing Mrs. Berry, President of the A.C.W.W., here in Vermilion sometime early in June. I have no further details as yet.

Thank you, Busy Bees of Bourtell, for a lovely afternoon on one of the coldest days of the winter, Feb. 13th. Hope you enjoyed my little talk and will think seriously of taking the First Aid Course when your ... possible. You'll find it a bit of ... but there's nothing ... and you never know when it might be useful to ... someone in serious trouble.

Had wonderful visit with the Wildmere Beavers. We must try to get more W.I.'s going. They're a wonderful education and a lot of fun ... the girls justice they listened just as attentively when I was reading "Tips on Studying" as on "How to Be More Popular."

Even the little girls were quiet as mice until I came to the place where it said they mustn't giggle if they wanted to be popular, and then of course we all had a good giggle.

Less news than letter this month, but have written to every branch, with instructions re Conference.

Must go now and dust off my snow shovel. Who knows, we might want to go to town one of these days!

Sincerely,
Your Constituency Convenor.

Sun Life of Canada Again Increases Policy Dividends

New Insurance of $761 million largest amount ever sold by a Canadian company in any year; $6½ billion now in force; Canadian sales up 24%

Life insurance totalling more than $761 millions was purchased from the Sun Life of Canada in 1955, the largest amount ever sold by a Canadian company in one year. Sun Life's 85th Annual Report to Policyholders also discloses that life insurance in force now has passed $6½ billions, highest in the history of Canadian life insurance companies. The Sun Life has announced a further increase in policyholders' dividend scales for 1956 when $28 millions will be paid, thereby reducing the cost of insurance to policyholders for the 7th successive year. During 1955 the Company paid $136 millions in benefits to policyholders and beneficiaries, a new record. Living policyholders alone received over $91 millions. Total benefits paid since the Company's first policy was issued in 1871 now exceeds three billion dollars.

In writing its record total of new life insurance during 1955, Sun Life exceeded its 1954 total by $65,000,000. In a year when sales of consumer goods were at an unusually high level and competing actively with sales of life insurance, the fact that an all-time record for life insurance could be established showed that more and more people realize life insurance protection is essential to family security, according to George W. Bourke, Sun Life President, who reviewed Company results for the 12-month period. The Company's Canadian sales of Ordinary insurance were up 24% and increases were also reported from the United States, Great Britain and other countries where Sun Life transacts business.

GROUP UP 42%

Included in total new business was $244 millions of new Group insurance. Canadian Group sales alone were up 42% over the previous year. Sun Life's worldwide total of insurance in force now has reached $6,534,000,000, an increase of 8.2%. Total Group life insurance in force stands at $2,312,000,000; the Sun Life has on its books one-third of all Group Life coverage now in force in Canada. Sun Life annuities in force provide for payments of $149,000,000 per annum, 88% of the total being Group pensions. The worldwide figure of life insurance and annuities in force may be considered the equivalent of $8,311,000,000 of life insurance. By territory of origin, this business is divided 48% in Canada, 37% in United States, 13% in Great Britain and other Commonwealth countries and 2% elsewhere in the world.

LARGE INVESTMENT IN HOME MORTGAGES

During 1955 Sun Life assets increased by $72 millions, and now stand at $1,948 millions. Once again mortgages were a principal outlet for new investment funds during the year the Company placed some $108 millions in home and other mortgages, bringing the total Sun Life mortgages investment to $400,000,000. "The record construction of new homes in recent years has been financed to a great extent out of the premiums paid by policyholders to life insurance companies," Mr. Bourke said. "We provide financial security for the family through the purchase of life insurance and we help as many people as possible to fulfill their natural ambition to become homeowners. The modern type of home mortgage whereby monthly payments are made against interest and principal is a most attractive form of savings for young married people", he added. The Company also made substantial purchases, during the year, of public utility and industrial bonds. "In making these investments we are seeking for our policyholders the highest possible interest return consistent with security of principal" said Mr. Bourke.

The Report revealed that the rate of interest earned by the Sun Life on its assets had shown a further increase during 1955, rising to 4.17%. With the credit policies of monetary authorities in world financial markets halting 1954's downward trend of interest rates, Mr. Bourke was of the opinion that the Company could continue to look forward to interest earnings at a satisfactory rate in the months to come.

HEART AND CIRCULATORY DISEASES LEADING CAUSE OF DEATH

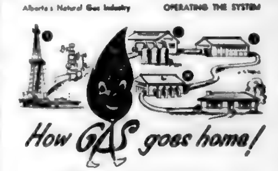
The report contains special reference to the mortality experience of the Sun Life during 1955. In North America, due partly to the continuing decrease in mortality from infectious diseases, death claims were substantially more for diseases associated with the heart and circulatory system than for all other causes combined. Cancer, which accounted for nearly 20% of death claim payments during the year, placed second.

FUTURE OUTLOOK

Mr. Bourke concluded by saying that he had every reason to believe that the high levels attained in the life insurance industry will be exceeded during 1956 and that life insurance ownership will rise to a new peak. In Canada, the nation's prosperity, natural resources and future potentialities are attracting new citizens. This will in turn increase the demand for goods, new housing and services. The need for life insurance will continue to increase.

A copy of the Sun Life 1955 Report, including the President's review of the year, is being sent to each policyholder, or may be obtained from Geo. Maxwell, Box 1953, Phone 381, Vermilion, or Roy Watkins, Phone 394, Vermilion, Alta.

Alberta's Natural Gas Industry — OPERATING THE SYSTEM



Delivering natural gas from the field to your burner tips is a giant-sized job! When gas is obtained from the wells (1) it must be fed through field gathering lines for treatment in processing plants (2). Field pressure and compressor stations (3) force the gas through transmission lines to Alberta's communities. At the regulation line junction (4) natural gas is measured and its pressure controlled as it enters the distribution system. Regulating stations control and maintain pressure. From the street mains a service line feeds gas to your home — processed, measured and ready to use!

With GAS you get service —we plan it that way!

BOTTELL BULLETIN

Wind and more snow every day, it seems impossible to get our news into the office on time.

The district was grieved and very deeply shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Nora Playne on Sunday morning. Due to the snow-blocked roads Dr King came out in a snowmobile taking Nora back to the hospital Saturday evening. Although she had been in poor health for a number of years, it was little thought that the Grim Reaper was so close. We extend our deepest sympathy to her husband and young son. May God comfort them in their sorrow.

We are sorry to learn at time of writing that Mr Johnson is back in the hospital at Lamont.

Our school bus drivers and the snow plow operators have had a bad time this winter, not forgetting our councillors' wives who answer so many phone calls — When is the snow plow coming our way? — being the main theme.

The writer hubby Beverly and Frances enjoyed supper recently at the Robinson home the old reliable team making the trip.

Shirley and Bob Johnson spent the week end visiting relatives in Calgary.

Visitors at the Jones' home of late were the Robinson family, Mrs. Nora Ronaghan, Leslie and Rena and Miss Warawa.

Margaret Robinson has been the latest victim of the measles.

Don Harrison and Jack Morrison spent two days with tractors and snow plow opening the roads to granaries, only to have them all fill in before any grain could be hauled out.

BUSY BEES MEET

The February B.B. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Rapp with fifteen members present. Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Tweedy rejoined the club. Following the business meeting Mr. George Martin and Mrs. R. Mead gave very interesting talks on civil defence. The next meeting will be held at Mrs Hardie's. Lunch brought by Mrs Jones and Mrs. J. Morrison.

FOR DIABETICS

New pills are being developed which could eventually eliminate the diabetics' need for insulin injections, reports the Financial Post. Made from a new sulfa derivative, the tablets lower the blood-sugar level. The pills will not be sold until clinicians are certain they have no harmful side effects.

WARNING!

Calling all parents to keep a watchful eye on their children, especially toddlers, at the break-up of winter. There will be numerous pools and low places full of water that are normally dry at the break-up of the winter.

Report from Alberta Legislature by Ken Mason

"Snow Plowing" Motion Subject Of Debate In Provincial Legislature

EDMONTON. — Without committing itself to any immediate action, the government and its supporters last week successfully circumvented a Liberal motion seeking provincial aid to municipalities for clearing snow from school van routes.

To do the job required the original Liberal motion, a Social Credit amendment and a Liberal sub-amendment. The house passed the sub-amendment the amendment and the motion as amended, and this apparently satisfied everyone in the assembly.

But all it requires the government to do is to consider the cost of snow removal as a factor in its proposed "comprehensive survey" of provincial municipal fiscal relations. Presumably, in reallocating responsibilities and sources of revenue for municipal governments the province will take into account the added expense of meeting these emergencies.

However the original Liberal motion, although not clearly worded was aimed at obtaining extra cash for the municipalities this winter to cover the expense of snow removal. The heavy snow this season has cost the municipalities thousands of dollars, and officials of many of them are concerned as they watch cash reserves dwindling.

As a compromise the government agreed to accept the Liberal sub-amendment which asked the government to "consider a program for this year."

This appeared to satisfy Liberal members, although from the remarks of government members it seems the government has already considered the matter and decided it can't do anything this year.

Government members objected to the wording of the original Liberal motion introduced by Hall, Athabasca and seconded by Whitson, Vermilion. It asked the government to give "favorable consideration to . . . a program that will assist municipalities in snow removal from school van routes."

Cabinet spokesmen said they couldn't accept the motion with the word "favorable", because if they did the opposition would accuse the government of overriding the legislature in the event the idea was later rejected.

The customary form for a private member's motion is to ask the government to "consider" something. If such a motion is passed, the government is committed only to consider the request.

Premier Manning also pointed out the original motion neglected to mention anything about a plan going into effect this year.

The premier summed up the government's attitude by saying provision of money for snow removal would set a precedent. Snow-clogged roads are only one problem facing municipalities, he said, and pointed out that flooding in the spring may create a bigger problem.

Hon E W Hinman, provincial treasurer, capped it by saying the government is willing to "consider" any reasonable request, and saw no reason not to "consider" a program of aid this year so long as the opposition didn't take this to mean the government was committed.

Then he told the house that when municipal representatives met with the government recently, they were not too concerned about the money they have spent this year on snow removal.

Their main concern he said, was the possibility of further snowfall. Besides the problem of money, the roadsides already are banked up ten feet or more with snow and they [illegible] piling up more. If that is possible, [illegible] would add to the danger of flood damage.

The treasurer said the municipal councillors were told the government always is willing to consider aid if an emergency arises, and he added they appeared satisfied with their interview.

AIR AMBULANCE ESTABLISHED TWELVE YEARS AGO

Social Credit ranks took a different attitude toward a Liberal motion calling for establishment of an air ambulance service, to rush sick and injured from outlying and isolated areas. It was introduced by Maccagno, Lac La Biche and seconded by Hall.

The motion was defeated on a vote of 33 to 21, after Hon. Dr. W W Cross, Hand Hills, minister of health, said Alberta has had air ambulance service for twelve years through contracts with five or six private air firms.

COMMITTEE TO EXAMINE LIQUOR LAWS

It was learned last week that the government plans to have a committee of the legislature look into the province's liquor laws and recommend changes. Premier Manning has prepared a motion calling for the establishment of a committee but at the time of writing it had not been introduced. It is expected the committee will hold public hearings.

CANADIAN LEGION MEMBERS PLAN THREE BIG EVENTS

On Saturday, April 7th, the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion will put on the usual Vimy Smoker. All returned men in the town and district are invited to attend and to bring their wives. Ladies' Auxiliary members may bring their husbands or escorts.

The Vimy banquet is planned for April 9th, in the Legion hall. Special speakers will be here from Edmonton. The Anglican Women's Auxiliary are doing the catering for this event. Tickets are available from Vic Tillett, Thos. Wilson, E. H. Buckingham and all members of the executive. Tickets must be obtained by Thursday, April 5th.

On the same evening (April 9th) the annual Vimy dance will be held in the Armouries. The Legion puts on only two dances in the year, one on Armistice Day and one on the anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge. Young's orchestra of Islay will provide the music. Tickets are on sale from all members of the executive. This dance is for young and old alike. Many Vermilion people turn out to this dance every year as something they can do to show their appreciation of what veterans have done for them.

Every returned man and woman in Vermilion and district is welcome to all of these events. The committee in charge asks that Legion members come out themselves, and that they bring some other returned men and women who are not members, with them.

Mannville Anglicans Plan New Church

MANNVILLE. A congregational meeting was held in the Anglican parish hall on Thursday last with a good attendance of the congregation of Christ Church present. Reports were given by the Rev. C. MacPherson and the People's Warden, Mr. W. Osborn, on their trip to Edmonton with several other members of the vestry to view churches there. Quotations were given on the cost of a new church, also of the cost of necessary repairs to the present church.

Following discussion, 94 per cent voted in favor of building a new church. Discussion followed on the most favorable way to raise money for this worthy project. It was decided that it could be done, and as soon as the vestry members complete the final arrangements and the weather is favorable, work will commence on the new church.

The labor will be practically all volunteer. Mr. Reg Lugg is the carpenter in charge with Mr. Jim McLuckie as chairman of the building committee. A. E. Williams, Maurice Mercer and W. Osborn are the finance committee. When work commences church services will be held in the parish hall.

Annual Inter-Club 'Spiel Won by Elks

Inaugurated one year ago by the Knights of Columbus, the annual inter-club bonspiel was played on Sunday with twelve rinks competing and six town organizations represented. As each club is to take a turn arranging for the enjoyable event, management was by the Masons this year and catering to the delicious buffet supper was by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

One year ago the unique bonspiel was won by Dr. Clive Stephens skipping a Legion rink. This year the honors went to skip Glen Gibbons of the Elks. Glen had Ted Edey, Alan Heidebrecht and Roy Hitchcock with him. The winner is the rink with the greatest number of victories but with the smallest total score. Glen's rink won all their three games with a total of 15 points. Runner-up was the second Elk rink, skipped by Frank Schmidt, with three wins and 17 points.

At 6.00 p.m. following the conclusion of the games, all the curlers and their wives and numerous others interested, enjoyed a sumptuous buffet style supper served in the waiting room of the rink.

Acting as toastmaster was William Crabb, Worshipful Master of the Masonic lodge. He outlined the purposes of the inter-club bonspiel and paid tribute to the Knights of Columbus for inaugurating the event one year ago. He also complimented them on the fine trophy which they had presented for annual competition. The trophy carries the names of the winners on little plaques. [illegible] which they did very gracefully. Presentation of the trophy was made by Angus MacMillan, Grand Knight of the K of C's.

Six organizations took part each represented by two rinks. These were the Knights of Columbus, the Elks, Legion, Masons, Kinsmen, and Rotary.

SPEED LIMITS

I have had a question asked many times. "Why cut speed limits for night driving?" As you know the speed limits for day driving of a passenger car is 60 m.p.h. and night is 50 m.p.h. Why only 50 m.p.h. at night?

There are certain laws in the Act which govern the position, number, size, etc. of headlights. In short, headlights have a maximum and minimum distance in which their light can be projected ahead of the vehicle. The uppermost distribution of light of the upper beam must have intensity to reveal persons and vehicles at a distance of at least 100 feet. The high intensity of beam must be so arranged that it will not strike the eyes of an approaching driver (focused on a level plane). There is this fact which is involved in a good number of our night accidents. "Overdriving your headlights", or going too fast for the distance you can clearly see ahead. Suppose we were to continue at night with the daytime speed limit of 60 m.p.h. At 60 m.p.h. we are going 88 feet per second. There are two factors of stopping ability.

1. The reaction time of the driver.
2. The stopping ability of the vehicle, determined by brake condition, road condition and tires, etc.

The average complex reaction time of a driver under normal conditions is three-quarters of a second. If he is tired, it will be more. At 60 m.p.h. this means your car will travel 66 feet while you are getting your foot on to the brake pedal. The average stopping ability of a car under normal conditions, is 240 feet. This gives us a total of 306 feet. But everything is not normal at all times in the night. The road is not perfectly level and straight, all roads are not paved, drivers have put in a day's work already, atmospheric conditions are not always the best.

If car headlights are adjusted correctly, it would take all of the distance you can see clearly ahead to bring your vehicle to a safe stop under normal conditions.

Therefore, it was decided fair and reasonable to reduce speed to 50 m.p.h. at night.

QUESTION: When am I required to dim or drop my headlights?

ANSWER: "On approaching or being approached by another vehicle proceeding in the opposite direction or within not less than 400 yards of it, any person in charge of a motor vehicle, which is equipped with electric headlamps, should dim or drop such headlamps."

(V. H. T. Act 39(3) (7))

CITIES WILL DOUBLE

The increase of population during the coming quarter of a century will take place almost entirely in urban areas and will make this predominantly a land of city-dwellers, predicts a brief of Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. to the Gordon Commission and reported in the Financial Post. Between now and 1980, the extent of our cities will more than double.

It is estimated that the number of new dwellings to be built in the next quarter of a century will be about 3.4 million. The annual rate of house-building will not rise greatly during the next ten years, but after 1965 there will be an acceleration of building in response to the higher rate of family formation that will take place.

The expansion of Canada's housing stock over the next 25 years will, at current costs, require the investment of some $35 billions, or more than the total value of residential real estate at the present time.

RABIES STILL A THREAT

The law requires that everyone in this area of Alberta living north of the 53rd parallel must keep their dogs confined at all times. The 53rd parallel runs east and west about 25 miles south of Vermilion. The rabies situation is improving. However there is still a danger of dogs contracting rabies when they are allowed to run at large.

TREES AND SHRUBS

I am informed that free trees are still available to anyone who has summerfallowed land may apply for what they need for 1956 planting. Bundles of ornamental shrubs (about 50 in a bundle) are also in good supply. Larger ornamentals such as Honeysuckle, Ginnala Maple, Mountain Ash, Caragana Currant (for hedges), Rosybloom Crabapples etc. are also available. Get an application form from this office.

SEED SOME ALFALFA

Cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry all seem healthier and more thrifty when fed some alfalfa. I would not want to raise livestock in this area without some alfalfa to feed them. The cost of seed is away down and it seems to be a good time to seed down a small acreage of pure alfalfa. For larger areas, of course I recommend a Brome-Alfalfa mixture.

TREES FOR TOWN PLANTING

Everyone knows that trees of all kinds are free to anyone planting them on farms. In towns, shrubs are more suitable than trees like Northwest Poplar. Taller trees should only be grown in the background. Shrubs and low growing hedges are best in front of the house. All nursery catalogs list ornamental trees like Colorado Spruce, Junipers, Northern White Cedar, Mugho Pine, etc. I have catalogs in my office.

HORTICULTURAL GUIDE

All varieties of vegetables are not suitable for freezing. The Alberta Horticultural Guide lists the varieties recommended for freezing. Also in this booklet are listed the best varieties of small fruits, flowers and vegetables for growing in this area. There is a section on plant diseases and insect pests. Every gardener ought to get a free copy of this booklet.

Dear Editor:

I hope you will allow a disgusted farmer's wife a small space in your paper.

To whom it may concern and all you farmers should be concerned.

What's happened to our snowplow operators? All they seem to get done is spend our money and waste valuable time instead of being in the business of opening roads. The roads surely don't get opened very fast these days anyway. Why not work in shifts night and day? I'm sure it would be much more convenient and quicker, also it would enable the farmers to get out and the school busses to operate.

Our councillors and snow plow operators think they own all the machines. I wonder who paid for them all in the first place? Who is still paying for the work of removing the snow? The farmers are. Seems to me our snow plow operators must be softies when they can only work a few hours a day, five days a week. Sometimes, even then, they don't do a decent job. Why not hire someone who is able to run the snow plows the right way.

How do school busses run in snow? How do we get out if we're sick? What's wrong councillors are the snowplow operators giving the orders or are you? Maybe you enjoy blaming each other for your mistakes, is that it?

Let's wake up farmers. Take a look at things as they are, it's time we did something about it.

Disgusted.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

I was quite pleased to hear over the noon news today (Wednesday) that a new set of rules and regulations would come into effect this year as regards high powered speed boats around bathing areas. According to the announcement speed is to be limited to ten miles per hour at the most in beach areas with a fine of $100 and costs for infraction of this regulation.

The Vermilion lake in the valley was over run with these infernal machines last year bordering on the danger point as the body of water is entirely too small for the type of craft being used on it even if common sense is employed by their operators.

The new rules governing the use of speed boats is applicable to all waters in Alberta and we still [illegible] to these [illegible] wishing to give a display of their skill and daring at the cost of disregarding the rights of swimmers and bathers, also others who are out boating at a reasonable rate of speed.

NEWS from LANDONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Poleschuk and son Archie motored to Viking to visit Lorraine who had been in an automobile accident. She is feeling much better and we all wish her a speedy recovery.

The Landonville Social Club held a meeting in Louise Lake school on Friday night. Very few were able to attend as the roads had not been opened up. A discussion was held regarding the roads and the children being able to pass their grades having missed so much school time. It was decided to ask our councillor to try and get the roads opened a little sooner. Busses had missed valuable days just because two miles of road had not been opened. All the school bus routes have not been opened in this district since the first snowfall. After the meeting people visited with one another and then lunch was served.

Mr. Wynnychuk made a trip back into civilization for the first time since Xmas. He saw the Vegreville Rangers defeat the St. Paul Hornets 7 to 5. This was the first hockey game he had seen in two years. Right now he is working on plans for "cruising down the run-off on a frosty afternoon". Anybody got a boat they want to lend the school?

Mrs. Horace Smith is having her troubles with a calf. (Dr.) Dennis Waltze treated it and it should be doing well if he didn't kill it. Mrs. Smith complains that she has been having trouble with every animal she has owned since she came to Landonville.

The Butz family, all but George himself, have been down with the 'flu this past week. Deanna spent a few days in the Elk Point hospital, but is now home suffering from from the 'flu.

Temporary Maternity Hospital, Clandonald

A "We Deliver" sign is ready to hang somewhere in Clandonald!

Just after one of the February storms, Sid Cusack from south-east of town "rushed" his wife into Clandonald by team and sleigh through the deep snow, in the hopes of getting a car to take her to the hospital. The car was available readily, but highway 41 was blocked. The expectant mother was taken to the home of her brother-in-law, Bill Specht, where not too long after, Mrs. "Doc" Ann Ray assisted by Mrs. Hazel Kada delivered another daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Cusack.

Permission had to be obtained from the municipal office before Ed Barclay could take the local plow out to open 41 highway. The baby was born soon after he left Clandonald.

A couple of days later the young lady was taken to Bill's store, and weighed in at 9 lbs. 4 oz.

To date, all are doing well. Anyone wishing the services of these ladies, should contact Mrs. "Fleet-foot" Betty Specht, who ran through and over snow banks for help and necessary equipment. A thank you goes to Annie Taschuk for looking after Betty's kiddies, and to all who helped in any way.

Marwayne F.W.U.A.

The regular monthly meeting of Marwayne F.W.U.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Spence with 20 members present. Violet Elliot was hostess, Isabel Parker and Joan Freehill, co-hostesses.

The meeting opened with a short sing-song and the roll call was answered with "My Hobby".

Novelty items for the hobby fair were turned in to Clair Perks. Adele Protach offered to take the pyjamas that were brought to the meeting, into the hospital. There will be more to go at a later date.

Easter cards are on hand and any member can get them from Gladys, any number may be purchased.

A committee of three was appointed, namely Adela Protach, Joyce Katamarzuk and Gladys Hutchinson, to prepare the entry list for the Horticulture show.

A motion was made and carried to make a sum of $200 available to the B.P.O.E., if and when they decide to go ahead with the kitchen in the Elks hall.

One half of the pamphlet on "Laws Relating to Women" by J. Brownlee, Q.C., was given and discussed. This will be continued next month.

The next meeting will be Monday, March 26 at the home of Clair Perks, weather and roads permitting. Roll call will be "A new flower I am going to try to grow this year.

WILDMERE WINKS

Snow is still the main topic of conversation these days. Clandonald scribe you really hit it right in your notes. If the wind wouldn't blow it would save a lot of head aches as they just get some of the roads opened when whoosh . . . they all blow full again! Money for this work is fast disappearing and when it's gone no more can be done. What a lot of high roads all this snow plowing money would have built. As it is, the snow will melt and there will be nothing to show for all the hard work, worry and money. But, man cannot control the weather.

The Anglican church in Vermilion was full to overflowing at the funeral of Mrs. Playne as many came to show their respects to such a fine woman and sympathy with the sorrowing husband, son and bereaved relatives left to mourn her sudden passing. She was laid to rest in Pleasant Valley cemetery. God saw the road was heavy and called her home to rest. She is not away, she is just asleep.

Another old timer of the Auburndale district was suddenly called home as he sat playing a friendly game of cards at the home of a neighbor. Mr. A. Everett, who lived in Wainwright these last few years but homesteaded in the Auburndale district. He had seen the country change from the days of sod shacks and oxen to the modern homes and vehicles of today. Only a short time ago, Feb. 29th, he celebrated a birthday and his name came over the Wheat Pool news that evening. He was 88 years old, a grand age. Until his death he was very active. He leaves to mourn his passing a daughter Mrs. L. Tury of Wainwright, and two sons Lloyd and Harold of Auburndale. His wife predeceased him a few years ago. The funeral was held in Wainwright and interment was beside his wife in Mount Auburn cemetery. Truly he was a fine pioneer, friend and neighbor who will be greatly missed by everyone. We extend along with the community our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones in their hour of sorrow.

The Widmere Beavers dance to be held this Friday at Basswood has been postponed until April 6th. A novelty auction will be included in the evening's fun. Remember it's April 6th, not this Friday. We hope the weather and roads are better then, girls.

The men's bonspiel at Buffalo Coulee finally did get played off after two postponements. The Cliff Cruthers rink comprised of Cliff as skip, Gary Cruthers, Bobby Graham and Baillie Holte won first in the second competition and brought home the jumbo sweaters. Well done boys!

The ladies rink of Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Cruthers and Mrs. Howard played in the ladies spiel at B.C. on Saturday last also winning first in the second event. Prizes were pillow [illegible]. Wildmere curlers are still doing very well.

Mrs. F. Gibson very kindly invited the writer to accompany her to the annual meeting of the Cancer Society held in Vermilion last Friday. It's too bad more people are not interested in such a great and worthwhile cause. When speakers like Mr. Talbot can come all the way from Edmonton to attend the meeting certainly more should turn out to hear them and see what progress has been made in treating this dreaded disease. [illegible] had a fine film [illegible] showed. The [illegible] in April and we hope [illegible] will donate to it. Several from here took in the Thorncliffe dance last Friday night. A good time was enjoyed.

Owing to her car being repaired Mrs. Wilson is staying at the teacherage in Thorncliffe this week. Baillie Holte is helping John at home.

Everyone is indeed sorry to hear of Billie Steele's illness and hope he is soon on the mend again. He went to Edmonton on Saturday for treatments. [illegible] can do it again. [illegible] feed situation [illegible] worrying.

Legal Talk on "The Crucifixion" Heard At Anglican Club

At the regular monthly meeting of the Anglican Men's club on Monday evening this week J. W. G. Morrison gave a very unique address on "The Crucifixion of Christ". He dealt with the legal angles involved in the two questions, "Was Christ as a Man Legally Crucified?" and "Was the Court which Condemned Him Legally Constituted?" Mr. Morrison's talk was the result of a tremendous amount of reading and research and possibly is quite unique in itself.

Completing the program was a most interesting and educational film on insect life. This film is produced by Shell Oil Co. and is entitled, "The Rival World".

The menu for the supper on this occasion was a lenten one of fish and chips and was cooked right there in the kitchen by the men for all to see. The chefs were Bill Fooks, Tom Watts, Hugh Evans and Bob Snelgrove. The food was delicious and there was lots of it. No need for anyone to go away suffering any pangs of hunger.

The next meeting will be held on Monday April 2 and the committee in charge will be Bill Boulton, Gib Stephens, Bill Parker and Lance Playne.

NEWS from ISLAY

THIS IS ONE FOR C. F. GREEN

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bothwell celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on March 7th at their new home in Vermilion. Mr. Bothwell homesteaded four miles from Islay in 1904. He was the first to file on a homestead in this township, 51-4-4 and came to it June 27, 1904. He married Minnie Hooper of Durham County, Ontario on March 7th, 1906 and they came to the homestead where they have resided until last November when they went to Vermilion. They have four children, Stewart of Matheson, Ont., a mining engineer, Rita, a former school teacher and now Mrs. Ashley Cooper of Vermilion, Clara a music teacher with her A.T.C.M. and now Mrs. Sidney Millward of Nakusp, B.C. and Bill, a chemical engineer with Imperial Oil at Regina. Bill was home for the occasion. Stewart and family telephoned from Matheson. Many friends called in the afternoon and evening and even during the rest of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell were recipients of many beautiful flowers and other lovely gifts.

Saturday March 10th Don Martin of the Junior high school took his rink consisting of Yvonne Hannah, Darrel Belton and Shirley McGuigan to Kitscoty's high school bonspiel. They captured third prize in the Pennant competition and came home with flashlights.

The Teskey family were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shaw and for supper time came Mrs. Hilda Bell, Janet and Sandra and Gerry Grant. The occasion was Mrs. Bill Shaw's birthday on the 10th. We wish you many more happy birthdays Betty.

Saw Mrs. Vera Anson in town on Tuesday. They have been snowed in this long time and have had to walk out to the main road. She then was picked up by Mrs. Wilson and got a ride to town — then Mary would drive her back to the bad road.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Young were in the city over the week end and visited Mrs. Yvonne Steinhauer and Mrs. Jack McNeely at the University hospital. We learned that Mrs. Moore was also in the hospital but nothing too serious, an operation on a bunion we are told.

YOUR LEGISLATURE AT WORK

By R. J. Whitson, M.L.A.
Vermilion Constituency.

EDMONTON.—A greater number of members on the opposition side of the Alberta Legislature this year has not meant less work, as witness the activities of Liberals, Conservatives and Independents on private members' days.

To the end of last week, 20 private members' motions were placed on the order paper of the Assembly for debate. Not all have been debated.

Private members' days, which occur each Tuesday and Thursday, provide the members with an opportunity to place before the Legislature ideas and programs which the member making the motion feels are worthwhile and necessary.

Even when the motion is rejected experience shows the members' idea is not completely forgotten. For instance, in previous years Liberal members have campaigned for abolition of the unearned increment tax and the amusement tax. This year the Government announced the unearned increment tax is being removed and removal of the amusement tax from admission tickets priced at 35 cents or less.

At other times, a member's motion may not be accepted exactly the way he proposes it, but the Government will propose an amendment to fit plans it is making.

As for example, a motion by two Liberal members this year, Arthur Dixon, St. Albert and Alfred Macyk, Redwater, asking a Royal Commission investigation of Provincial-Municipal financial relations was rejected but the Government revealed it plans special discussions with municipal officials during the year.

The Government has found its plans for Provincial-Municipal conferences have come in handy on a couple of other occasions. Once when Liberals E. E. Hall, Athabasca, and R. J. Whitson, Vermilion, asked the government to implement a program of aid to municipalities for snow removal from the school van routes, the Government introduced an amendment suggesting the matter be discussed with the municipalities during the conferences. The amendment was carried.

The same thing happened when Mr. Whitson and Mr. Soetaert moved that the Government consider letting farmers use purple gas in their farm trucks when used for agricultural activities.

Liberals J. H. McLaughlin, Stony Plain and L. Sims, Acadia-Coronation, had better luck with their amendment to a C.C.F. motion asking the Provincial power commission to take over rural power lines. The two members asked the government to take steps to reduce the cost of high line power to rural residents. Their amendment brought an announcement from Raymond Reierson, Minister of Industries & Labor, that measures are being taken in the direction suggested, and the amendment was approved by the Legislature.

Again this year the Liberals, this time Mr. Sims and Mr. John A. Mills, asked for a written record of the proceedings of the Legislature and, again, they were turned down by a solid vote of rejection by the Government benches.

Some of the private members' motions on which no vote has yet been taken include a request by Mr. Macyk and Mr. Whitson for annual compensation to farmers with poles or other structures of private companies on their land, a request by E. L. Ellis, Liberal-Conservative member for Okotoks-High River, and Hugh John Macdonald, Calgary Liberal, for establishment of a Provincial Hospital Advisory Board; a proposal by Mr. Soetaert and Michael Maccagno, Liberal member for Lac La Biche, for financial assistance to young farmers, and a suggestion by Mr. Whitson and Mr. MacDonald for provincial financial aid for school renovations and improvements.

A request for amendments to the Public Highways Act by Independent Bryce C. Stringham, Bow Valley-Empress, and Mr. Ellis, was placed before the Law Amendments Committee of the Legislature. The members want changes in the requirement that irrigation ditches cannot be placed within 100 feet of a highway.

Outside of private members' days, the legislative members last week were busy studying the details of how the Government proposes to spend more than $240,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning April 1, a number of bills to amend certain acts and the public accounts of the Province, showing how the Government spent its money in the fiscal year ended last March 31.

If not the liveliest session in recent years, it is one of the most informative with opposition members asking the government for answers to many questions and proposing solutions to numerous provincial problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Bothwell

Esteemed Pioneers of Islay District Celebrate Golden Wedding

Well known and esteemed pioneers of the Islay district, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bothwell observed the fiftieth aniversary of their wedding on Wednesday, March 7th. They were married at the farm home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Hooper, near Priceville in Grey county, Ontario, on March 7, 1906. Since last fall Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell have lived in their newly purchased home in Vermilion and it was here that they received their many friends on their golden anniversary.

Prior to the wedding Mr. Bothwell had come west to Edmonton in 1903. In 1904 he was the first to file on a homestead in his township, selecting a quarter two and one-half miles north and one mile west of Islay, long before the village was thought of. As this was well before the arrival of the railroad, the trip to the Islay homestead from Vegreville was made with a team of oxen and a heavily loaded wagon. The road followed the survey trail for the railway. The trip took one full week and only one mishap occurred. This was when the wagon became stuck while crossing Stony Creek (near Mannville) and the load had to be taken off and transported over in relays.

It was to his Islay homestead and to a log homesteader's cabin that Mr. Bothwell brought his bride in the spring of 1906. Throughout the intervening years the farm holdings were increased, the log cabin was succeeded by a larger log house and then by the fine frame home now seen on the farm. The couple took a keen and active interest in church, school, music and the general activities of the community.

Three years ago they commenced spending the winters in Vermilion where they now have a newly purchased home with all the modern conveniences of present day living.

It was in this home that on Wednesday, March 7th they celebrated their golden wedding, surrounded by old and new friends and by members of their family. Despite the fact of snow blocked roads in their old home district around Islay, 63 signed the Golden Wedding guest book, telegrams and long distance phone calls were received, along with many messages of good wishes from those unable to attend.

Among the congratulatory messages received were a Golden Wedding certificate from Premier E. C. Manning on behalf of the province of Alberta, a telegram from Jas. A. Smith, M.P. at Ottawa, and a gift from the Hon. A. O. [illegible], M.L.A. for Alexandra, the Bothwell's provincial constituency over the years. A long distance phone call from son Stewart and family of Matheson in northern Ontario was received during the afternoon.

Islay community folks presented Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell with a beautiful large plate glass wall mirror during the course of the afternoon and in the evening representatives of the Masonic lodge gave Mrs. Bothwell a lovely bouquet and Mr. Bothwell a pen and pencil set.

The three-tiered wedding cake was baked by their daughter-in-law Mrs. Stewart Bothwell of Matheson, Ontario, and made a beautiful centre for the tea table. Serving the guests throughout the afternoon and evening were Mrs. J. W. Muir sister of Mrs. Bothwell who was present at the wedding fifty years ago, Mrs. Ashley Cooper a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell, Miss Donna Cooper a granddaughter, Miss Sheila Hamilton, a niece and Mrs. K. G. Urquhart, Mrs. Douglas S. Cooper and Miss Connie Harle.

Looking after the guest book was Lois Cooper, the Bothwell's youngest grandchild. Assisting in receiving was their own son Bill of Regina home for his parents' golden anniversary.

Among the guests present was Mrs. Katie Fyfe who had met the young honeymooners at the train when they reached Islay in 1906 and drove them out with a single driver and cutter to their farm, giving the bride the first glimpse of her new home. The only other person present at both the arrival from the east and fifty years later at the golden wedding was Mr. J. W. Muir.

Mr. and Mrs. Bothwell have two daughters, Mrs. Rita Cooper in Vermilion and Mrs. Clara Millward at Nakusp, B.C., and two sons, Stewart at Matheson, Ontario and William of Regina. There are seven grandchildren.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Suggestions from readers: "Don't litter the highways with cleansing tissues, paper and other trash. Carry a paper bag for such things and dispose of the bag when you stop."

"An oversize deep ash tray attached to the dashboard by suction cup is excellent for heavy smokers."

"If you travel with youngsters and eat in restaurants a good trick is for one parent to enter the eating place and order for the whole family. Then when the table is set the youngsters come in and eat quickly without too much muss, fuss and bother."

"Never pack soiled clothes with clean ones. Carry a cardboard box or old suitcase in the trunk compartment for laundry."

"Carry a few envelopes of instant coffee or hot chocolate for brewing with hot water the first thing on arising. It puts everybody in good mood for the day's travelling."

"An old army or navy blanket, carried in the trunk compartment, is excellent for impromptu picnics and other stops along the way."

"Before a trip make a list of the clothes you'll want . . . then pare it down one-half and you'll be just right."

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Heckbert Visit Many Interesting Places

Mr and Mrs. S. C. Heckbert returned during the week from a combined business and holiday trip which took them as far south as Florida and Nassau. The trip was arranged primarily to permit Mr. Heckbert, Grand Master of Masons in Alberta, to attend the annual meeting of Grand Masters of the World, held in the city of Washington, D.C., and attended by representatives of the Masonic Order from the various countries of the world.

Travelling by air the couple [illegible] several days in New York [illegible] they had an opportunity of [illegible] ing a Saturday afternoon performance at the Metropolitan Opera House, tours of the city made it possible to spend some time on the Queen Elizabeth just prior to her sailing for Britain and to go through the beautiful U[illegible] Nations building at a time [illegible] sessions of the representatives of the 79 participating countries were in progress although lack of time prevented attendance at any of the actual meetings. Interviewed by the Standard, Mr. Heckbert described this fine modern building at some length, pointing out that it was a 39-storey structure of modern design and of peculiar construction in that the building is only 75 feet wide and stands like a narrow shaft on a plot of ground beside the East River donated by the Rockefeller family, the land being conservatively valued at 8 million dollars.

Other items of interest during the New York visit were the Empire State building, the great cathedral of Saint John the Divine, Radio City and Central Park.

The visit to Washington, being of a business nature, prevented a great deal of sight-seeing, but visits were paid to such fine buildings as the National Capitol, the National Museum of Art, the Bureau of Engraving, the F.B.I. building, etc. A breakfast tendered by the assembled Grand Masters to members of the Supreme Court and the United States Cabinet proved interesting, especially in view of the notable addresses of the Hon. S. G. Wilson, Secretary for Defence and a former head of General Motors and the Hon. Sam Rayburn, Speaker of Congress, who described in some detail the world situation as it exists today and the gravity that is presented from any of several "danger" spots throughout the world. Mr. Rayburn expressed the opinion that at no time in history has the world situation been as chaotic as at the present time and at no time has there been a greater possibility of the outbreak of a Third World War.

Proceeding to Florida the Vermilion citizens had an opportunity of visiting Miami, Miami Beach and other cities where holiday makers from all over the world find opportunity for change, although rest and relaxation seem to be far from possible. Much of the time in Florida was spent in Hollywood, a small city offering a much greater opportunity for relaxation than the teeming centres of the great cities. During the visit Mr and Mrs. Heckbert spent a few hours with Mr and Mrs. Davis formerly of Vermilion and now residing permanently at Fort Lauderdale, some thirty miles north of Miami. Mr and Mrs. Davis will be remembered by many in Vermilion, Mr Davis having been for some time employed as [illegible] engineer with France Oils.

Several days were spent on a side trip to Nassau, a British possession about 200 miles distant from Florida and located in the [illegible] in close proximity to our [illegible] stream which causes beautiful [illegible] weather during our winter season. Nassau is capital of the Bahama group of islands and situated on New Providence island. It is practically altogether devoted to the tourist industry and draws people from all over the globe many Canadians [illegible] numbered among those who take advantage of the extremely mild climate, it was particularly noticeable that Eastern Canadians, who live within comparatively easy driving distance of Florida and the Bahamas, were quite numerous visitors to the holiday spots.

The return trip, made by air, was completed between 10:30 a.m. leaving Miami and 11 p.m. the arrival time at Edmonton, with stops only at Chicago and Minneapolis, the actual travelling time being just short of ten hours and the distance covered nearly four thousand miles.

Mrs. Buckingham Incredibly Lucky

Mrs. E. H. Buckingham [illegible] from her husband early in the New Year to spend about two months visiting in London, England. The parting is just a temporary arrangement, but it did seem to be an ill omen for her to lose the diamond from her engagement ring as soon as she left. Here is the story in her own words, an excerpt from a letter sent by her to Mrs. Mary Urquhart:

"I think I should tell you the story of my diamond although it sounds rather like a miracle. After I boarded the plane at Edmonton and we were on our way I suddenly discovered the diamond was missing from my engagement ring. I was quite upset and the stewardess came to help me search around the seat and we took my fur coat down and felt in pockets, cuffs, etc. Finally I decided it was gone.

I got off the plane at Winnipeg, and Toronto, then landed at Montreal in the early hours, took a taxi to my daughter's. I had to be at the airport by 2:15 p.m. and about 1:30 p.m. my grandson Terry brought something to his mother and said he had picked it up under the chair in the living room.

Well, it was the diamond, although I was not sure until I got here and took ring and stone to a jewellers, and even now I look at it and can hardly believe it" . . .

Legion Ladies Hold Successful Dance

MANNVILLE. — The dance sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion held on Friday, March 9th was very successful although there was not too large an attendance. The newly - formed orchestra with Carman Hughes, Bud Stadon and Mrs. Clifford Emmott supplied excellent music and those present report a very good time.

The draw for the cushions was made during the evening and the holders of the lucky tickets were Mrs. Les Brown and Dougie Blackford. A goodly sum was realized from the cushion raffle and the members of the Auxiliary wish to thank the people of the district for making this draw such a success.

Biggest declarations increase is in the oils and mining groups.

Report from Alberta Legislature by Ken Mason

ALBERTANS TO VOTE WITH 'X' IN PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS

EDMONTON. — After doing quite well under it for twenty years, Social Credit has decided to abolish the transferable ballot and proportional representation system of voting in provincial elections.

A bill introduced by the government in the legislature last week would put Alberta elections under the straight 'X' ballot — the same system used in federal elections. At this point, there is little doubt about the bill being passed.

The 107-page bill, introduced by Hon. Fred C. Colborne, minister without portfolio, embodies an entirely new Election Act. But the change in the method of marking ballots is the only major departure from the old act. Other changes are relatively minor administrative amendments.

INTRODUCED BY UFA IN 1924

Naturally, the first question to arise was, why the sudden decision to scrap a system which has been used in the province since the UFA government introduced it in 1924?

So far there have been two distinctly different answers — one from the government and the other from opposition spokesmen in the legislature.

The government claims the transferable ballot system is so complicated the voters can't understand it and the result is a large percentage of spoiled and rejected ballots.

The opposition says the real reason is that after what happened in the election last June, the government is afraid of the involved system under which a voter's second choices can be distributed.

MANY SPOILED BALLOTS

There is room for argument on both sides. The transferable ballot used in single-member ridings and the proportional representation system used in Edmonton and Calgary are fantastically complicated. In the provincial election last June, there were more spoiled ballots in Edmonton alone than in the entire province in the 1953 federal [illegible].

After the bill was introduced, Premier Manning argued that no one could honestly say a particular voting system is weighted in favor of any individual party, in or out of power. He said the government believes there are "serious reasons" for a change.

Backing up the opposition claim, an analysis of election returns last June shows Social Credit would have done slightly better if the straight 'X' ballot had been used. The government would have elected two more members, giving it 39 seats in the house instead of 37.

The Liberal party would have elected four fewer members, while Conservative and C C F parties would have elected one more each.

J. H. Prowse, Liberal leader, described the proposed change as "a last ditch attempt to save a tottering administration — an admission of an expectation of defeat".

Many students of politics believe the transferable ballot system is the most fair and democratic in existence, because it allows the voter to exercise second choices. When more than two parties are contesting a seat, it lessens the possibility of one winning with a small majority. Under a straight 'X' system a candidate can win with a majority of less than 50 per cent if the rest of the votes are split between the two others.

NOT COMMONLY USED

Alberta was the first Canadian province to adopt the transferable ballot, and will be the last one to adopt it. Manitoba adopted it in 1921 and threw it out last year. B.C. used it only once, in 1950.

Mr. Colborne is chairman of a provincial cabinet committee which has been studying the Election Act since last summer. The committee conducted a survey into the matter and collected statistics on rejected ballots which will be presented in the house later.

HOT DEBATE?

The bill won't be discussed again until it comes up for second reading, and it's possible that this could develop into a hot debate.

On the other hand, some observers believe opposition members will offer only token resistance, so no one can say they are afraid of the new system.

The legislature was adjourned for two days last week while Premier Manning and Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman attended federal-provincial financial talks in Ottawa. Sessions resumed again Monday, with members continuing their detailed study of estimates for the coming fiscal year.

Lieut.-Gov. Visits Red Cross Hospital

His Honor, Lieut. Governor J. J. Bowlen of Alberta, recently paid a visit to the Alberta Red Cross Crippled Children's hospital and chatted with many of the children. The little patients, all dressed up for the occasion, felt that His Honour was endorsing the current Red Cross campaign for funds by his kindly visit. Here, the Lieutenant Governor discusses their Sunday School lesson with Brant of Bentley and Jerry of Edmonton.

Mannville Locals

Members of the Elks lodge who motored to Marwayne to curl on Sunday were Dr Hastnoff, Mr Van Duern, Mr F. Proudfoot and Mr Baker on one rink, and Mr D. Otto, Mr Les Kreller, Mr Norman Crooks and Mr Misik on the second rink. They report a very good trip.

Miss Adele Matney has been home from Edmonton on the sick list but hopes to return to business college in a few days.

Impressive Display At Merwayne Hobby Fair

MARWAYNE — The fifth Annual Hobby Fair held in the Elk's hall on March 1st was, in spite of bad roads but very good weather, a decided success. There was an attendance of over 100 to view the fair in the afternoon. Possibly there wasn't as much as other years, but it was of superior quality and workmanship.

The exhibits included crocheting, knitting, tatting, embroidery, needle point, petit point, cross stitch, bark weaving, felt work, cushions, quilts, rugs, leatherwork, copper tooling, paintings, novelties, scrap books, photography, several pieces of woodwork, collections of coins, dressed dolls, birds, eggs, etc. etc.

The F. W. U. A. had a very good collection of novelties. The C. G. I. T. had pictures and a scrap-book of the Canadian Indians whom they are learning about in their study group, and they are also doing some bead work. The Christmas decorations display entered by Mrs. T. Rea made one wish it were nearer Christmas time to try to make some of the beautiful and artistic novelties that she suggested for table and home decorations.

Keith Kent had a large display of ribbons won by his poultry and a Grand Challenge shield won at the Alberta Poultry show in Calgary 1955. Unless shown, many of us do not know of the large number of prizes brought into this district for livestock and poultry. The Alvin Parker family showed one of their stock saddles decorated for show purposes and two suits worn by the girls at the fairs, beautifully embroidered, as well as many prize ribbons won with their palominos at the Lloydminster, Vermilion and North Battleford fairs.

March 1st, being St. David's day, Patron Saint of Wales, Mrs Dudlyke had a very interesting display of Welsh things, the flag of Wales, a map of the country, a Welsh newspaper and other articles.

One could not do justice in words to the display, it should be seen to be appreciated. There were works of art, curios, treasures, antiques and many other things loaned for display. A picture, sandals and handkerchief from China, a tray from India, a workbasket and jewellery 75 years old, ebony articles and a jewel case 125 years old and a beautiful wooden bowl from Norway, were other items to be seen.

Mrs. A. V. Smith, Lea Park, showed a Mezzotint engraving, painted in color, a very valuable picture except for a flaw, a beautiful large Belgian tapestry, a hand-carved idol from China, a handwoven basket from Spain, a watercolor from Madagascar with native herbs used for dye in paint, and several other articles.

Mrs. C. Harrington had a sampler done in 1835, a petitpoint picture, "The Fisher Girl," 125 years old. One could not adequately describe a petitpoint picture done by a French Canadian girl in Lower Quebec. The work was beautiful petitpoint design, outlined in beads. Her collection of metal pieces included an English teapot over 100 years old, a very old brass kettle, a hammered brass urn from India and a hammered pewter jug, very rare. Mr. Harrington contributed his collection of arrow heads, many picked up on his farm, and also some Indian relics, a collection of stones and rocks picked up in many places in Canada and the United States. Daughter Joan had her collection of dolls sent to her by her brother who is with the United Nations. These dolls he sent while on tour in the countries of Sicily, Yugoslavia, Italy, South Africa, India and Israel. There was also a very old English doll and a Canadian Indian doll.

The school children had a section to themselves and had some very fine entries, more than in other years. There was quite a showing of art and paintings, and smaller entries of the other crafts. Mr. Buckingham in his talk told how the children could be helped and encouraged to have many more crafts another year.

The [illegible] Sewing Machine Company had an exhibit and demonstration of their machine.

The lunch bar was busy and catered to all with sandwiches, hot dogs, pie and coffee.

The exhibits [illegible] at the hall after 6:00 o'clock when all went to the Community hall to see the films from the Extension Department. The [illegible] Ride picture was particularly good. The school children gave numbers between films and money prizes were distributed to school children under 12 years of age. Mr McGuffin was the chairman.

Mr Buckingham, District Agriculturist and his assistant, Mr Jefferies, with Miss Archibald, Director of Handicrafts for the Alberta Government were the judges. Miss Archibald praised the fair and the efforts put forth to show what talent is in the district and to encourage others to try. With such talent she thought Marwayne should form a handicraft group, both men and women. She promised to give any help she could. Also the Lloydminster Arts and Crafts group [illegible] the desire to help.

Progressive HEALTH Services

Good health is the most valuable of all resources of any country. In Alberta the Department of health is responsible for safeguarding this resource by seeking to prevent disease or, when it strikes, to assist in the recovery of the afflicted.

Today Government Health Services are offered on a scale that was financially impossible a few years ago. A large share of the provincial income is diverted to maintaining the highest possible standard of public health.

Last year the overall expenditure for health services in Alberta—nearly $24,000,000—was 7½ times the amount spent ten years ago.

What does this money provide for the people of Alberta? It provides direct health benefits in the way of—

1. HOSPITAL AND MEDICAL SERVICES—such as hospital grants; supervision of hospitals; free maternity hospitalization; hospitalization of various pensioners and recipients of mothers' allowances, and the provincial hospital insurance program.
2. PROVINCIAL LABORATORIES—distribution of serums and vaccines; examination and analysis for the detection and control of disease.
3. MENTAL HEALTH—hospitalization, medical and nursing care and treatment for the mentally ill.
4. SOCIAL HYGIENE—care and control of venereal diseases through clinics and lectures.
5. TUBERCULOSIS DIVISION—free diagnostic and treatment service for all tuberculosis cases.
6. CANCER—diagnosis, radium, X-ray, surgical and cobalt "bomb" treatments for cancer sufferers.
7. CEREBRAL PALSY—diagnosis and treatment clinics.
8. RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS CLINICS—60 days' free hospitalization and treatment for Albertans under 25 years of age.

EDUCATION AND RESEARCH FOR BETTER PUBLIC HEALTH

1. PUBLIC HEALTH BENEFITS—literature, lectures, radio programs and motion pictures to encourage better health practices.
2. COMMUNICABLE DISEASES—recording the incidence of communicable diseases; providing information on the most effective methods of prevention and control.
3. ENTOMOLOGY—studies and practises the control of insect-borne diseases.
4. SANITARY ENGINEERING—supervises water supplies and sewage disposal systems; inspects hotels, restaurants, slaughter houses and dairies in rural communities.
5. NUTRITION—conducts educational work for better eating habits and more nourishing diets.
6. VITAL STATISTICS—records all births, marriages and deaths.
7. PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING—organizes health programs for rural communities.

46 Albertans Lose Lives in Fires

Fires took 46 lives in Alberta last year, including 17 children, according to A. E. Bridges, Provincial Fire Commissioner.

Of the child fatalities, seven were due to the youngsters being left alone in a dwelling, trailer or car and were consequently unattended. One child died from severe burns after playing with matches as the clothing took fire.

The Alberta Safety Council has drawn attention to this heavy death toll in warning of fire hazards and the need of using every protective means to prevent fires.

Even this year is starting out badly as nine fire deaths have occurred already, two of these being children.

Officials of the Fire Commissioner's office say from 70 to 75 percent of fire deaths occur in homes.

A review of last year's death toll in Alberta shows that in addition to the children, eight women and twenty-one men lost their lives in fires.

Cause of the blazes in nine instances was due to gasoline lighted fires, while in three cases the cause was an explosion when coal oil was used to start the fire.

The misuse of gasoline or coal oil to light fires took five lives, comprising two children, two men and one woman.

In 1954, there were 35 lives lost in fires, including eight children. The worst year was 1953, when the death toll was 54, inclusive of 25 children.

In 1952 there were 38 deaths, of which 9 were children. The total in 1951 was 2 deaths, including nine children. An official computation shows that in the last eleven years, 480 persons have died from fires in this province.

The Safety Council suggests these things to do in case of fire: Don't fling doors open if you think there is a fire. Feel them first and if they are hot, get out another way or block the doors with furniture or mattresses to keep out smoke and gases.

Remember the air is usually better near the floor in a smoke filled dwelling.

Hold your breath and cover your face if you have to make a dash through smoke or fire.

Don't jump or drop from up-story windows except as a last resort—wait for the firemen.

Don't ever go back into a burning building for any reason, smoke and fire gases from even the smallest fire can be deadly.

Unless it is a small fire and you are certain you can control it with an extinguisher, don't waste your time and your life by trying to fight it—get away and call the fire department.

Your walls need less preparation when decorated with wallpaper than for any other wall treatment. New plaster, however, must first be given a coat of wall size.

Full Time Leaders Are Now Possible

Grants To Towns and M.D.'s For Recreational Leadership

A new system of providing grants for recreation leadership is being considered by the newly-organized Community Recreation Board. Organized last year the board is made up of recreation and government representatives who will recommend policies and procedures to the Alberta government.

The proposed system of grants would involve direct payments to towns and cities which provide recreation leadership. At the present time payments are made only directly to qualified leaders who are engaged in recreation work.

The new grants would be based on the training and experience of the leader which a municipality engages for community work. Experienced holders of degrees in physical education, recreation or social work would be eligible for higher grants. Provisions would be made for "in service" training of leaders.

The new system also would make it possible for towns to engage full-time recreation directors, in addition to the part-time leaders at present employed in many districts.

The board points out that the new system will not require extra funds during 1956, as money now used for individual grants would be sufficient or more to finance eligible municipalities.

At the same meeting, the board advised the Alberta Government will provide a $1,000 grant which is to be used for scholarships. These will assist deserving leaders in receiving university training in community recreation.

The Community Recreation Board, appointed by the Minister of Economic Affairs, is under the chairmanship of A. V. Pettigrew, superintendent of Edmonton Recreation. Members include Miss Elsie McFarland, secretary and director of the Community Recreation Branch, Dept. of Economic Affairs; Dr. M. Van Vliet, director of the school of physical education, University of Alberta; Mrs. Rhona Duncan, district director, Calgary Recreation Division; W. A. Hutton, former supervisor of the Health and Recreation Branch; and Rev. T. Buchanan, of Taber.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

No complaints about the weather, just the usual routine — blizzards and cold. March 7th it was 40 below in the district. Our sixth blizzard came roaring along the night of March 2nd. That same night the 'Cat' from Dewberry opened the road south to the school, and others in the area, only to be filled in again. With this storm it was warmer however, around the zero mark.

March 5th Idelore Nelson did his share of the road to the church west, and Wilson's and Armstrong's east. The Clandonald road from the south was opened the night of March 8th and much difficulty was experienced. The school bus was able to come one day of that week, March 9th.

The public surely appreciates the effort and time these men put in to keep the roads open. Our local men prove a big help too. Bill Axley from Islay and Idelore Nelson in the district.

On the morning of Feb. 24 Elaine Lundblad from Valley View called at her cousin Della's, the Walsh home. She came to attend the Varsity Guest Week end. All the university buildings were open to the public on an inspection tour. A grand opportunity for the public.

The latter part of February Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Omness and their daughters Irene and Janice from New Sarepta, called at the home of their niece Della (Walsh home) in the city on Saturday afternoon. They were calling the next Saturday for supper and to spend the evening. The girls take music lessons in the city. They would miss Aunt Margaret and Uncle Norman Walling who recently sold their home in the city and moved to the coast.

Eddie Throndson has been back for some time at Yellowknife, N.W.T. staying with brother Theodore, Mabel and family, running a 'Cat' over Lake Athabasca to Hay River.

Allandale was well represented at a whist party held at the Ralph Strome home on Feb. 3 to raise funds for the Princess Anne W.I. House prizes went to Idelore Nelson. Elsa and Alvin (as a lady) tied, Elsa won out, and yours truly only got about half of the top score — did I ever get the deuce. Scores from the other homes weren't yet available. Ralph and Delsie are having new built-in cupboards installed and new flooring which adds much to the kitchen and so much more convenience. The luncheon at these parties are super and closed a very sociable and friendly evening.

The Clandonald Promenaders square dancing has been nil on account of sickness of Mr. Peck on Feb. 25th, blocked roads at Greenlawn March 3rd and cold March 10. Truly sorry Dewberry and Greenlawn about Feb. 25th.

It was very pleasing to hear familiar names over the square dance hour 7 to 8 p.m. Camrose last Saturday. Happy birthdays to Mrs. Alice Parker of Dewberry and Allan Ronaghan, Irma, of the Albert square dance club.

For so many who are shut in a good deal of the winter the Sunday school of the air over Watrous or CBX at 9:30 every Sunday morning is very good and so educational.

The district was shocked by the sad news on March 4th of the death of Mrs. Fred Playne. Our deepest sympathy to the husband and sons, the Richardson family and relatives. "Beyond this crushing sorrow the pearly dawn and fair, of a beautiful tomorrow awaits to bless you there."

'Flu has been a visitor to most homes in the district. Joan [illegible] was home from [illegible] the day of the storm March 3rd. Alva Jean is a lot better and Lorna missed a few days of school. The same day Lorna Nelson, Vera Nelson and the Duford boys went to [illegible] to stay so they would not miss school until the roads were opened.

March 1st Aunt Stella Mayers was visiting at the Wm. Cross home, returning to town on the 7th.

The W.A. which was to have been held March 8th was postponed until March 29th in the evening at the same place, the I. Nelson home, on account of blocked roads and flu in some of the homes. This will be a combination meeting for March and April.

A pioneer spirit — Mr. and Mrs. Gus Throndson walked a mile and a quarter to the main road on the evening of the party for Mrs. Lee. A car was there to meet them and they walked home again in 20 below weather. The road was blocked. Congratulations to these brave people and if they didn't bring their share of the lunch besides! Our 70th [illegible] was [illegible] last August.

On March 13th Mr. Jack Cross [illegible] by Mr. Louis Baldock leave for the Calgary Bull sale taking five bulls in his own truck. They will show five bulls and one heifer at the Edmonton sale on March 24. Good luck and safe journeys.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strang and grandson Henry have recently moved to Lloydminster to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crosby and family who have been living in Calgary are moving back to Edmonton. George is there now. Evelyn and children will go as soon as they sell their home in Calgary.

A recent letter from daughter Orlene (the Whelan family) in France. The cold has subsided and is back to normal. All are fine except for colds due likely to the extreme changes in their weather.

Closing Thought — "Our faith expresses itself in life [illegible]."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Cupid is as old as mankind. But many of the wedding customs to celebrate his triumphs have changed considerably because of the car.

Take a typical wedding procession today—a caravan of cars following the bridal couple with blasting horns. This is the modern version of the old French custom called a "charivari" during which the newlyweds were "serenaded" under the nuptial chambers with a hooting and howling boisterous enough to be heard in the next prefecture.

The business of tying old shoes to the back of the car has an amusing origin. In merrie olde England, the father of the bride presented his new son-in-law with one of her shoes to symbolize the transfer of his authority. The groom promptly conked his beloved over the head with the heel—to make her cognizant of this change immediately!

Many people today load the couple's car with cakes and sweets as they depart on their honeymoon. The ancient Greeks really started this when they poured flour and sweetmeats over the bride and groom to wish them an abundance of life's goodies.

And talking about honeymoons—they started way back when a man had to capture a bride. He took her to a hide-out while the parental wrath subsided.

The honeymoon today is still a withdrawal. But because of the car, it is often a mobile meandering with Cupid planning the itinerary.

POULTRY NEWS

Poultry on Canadian farms number 41.9 million birds, 5% fewer than a year earlier, reports The Financial Post. Farmers are keeping fewer hens, turkeys, ducks and geese. But the baby chick population is 25% higher than a year ago. This is due to bigger production plans for the broiler market and the fall's favorable egg prices which encouraged more farmers to buy up tomorrow's egg producers.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

By James A. Smith, M.P.
For Battle River--Camrose Federal Constituency

The third session of the 22nd Parliament is now in its third month. The last two months have been an interesting experience for me. The House of Commons is a large building with over 2½ miles of hallways alone. Just to be able to find one's way around this building is an accomplishment in itself. Then the task of becoming acquainted with the Cabinet Ministers, Members of Parliament, the Departmental heads and other civil servants requires a lot of time. The life of the city of Ottawa mostly centres around Parliament and in this respect it is unique. When one realizes that there are over 32,000 civil servants residing here, it is relatively easy to appreciate what the Government of Canada means to the economy of this city.

FIVE BROAD FIELDS

The actual work of this session of Parliament up to the present time has been roughly divided into five rather broad fields. The debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne, a brief discussion on external affairs which dealt largely with the tension which now exists in the Middle East and the shipment of instruments of war from Canada; a prolonged, and at times, a heated debate on the $1,500 bank loan to farmers; a relatively short examination into the field of research generally with emphasis being placed on the role of the government in this particular field. It was at this time that some thought was directed to the possible use of atomic energy in a peace time society, and finally resolutions submitted for consideration by private members. This last group deals with such topics as bills to amend small loans act, the National Park Act, the Civil Service Act, the Unemployment Insurance Act, the Income Tax Act and so on. As a limited time is allowed for the debate on these private members' resolutions, they, in nearly all instances, meet the fate of being "talked out" and relegated to the bottom of the list for further consideration. I have been given to understand that there are some private members' bills which have been on the Order Paper for many years and have never reached the voting stage.

$1,500 BANK LOAN TO FARMERS

As your Member, I was particularly interested in the debate on the $1,500 bank loan and in the course of this discussion of the bill in its various stages, I spoke three times. We supported the vote to move this bill from the resolution stage to that of first reading because that was the only way we had of finding the proposed terms of the bill. However, we consistently argued against the Bank Loan and mentioned that cash advances on farm stored grain was the only fair immediate solution. We condemned the government, not the Wheat Board, for its failure to provide export markets. Hon. C. D. Howe during the course of the debate attempted to insinuate that anyone who was opposed to the $1,500 Bank Loan was out to wreck the Wheat Board. These insinuations were answered in no uncertain terms by all opposition parties. I believe that it was definitely established that all political groups felt that the Wheat Board had done a magnificent job within the orbit permitted it by the present Federal Government. One can certainly not blame the Wheat Board for the shortage of box cars. Perhaps Mr. Howe will some time give a clear cut answer to this particular situation. Up until now, he has blamed everything and everybody, except the faulty marketing policy of his own government.

BANKS GUARANTEED

When the terms of this particular bill were made known to us, we realized it was nothing other than an attempt to guarantee that the Chartered Banks of Canada were assured against loss. Mr Hansell, as acting leader of our group, moved an amendment which, had it carried, would have reduced the interest from 5 to 3%. We felt that this amendment was just and fair — the Wheat Board can borrow money at 3%—why not then extend this right to the farmer who through no fault of his own could not market his wheat. It was established during the debate that no attempt had been made by the Government to convince the banks that a lower rate of interest was justified. Mr. Quelch, Social Credit Member for Acadia, did get Mr. Howe to promise that the bill would be revised to allow for special bin storage of wheat. The penalties for failure to repay the loan were also raised during the committee discussion of the bill. What we want the Government to do immediately is to come forth with a long range policy as far as agriculture is concerned, a policy which will assure those engaged in this industry a fair share of the national income. This is certainly not the case now. In 1954 the 19% of the population of Canada who engaged in agriculture received 6.8 p.c. of the national income. Surely agriculture is worthy of better than this. We will continue to urge the immediate necessity of establishing the major Canadian industry on a stable and equitable basis.

As the session progresses, it is my intention to submit further reports through the medium of the weekly papers within Battle River-Camrose and in closing I wish to thank the editors of these papers for their community spiritedness in extending this privilege to me.

Got To Pull In Somewhere

Something has got to give in the program of new capital investment which Canadians were planning at the beginning of this year, reports the Financial Post.

With unusual bluntness, though still in proper official language, the Trade Department's annual survey of the investment intentions for 1956 says, in effect: "It can't be done. Canada hasn't enough materials or labor or investment funds to accomplish the massive $7.5-billion program planned by business and governments, municipalities and institutions.

The vital question for business is "What will give?" Will everybody persist in his plans in spite of the shortage warnings, thus driving up prices and wages and landing us in a real inflationary situation? Or will the shortages themselves cause a reduction in the program to bring it within the country's capacity without inflation?"

RECORD WAGE BILL

Some $12.9 billions was paid Canadian workers during 1955 and it's 7.5% more than what they earned in 1954, reports the Financial Post. Labour income for the construction group rose 11.5%, finance and services 9.5%, distributive groups 6%, [illegible]

Alberta's Natural Gas Industry:
THE GAS FIELD

Natural gas service begins at the well — and it may be necessary to drill thousands of feet to reach nature's gas reservoirs in the minute pores of rocks. The company's production department makes sure enough gas is available to meet the needs of all consumers — even at 40° below! While existing wells provide for today's demand, the production engineers are studying new fields — looking to the new sources of natural gas that will serve Alberta twenty years from now!

A Practical Joke Backfires

By H. C. F.

A true story about a man, some boys, a ram and hornets —

The stonemason, Joe, who built the foundation under father's barn was quite a character and delighted in pulling gags on my three older brothers. They were helping on the job as small boys will.

On this particular day the boys had coaxed Joe out into the ram pasture, on some sort of a ruse and this is what happened:

Tom and Harry held the ram at one end of a hollow log and, of course, kept him quiet by soft, soothing ways, while Dick got Joe at the other end of the log and himself in a straight line. Dick said, "Just come this way Joe, and the ram won't hurt you! Just come this way Joe, and the ram won't hurt you!"

"Yes, I'll come straight for you, all right, you little squirt", and Joe started on the run for Dick. Just as he got at the end of the log, Tom hit the log a good kick and yelled "Run, Joe, they're after you", and let the ram go. It was then a first class race between Joe and the ram, with several thousand hornets running a close second. Everybody wondered what closed Joe's eyes so effectively.

Guard painted areas around door knobs and jambs frequently soiled by children by coating them with paste wax or a creamy clean-up wax.

SNOW

Someone should write a song for snow, its biting whiteness and its frost-squeal under foot. A mannish song it would need to be, for snow is all man.

Snow is kin to whirling power, ice and steel-blue skies, to frost clouds puffed from stallion nostrils. Corrugated, tormented, thick-crusted snow turns prairie towns into rugged frontier outposts.

Snow sorts men from boys in a hurry. Snow at Eraford and Herbert and Chaplin cripples fancy diesels and brings steam sweating and snorting into service again to do a man's work.

The only real snow is prairie snow. Victoria's whitish substance is pallid, tender stuff. What Ontario and Quebec call snow is only an adolescent half-brother to the real thing. Snow cuts its teeth in the Maritimes before God turns it loose on the prairies, where men are men.

Snow needs the elbow room only Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta provide. The corner of Portage and Main is where snow comes of age; from there it takes off like a too-strictly reared son to sow its wild oats across the West.

Snow resembles rain only in that it falls alike on the roofs of the living and the graves of the dead. The whiplash of the blizzard plays no favorites; it hurls snow at the gables of the wealthy with the same fury it unleashes at the most humble shanty.

WARNING!

Calling all parents to keep a watchful eye on their children especially toddlers, at the break-up of winter. There will be numerous ponds and low places full of water that are normally dry at the breakup of the winter.

Mr and Mrs Jim Barnett Jr got out at last on Monday March 5th after being snowed in for over two weeks. Margaret says "almost at the starving point!"

Monday March 5th saw it snowing and blowing again. Noticed Mr Albert Beck and Bill Bellchambers in town, recounting other winters this one doesn't quite equal that of 1906-07. Says Albert "in June of 1907 I got ice to make ice cream on the north side of Mr Roebuck's sod barn." Says Bill, "I saw Mrs. Burkehead get a rain barrel of snow in the bluff by the house in June!" Says Mr Alf Hollington "I was working on the track and in June there were quite some banks of snow along the way".

A crowd came out to the hall on Friday night to see the film on the Grey Cup game.

W. A. MEETING

The Knox W.A. met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Dave Buchanan with 22 present. We were glad to have with us again Mrs Flossie Axley, Mrs Jim Horricks and Mrs Sylvia Gould. It was the Missionary meeting. Miss Bessie Anderson led the devotional period and Mrs. A. H. Sweet gave a report of the W.M.S Presbyterial held at Holden. Spring tea for March 17th was planned a bit early, but maybe the roads will be full of snow instead of mud as we thought might happen if held after Easter. One apron to be donated for the apron sale, as usual. Oh yes, and the first auction was held, a lovely pair of gloves, wool with leather palms, just right for clutching the wheel when driving the car. These were donated by Mrs Kohen. Mrs Jean Axley was auctioneer.

Noticed Mr and Mrs Don McFadyen going home from the hospital on Sunday, proud parents of a baby boy, 11 lb 14 oz at birth.

Health Unit Notes

WHAT APPENDICITIS IS

The appendix is a small, and apparently useless, worm-shaped organ from about 3 to 5 inches long. It is attached to the large intestine at its beginning, usually located low down on the right side of the abdominal cavity. Appendicitis is an inflammation of this small organ.

The inflammation probably starts in most cases as a result of the blocking of the appendix by foreign matter which may enter it from the large intestine. Blockage of the appendix interferes with its drainage, injures its walls and permits germs constantly present in the intestinal tract to set up an infection.

Children and young adults are usually susceptible to appendicitis but it may occur at any age.

WHEN TO SUSPECT ACUTE APPENDICITIS

Pain in the abdomen, with nausea or vomiting is the earliest sign of acute appendicitis. Frequently it starts with generalized pain or pains in the upper part of the abdomen which shortly becomes localized in the lower right side. The pain may be severe and cramplike or it may be a dull ache. Occasionally it may let up but this does not mean that the attack has passed.

Soon after the pain sets in, nausea or vomiting is likely to begin. The temperature usually rises slightly above normal, and the abdomen, especially over the appendix, becomes increasingly sore.

WHAT TO DO AND WHAT TO AVOID

In case of any unusual or puzzling abdominal pain or "stomach-ache", with nausea or vomiting, do not take chances, do not delay. Your life may depend on three simple things.

1 Avoid taking a laxative or enema, or other home remedy. A person who has abdominal pain with nausea or vomiting also may be constipated or have diarrhea and feel that he should take a laxative or enema. It is dangerous to do this. The action of the laxative or enema increases the pressure in the appendix and may cause it to rupture or "blow out" and spread the infection. This may be followed by the serious condition called peritonitis. The sulfa drugs are now often used successfully in the treatment of peritonitis, but peritonitis may cause death.

2 Call your physician without delay. If he suspects that you have appendicitis, he is the one to decide what should be done. Appendicitis is sometimes difficult to diagnose and the physician may need to take several blood counts and make other tests to help him in making his diagnosis. Be sure to call him in the first few hours of an attack.

3. Rest while awaiting the doctor. In the presence of abdominal pain and vomiting, do not take any food or drinks, except water. Do not apply an ice bag or hot water bottle to the site of the pain. The pain may be deadened by doing this, and the person may think that the attack has passed while he is still in great danger. Do not rub or massage the abdomen. Avoid exercise or unnecessary physical exertion. Lie down, or remain as quiet as possible until the doctor arrives.

WHAT TO REMEMBER

Although no way of preventing appendicitis has been discovered, it is known that serious consequences can nearly always be avoided by the proper early treatment. The patient's use of laxative or other home remedy before his physician has examined him is responsible for many of the dangerous complications and deaths from appendicitis. Yet the operation to remove an appendix can be performed with great safety when it is done at once before complications set in.

RECURRENT ATTACKS OF APPENDICITIS

Sometimes a person has a severe attack of acute appendicitis in which the inflammation subsides without an operation but never entirely clears up. Mild attacks may recur from time to time, and between attacks the patient may be troubled with spells of indigestion or have rather constant pain or discomfort soon after eating. If the physician decides that these symptoms are due to appendicitis, he may advise an operation even if the symptoms are mild, because it is possible that the next attack may be severe and that the patient may be so situated that he cannot obtain prompt medical care

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by W. G. Malaher, Director, Research Department, [illegible] Grain Company, Limited

THE DANGER OF GRADE LOSSES FROM HEATED GRAIN AND TREATED SEED

As spring approaches, the usual warnings are being issued to farmers with respect to possible grade losses that may result from farm-stored grain which develops heated spots following spring thaws or rain. At this time of the year there is always the danger that, because of leaky roofs or faulty walls, some of the farm-stored grain may become wet. Since it takes only a few kernels of heated or bin-burnt grain to cause a loss in grade, an examination of the bin for possible trouble spots may prevent the situation arising whereby a car of heated grain becomes mixed with good dry grain as it is loaded out.

This is the reason, too, when small lots of grain that have been treated for seed with mercurial or other fungicides may find their way into grain that is delivered at the elevator. Here again, every year a certain number of cars of grain are condemned by the Grain Inspection Department as unfit for human consumption because of the presence of mercurial treated grain. Every precaution, therefore, should be taken to see that this does not happen and that wagons and other receptacles used in the handling of treated seed are thoroughly cleaned.

V.S.A. Little Royal To Be Held Next Wednesday, March 28

The annual "Little Royal" and Achievement Day will be held at the School of Agriculture next Wednesday, March 28th.

This popular event provides an opportunity for the general public as well as for parents of students and for prospective students to inspect the School premises and to see the displays of subject matter and projects prepared during the current term.

The Home Economics displays will feature Cooking, Sewing, and Handicrafts work of the girls. These will be shown in the various classrooms and laboratories in the College building. Students and staff members will be on hand to assist visitors interested in learning details related to the displays and to explain procedures employed in various projects.

The livestock, trained and dressed by student exhibitors, will be shown in the Mechanics Building where the Carpentry and Farm Mechanics work will also be on display. One of the exhibits in this building which always attracts considerable attention is the "Baby Chick Project" in the course of which the students have looked after some 200 chicks from early in February when they were just one day old. Other projects include construction of buildings, engine repair and machinery studies.

Horticulture, Field Husbandry, Metalwork, Home Management, Home Nursing and other subjects will provide a wealth of material for inspection by visitors interested in both the Agriculture and the Home Economics Courses.

In recent years more than 1000 visitors have attended each "Little Royal" and it is hoped that the condition of rural roads will permit an equal number to be present next Wednesday. Because of the road conditions at the school, plans are being made for cars to be parked down town and for a bus service to operate continuously between the V. S. A. and the Brunswick Hotel corner.

The final event of the current term will be the Graduation and Closing Exercises on Thursday, April 5th, at which time Major Wm. F. Ross, Divisional Commander of the Salvation Army in Edmonton will deliver the principal address.

VIMY SMOKER SATURDAY, APRIL 7

On Saturday, April 7th the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion is holding its annual Vimy Smoker to which all returned men in the district are invited to attend and to bring their wives. Ladies' Auxiliary members may bring husbands or escorts. The Vimy banquet will be held on Monday, April 9th.

Both these events are to be held in the Legion hall and will get underway at 6:30 p.m. Catering for the banquet will be the Anglican W.A. and tickets may be obtained from Vic Tillett, Thos. Wilson, E.H. Buckingham or any member of the executive and the deadline for the purchase of these tickets is Thursday April 5th.

Don't forget the dance to be held in the armories on April 9th for which music will be provided by Young's orchestra of Islay.

Again we invite every returned man and women in Vermilion and district to all these events and hope to see you there at these annual affairs.

The Canadian Red Cross is active in more than 1,300 communities in Canada.

Keith Barr Wins At Calgary Show

A year-old Shorthorn calf owned and exhibited by Keith Barr of Vermilion, won first place in the Shorthorn class and then went on to be adjudged the Reserve Junior Champion of the Calgary Spring Livestock show and sale. Competition was very keen and the achievement is a notable one.

Keith is the 12-year-old son of Mr and Mrs. Manson Barr. This is the third straight year that he has triumphed at spring livestock shows at Calgary and Edmonton. Keith and brother Boo both attended the Calgary show and sale.

Keith's calf was sold but he has a Hereford calf ready for the Edmonton spring show next week.

Agricultural Society To Hold Annual Dinner

The Vermilion Agricultural Society, preparing to open another active season of agricultural extension work will hold its annual dinner on the evening of Monday, April 16th. The members of the Rebecca Order will serve a turkey dinner and an interesting program has been arranged. Members of the public are cordially invited to meet with the directors of the society on this occasion and it is essential that tickets be sold in advance of the date of the dinner in order that the caterers may be appraised as to numbers to be served.

Due to seating accommodation there may be a necessity to limit the number of tickets available and all interested are invited to contact the office of the secretary manager of the Society and to make reservations of tickets as far in advance of the date as possible. Please note that reservations can in no case be accepted after Friday, April 13.

For several years past this annual event has proven extremely popular, excellent speakers have been available and all who attend are assured of a worthwhile evening.

Tickets will be on sale from Saturday March 24th at a cost of $1.50 each and ladies are welcome as well as the men of the community. Tickets will be available from S. C. Heckbert, Secretary Manager and please bear in mind that the sale of tickets must necessarily be closed on April 13th.

Pre-Easter Services Start On Monday

The Vermilion Ministerial Association will hold its annual series of pre-Easter services this coming week, Monday, 26th through Thursday, 29th, at 8:00 p.m. See the advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Standard for respective places and speakers.

The pre-Easter series, and Week of Prayer series conducted annually by this organization, are serving a good purpose in strengthening the bond of fellowship between the various Protestant churches of this area, and are worthy of the continued support of the public. Increasing numbers have attended the services in the past and it is hoped that this series will be no exception.

The Christian message is essentially that of a crucified and risen Lord, Who is alone indispensable to the temporal and eternal salvation of all mankind. Christ is the answer to problems and perplexities of our day. It is this message which the local ministers will have the pleasure of presenting in the forthcoming services.

Collapses and Dies While Out For Sunday Walk

One month after the opening of V. S. A. for the 55-56 term the College Senior Hockey Team was organized.

Thereafter "the boys" under the direction of Captain Marvin Nanninga shot, skated and body checked in daily practices until they felt capable of taking on visiting teams.

The College team defeated Beaverdale on two occasions early in the season.

V. S. A. also played Dewberry twice. They tied one game and won the second by a score of 5-1.

Early in February V. S. A. made a trip to Irma, there to be defeated by a fast moving club. V. S. A., however, did not stay down for the "eight count", but retaliated by defeating Irma at Vermilion the following week by a score of 7-4.

A team from Mannville tried to put a stop to the V. S. A. winnings but were unsuccessful when they were defeated by a score of 9-2.

The College joined the Lloydminster and District Hockey Tournament at Lloydminster. There they played four hard fought games winning three, and losing the final to Cutknife by a score of [illegible]. The defeated teams were Fort Pitt 4-2, Neilburg 4-3, and Marwayne [illegible].

The first of these resolutions was moved by Henry Haan and will be forwarded to the municipal council of Vermilion River and to the Provincial Government.

"Whereas gullies have developed [illegible] in the municipality [illegible] very little [illegible] whereas the [illegible] are crossed by [illegible] grading, and whereas the farms are [illegible] the [illegible] eventually the [illegible] be owned by the Municipality as the owners are unable to pay the taxes.

"Now therefore be it resolved that assistance [illegible] be set up whereby the Municipality will provide [illegible] equipment at least for the levelling of the gullies. The farmer to pay one-third and the municipality two-thirds of the cost. That grass seed for seeding down gullies after levelling be provided on the same share basis and that the Provincial Government be requested to share equally with the municipality in any expenditures incurred in this program."

The resolution with regard to the TB free area was made by Jas. C. [illegible] and will be sent to the Federal Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. J. G. Gardiner.

"Whereas the farmers of municipal district of Vermilion River No. 71 have been signed up for a "TB Free Area" for six years and testing of cattle has not yet commenced, therefore this municipality requests the Minister of Agriculture of the Government of Canada to consider having this program started at the latest by June 1st 1956."

BATTLE AGAINST RATS

It was moved by J. C. Wallington that as it is agreed that as one man is unable to cope with rat control in the municipality that the provincial government be requested to give serious consideration to the placing of an additional pest control officer in the M.D. at no cost to the district as the burden of rat control should be more evenly distributed throughout the whole province.

Numerous other resolutions dealt with Tartary Buckwheat in seed, warble fly control and tree plant [illegible] program.

SNOW PLOWING

The Standard agrees with the sentiments expressed in the "Letters to the Editor" column this week praising the work of the snow plow operators of the Vermilion River Municipal District. The M. D. plow stationed here has 200 miles of road to open and to keep open, and many expressions of appreciation have been heard in this office for the work the operator has achieved. The same can be said of the provincial highways snow plowing crew, as no time has been lost in clearing the main arteries and keeping the traffic rolling.

According to weather statistics in Edmonton there has been a heavier snowfall than any winter since records have been kept. It has in addition been a windy year, with at least three main blizzards. Despite all this, main highway traffic, school bus traffic and the larger percentage of farm traffic has been able to move within a short time after a storm, snowfall or blow. The comparatively short periods between actually breaking open roads have been spent widening the road and improving travelling conditions. In such a winter as we have experienced, some in the byways are bound to be snowed in, but the Standard is of the opinion that everything possible has been done and that the snow plow operators have every right to be proud of the service they have rendered.

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE. This consoling thought has been a source of satisfaction in scores of countries about the world. It has ceased to console only when it has become clearly evident that it is untrue.

But of course Canada is different. We all realize that and we still remain confident that what has happened elsewhere is not a pattern of what might happen here. Those who favor the Communist line, however, are not as easily convinced as we. They keep on boring in, using well-meaning citizens to undermine our own favored way of life.

We know of one or two organizations, like the Labor-Progressive party, that quite frankly and openly favor the communist party line. What we may not know is that there are at least twenty-four flourishing organizations, some with junior branches, that are similarly minded and directed. They appear as social, literary, musical or sports groups, but that is only the front for other activities. And there are at least twenty publications that are similarly directed. Let us not be too sure that we are immune from infections that have destroyed equally independent peoples.

Birthday Party At Red Cross Hospital

Four tall red candles burned very brightly on a huge birthday cake when nurses, doctors and children of the Alberta Red Cross Children's Hospital celebrated its anniversary recently. It was four years ago that the gleaming new hospital was opened. Eighty pop-eyed youngsters officiated at the cutting of the cake. Looking back over the impressive four years of operation, the directors reported 1,125 crippled boys and girls have been treated at the Calgary landmark, the hospital on the hill.

Red Cross Film At Mannville Home & School Meeting

The regular meeting of the Mannville and District home and school on Thursday last was opened with a film on Red Cross work after which Mr. J. Leitch of Vegreville gave a talk on the activities of the Red Cross.

After the regular business meeting an impromptu and unrehearsed play was presented by several of the group. It was supposed to present the various methods of bringing up children and the mothers' viewpoint and those of the fathers' and young people themselves as well. A discussion on the right and wrong methods followed the play.

Under the direction of Mr. Robin Stuart the high school chorus presented three numbers, one unaccompanied, which were all very well received by the audience.

Tankerton-Scotstown bus route members were in charge of lunch for the evening.

Kitscoty High School Notes

The spotlight is focused on curling as K. H. S. hurlers try their hand at the popular sport. The Invitational Mixed Bonspiel held here on March 10 saw curlers from Rivercourse, McLaughlin, Paradise Valley, Vermilion, Marwayne, Dewberry, Islay and Kitscoty competing for prizes.

Gordon Wild's foursome from Rivercourse took the Grand Challenge, while rinks skipped by Gerry Marshall, Vermilion, Lloyd Johnson, Marwayne, and Dale Mitchell, Kitscoty placed second, third, fourth, respectively in that event. In the Consolation Event, Russell Shaw's Marwayne rink placed first, followed by Hessam, Vermilion, Don Martin, Islay and Art Harley, Kitscoty.

Playing for Dale Mitchell were Jean Cunningham, third, Greg Davies, second, and Kay Marsh, lead. Art Harley was supported by Carol Richardson, third, Bill Mason, second, and Betty Martin, lead.

Also in the curling news, three mixed rinks represented Kitscoty at the Marwayne High School bonspiel that ended last week. Russell Peake, and his rink consisting of Olive Nelson, Ken Ray and Kay Maron, captured the top prize in the Second Event, while Jim McGuigan, along with Olga Ulan, Bruce Hansen and Margaret Campbell took first in the Third Event. Keep up the good work, kids!

Junior High School Activities

It appears that spring has finally come as some of the grade 6 pupils have reported seeing robins and gophers.

The grade 6 class is very enthusiastic about a round robin competition in mathematics. This should give them a lot of pleasure and some help in their math.

Volleyball is the main activity in the Physical Education classes of late. Every grade has its own teams and competition is keen. The grade 7 classes are busily making plans for a volleyball tournament.

The league standing in grade 9 girls' volleyball is as follows:

Pupils Win Prizes For Scrapbooks On Cancer; Annual Competition

The Cancer Society of Alberta has organized an annual competition among children, asking that they submit scrapbooks giving information and showing pictures and clippings on the subject of cancer. The winners of the competition in the Vermilion district each receive a prize from the Cancer Society, and an added cash award donated by the Alberta Registered Nurses' Association, Vermilion branch. The awards are to the value of $5 for first prize, $3 for second and $2 for third.

The scrapbooks submitted were well planned and had a wealth of valuable information displayed in clippings and pictures as well as in essay form. The winning books will be sent to Calgary to be entered in the finals of the provincial competition. Congratulations go to the winners of this district; may success in the Calgary contest further reward their efforts.

1st, Phyllis Lippert, age 11, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lippert, pupil of Mrs. Alice Cambridge; 2, Joyce McCrae, age 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan McCrae, pupil of Mrs. Mildred Klashinsky; 3, [illegible] Katherine Chrisp, age 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chrisp, a pupil of Mrs. Mildred Klashinsky; Connie Rasan, age 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rasan, pupil of Mrs. Mildred Klashinsky; David Zubiak, age 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Zubiak, pupil of Mrs. Mildred Klashinsky.

Winner for Grade 5 is Linda-Lee Brix, age 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harding Brix, pupil of Mr. Fred Stewart.

It is worthy of note and congratulation that four of the winners are pupils of Mrs. Klashinsky. Congratulations are also in order to David Zubiak, the only boy winning a prize.

Cheques will be presented at school to the winners by Mrs. Hilda Cross on behalf of the local Cancer Society. It is hoped that there will be even more entries in next year's contest. Perhaps the parents will become interested in helping their children to gather information and material for their scrapbooks and so spread the knowledge of what must be done to help combat the dreaded disease, cancer.

More Varsity Grads. Are Needed

"Are Industrial Resources Enough?" was the question asked by Dean W. J. Waines of the University of Manitoba in his address to the Canadian Club on Thursday evening, March 15, at the Junior High school.

Dean Waines started to answer his rhetorical question by explaining to the club members that there has been a tremendous economic growth of Canadian output in the years since World War 2. The biggest year economically speaking in Canada's history was 1955, and it has been forecast that there will be an increase of 21% for 1956.

In all this increased economic activity the main limiting factor will be the lack of skilled or trained manpower.

It is estimated that Russia is considerably ahead of both Canada and the United States in the production of "trained talent". Technology is vital in our preparations for defence in the development of military matters. This technical progress means that we have to depend more and more on trained talent.

There are a few in the top echelon who are the creative minds producing new ideas. Then beneath them are the highly trained and intellectual people involved in research, experimenting and testing, and these are needed in larger numbers. Assistants to this second group are those who operate, maintain, help out and assist.

Working through and around these top people are the policy makers in matters pertaining to the military, social, economic and political life of the country. There are also administrators who provide the organization with which to carry out the policies.

All of these people must have ability or talent, but more than that, they must be trained to make use of their capabilities. It is very important to have training to use the technical advances we have made, and to devise better technical devices.

Dean Waines quoted some figures on a comparative basis to show that Canada is desperately in need of university graduates at the present time, although the universities have steadily increased in size through the last few years. Then he gave figures based on population projections which showed that it is estimated that in 1956 there will be 13,000 university graduates but there will be a need for 20,000. In 1965 Canada will have 22,000 university graduates, but the need will have risen more than proportionately, to 40,000. At that time Canada will be far short of trained talent both in the national economy and in the militia.

This need is a national problem, and one that cannot be resolved by financial help alone. It is a matter of encouraging young people to go on with their education and to train and make use of the talent they possess.

Dean Waines said that he is convinced that there is an adequate supply of ability in Canada, but not enough of the capable people have received sufficient training.

One solution that the speaker advanced was the more extensive use of technical schools, after the completion of a full high school training. These graduates could become technicians much quicker than if they attended a university, and leave the university facilities for the training of professional talent.

Young people should be encouraged to go to the university. They should be given the opportunity to learn of the advantages of higher education, both to themselves and to the nation.

Many Public Services Rendered by Health Unit

The Minburn-Vermilion Health Unit was "at home" to many visitors this week during the evenings from Monday to Thursday inclusive. The purpose of the gatherings at the health unit centre in Vermilion was to acquaint the public with the services rendered by such units.

There are several Health Units in Alberta, and they are operated under the direction of the Department of Health of the province. They are formed where there is sufficient density of population to warrant such a service, and are established for the purpose of implementing a policy of preventative medicine and to maintain a good standard of sanitation.

Minburn-Vermilion Health Unit has a staff of seven qualified personnel: Dr. Brian Russell, Medical Officer of Health; Miss Doris Salisbury, senior nurse; Miss Dorothy Bailey, nurse, who serves the district to the east of Vermilion; Miss Kay Stewart, nurse, who works in the area west of Vermilion; Miss Lillian Tweedy, nurse in charge of the sub-office at Wainwright; Bill Boulton, Sanitary Inspector for the whole area; Miss Sophie Pawluk, stenographer-technician at the Vermilion office.

The Health Unit here serves a large district, from the Saskatchewan river in the north to a few miles south of Wainwright; from Lloydminster in the east to Ranfurly on the west.

Each evening this week Miss Salisbury has addressed those attending the Health Unit meeting, telling them of the services available to the public through the Unit. She explained how the Units were formed and why, and what use can be made of them. She stressed the fact that they belong to the people, and co-operation on the part of the public will greatly increase the use that may be made of their facilities.

Films were shown each evening, one showing the formation of a Health Unit in a rural area, another about the work of a Public Health nurse. There were two films devoted to health education, one concerning child psychology, and the other on marriage guidance.

Following the showing of the films the visitors were encouraged to tour the Health Unit building, and to accept any of the displayed pamphlets and literature that interested them.

Ducks Unlimited is progressing with a program of pothole development in the prairie breeding range. It has become increasingly clear in recent years that pothole terrain is invaluable to waterfowl and that improvement of such areas is important to future well-being of the continental waterfowl population.

Vermilion Mixed Chorus Scores Success With Concert Presentation

On Sunday evening, March 18th, the Mixed Chorus presented a concert in the Columbia theatre to an audience which, while being appreciative of the efforts which the chorus made to please, was much smaller than is usual on these occasions. The turnout was undoubtedly affected by road conditions due to the thaw.

A prompt start was made with the singing of "O Canada" after which the chorus opened the program by singing the well known Welsh Folk Song, "The Ash Grove"; Tom Watts, in his best form, then sang "Father O'Flynn", and was recalled to give a second song, "Mother Machree" which he sang with feeling. There is no doubt that Mr. Watts is well known for the pleasure he has given to many audiences here in town and all look forward to hearing him sing.

Brahms' beautiful "In Silent Night" sung by the chorus, followed, after which "Sleep, Baby, Sleep" by the same composer, was well presented by a male quartette comprised of Alois Karl, Tom Watts, Gerald Stephens and Bill Fooks, a reminiscent flashback to days when the chorus was male instead of mixed. The chorus then presented a very spirited rendering of the Negro Spiritual "Little David", a lively number in a syncopated arrangement made by Sir Malcolm Sargent.

The second soloist of the evening was Mrs. K. A. Minchin. This was the first occasion upon which Mrs. Minchin had sung a solo in one of these concerts in town. She sang "Where E'er You Walk" by Handel, and made her Vermilion debut in a charming and accomplished manner. Called for an encore, she then sang "The Little Irish Girl".

The first half of the program ended with "Allah's Holiday" from Katinka by Rudolph Friml, a lilting number which was very well presented by the chorus.

Opening the second half the chorus sang "The Song of the Pedlar" with great verve. Alois Karl, a newcomer to town, then made his Vermilion debut giving very great pleasure with his singing of "The Rose of Tralee", and it was unfortunate that the audience did not hear more of his fine tenor voice on the occasion.

The chorus next presented an English folk song, "Early One Morning". This song, arranged by T. F. Dunhill, tells the sad story of a slighted maiden in a particularly charming manner, and the chorus made the most of it. A duet, "When Day is Done" followed and was very sweetly sung by Mrs. B. Shalka and Mrs. Ken Evans. Mrs. Evans is probably better known to chorus audiences as Miss Betty Gray. The male quartette returned to the forefront and pretended to be four little lambs as they sang the ever-popular "Whiffenpoof Song". Although, in the song the lambs, we are told, had gone astray, the quartette did not.

After the chorus had sung "Just A-Wearyin'," in an arrangement by Carrie Jacobs-Bond, a double quartette was presented to the audience. At least, the intention was that it would be a male octet. Unfortunately one member was unable to be present and so the remaining seven men sang the very popular "Bells of St. Mary's". Then followed the inspiring "Prayer for Peace", adapted from "Finlandia" and composed by J. Sibelius, which offering very fittingly brought the concert to a close.

The chorus sang well throughout. Attack and enunciation both were good. Although the intonation could have been better in one or two of the songs, the whole effect was most pleasing and the members of the chorus can feel that the hard work which they put into rehearsals has been well worthwhile. Much credit is due to Jack Brown who has so patiently directed and prepared the chorus. No concert can be a success without good accompaniment, and, once again, this arduous role was excellently filled by Dr. C. W. Stephens.

Grateful thanks are also due to Mr. Nick Kowalchuk for so kindly donating the use of the theatre and helping to prepare it for the concert, and to Mr. Conboy for his help in that chore, and to the Vermilion Standard for their ever-willing co-operation in the matter of publicity.

Mannville Student Wins Prize in Essay Contest

MANNVILLE. — A distinctive honor was conferred on Lorraine Trynchuk of Grade 8 at Mannville school this week with the arrival of a letter from the Royal Empire Society of Montreal informing her that she had won first prize to the amount of $20 in an essay competition sponsored by the above society for students in all of the Commonwealth countries.

Her essay will now go to London to be judged with those of the winners from each of the other Commonwealth countries. The topic was "Describe a farm in any part of the Empire other than your own". Lorraine chose to write about India.

Below is a copy of the letter received by Lorraine, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trynchuk:

The Royal Empire Society
Patrons
Her Majesty The Queen
H.M. Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother
Montreal Branch,
1405 Bishop Street,
March 10, 1956

Dear Lorraine:

It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the judges in the essay competition of the Royal Empire Society, Montreal Branch, have awarded you first prize in Class C.

The first prize essays in each class have been forwarded to headquarters of the Society in London to compete with essays from all over the Commonwealth. In other words, having won Canadian prizes the winners will then proceed to compete with similar entries from other countries in the Commonwealth.

It is encouraging to report that this year's competition was bigger than ever and resulted in 660 essays being written as compared with 366 last year, which was itself a record. The essays came from Newfoundland to British Columbia from students in the big city schools both public and private and most gratifying of all from small schools in remote places where facilities for research are meagre in the extreme.

We congratulate you on winning, but win or lose, we are sure that all competitors will gain by the application of constructive effort.

Your prize will be presented at the annual Empire Day celebrations to be held in the Ritz-Carlton hotel on May 23rd, of which details will be sent to you. Prizes will be mailed to students who are unable to attend.

Yours sincerely,
P. L. Hall,
Hon.-Secretary.

Much credit is due Lorraine for winning this honor for herself and for the Mannville school and credit should also be given to her teacher, Mrs. M. Morrison, who encouraged her in this effort. The very best of luck is wished Lorraine when the essays are judged in London.

Niggardly to Church

It is a sad commentary that while church costs have risen as rapidly as all others, church giving has continued in the horse and buggy tradition with many sincere and devout people quite convinced that they are doing something magnificent when they put 25 cents in a church envelope or place a ten cent piece on the offering plate. While a dollar given to the church may be for a more useful purpose than a dollar paid to see a wrestling match, it actually has no more buying power and can not do more than any other dollar.

—Kincardine News.

High on the list of important surveys of North American waterfowl is the pioneer investigation launched in the mid-thirties by More Game Birds. Conducted in western Canada, it established the importance of the western prairie region as the continent's major breeding ground and resulted in formation of Ducks Unlimited. Eloquent proof of long-term benefits to waterfowl is represented in the 400-odd D.U. projects now functioning in the prairie region.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT
by
W. G. MALAHER,
Director,
Research Department,
[illegible] GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

STABILITY IN WORLD WHEAT YIELD

Acutely aware as we are of the variability in wheat yield in any one country such as our own, or even perhaps on the North American Continent, it is very easy to overlook the fact that, year in and year out, the average world yield per acre hardly varies at all. In other words, there is no such thing as a bad world wheat crop, because a small yield in one country or part of the world is always compensated by a large yield in another country or in another region. As a consequence the total volume of wheat raised depends almost entirely upon the total acreage seeded.

Thus while in the case of Western Canada wheat yields on some [illegible] from practically nothing to any 35 bushels per acre and while there has been an annual variation in prairie yields ranging from 6.1 to 26.1 bushels per acre, a Stanford University study of world wheat yields between 1885 and 1938 shows that [illegible] 1.5 bushels between the lowest average of 13.4 bushels per acre [illegible] [illegible]

But there is another consideration, of course, and that is the geographic distribution of the world wheat crop which may be, and often is, significant from the standpoint of world wheat markets and trade.

Mrs. J. Simonet who has been visiting at Belle Plaine, Minnesota for the winter months is now on her way home to Vermilion.

Shirley Taylor Bride In Double Ring Ceremony

At a candlelight ceremony, Miss Shirley Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Mr. Don Taylor, Vermilion and the late Mrs. Taylor, and Miles Milner Dixon, son of Mrs. Pauline Dixon, Vermilion, pledged marriage vows in St. Saviour's Anglican church on February 28th.

Baskets of carnations, stocks and tulips stood before the altar for the double-ring ceremony, conducted by Rev. K. A. Minchin. Mr. William Elford played the wedding music.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white lace over satin with high neckline and full length sleeves. Her lace head-piece was edged with pearl sequins and her tulle and lace veil was finger-tip length. Her jewellery was a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, and she carried a marabou muff trimmed with red roses.

Bridesmaids, Miss Edith Brown and Miss Diane Taylor, sister of the bride, wore floor length dresses in shades of blue. Their head-pieces were of blue marabou, and they carried matching muffs with roses.

Murray Millar was best man, and the ushers were Robert Taylor, Don Taylor Jr. and Bill Dixon.

A reception followed in the Parish hall. The bridegroom's mother received wearing a silver grey dress and a black hat. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. Mead and Mrs. Burns poured tea.

The bride's table was centred with a triple-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mr. Cliff Reid proposed the toast to the bride which was ably responded to by the groom.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. Kipp, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGahn, all of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marley, Mrs. F. McGhan and Mr. A. Marler of Bremner; Mrs. A. Morgan, Lloydminster; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Reid and son Jim, of Bonnyville.

The newlyweds will make their home at Hinton, Alberta.

Bride-to-be, Berna Seuffert, Feted By Friends

Miss Berna Seuffert has been the guest of honor on several occasions recently when her friends have gathered to shower her with gifts. Berna is engaged to be married to John Bubel of Edmonton, on March 31.

EDMONTON SHOWER

Mrs. Philip Kitt was the hostess at a miscellaneous shower for Berna in Edmonton on Friday, March 2nd. There were 35 guests present to do honor to the bride-to-be.

PANTRY SHOWER

There were eighteen present at a pantry shower for Berna at the home of Miss Shirley McCormick on March 7th. Mrs. Joyce Scott and Miss Lil Harvuther were co-hostesses. The guests arrived at about 7:00 p.m. at which time a supper of Chinese food was served. The guests were entertained with a program of musical selections and later in the evening an unusual grocery delivery was made. A gigantic box brought in was discovered to be full of gifts, useful and decorative for Berna's new kitchen.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. M. Simonsen and Mrs. Bill Cross were co-hostesses at a party given in honor of Berna on Friday, March 16th, at Mrs. Simonsen's home. The guests were asked to decorate Easter hats, and the results were highly amusing. Alice Seuffert and Alice Simonsen carried in a large clothes basket decorated in pink and white which was full of beautiful and useful gifts for the bride-to-be.

Shower Honors Former Betty Gray

In honor of Mrs. Betty Evans (nee Gray) a miscellaneous shower was held recently, attended by Grade 2 mothers and Primary school teachers.

Contests kept the ladies thinking hard for part of the evening, with the winners being the guest of honor, Mrs. Geo. Richardson and Mrs. Ted Herbert.

Upon opening her Grade 2 reader, "Friends and Neighbors" Betty found many beautiful and useful gifts, for which she very nicely thanked everyone present.

The evening was brought to a close with lunch served by the hostesses, Mrs. Reg Mitchell, Mrs. C. Heckbert and Mrs. Lawrence Webb.

Boyd May, who has been working at Leduc, now plans to live in Edmonton. He has recently held a clearing off sale at his farm south of town. Before leaving for the city, Boyd dropped in to the Standard office and paid his subscription until 1961. Boyd says he grew up with the Standard and isn't going to risk being without it now.

Pleasant Valley

It's very pleasant today, the sun is shining, the snow is melting fast. We can't complain anymore and it will be just like one long dream a month from now. With the bursting of spring, flowers will soon be in bloom and the song of the birds will fill the air.

Just relax for a moment and sit down and look over the new seed catalogs, it does one good this time of the year.

Mrs. Fyfe and Mrs. Young are off to the coast to see spring in all its splendor there. Be sure to visit the Dutch Gardens at Victoria with all the lovely bulbs in bloom nurtured under the sky-reaching pines.

Fields are getting quite soft and muddy. It is very difficult getting on to the roads these days.

Hope you got home safe from town, Mrs. Moore.

Not much visiting anywhere these days, the men are kept busy looking after the stock. It's a good time to do a little housecleaning and to move things around a bit — how the men like that! They come in to sit in their favorite chair only to find it has been moved into another corner. It's nice to get some cleaning done before one gets busy with chickens and gardening.

A very kind lady gave yours truly a lovely trailing violet the other day. It's a very pretty blue, the flowers hang downward and the leaves are upright. There are a lot of plant slips that readers may have it will soon be time to get some started.

Look over your glads and dahlias about now, take off any decayed parts and be sure to order a few more new colors. I noticed there are perfumed glads advertised.

Most of the Students' Union activities have been snowed under. We were unable to put on the three one act plays as planned, due to the weather.

The Dewberry high school has a very good hockey team this year, managed by Mr. Smith and coached by Mr. N. Jones. Jimmy Jones is the captain. The boys have been playing teams from different towns and have been very successful.

Seven rinks have been curling after school on Monday nights. The beginners are doing very well, also those who are making their first attempt at skipping.

Three rinks skipped by Allan Lumley, Meredith Whiteside and Jack Young represented Dewberry in the Marwayne bonspiel held on March 2-3. Mr. Smith accompanied them but because of a blizzard the bonspiel could not be finished.

A very successful high school curling bonspiel was held on Feb. 17 & 18. One team from Vermilion and three from Marwayne attended. All those students who helped in the booth are to be commended on a job well done. The Students' Union also wishes to thank all those people who helped to make our bonspiel a success.

The results of the bonspiel were as follows:

Grand Challenge— 1st, Lorne Timanson; 2nd, Jimmy Jones; 3rd, Russell Shaw; 4th, Floyd Sweet.

Second Event— 1st, Brent Long; 2nd, Gerald Holmen; 3rd, Larry Grant; 4th, Dale Craige.

Third Event— 1st, Ronald Bodnar; 2nd, Allan Lumley; 3rd, Glenn Ewen; 4th, Meredith Whiteside.

A rink consisting of Jack Young, Joan Parr, Floyd Wood, Betty Timanson and accompanied by Mrs. Woollet attended the Kitscoty high school bonspiel on March 10. They played two good games and spent a very enjoyable day. Thanks to Mrs. Woollett and also to Mr. Joe Philibin, who drove the students down.

Right now the high school students are busy studying for Easter exams, which started this week.

Recent figures show that movies have been shown at 489 schools and have been viewed by 174,316 children across Canada. Looking on is B. L. McCarthy, assistant superintendent of Saint John, N. Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Cars are like people. When their innards are in good shape, they hum along. But when something ails them they may whine, [illegible] or just [illegible] give up the ghost.

Your car engine, when percolating properly, has a smooth rhythm of its own and any [illegible] sound may mean trouble [illegible].

A "missing" cylinder may mean a bad spark plug or ignition trouble; a heavy click-clicking usually indicates valve or tappet trouble; and grinding or growling usually means serious trouble in the transmission or rear axle.

I hope this advice doesn't lead to car-hypochondria. Most older cars have small squeaks and rattles that have nothing to do with the efficiency of the car's motor. But if you have any doubts as to the source of a new noise remember that an early trip to a service station can prevent costly repair bills later on.

Since the end of World War 2 the Canadian textile industry has bought about $460 million worth of new machinery and equipment.

Variety of Matters Discussed At Board of Trade Luncheon Meeting

Wednesday last week witnessed an overflow meeting of the Board of Trade with 31 members present. Guests were Mr. Fred Pardee of Edmonton, an official of Northwest Utilities, introduced by Mr. Leo McKernan and Mr. Gerry Long of Camrose, introduced by Dr. Ben King.

Mr. Paul Godt, Chairman of the ways and means committee, reported on the effort of his committee to 'get out the vote' on the day of the civic election. He thanked the members of his committee for their efforts, and Mr. Mel Warren for the use of his office building, and Mr. Mitchell Taylor for the help he gave.

The President Mr. Boake extended to Mr. Al Locke the congratulations of the members of the Board on his re-election as a member of the Council of the Town of Vermilion.

A letter from the local Cancer committe was read. The President stated the executive would appoint a representative of the Board to attend the meeting in the Legion hall on Friday, March 9 at 8 p.m.

SPEAKS ON IRON REMOVAL

Mr. Keith Chalmers was asked by the chairman if he would give a report on what the town council was doing with regard to the softening of the water in the Vermilion waterworks. Mr. Chalmers reported that he and some members of the council had inspected the system of iron removal in North Battleford, which city had the same problem as Vermilion. Mr. Chalmers stated it would appear we would first have to have the iron removed, even if we have a water softener. He said that he felt the iron removal plant was all that might be necessary. He also stated that the forthcoming plebiscite would include the enlargement of the sewer system in the town.

A rumor that the salt plant was again talking of moving here was reported and the matter was referred to Mr. McPherson, Chairman of the Industrial committee, for investigation.

Mr. Ashley Cooper read the Board's calendar of coming events.

The President and every member of the executive was present at this meeting. This was possibly the first executive meeting for many years that every member of the executive was in attendance.

The executive discussed the question of membership fees and agreed that the classification of membership be left as last year.

Mr. Ron Williams, chairman of the Retail section, reported that the manager of the Retail Merchants' Association would attend a weekly luncheon meeting, as guest of the Board, at any appropriate date arranged for. This matter was left in the hands of Mr. Williams to arrange.

ECONOMIC SURVEY

Mr McPherson reported that the economic survey was near completion and the chairman suggested that Mr. McPherson and the president, or some other executive member of the Board, take the survey to Edmonton when it was completed.

HIGHWAY 41

The chairman suggested to Mr. McCormick, chairman of the Roads committee, that his committee press for a committment from the government regarding the continuation of highway 41 south.

EVENING BANQUET

The matter of holding a large evening banquet at some future date to which outside representatives from various Boards of Trade would be invited, was discussed. It was left in the hands of the Entertainment committee to arrange for a guest speaker, when the matter would again be brought up for discussion and a definite date arranged for.

Save Your Bottles For The Kinsmen

Vermilion Kinsmen will canvass the town for beverage bottles on Wednesday, April 4th and during that afternoon will pick up all those bottles which have been in your way all winter. Householders can put them out in a convenient spot or the Kinsmen will carry them out of basement or garage if desired. Traffic Safety Lane

– By –
MR. J. W. McKAY, Director of Safety Education, Department of Highways.

THE AUTOMOBILE DRIVER.

The automobile of today is a powerful piece of equipment. From the first day of its invention, experts have worked hard and spent a lot of money designing and re-designing in order that this machine may give its owner the utmost in comfort, safety and economy. To-day, manufacturers go to no end to develop and produce a better automobile as each year comes and goes. Sales competitions, of course, are the main reason for this race in designing but too, the buyer is kept in mind also and he is the one who benefits.

Highway building is another project that demands a lot of engineering and designing. Motorists demand the best in highways. The automobile of to-day demands the best in highway building. So we have the automobile manufacturer and the highway builder busy day in and day out, year in and year out, planning, designing and building to meet the demands of the driver.

But what about the driver? How much time is spent on him to educate and train in order that he may keep up with the times? You can answer this question. I am sure we all agree that very little time is spent to produce drivers who are apace with the cars and highways. The result of this neglect is that we have drivers to-day who are incapable of handling the automobile of to-day. There is too much power, too much speed. Is this the fault of the manufacturer?

The ability of the car driver falls into three parts: 1. Physical. 2. Knowledge. 3. Attitude.

A driver's physical ability bears 19% of the weight of driving ability, knowledge bears 32% of the weight and attitude bears 49%.

In the next few issues, I want to deal with the three, and show you just how much is involved in the ability of a driver.

Manufactures accounted for 55% of the net value of Canadian commodity production in 1953. Construction was next at 16.9% and agriculture was third at 15.4%.

Addition To The Royal York Hotel

This architect's drawing shows how the Royal York Hotel in Toronto will look when the new $10,000,000, 400-room, air-conditioned addition east of the present structure is completed by late 1958. In announcing the new wing, Mr. Crump, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway said excavation was expected to start next November. It will increase total room capacity to 1600, and the addition of several banquet rooms, one with capacity for 3000 will enable Toronto to maintain its position as Canada's leading convention city. The addition to the famed hotel is shown on the right of the drawing.

WOODVALE NOTES

With spring arriving this Tuesday morning at 8:21 with a flourish of wind and wet snow, we feel we should wind up our winter news. The big snowstorm that blocked our roads more solid than at any time before, with hard, high banks, seems to belong to another time of year already, now that we have had a taste of spring sunshine and thaw; but just the same its after-effects are still with us. It took six days to bulldoze the main roads open and many schoolbus roads are still impassable! But signs of spring are more and more noticeable just the same. The flowering plants that drooped through the sunless months are full of buds, ready to bloom; the sparrows are hopefully carrying feathers and straws to rebuild their nests under the eaves, looking contentedly at their work, side by side on the telephone wire; gophers on higher ground are seen sunning themselves; little chicks have arrived on many farms as have an odd early spring calf and lamb, lying on a dry spot and thoughtfully chewing their first blade of hay, watched over by their mothers.

But hauling feed all winter for the livestock has been, and still is, a hard job; and where shaving has been more of a torment than is usual after the long, cold hours on the trail, beards have flourished these past months. There were some real beauties noticed — red and black Van Dyke types, sailor type, [illegible] and woolly, and the frail Chinese variety with wisps all over the face. They will all disappear like the snow in the warm sunshiny days to come. Our readers must be convinced by now that we have not too much news. And they are right!

PATIENTS RETURN HOME

We are glad to know that Johnny Watson is home after a week in the Islay hospital, and that Mrs. Therese Goutier is also home after a short stay in the Vermilion hospital. Hope they will soon be well and strong again after a rest at home.

Tommy Lysons has had his appendix removed, about a month ago, and has been home since, helping once in a while at the store when Art is curling.

Mr. C. Friedland and grandson Hughie Potter, paid a visit to Vermilion and his friends in the Woodvale district. He is looking well. They were surprised to see so much snow here, apparently more than around Edmonton where Mr. Friedland stayed with his daughter the past month, or in Cherry Grove [illegible] he lives.

There was a telephone directors' meeting at Harry Turner's last week. It had previously been postponed as had the Red Cross Auxiliary meeting which was finally held at the home of Mrs. Flo McQuid on March 14th with only five members present. Those on side roads were not able to come out. They must have worked very hard to get a quilt three-quarters stitched. Mrs. Betty Lysons and Mrs. Gladys Wolters promised to come down this week to finish it. No date was set for the next meeting, though it is hoped to have one in April, weather and roads permitting.

The writer is accompanying her husband to Edmonton this week where he will attend the N.A.D.P. convention as a delegate.

Successful Red Cross Tag Day, Mannville

The Red Cross Tag Day on Saturday, March 17 netted the Red Cross $127.40 which with the [illegible] funds to date amounts to [illegible]. But this is a long way from the goal of $800.00 which this district hoped to raise. As the tag day on Saturday does not make a very complete canvass of the country points—the volunteer canvassers have fairly well covered the town—donations may still be left with Mr. Van Dusen, Mrs. Rutherford or Mrs. Jack Coxford. Any amount will be welcomed by the local committee for this very worthwhile cause.

Mishandled Tractor Ranks High As Killer In Alberta

One of the worst killers in Alberta last year was the mishandled tractor, according to a summary compiled by the Alberta Safety Council, based on dependable statistics.

During 1955, no less than 22 persons in this province lost their lives in tractor accidents. Of these, 18 were drivers, two were passengers and two bystanders.

Of the driver accidents, three men lost their lives when the tractor side-tipped while being operated in a field while six other fatalities were due to back-flips, probably the most frequent type of tractor accident. There were five deaths due to the tractor overturning on a highway. Three drivers were killed in falling from a tractor. While in one instance there was a fatality when a load ran into a tractor.

Death of one passenger, an 11-year-old girl, occurred when the tractor side-tipped in a field, while the other, a 4-year-old boy, fell from the tractor and was run over.

The two bystanders were 1½ and 2-year-old children who were run over by tractors driven by their fathers.

At a recent meeting the provincial executive of the Safety Council approved an even more intensive campaign this year in the interest of safe tractor operation. Another series of safety demonstrations will be given at various Alberta points by Prof. B. T. Stephanson, of the University of Alberta.

Here are some tips on how to operate a tractor safely and live:

In approaching corners, be careful to operate the tractor at a safe rate of speed. See that the brakes on the tractor are properly balanced. If there is unbalance in the brakes, permitting one to operate before the other the tractor may topple over on its side.

Speeding over rough ground in fields is almost a sure way to a serious accident and possibly death. The same applies to short-cuts over steep banks and ditches.

"Jack-rabbit" starts when the tractor is pulling a heavy load can result in the machine over-turning backward and pinning the operator beneath it.

Overturning is the chief hazard of tractor operating. To avoid this, spread wheels as far apart as possible for the job in hand. Stay off soft shoulders and edges of cut-banks. Avoid side hills where the slope could cause tipping if the low wheel drops into a depression or the high wheel runs over a hump. Stop by closing the throttle before using the brakes.

WARNING!

Claysmore W. I. Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Claysmore W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. A. Olstad on March 14 with ten members in attendance.

After repeating the Creed the members responded to the roll call with a 'Home Remedy'. Secretary Mrs. J. Horne read the minutes of the previous meeting and they were declared approved by the president, Mrs. J. Willes. The treasurer gave her report, which was adopted as read. The bingo planned for Feb. 24 had to be cancelled on account of roads and weather. However a dance was held and was a decided success. It was moved that all outstanding bills be paid, amount now in treasury $48. A donation of bazaar material was received from the T. Eaton Co. Secretary was advised to write a letter of thanks to this company.

Gifts were sent to Mr. R. MacMillan and Mrs. G. Watling, recent patients in the Mannville hospital.

Correspondence: Letter received from Edmonton stating the date of the March conference; also one from Mrs. I. Henderson re the joint meeting in Mannville in connection with Civil Defense. This branch plans to attend.

March study topic was Health. Mrs. F. Watling, convener, gave a most interesting paper on "Polio and the use of the Salk vaccine".

The fun period was conducted by Mrs. J. Willes. "Charades"; members familiar with nursery rhymes found the contest exciting. Mrs. J. Bauer won the prize. Copies of Home & Country were distributed.

Weather permitting, plans were made for a bingo and dance to be held April 6th. A good time is assured.

After collection was taken and meeting adjourned, a delicious lunch was served. Ladies will meet at Mrs. R. MacMillan's on April 11.

Alberta Speed Limits Set For Motorboats

New regulations governing the operation of motorboats on lakes and rivers have been passed by provincial order-in-council, it was reported Wednesday.

A maximum fine of $100 is provided under the regulations. Until now, Alberta has had no laws governing the operation of smaller water craft. Large boats are covered by federal laws.

H. G. Jensen, deputy minister of lands and forests, said the regulations were drawn up because of the large increase in the number of motorboats used on resort lakes, and the trend toward more powerful engines.

SPEED REGULATIONS

Under the regulations, motorboats are restricted to a speed limit of five m.p.h. within 200 feet of any other boat and within 300 feet of any swimmer.

The limit is 10 m.p.h. within 600 feet of shore, bank, pier, wharf or diving board.

One clause says: "No person shall operate a boat on any waters without due care and reasonable attention or without reasonable consideration for other persons swimming in the same waters or operating or riding in a boat on the same waters."

Another says no person shall operate a boat in a "reckless manner or with wanton disregard" for the safety or property of others.

RIGHT-OF-WAY

Where two boats are approaching each other at right angles, the boat on the right has the right-of-way. A boat leaving a pier or dock has the right-of-way over a boat approaching the dock.

Boats carrying passengers for hire must be equipped with a line strong enough for towing and an approved life jacket or lifesaving cushion for each passenger.

Hire boats propelled by oars must have the oars secured to the oarlocks so they cannot be removed. Oarlocks must be tied or chained to the gunwhales.

Motorboats and sailboats for hire must have emergency oars, and oars on hired rowboats must be sturdy, "with no holes, large chips or cracks."

MUFFLING DEVICE

Boats with metal hulls must have air chambers which will maintain bouyancy under a capacity load if swamped or capsized.

Every motorboat must have an underwater exhaust or other muffling device to muffle the sound of the engine. Motorboats for hire must be equipped with navigation lights and fire extinguishers.

The regulations also set out the maximum passenger loads for boats of various sizes, based on the amount of freeboard.

Loads also are set out for canoes. Canoes under 16 feet in length are restricted to two passengers, from 16 to 18 feet, three passengers, and 18 feet or more, four passengers.

Motorboat clubs planning to hold races or trials must notify the minister of lands and forests in writing 10 days in advance.

Cost of administration and operation of the federal department of national revenue, the tax-collecting department, is estimated at $59,206,000 in the coming year. In 1939 the total cost of this department was $10,166,000.

Wood Buffalo National Park, partly in Alberta and partly in the N.W.T., has an area of 17,300 sq. miles, an area nearly equal to that of the province of Nova Scotia.

In 1955 the number of new dwelling units completed in Canada reached the record of 127,552. The total in 1939 was 51,700.

Alberta's Natural Gas Industry:

Natural gas service begins at the well — and it may be necessary to drill thousands of feet to reach nature's gas reservoirs in the minute pores of rocks. The company's production department makes sure enough gas is available to meet the needs of all consumers — even at 40 below! While existing wells provide for today's demand, the production engineers are studying new fields — looking to the new sources of natural gas that will serve Alberta twenty years from now!
With GAS you get service —we plan it that way!

The St. Patrick's Tea was well attended and the results gratifying. Waitresses in Shamrock trimmed aprons and Shamrocks on the table cloths also Shamrock wall tapestry made us know it was March 17. Mr and Mrs McGuffin came from Marwayne. As they were on the way to Kitscoty they had to turn back and come by way of Streamstown as there was quite a bad car accident on the road and no way to pass. At the time names were not known but the cars were damaged considerably.

Bill Young of Dewberry was in town on Saturday.

Some old timers are at present in the hospital: Neil McEachern, Dave Harris, [illegible] Archie Woods, [illegible] Thomas, John McKnight of Dewberry, and Mr Watson from south of town. We wish them recovery real soon.

Noticed in town early Saturday morning and wearing a big smile—Garfield Simmons and family driving a new truck with those nice gay colors, grey and pink.

We must not miss saying 'thank you' to some of the smaller and younger ones who ran errands for the ladies at the St. Patrick's Tea. It really was a great help. These included Sandra Bell, Gracie and Jim Schaffer, Jack Teskey, Ken Gunn, Don Martin and Betty Martin.

Jack Caro is working in the Husky Oil Refinery at Lloydminster and seems quite happy with his job.

Walter McCaughan has installed a large deep freeze in his store. Now all the stores have this modern means of preserving food.

Mr and Mrs. Jim Monroe of North Battleford were visitors for the week end at Jim's sister's Mrs Bill Axley, and Mrs. Monroe's sister's, Mrs. Cliff Beck.

Saw three young boys go to the rescue of a man whose car was stuck down by the school, namely Douglas Van den Dolder, Jack Teskey and Don Schaffer. Good deed boys.

Miss Ann Grech was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mr and Mrs. Neil McLennan.

The John Andersons of McLaughlin were visitors at the Moncrief's on Sunday.

Mrs Doris Coulton of the hospital staff spent the week end at her home south of town.

Great Grandpa Olds of Kitscoty is a visitor in town at the Schaffer home.

Miss Edith Olds and Mr Adam Duczek were supper guests at the home of Mr and Mrs Geo. Schaffer.

The Community Association held their annual meeting very recently and it is hoped to sponsor an amateur night when roads will permit.

Mr and Mrs Ken Buchanan and baby were supper guests at the home of Mr and Mrs Henry Olds on Monday.

Miss Elaine Sherriff is staying with Mr and Mrs. Gordon Purser to go to school during the bad roads season.

Bigger Towns Mean Bigger Debt

For the civic fathers of Canada's cities and towns, the boom of the 50's may be a matter of great pride, but it's also creating headaches in the form of a much greater debt load, reports The Financial Post.

New schools for the bumper crop of post-war children, new roads and services for the new suburbs are among the factors which have made debt rise twice as fast as revenue.

In 1952 municipal debt totaled $1,611.9 millions. By the end of 1955 this burden of debt outstanding reached $2,011.0 millions, 25% higher than three years earlier.

Current revenues meanwhile amounted to $764.4 millions in 1952; at the end of 1955 total municipal income reached $958.5 millions or 25% more than in 1952.

Over 90% of the municipalities' indebtedness is funded debt (debentures). Bank loans make up the rest. Schools, public utilities and other expenditures each account for 25 to 30% of all funded debt while road building debt makes up the remaining 17% of the total.

NEWS from DEWBERRY

Ah! Spring? What does it mean? Maybe most of all, more heat from the sun. We get it every year, but with it comes an exposing of all dirt and grime buried by the clean, white snow. Most of all perhaps the women folks get a chance to go out doors. It is like a new breath of life which gives hope to the future.

Back from winter home in Vancouver is Philip Porter. We generally get a snowstorm soon after.

The measles have made their way around to a lot of children along with the flu. School days have been few for some this year.

Our congratulations to the Dewberry Midget hockey team which lost out to Lloydminster at the recent tourney there. A fine young group of boys, all under 16 years from this district. They are ably coached by Neil Jones and Angus Smith.

Vic Dennil who built a snow plow for the M.D. of Vermilion River, now has another nearly completed for an M.D. in Saskatchewan. These are a large V-plow which will work in wet or dry snow.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith, our school principal, a bonnie daughter.

Tom Thomas who has been a patient in the Islay hospital for nearly three months is expected home this week. A comfortable small one-roomed house has been built for him.

Also in the Islay hospital are Archie Wood and Teddy Waterworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Curtis are home after a trip to California. They went with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Johnston of Edmonton by car, and enjoyed the trip very much.

The Dewberry F.U.A. will again hold their annual Easter amateur show and dance in Dewberry hall on Easter Monday. Cash prizes will be given. Send entries to Mrs. John Maltais, or phone.

A collision between a car and a truck belonging to Mr. Christman and George Wowk resulted in heavy damage to the car. The head-on impact took place on a narrow rutted road. Fortunately no one was injured.

Guilda Klemik and her rink of husband Willie, Mrs. E. Garnier and Charles Kinshella won the local farmers' bonspiel. They defeated G. Ewen in the final.

Mr Sheeman, our C P agent is away on holidays, taken early so he can be with his mother, who is quite ill.

Health Unit Notes

ALLERGIES

Allergy is the sensitivity towards certain food, wool, grasses, weeds, flowers, feathers, animals, house-dust, etc., which causes the victim discomfort in a variety of ways. It is a condition which tends to run in families. Children of parents who are asthmatic or hay fever sufferers are much more likely to show allergic tendencies than otherwis. Special care should be taken with such children to keep them out of contact with the common offenders' or factors which cause the allergies.

ECZEMA

Eczema is an itchy eruption which may occur any place on the body, but most commonly on the cheeks, scalp, in the folds about the neck, in front of the elbows and behind the knees. It is one of the earliest forms of allergy to show itself in a child. In a sensitive child, that is, one with an allergic family background, woollen (especially angora) fabrics should not be allowed to touch the skin. If they do, an irritation is caused resulting in the rash of eczema. Other items that are frequently to blame for eczema are eggs, certain fruit juices and some cereals (oatmeal particularly).

Happily, most children tend to outgrow the eczema before they are three but reasonable care is necessary to safeguard against this bothersome condition in later life.

HIVES

Hives are itchy, raised spots on the skin, looking very much like large mosquito bites. They occur on the body, extremities and face usually as well-defined small lumps. Occasionally, however, they seem to group together, each clump forming a "giant hive". Or the lobe of an ear, the lip, the eyelid or the foreskin may have a hard, itchy swelling. An intense itching is characteristic of hives. Normally the hives do not last long, often disappearing just as rapidly as they appeared.

Usually they are caused by some food to which the child is sensitive and such foods should be carefully avoided in the future. A baking soda bath or local application of calomine lotion will relieve the itching. In persistent, worrisome cases, see your doctor.

ASTHMA

Asthma is wheezy, difficult breathing. With each breath the child takes there is a whistling, wheezy sound in his chest. His trouble is not in getting air into his lungs but in breathing it out because of the spasms in the small bronchial tubes. Some foods can cause asthma, such as eggs, fish or seafood, or it may be caused by the child breathing in fine particles of some sensitizing substance such as animal hair, feathers, house dust, barnyard dust or dust from freshly stuccoed walls. Again some children suffer from asthma when they have head colds or bronchitis.

Some cases are very mild and only with increased activity on the part of the child does it become bothersome. Other children are so distressed and have so much difficulty in breathing that they have to be propped up in bed or in a chair. If the asthma is associated with fever, the child should be kept in bed.

CLANDONALD HALL

Showing at the Clandonald Hall this week end, March 23 and 24, "The Last Time I Saw Paris," good color, with Elizabeth Taylor, Van Johnson, Walter Pidgeon, Donna Reed. Next week end March 30 and 31, "Pony Soldier" in color. News reel each week.

Greenlawn Good-Will Club

The March meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill club was held at Mrs. Harlan Green's. Eleven ladies were present and one visitor, despite the tricky roads.

Some of the members arrived late, having attended the funeral of Mr. John Protach.

A Hobo tea was discussed with some being a bit sceptical of how they might look going out for tea on the spur of the moment.

An apron for the crippled children was to be started with the lady putting on the neatest patch receiving the apron as a prize.

Names were drawn for new secret pals. The children were well entertained by riding two tricycles around the room, with only a few spots and a bump or two.

The meeting came to a close with a lovely lunch served by our hostess Sheila Green.

In Town Or On The Farm, Women Deserve Coffee Break

Whether they work in a town or city house or on a farm, housewives are just as much in need of a coffee break as are workers in offices or factories, a teacher and journalist agree.

Employers have long recognized that morning and afternoon coffee breaks mean greater efficiency and happier workers, they say. Equal consideration should be given housewives.

Because of her long, arduous duties a housewife should have a ten minute rest period in every hour, Dr. Frances G. Sanderson, head of the home economics department at Wayne University, Detroit, suggests. And at least two of these periods should be complete with coffee.

Joanne Strong, Toronto journalist writing in the Globe and Mail advocates a housewive's morning coffee club to put the coffee break at home on an official basis. In town, this may provide the opportunity for chatting with the neighbors but even in rural areas it should be available for women housework-ers. "After all", she writes, "what is so lazy about stopping for coffee in the morning? Modern offices give their help a morning and afternoon coffee break."

Housewives, Miss Strong believes, are never given proper recognition for the work they perform. Perhaps she suggests, they should have a union of their own. At the very least, they should be entitled to morning and afternoon coffee breaks and not have to apologize for taking them.

Dr Sanderson points out that no person can work efficiently without proper rest and relaxation periods. She suggests a break every hour adding that a 10-minute rest with a cup of coffee, or a brief period of reading, relaxes a person and gives her a fresh approach to the problems ahead.

Alberta Livestock Dealers Require Bond And License

According to Mr W. H. T. Mead, Alberta's Livestock Commissioner, enforcement of the regulations concerning the bonding and licensing of livestock dealers will become general over the entire Province on April 1, 1956.

New regulations governing the bonding and licensing of livestock dealers and dealer's agents came into effect on January 1, 1956. These regulations are of interest to farmers and ranchers as well as to dealers. A dealer or his agent is required to carry his license at all times while dealing in live stock.

A dealer without agents is required to obtain a surety bond in the amount of $2,000.00. Dealers with agents are responsible at all times for the business conduct and financial responsibility of their agents. Farmers and Ranchers should have no hesitation in requesting to see the Alberta Livestock Dealers License of any person purchasing their live stock, and should realize that if such person has no license for the current year there is no bonded protection in case of default of payment.

Anyone dealing or speculating in live stock who has not already done so should make arrangements to obtain their bond and license at once. Full information is available at District Agricultural offices or can be obtained by writing to the Live Stock Branch, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Insurance Sales Up

Over 14% more life insurance was purchased by Canadians during the month of January 1956 than was bought a year earlier, reports The Financial Post. Sales amounted to $272.2 millions this year compared to $238 millions the year before.

This increase was due entirely to bigger sales of ordinary life. These rose 18.5% from year earlier totals to reach $230.6 millions.

Industrial life sales dropped 7.5% during the month and totaled $8.7 millions. There was also a decrease in group life insurance contracts which declined 3.3% going from 1955's $34.0 millions to $32.9 millions in January 1956.

In the coming year Ottawa estimates that family allowance payments will cost $388,200,000, nearly twice the annual cost ten years ago and the universal old age pension payments will cost $379,515,000.

Report from Alberta Legislature by Ken Mason

Sweeping Changes Forecast In Provincial-Municipal Financial Set-Up

EDMONTON.* — More light was shed in the legislature last week on the government's proposed new financial deal for Alberta municipalities.

It was made clear that municipal governments will be given new sources of raising revenue, and that the government plans to wash its hands of the present unwieldy system of making grants to cover municipal costs.

A statement on the new deal was issued in the house by Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman, who was careful to point out that it did not represent government policy, but was only a basis for launching forthcoming discussions between provincial and municipal officials.

Some observers see it also as laying the groundwork for the day when the province will no longer rake in millions of dollars from the sale of oil and gas leases. This is the lucrative source which has made generous municipal grants possible, and when it disappears where does the money come from?

Mr. Hinman's statement did not answer the question, but much of it was devoted to an analysis of the forms of taxation which could be considered in the proposed revamping of revenue sources.

As a result, many observers are wondering whether new taxes may result from the government's proposed comprehensive survey of provincial-municipal financial relations.

The brief devoted considerable attention to income tax, sales tax and poll tax. It discussed the pros and cons of each tax, without expressing any definite view.

The statement suggested a new plan for sharing provincial revenues. It would be an "acceptable step" it said to agree that the province should continue to handle revenue from natural resources and use them to the best advantage of all citizens.

Then it posed the question: "Can we agree that all other sources of revenue are provincial-municipal revenues and must be apportioned without strings between province and municipalities . . . ?"

These provincial-municipal revenues, which apparently would be turned over to the municipalities are federal subsidies and payments, profits from trading activities such as liquor sales, fees, licenses and service charges, and "province-wide taxes which may be levied on behalf of the province and the municipalities."

The brief said the first three revenue sources can be predicted with accuracy and divided with some equity, and concluded that: "Whatever funds are needed beyond these must come from taxes."

Mr. Hinman's statement was fairly non-committal. In fact, it was a masterpiece of fence-sitting, and couched in extremely cautious language.

But, combined with other recent statements by the treasurer, and other public officials, a reasonably clear picture of the government's plan may be formed.

Most of the provincial grants will likely disappear. The government's distaste for them is summed up in a paragraph of the brief which said: "They have forced unlimited spending, wasteful extravagance and worst of all a decay in democratic vitality [illegible] municipal governments have become merely agents for the province."

Following it was perhaps one of the most significant statements of all: "There is a rising threat of collapse of the whole relationship should provincial revenues suddenly cease to be buoyant."

So instead of grants, the municipality will likely have their own means of raising money and the responsibility of spending it in the best manner.

The official government attitude appears to be that if municipalities want something extra, they will have to find ways of paying for it, and this is where extra taxes could come in.

Mr. Hinman's brief deals in part with taxes which could be collected by the province on behalf of the municipalities, in the event regular sources of revenue don't cover the services municipalities want to provide.

The whole question is an involved one, and will undoubtedly undergo lengthy study. What the exact outcome will be is anyone's guess, but it is certain there will be sweeping changes.

Meetings between provincial officials and representatives of local governments will start shortly, and when they do the government may make a more definite commitment.

PLEBISCITES MAY BE HELD ON FLUORIDATION

Local governments would be able to hold plebiscites on the fluoridation question under a bill introduced in the house last week by Health Minister Dr. W. W. Cross.

Under the bill, a municipality could introduce fluorides into the public drinking water supply if two-thirds of the voters were in favor. A number of Alberta towns have asked the government for authority to introduce fluoridation.

NEW BRIDGE OVER PEACE

The Peace River country won a long and drawn out battle in the house last week when Highways Minister Gordon Taylor announced work will start this year on a new bridge over the Peace at Dunvegan. It will be two or three years before the structure is finished. It is expected work this year will involve only preparation of the site.

In 1955 the number of automotive vehicles entering Canada from the U.S. totalled 15,[illegible] of which 7,139,000 were Canadian vehicles returning to this country.

Traffic Fatalities Less For First Two Months

Alberta's traffic fatalities during the first two months of this year were nearly 50% less than during the similar period of 1955, according to a statistical summary compiled by the Alberta Safety Council.

The two month total for the province was 16, made up of nine last month and the same number in January. For the same period of last year the aggregate was 32 deaths.

So far this year 356 persons have been injured in motor vehicle accidents including 231 in February. In the same period of last year the total was 403.

While fatalities and injuries decreased, there was a slight increase in the over-all total of car accidents. The two-month total was 2,191 as against 2,084 a year ago. Of the total of 1475 for February, Edmonton led with 540, Calgary had [illegible].

Quadruplet Calves Born at Larson Farm

Quadruplet calves were born on the farm of Gordon Larson, 16 miles south of Vermilion, on Monday evening. Such a multiple birth in cattle is very rare and while the rate is not actually known it happens only once in tens of thousands of births. The calves, 3 heifers and one bull are the offspring of a pure bred Angus cow, but all have white faces.

Mr. Larson had brought the cow in a week before she calved as she was apparently suffering from a cold. On the morning of the multiple birth Gordon sensed that all was not just ordinary and called Dr. Bob Anderson, who delivered the quads. Apparently the birth started formation as quintuplets as what appears to be a deformed head, complete in itself, was also included in the calving.

The quad calves are all well formed and normal, and by Tuesday afternoon were standing up. As the Larsons don't go in for milk cows there was a decided shortage of food for the four newcomers, until a new milk cow was purchased from a neighbor.

The multiple birth attracted wide attention from radio and press, being tipped off to the rare happening by the Board of Trade publicity committee.

V.S.A. Achievement Day Well Attended

Approximately 800 people attended the "Little Royal" and Achievement Day held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture on Wednesday afternoon, March 28th.

The stock show or "Little Royal" started at 1:30 p.m. in the Mechanics buildings, with the graduands each having the opportunity to show an animal. The judges were Dr. Roy Berg of the University of Alberta, and Robert Cooper, Provincial Department of Agriculture. Unlike other stock shows, the judging at the "Little Royal" is based entirely on the showmanship of the boy handling the animal, rather than on the animal itself. The judges' decisions take into account also the evident preparation of the animal for the show ring.

A new feature of "Little Royal" this year was a substitution of a showmanship class for the stock parade held in former years. To qualify for entry in this class a boy to win first placing in showmanship in the class in which he was first judged.

Although the livestock show was the main scheduled event of the afternoon, the classrooms and laboratories of the school had been prepared and open for inspection by the public. In the college building were the displays of sewing, cooking, handicrafts, nursing and laundering courses taken by the girls. Also the poultry and dairying and science labs in that building had been set up to show the type and extent of material in those subjects which had been studied by the students during the current term. Live chickens in cages in the poultry lab attracted considerable interest. The handicrafts shown were of a wide variety of articles and in the sewing room the graduation dresses made by the girls who will wear them next week at the graduation exercises made a beautiful display. The cooking classes had provided a delectable array of tasty dishes.

In the Agronomy building the [illegible] and Horticulture lab had a display of farmstead and garden plans, arrays of potted plants, [illegible] pamphlets of information on these subjects were attractively placed on the walls and tables. In the livestock pavilion on the first floor of the building was an arrangement of the various cuts of meat as prepared by the butchering classes.

The Field Crops laboratory showed a variety of grain and legume seeds, and also many kinds of sheaves, along with signs and literature explaining the subject matter of the courses taken in that building.

The projects undertaken in the Metalwork and Blacksmithing were shown in the blacksmith shop where the forges and tools used by the students were to be seen.

In the Mechanics building were displays of the motors and machines used in the class work in the motor mechanics department. Work done by the students in connection with their study of electricity was also shown.

The classes in Farm Buildings had constructed various types of shelters such as garages, chicken houses, etc. and these were to be seen in the Mechanics Building. Woodworking labs had made articles of wood, such as furniture and tool boxes. These were on display in the carpentry shop.

One room in the girls' dormitory had been renovated by the girls and was on display to the public.

Tea was served in the main dining room, and the prizes to be presented at the graduation day ceremonies were shown in the library.

Among the many interested spectators and visitors were parents of many of the students now at the school. There were also a number of graduates of former years in attendance. George Hendrikson, of Bittern Lake, who had been in attendance at the school in 1918 and who hadn't been back to see his Alma Mater since, was amazed at the many changes and improvements that had occurred since he was a student. He was most enthusiastic about the work done by the students and marvelled at the facilities provided for the instruction in both Agriculture and Home Economics courses.

There were several groups of high school students and 4-H clubs accompanied by their teachers and leaders who had come to see the school and the demonstration of the skills and techniques with an indication of the subject matter to be learned at the Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics.

A complete list of the placings in the livestock classes in showmanship at the "Little Royal" will be published in next week's Standard.

Loyalty Dinner Launches Drive For Funds At Mannville

MANNVILLE. On Thursday evening, March 22nd, McQueen Memorial United Church held its first loyalty dinner in the Orange Hall. The dinner was part of a Church Canvass for raising funds to build a new church which will supplant the old one. Despite the disappointing weather which was responsible for most of the country people not getting in, there was a good attendance. The townspeople turned out "en masse" and there were just over one hundred present which probably attests to the efficiency of Mrs. Doherty and Mrs. Proudfoot and the committees over which they presided. That everything went off without a hitch was due in no small measure to the work of Mr. Fred [illegible] and his arrangements committee.

The turkey supper was prepared and served by the ladies of the Anglican W. A. and it was felt by everyone present that they had spared nothing in their efforts to make the [illegible].

After the supper was over the purpose and outline of the canvass were presented. Mr. Art Baker acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Roy Hay gave a short and interesting outline of the history of our church in the community. Mr. Ross Ewing outlined the need for the canvass and told what had prompted the decision to think in terms of a new church. Mr. Ed Sloane who is chairman of canvass committee explained how the canvass would work. Mr. Hugh Doherty told us what is meant by a "pledge". The Reverend Mr. Holter explained the challenge and opportunity presented to United Church people in the community by the adoption of this program and the evening was terminated with a benediction.

The opinion expressed generally is that the evening was a most enlightening and enjoyable one and that the congregation of McQueens came away strengthened in their resolve to do all they could to make the canvass a success.

The canvassers started out Friday morning in the hope that the canvass would be completed within a week.

EASTER —

There is a spirit of Easter just as there is a spirit of Thanksgiving and Christmas. It is a spirit of exhilaration, of glorious rejoicings. On Easter Sunday churches will be crowded. Glorious music will peal from a thousand organs and eager choirs will proclaim "The Lord God Omnipotent reigneth." "Christ has broken the bonds of death. Hallelujah!" In orthodox churches throughout the world the worshipper will greet his friend with the salutation "Christ is risen" and will be answered "He is risen indeed."

What makes this outburst of joy and confidence is the faith that Christ lives and moves along the streets and highways of personal and organized life giving assurance of happiness, security and the ultimate conquest of man's baser self.

We live in an exciting period of the world's history. Old things are being swept away. Much is being made new. The forces of evil and good are joined in battle; not that all the good is one side of the iron curtain and all the evil on the other. The conflict in which we are engaged is a clash of deep spiritual forces that cut across all boundaries and barriers. The maddening roar of the world's turmoil is the accompaniment of this deep, ceaseless and age-old struggle. It is brought to focus in the surging nationalism so characteristic of our day, the uprising of submerged peoples, the restless movement of the world's depressed, hungry and untutored millions.

The Easter experience re-establishes hope that the end of history is good and not evil, that selfishness, greed and lust for power will ultimately be sublimated into brotherhood, unselfishness and humble and enthusiastic service to each other irrespective of race, color or cultural background.

It might be well when we go to church on Easter Sunday to watch for this note of triumph running through the music and with the eye of faith see the future of mankind as one family as Christ proclaimed, and demonstrated in His own experience.

SENSE, FOOLISHNESS OR DEATH

Who is the driver of your tractor — Sense, Foolishness or Death? From the tractor killings reported every year it seems that Foolishness often drives and Death goes along for the ride. According to Les Reid, Extension Engineer with the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the greatest killer in farm work is your tractor. You can't take chances with your tractor any more than you can with a man-eating lion.

Safety shields are no good unless they are in place ... shield the moving parts. Always stop to unhitch or adjust machinery. Shift into low gear for all hills. Too much speed on a tractor means not enough control. Never carry a passenger. Stay alert and stay alive ... combining fatigue with a tractor is letting Foolishness into the driver's seat. Don't wear loose clothing around the tractor ... floppy shirt cuffs, pant legs or shoe laces can be Death's first lieutenants. Don't provide home made traction when you are stuck — get pulled out.

Keep Sense in the driver's seat of your tractor and stay alive.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Vision of Progress

The world-famous Trudeau tuberculosis sanatorium in Saranac, N.Y., has closed its doors as a treatment center, the victim of medical progress. When the hospital found itself operating with only 60 patients, a third of capacity, the directors decided to abandon the treatment program in favor of research.

WASHING EGGS

Many people still think that washing eggs affects the keeping quality. That was and still is true if the washing was not done under the most sanitary of conditions. New egg washing machines do the job quickly and well. It is still a good idea to keep the eggs clean in the first place.

FEEDING DRUGS TO CATTLE

The hormone "Stilbestral" is now permitted to be sold in Canada. At the University of Manitoba steers on feed gave a profit of $23.73 when fed stilbestral compared with $14.84 when the hormone was not added to the feed. Ten milligrams of stilbestral per day is recommended and not any more. You can see how hard it will be to mix this small amount in the feed without using a mechanical mixer.

GULLIES IN THE MAKING

When gullies are washed out in farm land it is real serious business. The longer they are left the deeper they get over the years and the more it will cost to level them out. Why not start this spring by seeding down any draws with brome grass. It will likely be necessary first to level out the gulley with machinery. One-ways are very useful for levelling. Get a circular from this office on protecting cultivated land from gullies and erosion.

SEED GROWING PROJECT

Registered and Certified seed of Brome, Crested Wheat, Sweet Clover and Creeping Red Fescue will be put out at half price to farmers interested in raising seed for sale. The amount of seed is limited so it may not be possible to fill all the orders. Write for an application form if you are interested.

VACCINATE FOR BLACK LEG

When young cattle are turned out on the fields is the time they pick up the black leg germs. If you did not vaccinate your calves last summer, do it now. If you did vaccinate last summer it is advisable to do it again. Every year losses of calves from black leg are reported. Why take the chances? Every year we hear of a number of pitiful stories of farmers losing from one to ten calves.

CHAMPION AT CALGARY

Last week I reported that Keith Barr took a calf to the Calgary Show. Now we congratulate Keith on winning first for Shorthorn calf and Reserve Championship.

I have just heard also that Keith won the Grand Championship at Edmonton for his Hereford calf. Again I offer my congratulations.

Boys Clubs Solve "Delinquency"

"We give a kid something better to throw than a rock," says Arthur Burger, executive secretary of the Boys' Clubs of Boston. "We give him a basketball. His reward is the yell of his pals as he makes a basket ... more fun than busting a street light."

More than 475 Boys' Clubs throughout Canada and the United States with some 430,000 members are providing sports, games and hobbies as substitutes for rock-throwing and other teen-age mischief and crime, according to an article in April Reader's Digest.

But although the Boys Clubs successfully salvage problem boys every day, "bad" boys form only a minute percentage of total membership. The 430,000 youngsters whom the Boys' Clubs keep busy, happy and out of trouble come from every background, race and creed. In some areas the majority are from underprivileged homes; in others 80% or more of all boys are members, the Digest article reports.

Boys' Clubs of America celebrates its 50th anniversary this year. Each club is directed by leading citizens, and operating funds are contributed locally. Members, however, must pay dues, though the amount may be as little as 25 cents a year. "Otherwise," says Herbert Hoover, national chairman, "they wouldn't feel it was their own club."

One of the most up-to-date Boys Clubs in North America was opened in Ottawa recently by Governor-General Vincent Massey, patron of the Boys' Clubs of Canada and an active supporter of the movement. The Ottawa club is one of 34 in Canada, says Reader's Digest, and has facilities for 900 boys, including a gymnasium, swimming pool and library.

Boys Clubs of Canada, an independent affiliate of the U. S. organization, helps coordinate the activities of local clubs, supplying training courses, fund-raising assistance, building planning advice and other services. Individual clubs are sponsored by local service groups, Red Feather agencies and private benefactors.

Boys' Club leaders know that the "bad" boy is usually neglected and lonely, thinking himself a failure. In the club's variety of activities any boy can find a field wherein he can win the recognition he needs.

Statistics from many cities show that in areas served by Boys' Clubs — and some are in tough neighborhoods — the juvenile-delinquency rate is lower than elsewhere. But Boys' Clubs do more, states the Digest, than keep members out of trouble. They lay the ground-work for the good life, and often for exceptional accomplishment. Club alumni include mayors, Congressmen, ministers, doctors, writers.

Of Many Things . . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

JUST FOR TODAY

I had noticed the man, how fine and pleasant he appeared. So when he went to the cashier to pay for his lunch, I was the person who noticed when he dropped a little folder from his wallet. He was gone before I could retrieve it and give it to him. Now I carry it in my wallet. In part it reads:

"Just for today I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle my whole life problem at once. I can do something for twelve hours that would appal me if I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

"Just for today I will adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my luck as it comes, and fit myself to it.

"Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways: I will do somebody a good turn and not get found out; if anyone knows about it, it will not count. I will do two things that I do not want to do — just for exercise. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may hurt but I will not show it."

There was more, equally interesting. Every time I read it I am struck by the fact that we could build a mighty happy nation if each man followed this philosophy. We would not need public charity, if each man were charitable in secret. We'd need precious few laws, if each man followed standards of his own like these.

MARWAYNE NEWS

On Good Friday at 11 o'clock, there will be a Lenten service in the United church. It will be a union service of the Anglican and United churches. Rev. Mr. Potter will be officiating.

Mrs. T. Rea spent a week at her parent's home in Wetaskiwin early in the month. Mr. Rea has had a sick spell but is improved. Doug Shaw is working in the hardware store.

Mrs. Berg spent a week with her sister at Cutknife, Sask. On the way home she called in at Marsden to see Andy and Mavis Bystrom, but found Andy in the hospital suffering from rheumatism.

Phyllis Kent has been in the Islay hospital for a couple of weeks. She has pneumonia.

CLANDONALD HALL

Showing this week end, March 30 and 31: "Pony Soldier," a color picture taken in Southern Alberta, starring Tyrone Power. Next week end, April 6 and 7: "The Moonlighter." News reel each week.

Since the end of the Second Great war, Canada has given $4 billion in aid to foreign countries. 37% has been in military assistance, about half is a straight gift and the rest covered by some type of loan agreement.

SCOUTING and GUIDING

On April 6th a meeting will be held in Wainwright for Scout leaders, Cub leaders, Group committee members and any other interested party with the object of forming a district council in this area. Mr. Holloway of Edmonton Provincial Headquarters will be in attendance and will show a film of the jamboree at Niagara-On-The-Lake. It is hoped that as many as possible will attend from Vermilion.

The tea and bake sale that the Mothers' Association of the Guides and Brownies held on March 3rd was very successful and many thanks are extended to all those who attended or in any way helped. Particular thanks are extended to the Elks who so kindly donated the use of the hall, and the Royal Purple who donated the use of the kitchen.

Right now the Mothers' Association are sponsoring a draw for an Easter hamper, which is on display in Craig's. The draw will be made this Saturday around 4 o'clock, in Craig's, so that the lucky person may have the groceries for their Easter dinner.

BROWNIES

A number of Brownies finished some very lovely aprons and bootees which were examined before being sent to Calgary where they will be on display along with aprons and bootees made by Brownies throughout Alberta. The following Brownies were enrolled on March March 19th: Donna Mae Hitchcock, Lorna and Shirley Ann Shungrunder, Helen Mayhew, Marlene Bauer, Barbara Ann Carroll, Jean Hessam and Jane Anne Heckbert, and their mothers attended the enrollment. Skaters' badges have been obtained by Faye Hareuther, Bonnie Forbes, Shirley Jones, Shirley Klashinsky, Judy Long, Jane Mayer, Linda Johnson, Patricia Stewart, Glenda Brennan, Patsy Brix, Beverley Strome, Diane Sinden, Maxine Pare, Sharon Martin, Irene Waldenberger, Sue Ellen Clendenning and Louise Barr. The minstrel badge had been earned by Patricia Stewart, Glenda Brennan, Jean Filgate, Judy Long and Bonnie Forbes. The Needleworkers Badge by Susan Young, Louise Barr, Patricia Stewart, Nadiene Hart, Diane Weldon, Faye Hareuther and Linda Johnson, and a Pathfinder badge by Patricia Stewart.

GUIDES

The Guides are working very hard to get their First Aid badges. Mrs. Maxine King has given them a very thorough course in this and Mrs. Amy Bell gave them their tests. Mrs. Kay Brix is giving them their practical training in artificial respiration.

CUBS

The boys are working hard to get their first and second star tests so that when the nice weather does decide to come the leaders hope to be able to take the boys out of doors for most of the meetings. Bob Tidsbury has offered his services to help with the boys and he has filled a much needed want as the number of Cubs has increased considerably since September.

SCOUTS

Three carloads of Scouts went up to Edmonton a week ago for the hockey game and they had a marvelous time. There were many highlights besides the hockey game, such as a swim in the pool at the Y and a visit from Maurice Carter, who when he heard the boys wished to have his autograph took the time to pay a personal call on them at the Y. There are now enough Scouts to form three patrols and the leaders are Bob Ackerman, Jack Marfleet and Bob Pare.

"GOD so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16.

HE is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief; and we hid as it were our faces from Him; He was despised, and we esteemed Him not.

Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.

But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed.

All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all. Isaiah 53; 3-6

BE it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by Him doth this man stand here before you whole.

This is the stone which was set at nought by you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

Neither is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." Acts 4; 10:12

Game Act Changes Lauded by F. U. A.

EDMONTON, March 26 — The provincial government's action in introducing a legislative bill to amend the Alberta Game Act was lauded in Edmonton today by the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

President A. W. Platt stated that measures proposed in the amendments were in line with those sought by various farm organizations for a number of years and commented that implementation would go a long way toward erasing the antagonism of rural people to hunters in general. Under the former act, he declared, landowners and lease-holders were forced to suffer mutely the ravages of indiscriminate hunters in damage to crops, fences, livestock, pastures and ranges, to say nothing of the human life danger undergone by farmers and their families in many instances. Unlike other property holders they had no means of dealing with breaches committed right on their own lands.

Farmers have no desire to stand in the way of harvesting the province's annual game crop, the president continued. In fact many of them are ardent hunters themselves and all recognize that game must be taken annually in order to maintain nature's balance at a favorable level. However they feel that a farmer is in a better position to judge whether or not fire hazards exist, will human life and livestock be endangered ... than is the sportsman in pursuit of relaxation.

As owners and operators of land who have harboured and fed the game for 12 months of the year, farmers maintain they should have some knowledge of who is hunting on their land and some voice as to where game could be taken without apparent danger to human life, crops and livestock.

Sportsmen's organizations purport to speak for the hunter but are in no position to assume responsibility for the individual's actions, Mr. Platt observed. The F. U. A. suggests that in all fairness the general populace is not entitled to legislative protection to roam the country at will in search of game, while rural people are denied the right of determining unmolested the conduct of their lives, livelihood and safeguards therein. Because of the ever increasing number of hunters, the union feels that the government's move to deal with the situation can be honestly and sincerely upheld despite criticism aroused in some quarters.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Auburndale W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Alf Green Wednesday evening, March 21st. The devotional theme was "The Crucifixion."

Considerable business was discussed, the main item being the purchase of tables and chairs for the Sunday school primary class, and more chairs for the choir. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies of the Battleview group. The next meeting is to be held in the church following the bazaar in June.

The mixed bonspiel has not yet been completed, once again due to Old Man Winter who seems loath to leave us. In this spiel each rink was to have three games, top honors going to the rink with the most wins and the lowest score to win.

Due to snow blocked roads, a number of the B. C. ladies did not get in to the Vermilion ladies' spiel.

A carload of members from the Edenvale Farm Forum attended a rally at Vegreville on Monday night, and report a very enjoyable time. A number from the Auburndale Forum had planned on going but were unable to make the trip. The annual Forum picnic is to be held this year at the Vermilion Park instead of Elk Island.

The children of B. C. school are planning an Easter party and program of musical numbers for Thursday afternoon.

The big excitement at the Coulee this week of course is the arrival of the quadruplet calves at Gordon Lamont's. This should really put us on the map.

Congratulations to Corporal and Mrs. G. W. Lucas, Gander, Nfld., on the birth of a daughter on March 19th.

Modernization Program Now Completed At The Vermilion Hotel

CONGRATULATIONS! to the Management of THE VERMILION HOTEL
for the renovations carried out throughout the first floor, adding greatly to the attractiveness and convenience of this modern hostelry.

We were pleased to have been entrusted with the General Contracting and carpentry work in the modernization project.

WM. J. PETTIGREW
General Contractor and Carpenter

The Vermilion Hotel, which was first built in 1909 by the late E. E. Wright, has been undergoing extensive renovations and redecorating under the direction of the present owners, Thelma and Jack Sheliha, and George Mihalichen.

The Shelika Brothers and Mr. Mihalichen bought the hotel five years ago last January. The partnership is a family affair as Mr. Mihalichen is the father-in-law of Martin Shelika.

The Shelika brothers were proprietors of a hotel in North Battleford for five years prior to coming to Vermilion.

They considered that Vermilion was a good centre in which to establish a business, lying as it does at the junction of Highways 41 and 16. They were convinced, and still are, that Vermilion is a lively, progressive town with a good future for an enterprising business man.

The whole ground floor of the hotel has been renovated and redecorated. The lobby has been painted, and the beverage rooms have been extended to cover a much larger area. The latest type of all refrigeration plant, a very modern arrangement for sterilization of glasses, new furniture and floor covering are among the many features incorporated to give customers the best possible service in attractive surroundings.

Vermilion craftsmen are to be congratulated on the high standard set by their work and planning: painters, plasterers, electricians, plumbers and material supply firms have all contributed their efforts to produce attractive, convenient results. In charge of the general planning and carpentering was a local contractor Wm. J. Pettigrew. A. Ellerod and Larry Pare did the extensive electrical wiring and installation of electrical fixtures and equipment. W. C. Martin effected the necessary changes in plumbing and heating arrangements. Stan Manyluk, using a new multi-colored paint called "Granitex" produced amazing effects in a very attractive modernistic way. The new linoleum was supplied and laid by Simonsen's Furniture while all the new panelling and other building material necessary came from the Revelstoke Sawmill Co., under the advice of Cliff Isley.

The partners are justly proud of the recent renovations in their hotel, but feel that a progressive business must not rest on its laurels. They have begun plans for improvements yet to come.

HOCKEY HASSLE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Vegreville Rangers Win Eastern Alberta League Title By Default

Wednesday evening will go down in history as the night of the great stall — the Edmonton Town Shiners and Vancouver Totems Basketball teams pulled a great stall out at Vancouver but it was nothing compared to the greater stall pulled off by the Lloydminster Cherries at Vegreville. The Cherries persisted in their stall, went off home without playing, leaving 1000 customers sitting in the arena, and having the Ranger management refund the admission price to all the fans present.

It all happened like this. The season has become very late due to the fact that both teams and Vegreville especially had become embroiled in provincial play-offs, consequently it was decided to make the Eastern Alberta League final a best two out of three affair instead of the usual best of five as provided in the regulations. Vegreville Rangers went to Lloyd on Tuesday and pocketed all five tires of the Chevies with an 8-6 victory. On arrival at Vegreville Wednesday the Chevvies demanded that it be a best of five series as they had a game advertised for Thursday night. Both teams appealed to vice-president Al Locke and he handed down the ruling, best of three series and get it played off. Former president of the League, Dr. Bradley, resigned some time ago as of that date so Al Locke is now head honcho.

The upshot of it was that Lloydminster steadfastly refused to play and finally shoved off home, leaving the rink full of fans and no hockey game.

The game was then awarded to Vegreville by default and with the win went the Craig cup and the hockey league title. Lloydminster is in the league on one year's probation.

Mr. A. M. West, representing Craig Brothers, donors of the trophy emblematic of the league championship, presented the cup to the Rangers. In his remarks he regretted the happenings of the evening say—that while the Rangers were quite ready and willing to play in the best traditions of the sport it was was afraid of being eliminated in two straight games.

Full House Hears Lloydminster Band

Under the auspices of the Vermilion Rotary Club, the Lloydminster Community Band played to a large and enthusiastic audience on Sunday afternoon, March 25th.

Jim Robson, a member of the Vermilion Rotary, introduced the 21 piece band and their conductor, Bob Bourneas, to a fully packed house of the Columbia Theatre.

To announce the band selections and the musical numbers presented by local talent, Mr. Bonnett turned over the Master of Ceremony duties to Ned Sutton, base drummer of the band.

Mr Sutton, in an informal and witty manner, announced the names of the selections to be played by the band and he also called on three Vermilion talents who had volunteered to assist in the program. Two violinists, Miss Margaret Goodwin and Alois Karl, and a pianist, Jim McGaughey, displayed considerable talent and gave much enjoyment to their hearers.

The band music was excellently rendered, and the size of the audience and their spontaneous applause testified to the keen enjoyment that Vermilion and district citizens derive from a good band concert.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's program the band members and their party, as well as the local artists were entertained by the Rotary Club at the Brunswick hotel where lunch had been made ready for them.

Bonke's Drug store is now closing on Sundays.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By Dr. F. J. Greaney, Director, Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

AVOID SMUT — TREAT YOUR SEED

Of the modern farm practices that can help to reduce grain production costs, none is more important than seed treatment. Three important benefits result from seed treatment. These are: (1) The elimination of seed-borne diseases, particularly the surface-borne smuts of cereals. (2) The prevention of seed rot and seedling blight. (3) The suppression of weeds by better and more even stands.

Approved Treatments. Chemicals containing mercury (Agrox C, Ceresan M, Leytosan, Panogen, and others) are more widely used and more generally effective for treating the seed of small grain crops than any other class of chemicals. When properly applied, they not only control smut (except the loose smuts of wheat and barley), but also protect the seed from disease-producing organisms that live in the soil. Dual-purpose seed-treatment chemicals (Leytosan G, Mergamma C, Mariane and others), which contain both a fungicide (mercury) and an insecticide (Lindane or Aldrin), are recommended where wireworms as well as smut are to be controlled.

Treat Properly. Improper or careless application can ruin the effectiveness of any seed disinfectant. Thorough and uniform mixing of chemical and seed is essential for best results. Time of treatment is also important. Seed of oats and barley, for instance, should be treated at least one week in advance of seeding; wheat and flax [illegible]

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rowe leave this weekend via Canadian National for a three months holiday visiting old home scenes in England and Scotland. They will stop in Toronto to visit their daughter Norma and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Keech. In Montreal they hope to see Dr. and Mrs. McJannett (nee Betty Rowe) and little son. They will sail from Halifax on board the Scythia and land at Southhampton. Ken's old home is just south of London, while Mrs. Rowe grew up in Edinburgh. It is quite likely Mr and Mrs. Rowe will spend a week on the continent. They plan to return to Vermilion early in July.

Mrs. Hunt and two daughters, Kam and Kit, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. West recently. Mrs. Hunt is a daughter of Col. Kinnear of Edmonton and was bridesmaid at the wedding of Marjorie West. Mrs. Hunt and her husband, Dr Hunt, have spent two and a half years at Aklavik and are now en route to England.

Clarke Wilson returned home on Sunday, March 25th after spending since December 20th at the Coast most of the time with his son Gordon and wife in Vancouver. Four days were spent in Seattle and two weeks with his sister at Ione, a town about 100 miles north of Spokane. While away Clarke encountered a variety of weather but says that it wasn't too bad in Vancouver.

Miss Beth Mason of Edmonton was a weekend visitor at the home of Mrs. Hogan.

Mr and Mrs. Ken Stone, Mrs. Ross Boake, Miss Margaret Stephens and Mrs. N. N. Bentley drove to Edmonton last Friday to attend the performance there of "South Pacific," produced by the Edmonton Light Opera company.

Miss Martha Smith, a cousin of Mrs. Melvin Hill, who is a nurse on the staff of the University hospital in Edmonton, will be a guest of Mr and Mrs. Hill for the Easter week end.

Ken Brown, son of Mr and Mrs. Jack Brown, is home for the Easter week end. Ken is employed in the grocery business in Didsbury, Alta.

Mrs. J. M. Duncan of Edmonton visited her brother-in-law and sister, Mr and Mrs A. M. West this week.

Dr Herbert Storey of Calgary was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. West over the week end.

Gopher's Sojourn Proves Short

While not the first to report seeing a gopher this year Roy Downey is the first boy to report actually snaring one and he had the evidence to prove it. Roy snared his gopher last Saturday while in company with Larry Nowak and Miles Warren.

Along the lines of the awakening of Mother Nature for another season are the reports of crows and starlings seen by Frank Wolters in the Tolland district while crows seem to be fairly numerous north of town, a number of people noting them.

There was a total of over 3 inches of snowfall during the last week with snow coming down on the 22nd, 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th. All this snow coupled with winds of from 20 to 28 miles per hour during five days in the week have resulted in almost discouraging condition of the roads in the whole district.

Islay Couple Married In Pretty Afternoon Ceremony at United Church

The First United church Vermilion was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday, March 23, at 3:00 P. M., when Doreen Victoria McFadyen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McFadyen of Islay, became the bride of Thomas Richard Brown, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown of Islay. Rev. C. W. MacKay performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white lace and nylon net over satin with high neckline and lily point sleeves. Her headpiece was of nylon net edged with pearls and sequins on her crown. Her veil was finger tip length. Her jewellery was an ice blue rhinestone necklace and earring set, belonging to her mother. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Isabel Gordon of Vermilion, who chose a floor length gown of green nylon net with cap and mitts to match. She carried a bouquet of orange blossoms. William Brown, brother of the groom was best man. The ushers were Arnold Winter and Francis Dixon, brothers-in-law of the bride. Mrs. D. C. Folk played the wedding music.

A reception followed in the banquet room of the Brunswick hotel. The bride's table was centred with a triple-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was made and decorated by the bride's mother. Mrs. Doyle and Kay McKenzie served at the reception.

The bride's mother received the guests wearing a pale blue dress with pink accessories and pink apple blossoms on corsage. A wine dress with wine accessories was chosen by the groom's mother, whose corsage was of pink apple blossoms.

Rev. C. W. MacKay proposed the toast to the bride, which was ably responded to by the groom.

For their honeymoon trip, the bride changed to a blue suit with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink rose buds.

The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm at Islay.

Banker Dies

James Walker, well remembered here as a former manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce died in Edmonton on Tuesday. He was 69 years of age. Mr. Walker left here in 1924 when he was appointed an inspector at head office in Toronto. He is survived by his widow, one daughter Mrs. Hunt and two sons, Roy of the R. C. A. F. at St. Hubert, Que., and Keith of Hamilton.

Shower In Honor Of Young Couple

A shower was held in the basement of the Alliance Chapel in honor of Miss Betty Coulter and Mr. Earl Clark whose marriage will take place on Saturday, April 7. The hall was decorated with yellow and white streamers for the occasion.

Several games were played under the direction of the Alliance Youth Fellowship executive.

The gifts were presented to the young couple by Reggie Jensen, nephew of the groom, and Candas Clendenning who were dressed up as cowboy and cowgirl. They were pulling a miniature hayrack loaded with the gifts.

After the gifts were opened a delicious lunch was served by the Ladies' Prayer Band.

Miss Mary Coulter, sister of the bride was in charge of the guest book; there were about 90 present to honor this couple.

Mr. McNair, at the close of the evening spoke a few very fitting words.

Salvation Army's National Appeal To Commence May 1st

The Salvation Army's National Red Shield Appeal for funds will begin on May 1, and run until May 22, according to Air Marshall W. A. Bishop, V. C., C. B., D. S. O., M. C., D. F. C., E. D., LL. D., Chairman of The Salvation Army's National Advisory Board.

Commenting on the current "plethora of publicity" advocating united fund-raising, the Air Marshall said: "It is to the advantage of Canada and Canadians to see that The Salvation Army with its national network of need-meeting institutions and services is adequately supported. The Army cannot afford not to reach its objectives, and united fund-raising is not always successful. It is gratifying to know, however, that the sign of the Red Shield has been, every year across Canada, the sign of objectives reached or exceeded."

"As incongruous as it may seem in the face of maintained national prosperity, human need is making itself increasingly known," the Air Marshall said. "The Salvation Army in Canada is caring for twice as many persons as it did ten years ago. The need for a successful appeal is therefore urgent and vital."

Feeders' Day At The University

The University of Alberta was founded just one year after Alberta became a province and fifteen years later the Animal Science department began holding their annual Feeders' Day. According to Dr. L. W. McElroy, Professor of Animal Science at the university, the 35th Annual Feeders' Day will be held this year on Saturday, June 2, at the university livestock farm in Edmonton.

Last year a record crowd of some 1200 attended this popular event and another record crowd is expected this year. Final details of the program will be released later in the Standard. The date again, Saturday, June 2, at the university livestock farm in Edmonton.

Report At Annual Meeting Surveys Work of Agricultural Services Board

The following survey of the work of the Agricultural Service Board of the Vermilion River M.D., was given at the annual ratepayers' meeting held recently in Kitscoty. Members of the Board are Jim Wallington, chairman, Vermilion; John Anderson, Dewberry; Henry Haan, Rivercourse; Sol Lemp, Dewberry; E. H. Buckingham, Vermilion; Albert Hozack, Streamstown; Joseph Batty, Kitscoty.

Three Agricultural Service Board meetings were held during the year. Owing to unfavorable weather and the lack of necessary weed inspectors, our weed program fell short of being complete. In some districts, very little spraying was done, resulting in lots of Canada and Sow Thistle maturing and blowing over the country. In this Municipal District, Canada and Sow Thistle are on the increase; also Tartary Buckwheat and in some districts, Toad Flax. 27,888 lbs. of Sodium Chlorate were sold at a reduced rate to be used on Toad Flax—about one-third less than previous years. Sodium Chlorate is sold to farmers at $5.00 per keg of 112 lbs., but we have no guarantee that this price is going to be in effect after this year. The regular price is $14.50 per keg.

TARTARY BUCKWHEAT

Tartary Buckwheat has many of the characteristics of wild oats—once it infests a piece of land, it is very difficult to eradicate. If you have Tartary Buckwheat, call at your District Agriculturist's office at Vermilion, or the Municipal Office at Kitscoty and get a pamphlet — "Control of Tartary Buckwheat in Alberta, Publication No. 5"

Be careful about the seed you use, and be particularly cautious if you are buying it from someone who has Tartary Buckwheat on his farm. Spread a good sample of your seed on white paper, and check it carefully. Never use seed containing Tartary Buckwheat.

BANGS PROGRAM

Our Bangs Program seems to be going along real smoothly this year; to date 6,384 heifer calves have been vaccinated for Bangs and as weather and roads permit, we hope the Bangs program will be completed before spring.

WARBLE FLY CONTROL

Approximately 30,000 head of cattle in the Municipal District of Vermilion River No. 71 are treated for warble flies each year. Try to make 1956 an exceptionally good year and boost the warble fly control program.

LOUSE CONTROL IN CATTLE

Next to warbles, lice are considered our most important live stock pest. It is estimated that 90% of the western cattle are lousy in some degree. Lice of two general types are common: (1) biting lice and (2) blood sucking lice. The sucking type are most common. They cause general unthriftiness and where populations are high, can remove enough blood to cause anaemia; in severe cases, they can be the direct cause of death. Lice are responsible for loss of flesh, lower milk production and weakening of the animal, making it more susceptible to disease. Call at your District Agriculturist's office in Vermilion and get a pamphlet "Louse Control in Cattle" Publication No. 73.

SEED DRILL SURVEY

100 samples were taken out of the seed drills the spring of 1955. A copy of the analysis was mailed to each farmer. Grading figured out at 30% — No. 1, 14% — No. 2, 16% — No. 3 and 40% — Rejected. If you have not a good cleaning plant at home, give your nearest seed cleaning plant a try for one year. I'm sure you will be satisfied and well repaid.

900 RATS KILLED

To date, approximately 900 rats have been killed in the eastern part of this municipal district. 721 farms have been checked for rats; 408 farms rechecked once or more; 129 farms reported infested; 64 farms infested but now exterminated, 2 farms exterminated but re-infested. 1925 lbs. of ready-mix warfarin bait and 369 pkts of water soluble warfarin have been distributed in 1955. I might say that if we are going to reasonably hold down the rat population, we are certainly going to have to get a lot more co-operation than we have had in the past year. I certainly would urge that every farmer and residents of towns, villages and hamlets put their best efforts forward, from now on, and keep checking on their property, for rats live in the most unexpected places. If you suspect rats, phone us at 49 Kitscoty, for we have a stock of warfarin poison. The only way we can keep rats out is for everyone to make up his mind that he is not going to have rats. It costs approximately $20.00 per year to maintain a rat. It is estimated that in any given community, the rat population equals that of human inhabitants. Rats are very prolific, producing an average of five litters annually of from five to nine rats each. The cost of feeding a rat is generally estimated at one-half cent per day, or nearly $2.00 per annum. Assuming that the number of rats in Canada equals that of the human population, the cost of feeding these dangerous pests amounts to approximately $25,000,000.00 per annum. As the value of material destroyed or damaged by rats in addition to what they actually eat is estimated to be 110 times this amount, we find that the annual cost of maintaining our normal rat population reaches the staggering sum of $275,000,000.00. On the same basis, when rats become established in Alberta, the annual loss will be in the neighborhood of $25,000,000.00.

COYOTE CONTROL

To date 252 Stakes, 946 Shells, 187 Bottles of Scent, 3,888 Strychnine Pellets, 24 ozs. Strychnine, 2120 cups, 55 lbs. beef fat have been issued to 178 farmers. Only 41 farmers have sent in reports of 353 coyotes killed. We cannot give a reasonable estimate of coyotes killed if you will not send in your reports.

This year about 50,000 homes will have to be moved from the paths of new highways or be wrecked. In the St. Lawrence Seaway project whole towns are on the move. But moving a house by today's methods says the current Readers Digest does not necessitate removing furniture or even China. Pictures can stay on the walls, cups can be left hanging on their hooks, a full glass of water on a table won't spill a drop. In one recent instance, two four-family houses were moved half a mile. The families stayed in their apartments ... drawing water from a tank truck and electricity from a portable ...

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH by Russ Arnold

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane, Women's Travel Authority

Suppose you came across an automobile accident involving others. You want to play the "good samaritan." But do you know how?

Misguided aid can twist a minor calamity into a major catastrophe. Here are the "do's" and "don'ts" to remember.

(1) Don't be in such a hurry to help that you set the scene for another accident. Pull off to the side of the road and close your car doors before rushing to the victims.

(2) Do call the police immediately and ask them to send an ambulance—or ask another motorist to do so.

(3) Don't move injured people. Cover them up and prop their heads to make them more comfortable, if you can. This rule should be disregarded only in case of fire in the car.

(4) Do set up signal flares at night about 300 feet away from the accident to warn oncoming traffic. All trucks carry these and will gladly co-operate if necessary. In fact, every motorist should carry them for his own protection.

(5) Do administer first-aid if you are qualified. Otherwise wait for the doctor.

(6) Don't smoke near the scene of an accident. Spilled gas can ignite.

When you offer assistance to an accident victim be sure your helping hand is no handicap.

National Good Turn

During Canadian National Wildlife Week, April 8 to 14, Canadian Boy Scouts will launch their national good turn for 1956, "CONSERVATION". Every member of the Association, from the youngest Wolf Cub to the Chief Commissioner will have an opportunity to participate.

Typical of the Canada-wide ceremonies marking the start of the Good Turn will be a rally of several thousand Scouts in City Hall Square in Toronto. There will be a twelve foot sign featuring the slogan "Serve by Conserving" will be unveiled and the Scouts will make the Conservation Pledge. A symbolic tree will be planted. Later the Scouts will re-enact the ceremony in their home communities.

NEWS from ISLAY

A happy group left on the train Tuesday morning for the coast. The group was composed of Mrs. Fyfe, Mrs Annie Young, Mrs. Win Torrance, Mrs. King and two children, Mrs. Garry Kay and two boys.

Mrs. Nora Carey left on the same train for Edmonton to attend her daughter May's graduation. May is now an X-ray technician and will be stationed at Elk Point hospital.

Two carloads of men attended the hockey game in Edmonton last Saturday night.

Mr and Mrs Gerald Kent of Marwayne were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martin recently. Phyllis Kent, their small daughter, is a patient in the Islay hospital.

Rev. Chas. J. Smith, secretary of prairie provinces of the Mission to Lepers, was a guest in the United church Sunday. He showed a film on leper work and gave a brief address.

The April 5th W. A. meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vera MacLean.

On Friday we had a quilting bee at Mrs Vi Schaffer's. Mrs. Sweet, Mrs. Olds, Edith Olds and Muriel Stone were present and got it off the frames too.

Hi! Mrs. Fortin at Tulliby Lake! Wonder if you have as much snow as here — no buses yesterday nor today (Tuesday). School attendance is very poor, and we can say our hospital is about filled.

Noticed George Macheil with his jeep hauling Dave Martin's car out of a drift. After all, it has been snowing for two days now.

The 4-H sewing club meeting was held at Yvonne Hannon's on March 7th. Gladys Olds acted as president in the absence of Vera Budzilka. The pledge was repeated. Laundry bags have been started and the treasurer reported $4.05 on hand. Roll call was answered with a motto. Next meeting's roll call will be answered with a neckline we like best and the meeting will be held at Gladys Olds home. Shirley Fortien gave a vote of thanks to Mrs Hannon for the lovely lunch and for opening her home. It was also decided to have a tea for the mothers on the 28th.

Mrs Tom James of Edmonton and daughter Mrs. Mary Costie of Winnipeg accompanied by Mr and Mrs. Lester Watt of Edmonton, called on Mr. and Mrs. Dave Buchanan and Mr and Mrs. James Allan on Sunday afternoon. Mr. James was not able to come as he had an important Legion meeting to attend. The James family lived here some years ago, where Russel Buchanan now resides.

Happy birthday and many more to Mr Dave Buchanan and Mr. Herb Simmons, on March 21. Both are on in their 70's.

Hotelmen Offer 53 Major Awards To Alberta High School Graduates

Alberta High school graduates this year will be eligible to apply for Alberta Hotel Association scholarships tenable at the University of Alberta.

Officials of the A.H.A. announced that 53 major awards will be offered to high school graduates and scholarships totaling $2000 will be made to the Banff School of Fine Arts summer session, $2000 in scholarships to the Food Training plan at the Calgary Institute of Technology and Art; $1000 in scholarships to the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta and $5000 has been put into a special fund to assist pupils attending public and separate schools. Approximately $30,000 will be spent by Alberta Hotelmen to further education in the province this year.

Since the project of awarding scholarships was adopted by the Association in 1952, 190 students have been started on their way to higher education at the U. of A. 40 students have attended the Banff School of Fine Arts on A.H.A. scholarships, and 30 public and separate school pupils in grades 10, 11 and 12 have been financially assisted in their studies. In all, a total of $131,300 has been spent by Alberta Hotelmen to assist 275 students in various phases of study during four years of operation.

Members of the scholarship selection committee are considering a proposal of a four-week course in hotel administration at the Banff School of Fine Arts. It is intended that such a course will provide a basis of fully-trained personnel for Alberta hotels to further increase their service to the general public and community.

Scholarships offered by the A.H.A. are available to students residing in Alberta only and are designed to cover fees and expenses during a specified term of study.

Five major scholarships tenable at the U. of A. are awarded in Edmonton; five in Calgary, three in the Peace River area; 20 in the Northern zone, 10 in the Central zone, and 10 in the Southern zone. Basis of all selections are on academic standing and financial need to applicants who have reached the matriculation standing.

Students residing in either Edmonton or Calgary attending the University in either of these centres will receive awards of $250, while rural students attending the U. of A. in Edmonton, or the branch of the university in Calgary, will each receive awards valued at $500. Awards of $500 each will be granted to Calgary students who cannot obtain their chosen course in Calgary and are obliged to attend the university in Edmonton.

Descriptive literature and application forms will be mailed to all Grade 12 graduates within the next three or four weeks. School inspectors, teachers and student councils are being advised of the scholarships and hotelmen throughout the province will have information available for distribution to interested students.

Where We Excel

An Arizona builder is providing private swimming pools with houses priced to sell for $10,000.

Thus, comments The Financial Post, another symbol of wealth bites the dust. The rare becomes the common as have many things in North America in the past quarter century. A private swimming pool is no longer the hallmark of a vast fortune. It's true, there's a difference between a small pool in the back yard and a glass-enclosed, heated luxury affair. But not as much difference as there is between a swimming pool and a bath tub. Similarly, while there's a difference between driving a Cadillac and a second hand car of the cheaper makes — there's not much difference as there is between driving a second hand cheap car and riding a bicycle.

This spread of luxury goods into the mass market is one of the most important economic and political facts of life in our generation in North America.

This is what keeps our economy booming. The mass market is the real secret weapon of capitalism. It is the basic difference between the North American economy and that of all other lands.

Safety Sam Says...

Taming Lions is no trick... compared to speeding when it's slick!

We'll bet even a lion-tamer wouldn't consider speeding over slippery roads. Because if he did, his chances of living long enough to do any more lion-taming wouldn't be so good. Just like your chances of doing any more of whatever you like to do wouldn't be so good. It's a thought to consider, what with Winter all around us.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by W. G. MALAHER, Director, Research Department, [illegible]

It is always interesting to follow what is happening in those countries which are normally our competitors in the export of grains and other agricultural products. Agriculture in Argentine, it seems, has been long neglected but there are indications that changes in agricultural policy already made by the new Argentine Government, or contemplated by it, may have far reaching effects upon future production in that country.

Under the Peron regime, minimum grain prices were fixed in advance each year, and all exports were handled by a state agency. Thus both domestic markets and farmers' receipts were entirely independent of, and bore no relation to, the prices earned by exports in world markets. This is now to be changed. The new Government has, in fact, taken several steps of real importance to agricultural producers. The first of these was to increase the official export exchange rate on grains and most other important commodities, main effect of which was to eliminate the subsidy on grain exports brought about by the previous very unrealistic exchange rate. Secondly, in order to encourage greater production for domestic use and export, it has established substantially higher producer prices for all grains and oilseed crops, the full effects of which will be seen next year.

Finally the government has announced its intention, beginning with the crop year 1956-57, of returning the grain business to private hands. In future crop years, producer prices will be in the form of minimum or floor prices at which the state will buy the crops if better prices are not attainable privately.

In Western Germany, mild weather has prevailed. In northern parts of the Federal Republic temperatures have only on occasion been below freezing, while in southern Germany, light night frosts have been fairly regular. However, the soil became free from frost during the day. Because of the abnormally warm weather, winter cereals have begun to develop and ploughing operations for spring sowing have also made progress.

MANNVILLE & DISTRICT LOCALS

Several local residents motored to Edmonton on Saturday and on Sunday to see the Hockey game and the curling in the city.

Messrs. A. Bodard, R. Hay, W. Osborn of Mannville and Mr. G. Brinton of Vegreville are curling in the Old Timers Bonspiel in Edmonton this week.

Weather and more weather and blocked roads! That is still the topic of conversation, but it was amazing to see a farmer just north of town driving in with a team this week. He has been astride a horse in the last year or two, but it must be many a day since he rode behind them. That's what you get for being a farmer, Wes.

The Ladies Bonspiel at Vermilion is on this week, but it has been very difficult to complete three local rinks to attend, as those in the country are unable to get in.

The Red Cross canvass for the town is almost complete and the amount collected to date is now $433. This is still short of the $600, it was hoped to raise. There is still time for anyone interested to leave donations.

Four local Elks attended the one day spiel in Wainwright and came home with the trophy. Messrs. Len Manz, Jack Park, Malcolm Morrison and Phil May formed the rink to capture this trophy.

Most of the high school students and some of the lower grades as well are staying in town until the roads open up. The bus drivers never know from one day to the next what the weather and road conditions are going to be. The bus drivers should be commended upon the way in which they have tried to bring the students to and from school. The Councillors and the M. D. road men too, are to be praised for doing their very best to keep the bus routes open.

Mrs. A. M. Rutherford, who is a Director of the Edmonton Council of the Canadian Cancer Society, was in Edmonton on Friday and meeting of the Edmonton Division and on Saturday the Provincial Annual meeting.

Delegates from the various W. I.'s in the district attended the W. I. conference in Edmonton early this week. Mrs. J. I. Jones attended from Mannville as a delegate from Birch Creek W. I. She is a past director of District no. 2.

Friends and former neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Birch will be interested in the news that their granddaughter, Karen Allison came first in the 1955 B. C. Music Festival in the pianoforte class under thirteen and second in the class under sixteen. She was selected to play on Stairway to Stardom in Vancouver. Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Allison (Mrs. Allison is the former Olga Birch), Vancouver.

The Happy Hour Group invited the Anglican congregation to a 'Pot Luck' Supper in the Parish Hall on Friday last. Due to bad weather and bad roads, many were unable to attend the Loyalty Dinner of McQueen Memorial Congregation the previous night and as the ladies had prepared for 200 people there was plenty of turkey and 'trimming' left. Adults and children alike enjoyed the supper.

A surprise house warming was held on Saturday, March 17th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Scott when about fifty friends and neighbors of the Chailey and Wealthy districts invaded their home in Mannville. Mr. and Mrs. Scott have just recently moved into town. Cards and games were enjoyed, followed by a lovely lunch brought by the guests. Mr and Mrs. Scott were presented with a beautiful tri-light lamp for their new home.

Report from Alberta Legislature by Ken Mason

New Laws Governing Motorists And Hunters Proposed by Legislature

EDMONTON New and stronger laws governing motorists and sportsmen were proposed in bills introduced by the government in the legislature last week.

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor, Drumheller outlined changes in the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act which would require drivers involved in accidents to show proof of financial responsibility or have their cars confiscated.

Lands and Forests Minister Norman A. Willmore, Edson, introduced amendments to the Game Act requiring hunters to obtain permission before shooting on any private land — posted or unposted.

If the legislature passes the new vehicle traffic bill, it will go into effect next October 1. It will see the introduction of "financial responsibility cards", issued either by insurance companies or by the government.

What it boils down to is this: If you are involved in an accident and are covered by insurance, you produce the card to prove it. If you are not insured and carry no card, your car is impounded.

For purposes of the new law, financial responsibility will mean public liability insurance of at least $5000 for one person and $10,000 for two or more injured and property damage insurance for $1000.

Anyone not wishing to deal with an insurance company will be able to provide himself with protection by depositing cash or surety bonds totalling $11,000 with the provincial registrar of vehicles.

The bill is patterned after similar regulations in Manitoba and British Columbia.

In some respects, it is a compromise between two types of programs which have been suggested for several years by CCF and the Liberal members in the legislature.

The CCF has asked for a program of government-sponsored compulsory car insurance at cost while the Liberals have asked for laws requiring every driver to provided himself with insurance. Both of these programs would be compulsory, while the system introduced by Mr. Taylor would be voluntary.

The highways minister outlined the details of the plan while the house was discussing the annual CCF motion on car insurance.

NEW LAWS TO GOVERN HUNTERS

From all indications, the game act amendment was more or less forced on Mr Willmore, and privately he is not too happy about it.

Originally the government had not intended to introduce it this year but did so at the insistence of the Social Credit caucus. The house last year passed a resolution asking for legislation to make it illegal for anyone to hunt on private property without first gaining permission.

In addition, there was pressure from various farm groups which have presented briefs to the cabinet in recent months.

Mr Willmore's main concern is with enforcing the proposed new law. Enforcement likely will depend almost entirely on farmers reporting violations.

There also is a question of whether the new regulations infringe on federal laws covering trespassing. Some officials say that landowners already are protected under the Criminal Code, and the province is not supposed to legislate in federal fields.

Another section of the bill would permit farmers to post signs reading "Hunting Allowed". In such cases permission would not be needed. This is to satisfy farmers who don't want to be bothered with hunters asking permission.

There is another provision dealing with the posting of "No Shooting" signs. Any farmer who posts would have to keep everyone off his land INCLUDING visiting friends and relatives. The only ones allowed to shoot would be members of his family who live with him.

The bill hadn't received final approval from the house at the time of writing, and before passing it the government was expected to hear arguments from the Fish and Game Association.

NEW ELECTION ACT IS BIGGEST ISSUE

The new Elections Act, which would return the "X" system of marking ballots to provincial elections has become the biggest issue of the current session.

As of last Friday, members had debated it for nine hours — six hours on second reading and three hours in committee of the whole assembly. Many more hours of debate were anticipated.

The opposition is claiming the government wants to change the voting system for political advantage using the "X" system to split up the opposition vote among two or more parties.

Members of the house are working long hours in an effort to finish the session before Good Friday. If the assembly can't be prorogued this week, there will have to be a short adjournment followed by a brief sitting in April.

NEWS from KITSCOTY

Mrs. Elmer 'Buzz' Birkett, Mrs. P Uniat and Mr Lawrence Watt were patients in Lloydminster hospital last week. We are pleased to report they are home again and feeling a lot better.

Mrs. E. H. Sheppard and Mrs. H. Batty have been ill at home for the past week with the flu.

Although Mrs. Tim Bootsman is still in hospital she is steadily improving and hopes to be home soon.

Mr Newman C Browne of Edmonton spent the week end here, going to his farm, and visiting relatives and friends in town.

Bill Potter of St. Paul paid a surprise visit to his folks Mr and Mrs Alex Potter last week.

Guests at the home of Mr and Mrs E. Joy over the week end were Miss Arlene Joy and Miss Nancy Jacobsen, Miss Arlet Hansen and Miss Marlene Hansen of the Zarlie district spent Saturday with the girls prior to going by bus to Calgary where they will train as nurses aides at the vocational training school there.

Mrs. J R. Fox had the misfortune to fall down on some ice and fracture a bone in her arm above the wrist last Monday. Best wishes for a speedy and complete recovery.

Mr James A. Smith M P who is spending the Easter vacation at his home in Vermilion with his family, was a visitor in town Monday renewing old acquaintances.

EASTER PLAY

The Kitscoty United Church Sunday school will hold an open service on Easter Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Kitscoty town hall. There will be a play entitled "The Easter Lily". Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend and worship with the children.

Big Spending

Consumer spending was the big spur to expansion throughout 1955, reflecting in part the sharp rise in personal incomes, sums up The Financial Post. All types of consumer purchases showed gains with the major advance being chalked up by the buyers of consumer durable goods such as stoves, TV sets, refrigerators, cars etc. Per capita consumption of durables soared 40% above the year 1949. Consumer outlays and housing expenditures together account for half the increase in what Canadians spent in 1955.

Health Unit Notes

UNDERWEIGHT AND ITS DANGER

Anyone 20 per cent or more below his ideal weight is considered underweight. Definite underweight is not desirable in young people who are still growing. It may be a symptom of a disease. The glandular disorders so often erroneously blamed for overweight are much more likely to show themselves in loss of weight or inability to gain. Even when there is nothing wrong, people whose weight is too far below normal are more likely to suffer from fatigue and poor physical endurance. Resistance to infection is often lowered. Tuberculosis strikes more often among adolescents and young people who are underweight than it does among those whose weight is closer to what it should be.

WHAT CAUSES UNDERWEIGHT?

Certain diseases and glandular disorders can cause underweight. In healthy people, however, underweight comes from eating too little, from poor eating habits, from overactivity or too little rest, and from worry or prolonged tension.

Many people eat too little for much the same reasons which make others eat too much. Habit frequently plays a part. Meals are irregular in some families, sometimes poorly prepared, and eating is considered the least important of the day's activities. It is not surprising if the children from such families grow up with an indifferent attitude toward food.

Emotions may also play a part. The feeling of being unloved, dissatisfaction with personal relationships, discontent over job, money, or social restrictions, and other reasons of this kind cause some people to react with indifference to eating just as they cause others to overeat. Keen rivalry, a wish to take part in everything, or too great an absorption in school or in social activities sometimes causes overactivity and underweight among adolescents.

HOW TO GAIN WEIGHT

As in overweight, the first step is to see a physician and have a thorough physical examination. It is important to find and correct anything which may be wrong. Efforts to gain may be useless unless this is done.

The same principles apply to gaining weight as to losing it, but in reverse. Underweight people must take in more calories than they use, so that there will be some left over to store as fat.

Will power can be as great a factor in gaining weight as it is in losing, particularly for people who do not like many of the essential foods. They must learn to say "yes" to enough of the right foods, regardless of their wishes, just as firmly as their fat friends need to say "no" to forbidden extras.

As in overweight, it is important first to include the essential foods in the day's meals. These foods are necessary for maximum health whether a person's weight is too high, too low, or just right. Some underweight individuals whose food choices have been poor may find that they are able to gain merely by making sure that they include these foods in their diet. Others need to study ways to add extra calories.

SAVING ENERGY

The body uses fewer calories at rest than when active, and least of all during sleep. Therefore, any extra sleep or rest which an underweight person gets will help him to gain. Whatever energy can be saved during waking hours by riding instead of walking, sitting instead of standing, and relaxing as often as possible will add to the calories saved.

A healthy person who decides to gain weight and who sticks to his program of taking in more calories than he needs, and of spending as few as possible in needless physical activity, can be sure that sooner or later his efforts will meet with success.

HELPFUL HINTS

1. Eat regular meals at regular times. Omitting a meal, particularly breakfast, is a strain on the body and a major cause of fatigue.
2. Never eat when emotionally upset or overtired. Relax or rest first.
3. Highly seasoned foods stimulate the appetite.
4. Clear tea, coffee or bouillon have no calorie value and may be freely used when reducing. Take thick soups to gain weight.

Of Many Things . . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

LIFE'S FABRIC

He told me about it as we rode together on the train from the town where he was born to the big city where he worked. He'd been called out home because his mother, at 81, suffered a severe stroke, and he had watched her fighting for her life.

"As I watched her," he said, "I kept thinking of her as a little girl, Sally May Jones, walking miles and miles to school, then home to milk the cows and do so many chores. It is only when the end seems near that one becomes so concerned about the beginnings. I thought of her marriage and the struggle to raise a family and all the dreams she must have had in those days. And I wondered what regrets must be in her mind now with the end threatening and many of the dreams unfulfilled.

"We were at her bedside at the little hospital—her three sons—and I suppose we were all wondering the same thing. Then we noticed that she was trying to tell us something although paralysis had made speech difficult for her. We leaned forward anxiously and finally we were able to understand.

"She was trying desperately hard to tell us that at home we would find oatmeal cookies in the earthenware crock in the cupboard, and that there was meat cooked and ready to eat. 'Bring up a sealer of fruit from the basement . . . anything you like' she said."

He told me that it took them back somewhat to think that at this hour, when they thought her every energy was devoted to her fight for life, that instead, her mind was on supper for her boys. Her life had taught her that the mind is best occupied with small everyday things that form the fabric of a good life . . . the oatmeal cookies and suppers for the boys. The dreams lose substance but these daily things are real and immediate and important.

She is recovering from her stroke, he says, and should still have some summers in the sun to sit and look back. Not to dream of what might have been but to savour the countless things that were . . . Gardens planted, meals served, a useful life fully lived, and many sorrows and difficulties met courageously. Little Sally May Jones has much that was worthwhile to look back upon.

Achievement Day at the School of Agriculture was held on Wednesday afternoon of last week. A new and interesting feature was the series of eight display booths occupying the east wall of the gymnasium. In several departments the quality of work was even better than usual and the exhibits as a whole showed a greater variety and quantity than last year. In the stock section the cold weather prevented the classes from being held out of doors and they were put on in the stock judging pavilion.

No brushes or soap in a natural gas "Scrubbing Plant" . . . but here a cleaning job is done to remove certain elements from gas that would reduce its efficiency as a fuel. To further purify "wet" or "sour" gas dehydrators are used to remove water vapor while absorption towers take out unwanted petroleum liquids. This "processing" is a vital part of natural gas service. SNOW PLOW MEN WORK HARD

Today (Tuesday) it's storming again and blocking many roads once more. It's too bad whoever wrote that letter in the paper couldn't ride a few times with snowplow men and they would soon see that they worked much longer hours and more days than they said. This has been a very unusual winter and council lors and snowplow men have been at their wits' end. We, along with a lot of others think more reason should have been used before writing that letter. The snowplow operators are good at opening roads where people are sick, in fact, they opened roads this winter to learn on arriving that no one was sick after being told they were.

SHOWER FOR BERNA

A lovely evening was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin in town last Saturday when they put on a shower for Berna Seuffert. It was comprised mostly of Wildmere and Basswood folks. Berna spent a good part of her childhood in Wildmere before her parents moved to town.

Ten games of "Cootie" were played with Alice Seuffert winning the ladies' prize (a pair of earrings) and Laurence Graham the men's prize (a pair of socks); Mr. and Mrs. Ted Riley got the consolation prize. After the tables were cleared away, a big box with a lucky gold horse shoe on it was brought in loaded with gifts.

Berna and Johnny, the honored guests, were called upon to open them and a wonderful lot of useful gifts were received. Afterwards they both heartily thanked everyone for their kindness. A tasty lunch brought the pleasant evening to a close.

GAY NINETIES DANCE

The writer and husband attended the Gay 90's dance last Friday night in town where a good time was enjoyed. Young and Fortier furnished the music and T. Thompson was M.C. Mr. and Mrs. W. Funnell sang two songs during the supper hour. Everyone enjoys hearing them sing. Mr. Young recorded it on his recording machine.

We were pleased to see Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Gould on Saturday, and also others who have been snowbound. Cheer up, folks, this is the first day of spring although it doesn't look much like it when you look outside at this blizzard that's raging!

Mrs. W. T. Garnett is attending the A. W. I. Convention in Edmonton. Mrs. F. Gibson is also in Edmonton, attending the Cancer convention being held there this week.

No End To Canada's Mining Boom

There is no foreseeable end to Canada's current mining boom, says writer and economist Peter Newman, writing in the current issue of Maclean's magazine.

Only one-fifth of Canada's one million square miles of favorable mineral prospecting ground has so far been closely investigated, says Newman, according to an estimate made by R. A. Graves, of the federal Department of Mines and Technical Surveys Mineral Resources Division.

In addition, the Maclean's writer reports, "geologists believe that at least half of our 900,000 square miles of potential oil-bearing land remains unexplored."

We are still using only a quarter of our hydro-electric power. And government experts estimate our potential of nuclear power is twenty-five times greater than the country's total hydro resources.

MR. J. W. McKAY, Director of Safety Education, Department of Highways.

YOUR ABILITY TO DRIVE

There are five important factors that tend to make driving a challenging job instead of a cinch.

(1) Power and limitations of the car.

(2) Physical features of the road.

(3) Behavior of other highway users.

(4) Changing weather and light conditions.

(5) The make-up of the driver.

The driver himself is one of the most complicating of the factors which keep driving from being a cinch. No matter how physically qualified he may be or how much knowledge he possesses, it is the manner in which he applies them that counts. This is known as

ATTITUDES.

In this issue I want to deal with physical qualifications.

PHYSICAL

Too many drivers fail to realize the effect their general health has on their driving; too many drivers fail to realize what their physical requirements should be. There are drivers who have defective driving vision and are unaware of such. Some of the fatal accidents are caused by drivers who have a defective part in their physical make up and had they been aware of it they could have compensated for it and avoided the accident, thereby saving a life.

Some small part of the car can break or come loose and thereby affect the operation of the whole car. So it is with the driver. He can give more satisfactory performance when all his physical parts are working perfectly.

Under the headings of "PHYSICAL DISABILITIES" we have sub-headings such as

(1) Disabilities that permit correction.

(2) Disabilities that do not permit correction.

(3) Disabilities that temporarily disqualify.

(1) Disabilities That Permit Correction

(A) Defects of the sense organs

(1a) EYESIGHT

(aa) Visual Acuity

VISUAL ACUITY

Where the automobile goes depends on the driver; what the driver does depends, greatly, on what he learns through his vision about changing traffic conditions. Sight of danger, for instance, is a signal which sets off a reaction. Many reactions which the driver has depends on the sight-signal he gets. Therefore, if his actions are to be true his signals must be true and these can only be when his vision is good.

The eye is a delicate organism with many parts. Like the driver or the car, these parts must all work perfectly and in harmony if the eye is to give its maximum performance.

The most obvious function of the eye is to give a clear picture of what is in front of you. To be able to see in detail is Visual Acuity.

Wildmere Women's Institute Notes

The March meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Garnett in-[illegible] of at Mrs. Sweeney's owing to the road being blocked. Only 10 members were present. The meeting opened with "O Canada" and the Creed. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Gifts for perfect attendance were dropped, as through the years several have had perfect attendance. One of our members has had perfect attendance for five years straight. Our March project was a donation to the polio fund.

Mrs. R. Dibben read the treasurer's report. We are not very rich at present. Mrs. W. J. Garnett moved acceptance of the report.

Owing to the storm on March 3, our bake sale had to be cancelled. Mrs. Garnett made a motion that each member pay in a dollar to help out our funds; seconded by Mrs. L. Howard. The ten members present handed in their share.

Correspondence: Letters from the Legion re polio fund; from Society for the Blind, and also from the Arthritis Society; a note from Mrs. Mead re the Convention in Edmonton, March 21 and 22nd. Mrs. W. T. Garnett is to be our delegate.

We are glad our Constituency Director, Mrs. J. Bielish of Warspite, was elected trustee to Smoky Lake School Division.

It was planned to write C. A. C. regardig measuring cups.

Mrs. Holte read a selection concerning arrangements of centre pieces made out of native materials.

Our topic was [illegible] United Nations, to be given by Mrs. R. Martin but she was unable to come. Mrs. W. J. Garnett gave a couple of short topics, one on the Meditation Room at the United Nations centre in New York. A 350 year old oak tree trunk is in the centre of the room.

The other paper was on the Graceful Fountain which belongs to the children of the world. The idea started in Seattle, Wash. It took $50,000 to build. The money was collected by teachers and pupils of the United States. Around its base are black pebbles, gathered and sent by the women and children of Greece. When a school girl dedicated it she said "May our fountain remind you of your obligations to the youth of the world". These two papers were very interesting.

Owing to the suddenness of change of place of meeting no Johnny Jump Up was pulled, and there was no social. The meeting was closed with singing "The Queen". Mrs. Garnett and helpers then served a tasty lunch.

Next meeting is on April 4, at Mrs. Whitlock's home in Vermilion. Roll call is to name a flower that starts with your initial. Topic is Agriculture, and Delegate's report. Social is to be taken by Mrs. Cruthers, lunch by Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Haines and Mrs. Holte.

P. S. And our president, Mrs. Gibson who collects for the Cancer Crusade, would like members to bring along their donation and save her miles of travelling.

Tomorrow's Cars

In another ten years, perhaps sooner, you'll flick the ignition key in your new gas turbine automobile and, says The Financial Post, this is what will happen:

An electric motor will spin the gas generator section of the turbine up to idling speed at 10,000 rpm. You won't know when it fires except for a faint whine, like a vacuum cleaner in a far-off part of the house. A dashboard light will tell you when you are ready to go.

There are big problems to be solved before the age of the gas turbine auto is here. Experimental models already on the road are still quite costly.

Nothing fundamental has happened to motor cars since the days of the Model T. They're bigger, brighter, smoother, faster and all the rest of it. But they are still powered in essentially the [illegible] way.

Right now the motor industry is readying itself for what may be the biggest forward leap in the industry's history. It won't be this year or in five years. But it may well be within ten. In this competitive industry they're forcing the pace of progress.

On March 7 a total of 137 million bushels were in transit in Canada about two-thirds of which was in the West compared with 9.9 million a year ago. —Budget

"Never Trifle With A Rifle" Is Subject Of Safety Essay

More than 30,000 rural school children in Alberta, in grades five, six, seven and eight, are expected to compete in the annual farm safety essay competition sponsored by the Alberta Safety Council. The theme is "Gun Safety" or "Never trifle with a rifle."

Preparations for the competition now are in progress. Hundreds of large posters outlining the rules and closing dates of the contest are being mailed to school divisions in all parts of the province.

Hon. R. D. Jorgenson, minister of public welfare, is chairman of the safety essay committee of the Safety Council. He is sending a letter to the superintendents of 65 school divisions, seeking their co-operation and advising of the forwarding of contest posters and competition rules.

In addition to the chairman, the committee is composed of Hon. A. O. Aalborg, Minister of Education, Mrs. Mabel Betts, of Edmonton, secretary, W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of schools, and H. C. Sweet, assistant chief superintendent, Rudolph Hennig, President of the Alberta School Trustees Association and A. G. Andrews, secretary, G. F. Bruce, director of the correspondence school branch, Charles Simmonds, past president of the Edmonton Safety Council, Prof. B. T. Stephanson of the University, Howard Stutchbury, Managing Director of the Safety Council, and Paul Lawrence, Safety Director for the A. S. C.

8 DEATHS ON FARMS CAUSED BY FIREARMS

During 1955, there were eight accidental deaths on farms in Alberta caused by firearms. The accidental discharge of guns around the home takes more lives than hunting accidents. Thus, the competition has been launched to promote gun safety in this province.

PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

The essay contest closes in the schools on April 20. Teachers are to send to the superintendent up to two of the best essays written by pupils in grades five and six and as many as two for grades seven and eight by April 28. The weather? Well we have had all kinds of it during the past week. One day we think that spring is here, then in the morning a little blizzard is blowing making the roads heavy again. Typical March weather so we guess we have to put up with it and hope for the best.

Mrs. M. Hoskins, Mrs. Herb Funwell and Cheryl left on Tuesday morning for Calgary where they will visit with Mrs. E. Brassgrove until after the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Coleman and family and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allen and family have moved to Sundre, Alberta where they have secured employment.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Odegard and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hawkins and family of Edgerton were Sunday visitors with old friends in town.

Aids Stranded Children

Stranded in deep snow, four boys, 8 to 12, of Wadena, Sask., were found by Queen's Lone Scout Louis Shewan of the same community recently. Finding the smallest boy almost [illegible] and unable to walk, the Scout wrapped the lad in part of his own clothing and carried him to a nearby farm where he was revived.

Scout Shewan then asked the farmer to follow with a horse and sleigh while he returned and brought the other three children to meet the sleigh. Louis was honored in Regina last summer as Saskatchewan's first Lone Scout to become a Queen's Scout.

Following heavy sales the Canadian Wheat Board has advanced the price of low grade wheat by about three cents a bushel in the last two weeks.

The Manitoba legislature has supported the principle of each advance on farm-stored grain at an interest not higher than that to be paid by the Trans-Canada Pipeline, 5¼%. —Budget

How can YOU benefit from having a Current Account?

You'll find it much easier to keep an accurate record of your current expenses when you have a Current Account.

When you pay all bills by cheque on your Current Account, you receive back, at the end of each month, all your cancelled cheques as well as a bank statement showing every withdrawal and every deposit you have made. The cancelled cheques serve as receipts—and are accepted as evidence of payment of the amount shown. Furthermore, they are much easier to file away than receipts and take less room to store. With them and your bank statement, you'll find it far easier to get an exact picture of how you spend your money.

So it's a good move to use a Current Account for paying all current bills—and keep your Savings Account for actual savings.

Graduation Exercises Held At Vermilion School of Agriculture

Graduation exercises at the Vermilion School of Agriculture took place this year on Thursday, April 5th, at which time a local girl, Hazel Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manson Barr of Vermilion, was awarded the Staff Medal for the two-in-one Home Economics class. The citation for the Staff Medal reads "For members of the Graduating Classes who, by vote of the staff, are considered to have made the greatest contribution during the term to the Academic, Social, Literary and Athletic life of the School." Other winners of staff medals are: Second Year Home Economics, Victoria Lopushinski of Star, Alberta, and in Second Year Agriculture, Ted Peck, Lake Isle, Alberta.

Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock the program started with a Fashion Parade in which the members of the Home Economics classes in sewing modelled the garments they had made during the term. The commentator, and staff member in charge of arrangements for the Fashion Parade, is Mrs. S. C. Acheson, instructress in sewing for the school.

At the completion of the Fashion Parade the formal graduation exercises were opened with an Invocation by Lieut. G. King of the Salvation Army Corps, Vermilion. R. M. Putnam, Deputy Minister of Agriculture brought greetings from the Department. The guest speaker for the occasion was Major Wm. F. Ross, Divisional Commander of the Salvation Army in Edmonton who, in the course of his address congratulated the graduating class on having completed their course at the Vermilion School of Agriculture.

A musical interlude was provided by a talented young local artist, Miss Margaret Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. Agnes M. Goodwin, who sang two solos accompanied by Miss Betty Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Bentley.

The graduates were awarded their diplomas, with those receiving first class honors being called up to the front of the auditorium first, then those with an honors standing, followed by the rest of the students each being individually presented with the rolled up diplomas.

After the graduates had received their diplomas, the presentation of scholarships and prizes took place, among which awards the Staff Medals are considered to be a recognition of major achievement at the school. The complete list of graduates appears in this issue, along with the names of the scholarships winners. Those receiving prizes will appear in the next Standard.

The graduation exercises were followed by a brief intermission before the banquet which was held at 6:30 p.m. in the dining room of the school dormitory, and to which the graduates had the privilege of inviting members of their family as guests. As in the afternoon, N. N. Bentley, Principal of the school, was the chairman, and the program consisted of toasts to Graduates, the Department of Agriculture and the School. Further details of this program will be printed in the Standard next week.

The graduation dance took place in the school auditorium from 9:00 to 2:00 p.m. with the music supplied by the Williams orchestra.

Sudden Passing Of Mrs. Emily Winter

Although she had suffered a heart attack some months ago Mrs. Eliza Winter was able to get around, and was downtown on Saturday, March 31st when she was stricken with another attack. She was taken to the Vermilion municipal hospital, where she passed away that same afternoon.

The late Mrs. Winter was born in Lincolnshire, England, 68 years ago, and came to Saskatchewan in 1904. She moved to Battleview about 1918, where she lived until 1949 at which time she moved to Vermilion.

In the spring of 1920 Mrs. Winter married Joseph Peter Winter who survives her and is at present in the Vermilion hospital.

An active W. A. member of the Anglican church, Mrs. Winter also belonged to the Legion Auxiliary.

Besides her loving husband she leaves to mourn her loss three sons, Arnold, Joseph and Albert, all of Vermilion; one daughter, Mrs. Ed Murray of Wainwright; one sister, Mrs. Miriam Jones of Rennie, Manitoba, and eight grandchildren.

Rev. K. A. Minchin conducted the funeral services on Wednesday, April 4th at 2:00 p.m. at St. Saviour's Anglican church. Interment took place in the Vermilion cemetery.

Moyer's Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

Annual Meeting Wednesday, April 11th

Future of V.A.A.A. Hangs In Balance

The future of the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association hangs in the balance and will be decided at the annual meeting called for Wednesday, April 11th at 8 p.m. to be held in the Junior high school. Every organization in town is asked to send at least two representatives to the meeting.

This organization, formed back in the early 1920's has a long and useful career to its credit. It was formed to regulate the demands made upon business men in the way of cash donations, to see that any money collected was used to the best advantage and to help organize various lines of sport for which there was a need but which required direction in launching. Cash grants or loans were made where required. In early years this was limited to a maximum of $50 to any one organization but in recent years with the high cost of sports as well as everything else the amount has been increased to $100. Throughout the many seasons practically every sport in town has been aided including baseball, golf, tennis, softball, gymnastics and hockey.

Times have slowly changed. In the early days sports days attracted from far and wide and were money-makers and it was from this source and the annual donations of the business firms that made the support to various needy sports possible.

Now people do not turn out in great enough numbers to watch baseball and fastball and the May 24th sports day is usually a losing proposition financially although the best program of sports in Alberta is still offered.

The V.A.A.A. has been sponsoring pee-wee hockey and little league baseball as well as applying a helping hand to sports whenever requested.

The big question now is — is there no longer a need for the V.A.A.A.? Could its purposes be changed to suit modern trends? Would it be fair to cut out our sports day and not give all the senior and junior ball players and lady and girls softball teams a chance to play in good, well-run competition?

Attend the meeting on Wednesday April 11th and discuss all these questions and with many heads working maybe an idea will be born that will result in Vermilion having a headliner of a day of some kind, which at the same time would provide extra funds for needy athletics.

Lloydminster Man Speaker At United Church Friday

The gathering will be an organizational meeting for the purpose of forming an AOTS club at First United church here.

Seen The New Heidelberg?

Latest acquisitions in the way of equipment at the Standard printing office have been a new Heidelberg printing press shipped direct from Germany, a rebuilt Brehmer power stitcher and a handy little PBS punching and binding machine.

The new Heidelberg is a fully automatic printing press, remarkably smooth and quiet in operation, and very very fast. It will do all the actual printing of envelopes, business cards, letterheads and work of similar nature from the smallest cards to a sheet size of 10 by 15 inches.

The Brehmer stitcher puts those wire staples in prize lists, receipt books, pamphlets and check books up to one inch in thickness.

The new equipment will accelerate the delivery of work from the Standard's job department.

The purchase of these new pieces of equipment about completes modernization of the Standard's printing plant and gives Vermilion a plant which is equal to the best in Canada and decidedly superior to that in the majority of towns of comparable size.

Rosequist Rink Wins $100.00 In Club 16 Bonspiel

The Vermilion curling club tried a Club 16 bonspiel on Monday, and this attracted a lot of interest. Sixteen rinks enter this one-day 'spiel, paying an entry fee of $16.00 each for a total of $256.00. A straight knock-out competition is played with $100.00 going to the winner. This type of 'spiel has proved very popular in other curling centres, some of them running one each week.

Monday's event attracted entries from all over the area with the winner being a local rink skipped by Warren Rosequist. Warren had Frank Schmidt at third, Allan Helderecht second and Russ Carroll leading. The runner-up was Bill Specht of Clandonald with Pete Mudryk, Bob Taschuk and John Taschuk. The Clandonald boys were two down coming home and Bill was just one inch away with his last draw from tieing up the game and forcing an extra end. A number of extra ends were required to settle games, and the many close finishes featured the curling.

The Monday one-day 'spiel officially closed the five months' curling season planned by the club. The artificial ice plant will now be shut down. Of course the ice will remain until the weather warms up considerably.

PUBLIC RELATIONSHIPS

There is a growing realization of the value of good public relationships by leading manufacturers, government and businesses generally — so much so that many now have a department set up for that exclusive purpose.

Possibly the best public relations move that the business men of Vermilion could have made was that taken at the meeting on Monday night when they decided to stay open Saturday evenings until 9 p.m., commencing May 5th. Regardless of the business value of the 3 extra hours, people like to come to town Saturday nights, and the fact that Vermilion businesses are open to welcome them on a social as well as a business basis is bound to react favorably and do much to maintain good public relationships with our valued friends and customers, the country people.

SEED RESERVE

The time to think of a seed reserve is now. Good quality grain is available in quantity, advises Robert L. Pharis, Alberta's Supervisor of Crop Improvement. He points out: "We need only recall the poor crop of 1954 and the seed shortage in the spring of 1955 to be reminded of the importance of a farm held seed reserve."

The wise operator will hold over sufficient seed to meet his major seeding requirements for one or two years. In this manner payment of premium prices for poor quality seed in years of scarcity can be avoided. The superior crop that is produced from good quality seed is also an important consideration.

Mr. Pharis advises that sound, weathertight storage than can be easily cleaned should be provided for seed storage.

PIG IN A POKE ART DEAL—

House of Commons has approved expenditure of $[illegible] for purchase "sight unseen" as far as honorable members are concerned, of four paintings from collection of Prince of Liechtenstein.

This "pig-in-a-poke" art deal will doubtless be highly satisfactory to the Prince of Liechtenstein, whose coffers will be enriched to the tune of almost a million Canadian dollars.

Honorable M.P.s should not be disappointed, however, if ordinary Canadians take umbrage because of decision to squander public funds on foreign works of art in preference to granting necessary tax reductions.

Another reason why taxes remain sky-high is lavish and unnecessary expenditure by Liberal government on such pet projects as the National Film Board. Case in point is press report from Ottawa, stating that Film Board officials, apart from having house-hunting and moving costs met for them in transfer of NFB offices from the Capital to Montreal, are to be granted special allowance of $20 per family for baby-sitting. This is probably first time in Canadian history that baby-sitting has been recognized as legitimate item of expense for government officials.

A LITTLE KNOWLEDGE NOT ALWAYS DANGEROUS

"It's all linked up with sound farm practice," said Dr. L. E. Tyner, Head of the Science Service Laboratory of Plant Pathology in Edmonton. He was talking about plant diseases and how losses from them could be reduced with a little care. "Crop rotation is not solely a matter of protecting the soil and maintaining fertility," he said. "plant disease control is also accomplished by rotations."

It is well to remember that our plant diseases are specific, Dr. Tyner points out — those that attack one group of plants are harmless to others. The root rots that are so bad on wheat and barley, for instance, are of little consequence on oats. Following wheat or barley with oats offers a chance for the disease organism to die out. Scald of barley is of importance on barley alone so any other crop following barley could be of advantage.

Ergot, particularly bad on rye, may also take toll of wheat or barley following. Oats is a good crop to use after rye. And about ergot Dr. Tyner has a special word. Grasses are also susceptible to [illegible] disease, and from the grasses ergot can be spread to the grain crops. The time to cut grasses for hay is around flowering, not only for a palatable and nutritious feed but also as an aid to ergot control. If the grasses are cut when in flower, the ergot has no chance to develop and spread.

Alfalfa and clovers in the rotation also help in disease prevention. They have their own diseases, which do not attack the cereals, and cereal diseases do not attack legumes. Alternation of grain crops with hay and pasture provides a sequence in which diseases of one crop are of little consequence to the others. As a result, healthy stands year after year are more likely to be maintained.

MILKING PARLORS

Everybody can't milk cows fast so those people certainly ought to have a milking machine. Milking parlors go along with loose housing. Ask F. Van Wageningen of Tolland what he thinks of it. He says he would never go back to tying up cows in stanchions. Why? Because it is less trouble, less feed, more [illegible] and more money in the bank.

NEW FANGLED DRIERS

One of the latest practices in parts of the U.S. is to set up driers whereby grain that has a high moisture content can be dried down to a normal moisture per centage. One of the large implement firms has sold quite a number. Everything is automatic even to a thermostat.

THAWING FROZEN PIPES

The infra-red heat lamps are useful in thawing out frozen water pipes, that is above ground at least. Underground pipes can be wrapped before installing them with a heating cable or tape. A thermostat can be added to the assembly.

SWINE SURVEY AT MANNVILLE

Hog shipments made by D. Allanach of Mannville show a percentage of 39.5% grade 'A' pigs. This is over twice as high as the average for the province of Alberta. It was a matter of good breeding, good feeding and marketing at the right weights.

RATS ON THE MOVE

At this time of the year rats leave their winter quarters and often travel several miles to new places. It is important to check the infestation before the rats begin to multiply. In ranges 1 and 2 farmers and others too, have been supplied with warfarin bait. The ratepayers are expected to make bait stations from some old lumber and to keep warfarin there at all times. Pest control officers are now checking farm buildings for rats. Why not have your bait stations in good order on the inspector's visit?

GRASS SEED HALF PRICE

Grass, clover and alfalfa seed is available at half price for experimental purposes. If you have some problem in weed control or soil erosion let me know and I can suggest a mixture suitable for the purpose. Enough seed is available for ten acres on each place and the number of applications is limited.

WILDMERE WINKS

Mrs. R. Dendy, Triangle district has spent the past month visiting her parents in Calgary.

The United Church in Vermilion was well filled to see the wedding of Berna Seuffert and John Bubel on Saturday. It was a very pretty wedding and the bride looked beautiful, not forgetting the groom. The bridesmaids, her sister Alice and Mildred Conboy, looked lovely too. During the signing of the register Mrs. M. Shalka sang "The Lord's Prayer". Many years of health and happiness are wished for her and her husband. After the wedding the happy couple and the attendants went to have their pictures taken.

A reception was held in the church basement where a lot of relatives and friends had gathered. Pictures of the young couple were taken. Rev. C. W. MacKay asked the blessing. A delicious lunch was served. Rev. MacKay proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. Several telegrams were read. Mrs. C. Martin was in charge of the guest book. A. Karl sang during the reception accompanied by Jack Brown. At the close of the reception everyone filed by the bride and groom wishing them all the best in life. A wedding supper was held later at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Several from out this way: [illegible] and Janet Cruthers, Mr. and Mrs. F. Gibson and family, Donald [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. J. Wallington and Kenny Graham, attended the church service at the First United Church on Easter Sunday. Every available space was filled to overflowing. The ushers were taxed to get seating accomodation. Rev. MacKay gave a nice sermon and the choir was grand. It's so nice to get to church once again.

Stephens' store staff are to be congratulated on the improvements in the grocery side of the store. It's very nice, and much roomier.

Cliff Cruthers, Albert Smith, Ray Osterberg and Howard Coburn comprised a rink that played in the one day spiel held at the Vermilion curling rink on Monday. Best lost out to the Currah rink in their first game.

Miss Doris Fadden is helping during the Easter holidays at the Reid home in Lloydminster. Mrs. Reid is sick in the hospital with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Coburn and family of Triangle district intend leaving this week for Vancouver Island, B.C., to make their home there. Their daughter Judy has been attending [illegible] school these past two years. A farewell party was held for Mrs. Coburn by the Triangle ladies who presented her with a lovely bedspread.

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Lyons and the rest of the McKee family on the loss of their dear mother. One by one the dear old pioneers who worked so hard to open and build up our country around Vermilion are going to their well earned rest.

Mr. H. Friesen of Wildmere returned home last week after spending most of the winter north of Prince Albert, Sask., hauling supplies for the government.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cruthers were Sunday evening callers at the Wallington home. And the Wallingtons called at the Fadden home on Friday evening.

Traffic Safety Lane

MR. J. W. McKAY, Director of Safety Education, Department of Highways

This week I wish to continue with eyesight and the topic is: Field of Vision.

As mentioned before, the eye is marvelous in its functions. Without the eye, man is lost. How pitiful it is to watch those that are blind. They miss the beauties of nature, and also the [illegible] of nature. Yet it is marvelous to see such people compensate for such disabilities. Of course, their activities should never lead to such things as driving a car but nevertheless, there are people who have eyes in their heads but whose vision is such that they should not drive either.

In the cities we have numerous intersection collisions; one car coming from an avenue running into one on the street. In most of these accidents, one of the drivers state that they never saw the other one coming. This statement is very often true.

If you wish to see in detail you look directly at the object; but at the same time you can see objects in less detail over a wider field. In other words, you can see out of the corner of your eye. Your best field of vision is for moving objects or colors. This phase of vision is exercised at intersections. You are able to discern objects on your extreme right or left while watching the road ahead.

A good field of vision should reach to an angle of 180 degrees, that is, to your extreme right and extreme left. A field that is less than 140 degrees is inadequate and the only compensation is to look directly in those directions rather than depend on your field of vision. Apparently, glasses will not help you for such deficiency.

Many people have a field that is twisted, that is, their field may go to the right about 70 degrees and to the left 100 degrees. This may be due to eye injuries. So, if drivers have a good field and are not aware of it, is it any wonder that they didn't see the other car coming at an intersection?

Your field of vision would be a nice thing to know.

NEWS from ISLAY

Easter services in the United Church Sunday school depicted Easter in every way — from "The Easter Service Welcome" by Pat Moncrief who welcomed the ones he saw maybe twice a year, to the regulars, and if the others came often and found the place crowded, a building would be added — down to wee Jim Van den [illegible] with an Easter Benediction. Every child spoke well. The Superintendent, Mr. Moncrief, gave an interesting Easter story and Mrs. Sweet using the flannelgraph gave "The First Easter" story in her usual way that even the smallest child showed his interest with unusual silence. These occasions in the Sunday school when the parents attend are events the children remember — more parents might attend and see for themselves.

Douglas and Emma Olds were home for the week end and on their return to the city were accompanied by Gladys and Edith Olds and Adam [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown, newlyweds, arrived home last Thursday, the stormy day, after spending their honeymoon in Edmonton. Such bad roads greeted them from Islay out to their home. Melvin Beck met them with team and sleigh.

Saturday saw many teams in town. This was a winter some had to invest in horses and some in harness. Heard Ulva McFadyen sold the last of his heavy harness.

Mr. Jim McClelland and Mr. Walter Carlson walked to town something like four miles, also Catherine and Marie Carey walked in. Heard a man say, "This winter surely put some people on their feet!"

Mrs. Vera Anson attempted the walk into town on two occasions and was fortunate to get a ride after getting out on the main road. She had 100 dozen eggs to bring to town and by special arrangement got them in.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McLean, Tom and Marilyn spent the week end in Edmonton.

Miss Catherine McEachern was home for Easter Sunday.

The entertainment committee of the Community Association met on Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dalt Torrance and planned an Amateur night for May 4th.

Noticed the Sperberg family in town early Tuesday morning. They had not been able to get in for some weeks. The pile of mail looked it.

Mrs. Gordon Portsmith went home from hospital, but in came Mrs. Shattuck, so the hospital is kept busy, one goes, more come, also in came Mrs. Clack Sr. We wish all a speedy recovery.

The road to the highway is very bad so the ladies who planned to go to Vermilion to hear Miss Mayova at the United church on Tuesday afternoon did not get out.

Jack Teskey is spending the holidays with Jimmie Shaw. Marion Teskey had a few days with Grandma and Grandpa Shaw in Vermilion.

A radioactive isotope is being used to trace the movement of nutrients within trees at the Petawawa, Ont., forest experimental station of the Forestry Branch, Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by W. G. MALAHER, Director, Research Department, [illegible] COMPANY, LIMITED

WHICH VARIETY TO GROW

Not all farmers are located within easy reach of an Experimental Farm or are able to visit one of the demonstration plots planted and cared for at various points by Elevator Agents. For this reason some will not have the opportunity very often of seeing and comparing, as they grow side by side, the various varieties of grain that are raised in Western Canada.

Continuing a service that was started several years ago, with very successful results, The Crop Testing Plan will be glad to send, free of charge, a set of true-to-variety seeds of some thirty different varieties, enclosed in an envelope and ready for seeding to any farmer who is willing to sow and care for a small plot on his farm. Such a plot will provide the opportunity to compare the performance of different varieties under local conditions.

These lots of seed include not only the standard varieties of wheat, oats, barley and flax but also some of the newer varieties that have been licensed during the past year. Full instructions for planting will be sent with the seeds, and stakes showing the name of each variety will be distributed at a later date.

Those interested should apply to the Crop Testing Plan, 305 Grain Exchange Building, Winnipeg, as soon as possible since the supply of seeds is limited and requests will have to be handled in strict rotation.

CANADIAN TRUCKING GROWS FAST

TORONTO — Growth of the trucking business in Canada, part of the great economic development taking place in the Dominion, is indicated in the new [illegible] branch of General Motors [illegible] designed for the quick servicing of the expanding fleets of trucks [illegible] Canada. The shop facilities include repair bays, paint booths, a modern machine shop, dynamometer equipment and more than an acre of parking space. The factory-owned branch was formally dedicated Feb. 23 when officials of General Motors [illegible], headed by John C. Tooker, president, came from Lansing, Mich., to join with members of the Canadian trucking industry in marking the day with an open house celebration.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Medical Martyrs

All too few persons recognize the hazards encountered by members of the medical profession. The physician—carrying the answer to almost every disease problem in his black bag—often is considered impervious to the ailments he so successfully treats.

That is far from being the case. Medical history records innumerable incidents in which the physician has become a martyr. The influenza virus, for instance, recognizes no professional bounds and can infect the physician as well as the carpenter.

More striking than those incidental exposures are instances in which physicians have deliberately infected themselves in do-or-die attempts to learn more about deadly ailments and their cures.

One of the most famous of these medical martyrs was Jesse William Lazear, who was convinced that mosquitoes transmitted yellow fever. He proved his point by allowing himself to be bitten by a mosquito known to have fed on a yellow fever victim. [illegible] days later, Lazear was dead.

Lazear's colleague, James Carroll, buttressed his dead friend's theory when he also allowed himself to be bitten by an infected mosquito. Carroll contracted yellow fever, but survived.

Medical heroism continues today with "volunteers" testing new drugs and vaccines. Dr. Jonas Salk injected himself and, later, his children with the killed virus polio vaccine before he attempted any widespread injections.

Thus, the spirit of Jesse Lazear is still very much alive in the medical world of the 20th century.

A fertilizer plant under construction at Medicine Hat is expected to be completed in October this year. The plant will manufacture ammonium phosphate and nitrate for fillers. The phosphate rock will come from Idaho and the [illegible] from Pincher Creek. —Budget.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

In France cool dry weather with night frost was experienced, which checked the growth of all cereal crops. Semi-spring wheat, which was sown at the beginning of March, has not yet germinated because of the cold weather. The damage caused by the February frosts is very heavy. Up to 30% of the wheat crop has been lost in the west of the country and about 20 to 25% in the eastern half. Generally speaking it is estimated that only about half the crop of winter wheat remains. Spring sowings will compensate for a part of the loss but, in any case, an average harvest seems out of the question.

GROW IT THE YEAR IT PAYS!
HERTA BARLEY LICENSED FOR PRODUCTION IN CANADA

Herta barley and a sister variety is today in Northern Europe and in Scandinavia the most widely grown barley variety. It is also making headway in Great Britain. Overseas it is used for malting, pearling and feed.

In Canada the experimental farms and the universities have in co-operative trials during the past some years tested a number of European two-row barleys side by side with the Canadian barleys. Based on these tests, Herta barley was a few days ago licensed for production in Canada.

Herta barley is exceptionally good for combining. It drops its beards before it is ripe. It does not shell and its head curls like the handle on a walking stick. This helps to hold a swath together. It generally weighs 50 pounds to the bushel.

Fogsholt Farm happens to be the only grower in Alberta and have seed for sale, f.o.b. [illegible], Alberta, at the following prices for two-bushel sacks:

Herta barley seed No. 1, germination 95%	$9.00
Herta barley seed No. 2, germination 75%	$7.00
Herta barley seed No. 3, germination 72%	$6.00

All seed is cleaned to a purity standard for cert. No. 1. Payment with order. Limited supply. First come, first served.

Attend Semi-Annual Conference Of Social Credit Executives

Clarence Ewing of Mannville and Ashley H. Cooper of Vermilion, president and secretary of the Vermilion Constituency Social Credit Association, and James A. Smith, M.P. for Battle River-Camrose, attended the semi-annual conference of Provincial and Federal Social Credit Constituency executives which was held in the Social Credit hall, Edmonton, on Wednesday.

A highlight of the sessions was a talk by Premier Manning which followed the banquet, and a round table discussion during which time those present asked the Premier details of legislation passed at the recent session. The Premier answered the questions fully, occasionally calling on the cabinet ministers to elucidate specific points.

The delegates in attendance were brought right up to date on new legislation, and were able to meet and discuss problems with the various cabinet ministers. A number of the federal members of parliament were also in attendance.

Arrangements were commenced for the holding of nominating conventions for the federal election expected in 1957.

ALBERTANS TO VOTE WITH "X" — LEGISLATURE PROROGUED

EDMONTON — The second session of the 13th Alberta legislature was officially prorogued last week by Hon. Dr. J. J. Bowlen, lieutenant-governor, who gave royal assent to 76 bills.

The traditional shower of paper thrown by members of the press gallery sent MLA's home from a session which was one of the toughest in years from the standpoint of long working hours. It opened Feb. 9th and lasted 34 days, along with a record 14 night sittings.

TRANSFERABLE VOTE ABOLISHED

Among the highlights of the session were the new Election Act, which abolishes the preferential voting system and replaces it with the 'X' system, and a new Game Act which imposes tighter restrictions on hunting over private land.

RECORD BUDGET

On top of that, the house approved a record $242,000,000 budget for the coming fiscal year and repealed one tax — the unearned increment tax which has netted the province around $1,300,000 annually.

REVIEW LIQUOR LAWS

The session just ended also launched what may be a major review of the province's liquor laws. An eight-member, all-party committee was appointed to investigate the Liquor Act and recommend amendments at the next regular session.

PROVINCIAL-MUNICIPAL MEETINGS START

It was one of the most significant sessions in years from the standpoint of municipal governments in Alberta. The government took the first steps toward a full-scale review of provincial-municipal financial arrangements, aimed at finding new sources of revenue for municipalities and making them self-sustaining.

Don't be surprised if the financial review results in new taxes being imposed. From outward appearances, the government is laying the groundwork for the day when the revenue from oil and gas won't be so big. Provincial Treasurer E.W. Hinman has intimated that revenue sources such as sales tax and poll tax may be considered as possible sources of revenue.

Meetings between government and municipal officials started last week and will continue during the coming year. The government hopes to wash its hands of the unwieldly municipal grant program by next year.

ELECTION ACT MOST CONTENTIOUS

The new Election Act was by far the most contentious issue of the session. Members debated it for more than 16 hours and despite a determined effort by the opposition to have the preferential voting system retained the government didn't yield on any major points.

The government argued that the preferential system is too complicated for the average voter to comprehend and results in too many spoiled ballots.

Opposition ranks accused the government of seeking political advantage by introducing a voting system which favors the party in power by splitting the opposition vote between two or more parties. They claimed the government is afraid of the preferential system after the snap election last June, which saw Social Credit strength drop from 51 to 37.

GAME ACT AMENDMENTS PROVE REAL THORN

The amendments to the Game Act proved a real thorn in the government's side.

In the first place, Lands and Forests Minister Norman Willmore was not too happy about introducing it because some features of it were considered unenforceable. But he was more or less forced into it by pressure from farm groups and the Social Credit caucus.

Then when it was introduced, Fish and Game Associations throughout the province launched a lightning campaign and persuaded the government to yield on a few points.

When the bill was finally presented in amended form it still left many members dissatisfied, and sparked lively debate which split through party lines.

As the legislation stands hunters can shoot without the owner's consent on unoccupied land which is not posted. The original bill would have required permission for hunting on any private land which is fenced or cultivated. Now, permission is not needed unless the owner lives on the land or adjacent to it.

Under the new bill, any land posted with "No Shooting" signs becomes a game sanctuary. When land is posted, no one can shoot on it, and this includes the owner.

Crown land held under grazing or timber lease cannot be posted and is open for hunting. This drew criticism from some southern members who said leaseholders need protection for grazing land.

NEW LAWS RE CAR INSURANCE

The session also saw introduction of new laws regarding automobile insurance. After Oct. 1, any motorist involved in an accident must show proof of financial responsibility or have his car impounded.

The new laws don't impose compulsory car insurance, but they should have the effect of encouraging more drivers to provide themselves with public liability and property damage coverage.

RE-ACT TO LARGER OPPOSITION

From an observer's standpoint, it was interesting to watch Social Credit's reaction to the larger opposition which grew from 10 to 24 members in the June election.

The government and its supporters paid more attention to criticism and suggestions from the opposition side, and made a few more concessions than they have in recent years.

Premier Manning's government weathered only one non-confidence motion during the session. Liberal Harold E. Tanner, Edmonton high school teacher, introduced a motion of non-confidence during debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne.

In it, he censured the government for its policies on education, claiming standards and teacher qualifications had been allowed to slip. The government and its supporters defeated the motion easily.

Another important piece of legislation will permit local plebiscites on the fluoridation issue. Two-thirds of the voters must consent before a local council can introduce fluorides into the public drinking water supplies.

Princess Anne W. I. Notes

The regular meeting of the Princess Anne W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Scarfe with eight members and two visitors, Miss Jean West and Miss Mildred Scarfe being present. Considering the condition of the roads the attendance was very good.

The meeting opened with "O Canada" and the repeating of the Creed.

The roll call was an idea for a project for next year with several very interesting ones being thought of.

A letter and pamphlet was read on a subscription-selling plan offered by the Western Producer to the A.W.I. as a means of raising funds for the groups. It was agreed to try it in our group.

A discussion took place re a bake sale but all were in favor of waiting until the roads were better before going ahead with definite plans.

The topic for the day was our delegate's report of the District Conference recently held in Edmonton. This proved most interesting and informative.

We are all looking forward to the visit of Mrs. Alice Berry of Queensland, Australia, the President of the Associated Country Women of the World. She will be at the Vermilion School of Agriculture on Saturday, June 2.

Our social was a sing-song conducted by Mrs. Reeves with Mildred Scarfe as our pianist. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen" after which a tasty lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs. Mix and Mrs. Armstrong.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Strome with Mrs. M. Simonet and Mrs. A. Simonet serving lunch.

Surviving are two sons, Jack, Gananoque; Robert, Windsor; one daughter, Mrs. Bruce Chick (Agnes), Windsor; one brother, Harry L. Doan, Vermilion; one sister, Mrs. F. B. Cody, Windsor, 12 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Bees are needed for alsike seed production and honey bees are by far the most reliable. In 1954 a field from which honey bees were excluded produced only 30 pounds of seed per acre compared with 370 pounds from a one-colony-per acre field. —Budget.

The Land and the Scribes

Recently in western and eastern Canada, a select group of professionals formed an organization which is expected to have a profound effect on the future of Canadian agriculture. The new body is known as the Canadian Farm Writers' Association and includes in its membership editorial staffs of farm journals, farm editors of newspapers and farm commentators of radio and television stations.

The farm writer already has done a great deal to enhance the lot of farmers in this country. By reporting the findings of agricultural scientists, he has helped to revolutionize crop growing, stock raising, land conservation and farm management generally. Conversely, he has continuously championed the farmer's cause by bringing light to bear on his ever-present problems and difficulties and, directly and indirectly, has been responsible for legislation of direct benefit to farmers.

The farm writer's news beat is wide indeed. He covers the farm experimental stations, agricultural colleges, various farm organizations. He is constantly ferreting out new facts from industries, the existence of which is dependent on the farmer's prosperity. He has his fingers constantly on the pulse of the rural community in his own area and usually serves as an unpaid public relations man for local rural organizations.

He is found at small and large conventions, farm shows and plowing matches. You see him at the country fairs quietly poking around the cow barns or among the pickle displays. Shortsighted is the person who does not [redacted] the presence of the man with the notebook, camera or tape recorder.

One of the primary objectives laid down in the constitution of the Canadian Farm Writers Association is "to promote better understanding between agriculture and all other groups through the medium of radio broadcasting, telecasting and the printed word".

This is truly a worthwhile aim as there is an abysmal lack of understanding of farm problems among the millions of consumers of farm produce in the larger urban centres. If, in the next few years, the Canadian Farm Writers Association succeeds in penetrating this hard crust of indifference, its existence will have been more than justified.

Easter Service At Marwayne Well Attended

The Gospel Tabernacle, extra seating capacity having been provided, was almost filled by the large attendance for the special Easter service on Good Friday evening. The young people of the church presented the message of Easter through music. It was indeed a thrill to hear the story of the suffering, death resurrection, and coming again of our Lord Jesus pictured before us. The pastor gave a short challenge on the theme of "Christ's Return" pointing out five eminent signs of his near coming: 1. The Jewish Sign (restoration of the nation Israel) 2. The Peace Sign (saying "Peace, peace when there is no peace) 3. The Lawless Sign (increase of juvenile delinquency, stealing, murder) 4. The Moral Sign (disregard of Sunday, nowadays, increasing rate of divorce, consumption of liquor) 5. The Apostate Sign (the lack of church attenders, of believing and preparing for His Return). Are we ready for his coming again? The choir closed the service by singing "What if it were Today?" May we invite you to the regular Sunday services at 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. that you might know you are ready for His imminent coming.

F. U. A. Protests Amendments To The Game Act

EDMONTON, March 29— Further amendments to the Alberta Game Act as the bill was originally introduced in the legislature last week, today drew fire from the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

President A. W. Platt feels that the original proposal introduced by the government was good and generally satisfactory to everyone, including a number of fish and game league branches. By approving the changes made Wednesday, the government satisfied no one.

The clause allowing for pursuit of wounded game can, in effect nullify for practical purposes the previous clause requiring the hunter to obtain permission to hunt. No one would object to a hunter being permitted to follow a blood trail in pursuit of big game, but to permit him to go anywhere in pursuit of a wounded duck, for instance, is ridiculous.

Another clause providing that a holder of a grazing lease has not even the right to post such land against hunting under any circumstances cannot possibly be justified. The control of breeding stock and the absolute necessity to protect pastures from fire at certain times make it imperative that the leaseholder have the power to control trespassing.

The sad part of the whole business is that probably all the difficulties could have been overcome if the government had taken time to hold hearings of the interested parties.

The Farmers' Union of Alberta will not rest content until the matter is properly settled concluded Mr Platt. The Union will be meeting shortly with the Western Stock Growers' Association to jointly plan further action.

Cooler Ahead?

The popular science writer has been telling us over and over again "The world's climate is slowly getting warmer. The polar ice is melting."

Now, it seems, it may be wrong, says the Financial Post.

Meteorology Professor Hurd Willet (Massachusetts Institute of Technology) makes these points:

Over the next half-century the weather is going to become moister and colder with lots of snow and ice.

Tropical hurricanes — like Hazel which slashed Southern Ontario and Edna which ripped through part of Nova Scotia — are going to make fewer excursions into northern climes.

There'll be no great drought, like that of the 1930's, on the western plains.

Rocky Mountain Glaciers, which receded during the first half of the century, are coming back.

Willett bases much of his theory on the cycle of sun spots.

The layman can be pardoned for being confused by all the conflicting opinion on weather trends.

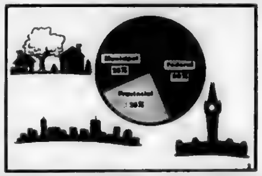
Civil Defence — Who Pays?

Canada's civil defence bill is big and still growing, but it would be bigger without the citizen volunteer. Under the Canadian C. D. set-up each province and municipality is responsible for adapting broad federal policies to the needs of its own people, for Ottawa exercises no administrative control over local C. D. agencies.

Civic-minded volunteers, therefore, are the backbone of civil defence. The bill is not small. It probably won't shrink so long as nuclear war is a threat. But F. F. Worthington, federal civil defence co-ordinator, has said:

"To federalize civil defence, to plan for a provincial or municipal government staff in all its ramifications, would involve a paid force numbering thousands."

So far the federal government, in various ways, has paid the lion's share. It has agreed, at conferences with provincial officials, to provide training, research, equipment and financial assistance. The provinces and municipalities are taking it from there.



Main federal assistance has been in grants established in 1952 on the basis of eight cents per capita for the whole province with another six cents per capita for target-area cities. For the first two years the grants were available on the basis of a federal dollar for every provincial dollar up to the province's population quota. In the last two years these were extended to municipalities as well, providing the province approved.

That is, for municipal projects the federal contributions now are made on the basis of 50 per cent from Ottawa, 25 per cent from the province and 25 per cent from the municipality. If the province does not participate financially, the federal contribution is 25 per cent direct to the municipality.

In the 1952-53 fiscal year the federal government matched these provincial C. D. expenditures: British Columbia, $114,[illegible]; Alberta, $85,545; Saskatchewan, $25,[illegible]; Manitoba, $15,[illegible]; Newfoundland, $5,244. In 1953-54: B. C., $107,714; Alta., $85,545; Sask., $34,080; Man., $25,158; Nova Scotia, $4,020; Nfld., $3,015.

It was in 1953-54 that B.C. municipalities led the way in civil defence financially at least, by putting up $145,728. They led the next year too, shelling out $225,000. Ontario municipalities entered directly into the C D financial picture then, too with $48,306 to Ottawa's $18,122.

That year, 1954-55, federal grants matched in B. C. $158,350; Alta., $118,922; Sask., $42,087; Man., $25,[illegible]; New Brunswick, $12,433; N. S., $17,925; Nfld., $21,373.

Figures were not in for 1955-56 but were expected to show a big province accepted the federal grant for the first time.

Administrative officers at federal civil defence headquarters in Ottawa have estimated that of the $4,000,000 available through grants in the first three years of the program, the provinces took up about $1,000,000. Ontario's participation was expected to make the bite larger in last year's grants.

The grants, however, are only one side of the federal C. D. assistance program. Its direct C. D. expenditures from 1950-55 totalled some $9,000,000 and its estimates for the 1955-56 fiscal year were $7,000,000.

It set up the Canadian Civil Defence College at Arnprior, Ont., and pays expenses for training persons from all provinces. It has put aside $9,000,000 for stock-piling emergency medical supplies. It has supplied warning sirens to major cities, fire pumpers, stretchers, training manuals and other equipment wherever there was a need.

And these costs do not include such projects as the multimillion-dollar radar warning screens going up around the continent, telecommunications, the ground observer corps and others closely related to the defence of Canada. The federal government also agreed to pay one-third the cost of standardizing fire hose coupling sizes. Ontario, British Columbia and Alberta have taken advantage of this offer.

Pleasant Valley

It's not very pleasant these days, everybody's nerves are jagged and tempers too. Of course you all know why. A month ago we said spring is just around the corner, now it looks farther away than ever.

However the men are still able to shovel and plough. On Thursday the P V boys were out in full regiment, with three tractors, seven men and a shovel squad. They were out until midnight Wednesday night, and all day Thursday to plough and shovel the sum of five miles. Some speed eh?

Mr and Mrs. Dupruit had to leave their truck and journeyed over four miles on shanks pony also. How many times did you pull Alice out of the drifts, Alex?

Don't forget folks, to keep smiling. A short time ago I read where Ambrose Hills said, "Someone should write a song about snow". I think he pretty well covered the meaning of it, when he said snow is all man. It certainly takes man power and will power on the shovel handle.

Mr and Mrs Jim Painter were visitors at Gordon Gould's home on Good Friday.

Mrs Gillies has returned from Edmonton, where she has been visiting for the past two months.

This old prayer should come in for a laugh about the Easter traditions of baked ham and hot cross buns:

"Oh Lord, please fill my mouth with worthwhile stuff,
And nudge me when I've said enough."

W. I. Newsletter

I hope you'll forgive me for omitting our monthly report this month, but the combination of conference, flu, accumulated housework, correspondence and baby chicks is a bit too much for a person who isn't any too speedy at any time. Remember, I warned you that I'm not one of those persons who can do a dozen jobs at once and still come up looking and feeling as fresh as a spring morning. No Siree! A lot more like the end of a long, hard winter.

I was even tempted to omit my newsletter but there are some things I must bring to you. Just a few words about the Conference— I was sorry that three of our branches were not able to have delegates there. It was a wonderful education for those of who were there, and a great deal of work was covered. As your delegates can tell you — I was a sorry representative indeed. While I never actually lost my voice it was sadly misplaced at times. My first attack of laryngitis since I was teaching and that's so many years I won't even whisper it. I frantically ate Meloids and fiery Pastilles from England — guarnteed to cure a sore throat, but not one word about burning the skin off it!

Well Girls, the picnic's over. We have always been the envy of all W.I. for miles around because we were able to hold our Conference at the V.S.A., and have our dinner and afternoon tea served us — yes, and even our dishes washed. Our Conference date has been set for Saturday, June 16th. We can still hold it in the V.S.A. of course, but since no staff is on at that time we will have to make other arrangements about our meal. However I have a plan that I think will work, so we won't worry too much about that. Our handicraft will have to be hurried along through—with about five weeks less time than we planned on to complete it. Glory be! No quilt.

Mrs. Berry's visit is arranged for June 2, at the School of Agriculture. Everyone is welcome to attend, although arrangements will be in the hands of the F. W. U. A. and the W. I. A silver collection will be taken, to help defray expenses at other points where halls have to be rented. Some method of serving a simple afternoon tea will have to be worked out. Further notices will appear in our local paper.

The Dep't of Agriculture is going to help us to send our delegate to the World Conference in Ceylon in December 1956, by granting us $300, provided we can raise the rest of the money ourselves. All that is necessary to do this is for each branch to make a contribution equal to 25 cents per member. This is not a new appeal, many of our branches have already made their contribution to the Travel Fund. Check back in your minutes and see how you stand on this. This is purely voluntary— but I think you will be proud to know that when the women of 26 countries meet on the common ground of women's interests, in a feeling of friendship and fellowship, that our representative will be there, doing her bit toward World Peace and understanding.

At this conference the sum of $100, appropriated from a surplus in District funds, was voted for the use of Constituency Convenors who see opportunities for further organization, but are low in funds for travel expenses. This is to be administered at the discretion of the District Director, for the next two years. Some of the Convenors do not drive a car and have to travel by bus or train, others have great distances to cover between branches, and so find it difficult to manage financially.

Secretaries— There are a number of Annual reports not in yet. Will you check and be sure that yours has been filled in and returned to Mrs. R. W. Pendergast, Red Deer, Alta.

Next month I'll be back with my regular report. The Flu bug will have exhausted itself, the baby chicks will be well on their way, and there'll be NOTHING left to do but houseclean, and how I love that!

Sincerely,,
Your Constituency Convener.

Eat Margarine, Store Butter

Prior to 1940 virtually everything was sold bread in Canada was butter. Today, says the Financial Post, one third of the spread is margarine. Average per capita consumption of butter in Canada is down to approximately 20 pounds a year. Average per capita consumption of margarine is up to over 9 pounds per year.

Like the mythical ostrich which refused to face facts we are piling up butter in storage at the tax payers' expense and selling it to the Czechs and for about half the price Canadian citizens are permitted to buy it.

No wonder Government butter stores are going up and not down. No wonder Canadians, even Canada as butter producers, are eating more margarine.

OVERWEIGHT AND ITS DANGERS

Anyone who is 15 or more pounds heavier than his ideal weight is considered overweight. For those still in their 20's or younger a little extra weight does no harm. For people over 30 it is not good.

Overweight is a danger signal, particularly for those over 40. Overweight people develop diabetes, heart disease, high blood pressure, and other illnesthreatening conditions earlier, and are apt to die younger, than people whose weight is normal. They are poor surgical risks and have less resistance to infection. Strut women are more likely to develop complications in pregnancy.

WHAT MAKES A PERSON FAT?

Most people are fat simply because they eat too much. This does not mean necessarily mean that they stuff themselves with large quantities of food. It does mean that they take in more calories than their bodies can use. This is often surprisingly easy to do, particularly for a person who has poor eating habits.

Some people blame their overweight on metabolism (the rate at which their bodies use energy) and on the glands which regulate metabolism. In a very few cases, poor functioning glands may contribute to overweight. Even then, the overweight patient who is under a physician's treatment for glandular disorders is able to lose weight when his food intake is regulated.

What people do not realize, however, is that the body's energy requirements usually change after age 30 to 40. As a person gets older metabolism slows down, and fewer calories are needed to maintain weight. The trouble is that eating habits usually stay exactly the same, while physical activity often decreases.

Heredity is often claimed as cause of overweight. Careful studies do not bear this out. Heredity does determine the type of body build that a person has, but when people from overweight fami es change their eating habits it has been proved that they, too can lose weight.

Actually, most overweight people's poundage comes from overeating. They say they just don't seem to be able to stop. Knowing why a thing is hard to do sometimes makes it easier to change.

Physical condition, degree of overweight and individual living habits must all be carefully evaluated before an effective, safe reducing plan can be worked out. No one can do this all for himself. Only a physician has the necessary skill and equipment to decide how much, how fast, and with what treatment a person should lose weight. What benefits one may harm another. Therefore a reducing program should be undertaken only under medical supervision.

Anyone who really wants to get rid of excess poundage can do it. Lots of people have, with determination and persistence. Desire and will power are "musts" in any reducing program.

Everyone knows that self-denial is not easy and that changing long-established habits taxes the strongest will. Therefore, a person who is trying to do this difficult job deserves the help and support of his family and friends. Few people are able to persist in any course of action in the face of constipation, indifference, ridicule, or opposition from those they love and respect.

To be worth anything, a loss of weight must be permanent. Therefore, anyone who wants to benefit from a weight-reduction program must make up his mind that he is changing his eating habits for life. Going back to old patterns will only pile up the pounds all over again. Unless this fact is accepted, reducing efforts will probably be wasted.

GOD'S WORLD

Any of my old school mates can tell you that I was no angel, but for some reason the High School principal took a liking to me. I was crazy about writing and he thought I showed promise. Maybe that is why I remember so clearly some of the [illegible] he said to me. One day when I turned in a carelessly written composition, he kept me after class. I resented the curtain lecture he gave me at the time. But I have been grateful to him for it many times since.

He quoted to me part of George Herbert's poem, The Elixir:

Teach me, my God and King,
In all things Thee to see,
And, what I do in anything,
To do it as for Thee.

He assured me that no man could be profoundly happy unless he consecrated his work to God. And that once having so consecrated his work, he could never again be sloppy or careless.

So last month, when the famous historian, Dr Arnold Toynbee spoke in Albany, I was much impressed to hear him say "It seems certain on the evidence of past history that Man's work can be healthy and beneficent only when it is part and a subordinate part of Man's religion. When Work has been divorced from religion Work has always become demonic and destructive."

He then began to quote a poem. Yes, it was the same poem my old teacher had quoted to me so many years ago!

I am convinced that it was true historically and for every individual that work should be a religious exercise if there is to be productivity and happiness in the world.

Hints For Gardeners On Landscaping Grounds

You may be making a mistake if you take it for granted that your new house needs foundation planting, warns landscape architect Austin Floyd in the April 1956 issue of Canadian Homes and Gardens. Despite popular belief, every house does not need foundation planting, he says. So before you plant around your house you should stop, look and decide whether yours really does.

If the house has an ugly foundation wall, trees and shrubs will make an attractive screen and bring the house down to a more pleasing look, Floyd says. But if the house is a low rambling bungalow then foundation planting is more likely to smother it.

Floyd lists the four main mistakes made by home owners when they plant shrubs around their foundation walls. They are:

1. Using trees and shrubs that are too big. Plants that grow too large, Floyd warns, can block out a picture window, completely hide a door or smother the front porch in branches.

2. Using shrubs that grow too fast. The house may look fine the first few years, but it won't be long before it's lost in the jungle. To avoid this mistake Floyd advises planting slow-growing dwarf varieties.

3. Using the wrong kind of shrubs. Planting should harmonize with the house. A neat, trim house needs clean-cut planting, and a rambling house looks better with loose, natural-looking planting.

4. Using too many different kinds of shrubs and trees. This is like painting a room in 14 different colors. Floyd advises home owners to stick to a few well-chosen varieties.

The basic rule for planting around the house, according to landscape architect Floyd, is "Keep everything simple and uncluttered. Crowded and badly planned planting is unfair to your house." In the Canadian Homes and Gardens feature he also shows how to plant around different types of houses, and describes the best trees and shrubs to use.

KNOW YOUR WEEDS

A new publication "Know Your Weeds" has been released recently by the Alberta Field Crops Branch. Five bad perennials which can be eradicated in small patches with sodium chlorate are illustrated on this poster style publication.

Hoary Cress, Field Bindweed, Russian Knapweed, Leafy Spurge, Toad Flax are photographed so as to show the details of their foliage. Chemical control methods are outlined for each of the five.

Ask your District Agriculturist for a copy of Publication No. 33 or write to the Extension Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Legislative Bldg., Edmonton, for a copy.

The inventory of Canadian forests being carried out under a five-year agreement between the federal government and seven provincial governments is approximately three-quarters finished.

UNION CHURCH SERVICE

It is nice to have a union service on Good Friday morning, as was held in the United Church with Rev. Mr. Potter officiating.

The United Church W. A. tea in the Church hall on Saturday afternoon was a success. Service was in the Anglican church on Sunday night and is the first Sunday in each month.

AFTER OUR GRADUATES

Concern is spreading throughout many of Canada's University employment offices that U. S. companies might siphon off a substantial proportion of next year's already short graduate crop, says The Financial Post.

"We're going to be rubbed blind," says one placement expert, "if the existing U. S. political trend continues to the extent that draft legislation is repealed or even eased."

Presidential election tactics are being watched warily here in an attempt to foresee whether the Republicans will cut back draft requirements. Several university placement directors think the signs point to such a political move and they know the minute it happens U. S. recruiters will invade Canada in force.

Already short supply engineers, chemists, physicists, and mathematicians are in equally short supply in the U. S. and employment economics are such, says one placement director, that a Canadian company wouldn't have much of a chance competing.

Paradise Valley

Mr Fred Altvater who has been employed at Knox's Sales and Service for the past four years has accepted a position at Calgary and left on Saturday to take up his new job.

Mr Duane Ferricks who is in training with the R. C. A. F. at Claresholm, Alberta arrived home on Monday for a two week holiday. Duane is training as a pilot.

Mr Allison Wood had to be rushed to the Lloydminster hospital on Tuesday for an emergency operation. Mrs. J. Rayson is still a patient in the same hospital. Their many friends hope for an early recovery.

Mr and Mrs. William Rish and Mrs. Alex Schroh are visiting with Mrs. Rish and Mrs. Schroh's mother, Mrs. Joseph Mayo Sr. and Mr and Mrs. Mayo in town. Mr. and Mrs. Rish are on their way back from a five month visit with relatives in Scotland and England. Bill has done himself well since going to the coast and is anxious to get back in harness again.

Easter holidays. That is all you hear the students talking about and even the teachers do not seem to object to a week off from their duties. Due to the weather and resulting bad roads we do not hear of many visitors or visiting being done. One fine day then a blizzard the next to block up the roads again. That is the order of the day. Even the Toonerville did not make the run on Wednesday due to the storms in Saskatchewan making use of all equipment.

Mr and Mrs. Elmer Vanance of Grand Centre spent the holiday with Mr and Mrs. W. A. McLean. Mr Frank Venner who is attending Tech School at Calgary also spent the holiday with his parents, Mr and Mrs George Venner.

The P. V. W. A. of the United Church will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. D. Clark on April 10 instead of April 3. Mrs. Gunn will be co-hostess.
